The Grand Jury

Hand in Their Presentment to Col. Macbeth.

Have Little Fault to Find—Lunatics Should Not Remain So Long in the Jail—The Asylum in Fine Shape.

The county court house presented a rather deserted appearance this morning until the arrival of the grand jury. Chancellor Boyd departed last night, and left the clerk, Col. Macbeth, to receive the jury's presentment. This they handed in this morning at 11 o'clock, and brought to a close probably the shortest assize court held here during the long term of Col. Macbeth as court clerk.

The document they handed the court clerk read as follows:

"It is highly satisfactory to us, and must be to your Lordship also, to find so few cases on the criminal docket. This indicates the high moral standard of the general public in our large and populous county.

"According to instructions we have visited the jail, finding every department clean and in good condition, which has impressed us favorably with the able and careful provision of those in charge. There are confined at present 15 men and 4 women. Among these we are of opinion that the four women should be removed to the asylum, also one of the male prisoners. In fact, we strongly recommend that lunatics taken to jail be promptly dealt with and placed, as they should be, in the asylum. We learn with regret that they are often allowed to remain for a considerable time in the jail. This is an evil that for humanity's sake should be remedied forthwith, and such unfortunate placed where they will have such attention as will give them the best opportunity for recovery, and relieve the jail officials of a responsibility that in our opinion should not be placed upon them.

"In concluding our remarks upon the jail, we deem it our duty to call attention to the dilapidated condition of the dead house.

"In acting under your Lordship's instruction, we visited the Asylum for the Insane, and were very cordially received by Dr. Buckle and the officials in attendance. We were shown through the institution, where we found everything clean and the inmates as comfortable as their condition would permit. We examined the farm buildings and stock, and were much pleased with the condition of the same. We were also interested in the irrigation system as a safe, economical and profitable manner of disposing of the sewage of the institution. The inmates now number 1,000.

"It affords us very much pleasure to express our thanks to the sheriff, the Crown Attorney, the Crown counsel, the clerk of the court, as well as the other court officials, for their courtesy and assistance to the while in the discharge of our duty.

"JOHN CAURSE, Foreman, On behalf of the other jurors."

The grand jury were then paid off. The expenses involved are as follows: Grand jury, $34.30; petit jury, $325.80; constables, $75.30. The jurors were paid $2 per day each, and allowed 10 cents a mile on way. The constables received $1.50 each per day. The grand jurors received three days' pay, and the petit jurors only a fraction of that, as they were allowed to go as soon as possible.

SOMEWHAT TOO HIGH

The Tenders for St. James' Church Additions—The Vestry Will Consider the Matter.

The special committee of St. James' Church vestry, South London, opened tenders for the church alterations last night. The committee had been authorized to spend a sum not exceeding $5,000, but the lowest tender was $700 above this. The matter was referred to the whole vestry for action.

It is proposed to widen the church 22 feet, by a wing on each side. These will admit 42 new pews, greatly enlarging the seating accommodation. The plans also provide for an addition in the rear, allowing more space in the choir and clergy's vestries, and more room for the organ. It is likely the work will be proceeded with without calling for new tenders or altering the plans. The architects are Moore & Henry.

LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs, and was kept up by physicking. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice, I procured the medicine and less than half a bottle cured me; I certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was averse to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me any good."

People who always want particulars supplemented to a statement are about as pleasant in social life as a tight shoe at a sprinting match.

Wedded at St. Paul's.

Stylish Ceremony at the Cathedral This Afternoon.

Marriage of Miss Fannie Smith, London, and Mr. C. W. Rowley, Berlin.

The Dean Officiating—Handsome Costumes of the Bridal Party—The After Reception.

The marriage of Mr. Charles W. Rowley, accountant of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Berlin, to Miss Fannie Smith, sister of Mr. W. H. Smith, of St. James street, was solemnized at St. Paul's Cathedral this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mr. Rowley is well known in the city, having been teller in the Bank of Commerce here previous to his promotion to Berlin, about two years ago, and his bride is one of London's most charming young ladies.

The ceremony was performed by the Dean of Huron, in the presence of a large concourse of people, including many friends and relatives from the city and distant points. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. W. H. Smith. She had as her maid of honor Miss Shanklin, of Toronto, and as her bridesmaids Miss Viola Brown, of this city, and Miss Charlotte Chaplin, of St. Catharines. Little Miss Beatrice Taylor and Kathleen Smith, nieces of the bride, were also present attendants. Mr. Arthur Rowley, of Ottawa, nephew of the groom, acted as best man. The ushers were Messrs. Archibald Becher and Walter Smith, of this city.

