OURS.

It chanced on a beautiful summer night,
When the moon was young, when the stars were bright,
And the blossoms slept in the tender light,
And dreamed of the zephyr's sighs;
That a wondrous spell in our homes was wrought,
Of hopes and fears and bewildered thought,
By a fairy flower that an angel brought
From the Gardens of Paradise.

The south wind fluttered its perfumed wings,
And essayed the song that the bulbul sings,
And the fire fly sparkled in the mystic rings,
Like the lamps at a fairy ball;
The young leaves, whispering sweet and low
In a tongue that only Dryades know,
Made love to the waves that pance below
To the chant of the water-fall.

The cloud ships lay in the far-off West
With their masts and spars and sails at rest,
Or floated along in an idle quest
Of some bright Elysian isle:
And fairy gondolas here and there,
Moved down the streams of the upper air,
And moved their prows to the shadowy stair
Of some Gothic palace pile.

So the hours of that summer night were told,
And starlight faded from river and wold,
And morning in garments of purple and gold,
Awakened the sleepy earth;
But the cherub form, with face so fair,
Crowned with a glory of golden hair—
Like the morning sunshine gleaming there—
Still nestled beside our hearth.

NOTES AND NEWS.

GENERAL.

George F. Train has announced his intention to return to the United States and establish the Credit Foncier, with a capital of ten millions. It is always safe to begin small.

The Lucretia Borgia costume took the first prize at a Kentucky bal masque. The judges thought the wearer might go to experimenting on them if they didn't pony up.

"I have come," said a Scotch farmer to a neighbor Laird who was just dying; "I have come to settle about that bit of land."

"Settle't," cried the old wrangler, "how will you settle't? Your father couldna settle't, and your grandfather couldna settle't, and the 'fifteen' couldna settle't and how will you settle't?"

"Oh," said the rival claimant, "I'll let you have it altogether."

"But I'll no tak'it," cried the stout old litigant, and he turned his face resolutely to the wall.

A farmer and his wife called at a Detroit photograph gallery last week to order some photographs of the latter, and while the operator was getting ready, the husband gave the wife a little advice as to how she must act. "Fasten your mind on something." he said, "or else you will laugh or spoil the job. Think about early days—how your father got in jail, and your mother was an old scolder, and what you'd have been if I hadn't pitied you? Just fasten your mind on that!" She didn't have any photographs taken.

A writer in the Californian delivered a Sunday School address, of which the following passage is an example: "You boys ought to be kind to your little sisters. I once knew a bad boy who struck his little sister a blow over the eye. Although she didn't fade and die in the early summer time, when the June roses were blooming, with the sweet words of forgiveness on her palid lips, she rose up and hit him over the head with a rolling-pin, so that he couldn't go to Sunday school for more than a month, on account of not being able to put his best hat on."

As an illustration of the immense voracity of small birds, and of the quantities of insects destroyed by them, a correspondent of the London Times writes: "The blue titmouse has been watched, and found to feed its young, from 3½ a.m. to 8½ p. m., 475 times, bringing one large or two or three small insects each time The thrush, from 1½ a. m. to 9½ p. m., 206 times. The blackbird, from 3½ a. m. to 8.40 p. m., 113 times. The mistletoe thrush, from 4.20 to 8 p. m., 66 times, each time bringing several large worms or insects. The sparrow, from two or three to six or eight insects at once, and as this goes on for all the day, and they frequently have two or three broods in the year, they must destroy an immense number. I watched the other day a wagtail catching insects to feed its young, and it took eight or nine into its bill in a minute or two, and had not left off when I turned away. The starlings I frequently observed getting caterpillars for their young, flying from tree to tree with two or three together in their bills to collect more."

VINEGAR BITTERS — PURELY VEGETABLE — FREE FROM ALCOHOL — DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA — EUREKA — VINEGAR BITTERS

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, in Bilious Diseases.

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant, Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.