The bride was becomingly attired in court train of ivory brocade satin, over a petticoat of plain ivory satin. She wore the regulation veil and orange blossoms, and carried a large shower bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor wore a white silk dress, with a pink bodice, veiled with chiffon, and a pretty picture hat was trimmed with white chiffon and huge pink poppies. She carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas. Miss Brown wore a similar costume, excepting that the bodice was green, and she had green chrysanthemums in her hat. Miss Chaplin was attired in harmony with her companions, except that her bodice was pale blue and her hat flowers the same. The bride's little train wore white Empire gowns, huge Mother Hubbard bonnets of pink silk, and carried shower bouquets of sweet peas. The costumes were extremely pretty.

As the party entered the church the beautiful wedding march of Lohengrin was played by Mr. George Sipp, and on leaving Mendelssohn's march was given. The church was tastefully decorated with palms and flowers.

At the conclusion of the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Rowley retired to the residence of Mr. W. H. Smith, where a reception was held and the happy couple were showered with congratulations and good wishes. The house was decorated with exquisite taste and rich profusion. The reception room was fairylike in splendor. The curtains which partitioned it were unique in pattern, being made of alternating stripes of smilax and pink ribbon. Palms, ferns, flowers, smilax and vincia everywhere adorned the house. The stateroom was one mass of flowers and foliage. At 4:30 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Rowley left for the East. They will make their home in Berlin.

Among the invited guests, of whom there was an extensive list, were Mr. C. W. Rowley, Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Rowley, Vancouver, B. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bond, Hillgrove, N. S.; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Taylor, Miss Amy and Master Russell Taylor, Brantford; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith, Mrs. M. M. and Master Arvid Smith, Miss C. Russell Smith, Bishop Baldwin and family, Mrs. E. W. Hyman, Mrs. Becher, Messrs. Manigault, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Dewar, Mr. Charles Smith, Mr. Beverley Cox and Mr. W. J. Clark.

COUNTY REGISTRAR.

All Else Failing Mr. Geo. C. Ward Is Cured by Eight Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Port Hope, Sept. 28.—No case of recovery from serious illness that has ever occurred in this community has caused as much talk as that of our esteemed fellow-townsmen Mr. Geo. C. Ward, registrar of this county, residing here. For a long time it had been well known to his intimate friends that he was suffering from kidney disorder. But for the past year he grew worse, and all efforts to regain his strength were without avail. He is now cured, as he says, by eight boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and is as well as ever he was in his life.

SQUIRRELS KILL A COW.

Vanceburg, Ky., Sept. 29.—John S. Parks, of Triple Creek, heard a piteous howling of his fine Jersey cow in the field near his house this morning. He went out and found the animal literally covered with squirrels, which were biting and gashing her. She died an hour later from loss of blood.

Mrs. Celeste Coon, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "For years I could not eat many kinds of food without producing a burning, excruciating pain in my stomach. I took Dodd's Kidney Pills according to directions under the head of 'Dyspepsia or Indigestion.' One box entirely cured me. I can now eat anything I choose without distressing me in the least. These pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required."

Public Expenditure.

Different Stories Told by the New Ottawa Opposition.

Foolish Attempts to Mislead the Public.

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—The Federal expenditure for the current fiscal year and the Liberal professions of economy form the basis of a remark in the leading article in today's Mail and Empire that "the proposed expenditure contemplates a deficit of $8,000,000." Mr. Geo. E. Foster, the financial oracle of the Opposition, stated yesterday afternoon that the proposed expenditure exceeded the probable revenue by $2,500,000. These gentlemen are clearly guessing, and might at least guess in unison. The fact is that the consolidated fund expenditure under the supply bill will be less than the late Government proposed last session to Parliament. The consolidated fund expenditure is the test, and the figures under last session's estimates were $38,308,000, and under the present estimates $35,225,000. The reduction is insignificant, but it answers the charge that the present Government are out-doing their predecessors. Then there are supplementary estimates now going through amounting to $2,889,857, nearly all of which is required to meet legal obligations incurred by the late Government, and more to the capital. Last session the Government had supplementary estimates amounting to over $3,000,000 all ready, but they were not adopted. Their main estimates, and consequently, did not bring down the supplementary estimates. Major Hughes spent the best part of his last campaign, Mr. Arthur Rowley, of Ottawa, nephew of the groom, acted as best man. The ushers were Messrs. Archibald Becher and Walter Smith, of this city.

YOUTHFUL OFFENDERS.

Judge Edward Elliott Discharges Two With a Few Words of Advice.

Judge Edward Elliott had the unpleasant duty this morning of picturing to two youthful offenders the magnitude of their offenses, counseling them against further transgressions. The first brought up was little Robert Moore. The judge looked at him sympathetically, and said: "If I don't pass the sentence for this offense, will you be a good boy in the future?"

"Yes, sir," said the child tearfully. "Will you go with Mr. Sanders to the Children's Aid Society?" the judge asked. Robbie answered in the same tearful way and trembling voice.

The judge then admonished the youngest, saying that he was an unusually intelligent boy, and there was no reason why he should not become a bright and useful member of society. He hoped this session would be the court in his case would not be misplaced. He then gave instructions for committing the boy to the care of the Children's Aid Society until he could provide for himself.

Wesley Jerome Elliott, the young man from Strathroy, who pleaded guilty to the theft of a watch, is about 15 years of age. When asked had anything to say regarding the crime to which he had pleaded guilty, he replied: "Only this that I stole the watch from my father's pocket; and it's a trick I'll never do again."

DISASTER AT MILWAUKEE

Barge Sunk and Four Sailors Lose Their Lives.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 30.—The barge Sumatra, consort of the B. W. Arnold, bound down from Chicago with a load of railroad iron, foundered off the Government pier here this morning. Four sailors were drowned. The captain, mate and cook were rescued by the life-saving crew.

The Sumatra was bound for Milwaukee loaded with railroad iron, and was making up the Hattie Well here. She was looking on her way up, and had the pumps working all night. The sea was running high, and the crew were in great difficulty in keeping her from sinking. When she reached South Point she got in the trough of the sea, and in a short time her hatches were washed off and her rails carried away. The steamer sounded her whistle and the tug Simpson at once put out for the wreck. Just as the Simpson reached the Sumatra she sank.

The tug men succeeded in rescuing the cook and mate from the wreck-age. The life-saving crew was on hand and worked hard to save the other men on the barge, but all were drowned with the exception of the captain, who was taken ashore by the life-savers. The wreck occurred about a mile and a half out from the harbor entrance.

Those lost were: Arthur Burnsted, Charles Hemmer, Patrick Peterson, Peter Anderson, all of West Bay City, Mich.

Fine Dressmaking.

BAYLEY'S.

A Fashionable Wedding.

Toronto's Four Hundred Crowd the Cathedral.

Miss Lilly Gooderham Married to Chas. W. Beaty—Pretty Gowns and Dazzling Jewels.

Toronto, Sept. 30.—By far the most fashionable, most extensive and most expensive wedding which Toronto's four hundred have ever witnessed was celebrated at St. James' Cathedral yesterday afternoon. It was the wedding of Miss Lilly Gooderham, daughter of George Gooderham, president of the Bank of Toronto, to Chas. W. Beaty, son of Vice-President Beaty, also of the Bank of Toronto.

The ceremony was performed by the Bishop of Niagara, assisted by Rev. E. A. Atcheson, brother-in-law of the bride. Miss Lilly Gooderham, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Beaty, Irene Gooderham, and Lilly Phillips were bridesmaids. Little Elsie Ross and Master Dean Atcheson, god children, and niece and nephew of the bride, were in attendance on the bride, clad in pretty fifteenth century page dresses.

The dresses of all concerned were most brilliant, and diamonds sparkled and jewels shone in the concourse. The crowd was enormous, and hours before the ceremony began those without tickets crowded into the lawn and almost created a panic.

And now for the rare and splendid dresses. Bright and rich were the costumes, and they sparkled with jeweled trimmings. The bride's dress, which naturally attracted most attention, was made of ivory satin duchesse, with a court train, hanging from the shoulder. The skirt was finished by a ruche of tulle and orange blossoms, the front being handsomely draped with a deep tulle of old Venetian Pointe. The bodice was also draped with old lace, caught with orange blossoms. The belt and collar were embroidered with pearls.

A wreath of orange blossoms, a veil of embroidered Brussels and a net caught by a diamond star, completed her costume, a costume which will continue to elicit admiration and criticism in a thousand female conversations for the remainder of the week. The traveling dress is of blue and green shot Bengaline. The bodice is trimmed with white satin, and black embroidered mousseline de soie. The bride wore a black velvet cape, trimmed with jet and chinchilla, and a small hat.

The four bridesmaids wore white duchesse satin, trimmed with white lace and pearl ornaments. Jewel veils trimmed with white lace applied. Mrs. Gooderham, mother of the bride, wore a dress of yellow satin duchesse, brocaded with white flowers. The bodice was of black Lyons velvet, slashed with yellow and trimmed with Chantilly lace, and jet, with bonnet to match.

Mrs. G. H. Gooderham was dressed in purple and green broche. The bodice was of embroidered satin and embroidered chiffon. A purple sgar, trimmed with white lace applique. After the ceremony and a reception at the bride's parents' residence, the wedding party left for a tour in the Southern States. The presents were the richest ever known in Toronto.

A Southern Cyclone

Creates Great Havoc and Loss of Life.

Fatalities Along the Georgia Coast May Be in the Hundreds.

Loss in Savannah and Chatham County Estimated at About $1,000,000.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 30.—The West India cyclone that swept over the city and this section yesterday has hardly been equalled for intensity and destruction within the memory of those now living. The wind reached its highest shortly after 12 o'clock, but its exact velocity may never be known. The instrument at the weather bureau registered 66 miles an hour, and then went to pieces. The blow was practically over within two and a half hours, but for that time it raged with an intensity heretofore unknown.

It is impossible to enumerate the buildings unroofed or partially destroyed. The total damage is estimated at $700,000 to $1,000,000 in Savannah and Chatham county.

MANY FATALITIES.

The list of fatalities so far is about nine, all in or near the city. There has been no way of reaching the island, says the coast where it is likely that the fatalities may be in the hundreds.

A dispatch from Atlanta says: A disastrous hurricane swept over Brunswick and along the Georgia coast this morning. Meager reports received indicate that the hurricane was of terrific force, and that great damage and probable loss of life resulted. All wires along the coast are down, and up to a late hour communication has not been restored to Brunswick, Savannah or Charleston.

Mr. H. N. Merrill, of the Atlanta Telephone Company, reached Atlanta last night from Brunswick, and stated that the city of Brunswick is badly damaged and that

THREE BIG VESSELS WERE SUNK in Brunswick harbor. The latter were blown away from their moorings. The sea and wind destroyed much of Brunswick's shipping interests. Mr. Merrill says that the famous old gunboat, the Monitor, was blown away from her pier and was floating helplessly in the harbor in danger of going to the bottom. The only communication was restored with Brunswick later this morning, when it was learned that in Brunswick, and that the damage amounts to $500,000. Many persons were dangerously injured. The storm in Savannah was equally disastrous, and several persons were killed in that city.

AT BALTIMORE.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 30.—A severe southeast hurricane struck this city last night. Houses were unroofed, wires prostrated, windows smashed and sign boards blown from their fastenings. Much other damage is reported.

FOUNDRY BLOWN DOWN.

Reading, Pa., Sept. 30.—At 2 o'clock this morning the cast house of the Temple furnace at Temple, Pa., five miles above Reading, was blown down by the wind, and nearly a dozen workmen were buried in the ruins. The men were pinned down by the heavy timbers, and it was some time before they could be reached. One man was killed outright, and the others were all badly injured. Some of them will die.

MAJOR MCKINLEY

Was a Free Silver Man in 1890 and Referred to His Record.

Cleveland, Sept. 30.—A special from Akron says: During the meeting addressed by Senator Teller last evening a sensation was caused by a letter read by Gen. E. B. Finley of Bucyrus, which had been written by Major McKinley to E. S. Perkins, of W. V. mouth, Medina county, in the fall of 1890. Mr. Perkins had written to McKinley regarding his position on the silver question.

In his reply the Republican candidate for the Presidency expresses his faith in the doctrine of free silver, and points to his Congressional record in support of his position, saying: "I have always been in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of the silver product of the United States, and have so voted on at least two occasions during the time I have been in public life."

Wrecked and Burned!

Three Trains Crash Into Each Other.

Two Men Killed and Many Cars Demolished.

Batavia, N. Y., Sept. 30.—By a wreck on the Lehigh Valley about a mile and a half east of here this morning, brakeman Kimball was killed and Engineer Dennis McCarthy, fatally injured. East-bound freight train No. 640, stopped on the main line at Niagara Junction, where the Lehigh connects with the "Peanut" branch of the New York Central, probably to cool a hot journal. While standing on the main line, a double header, also east-bound, came thundering up behind, and crashed into the rear of the standing train, piling up the cars for half a mile along the track.

Just then a west-bound freight came along, and added to the devastation by jamming into the derailed cars. The wind was blowing a gale and some of the cars caught fire. The fire resisted all efforts to extinguish it for hours. The wreck is very costly, but it is remarkable that no more trainmen were injured.
