J. COOMBES - MANAGER.

If the U.S. Should Take It Up.

Cornwall, Nov. 30.—There was large meeting of the members of the Rossmore Club last evening when the guest was C. C. Ballantyne, Montreal, ex-president of the C.M.A., who spoke for three-quarters of an hour on transportation, protection and the future of the Dominion. He approved of the three-fold tariff introduced by Mr. Fielding, but was of opinion that if the United States ever give a minimum tariff to Canada, and ours was reduced to meet it, there would be a bad lookout for this country.

HAMILTON HAPPENINGS

MEN ARE WORKING TO-DAY UNDER ORDER OF THE BOARD

Col. Gibson Objected at First, But Later Agreed—Non-Union Men to Get First Cars.

Hamilton, Nov. 30.—(Special.)—Starting Saturday morning the street cars, Radial and Hamilton and Dundas lines, will be operated by the union men who have been out on strike for nearly four weeks, and the strike-breakers will be taken to pastures new. That at least was the arrangement entered into this afternoon by the company and the union before the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board.

The board met at 11 o'clock and proceeded at once to the arbitration of the street railway troubles. The first thing the board did was to issue an order instructing all the strikers to go back to work. The order read: "The board, in order to serve the comfort and convenience of all classes of the community, hereby declares the strike off and orders and directs all the men now out on strike to return to their respective employments; and also orders and directs the companies to receive the men back, and the companies are to further put a complete service in operation."

The chairman read the order, and then said he supposed the next question would be about wages. Col. Gibson made strenuous objections to the order. He thought the company should have some say as to whom it should employ. It was willing to put back a majority, even nineteen-twentieths of them, but it should not be compelled to keep men who were dishonest. He asked for an adjournment for two hours, so that the company might consider the matter.

At the afternoon session Mr. Gibson agreed to obey the order, and take the men back as fast as cars were available. Many of the cars were so damaged that the company could not put them on the streets.

About Men.

W. D. Mahon, for the union, said that the strike-breakers employed were of the blackest character, and the strikers would not mix with them.

Col. Gibson thought Mr. Mahon's objection was a reasonable one.

"I'm about the most unpopular man in Hamilton and the most tired man," observed the colonel.

Mr. Mahon said that the men would all report to work early enough Saturday morning to take the cars out. If there were not cars for them to take out, of course it would not be reasonable to expect the company to put all the men back at once.

Chairman Leitch remarked that the city was in a state of siege; the citizens wanted a service restored at once, and that was why the board could not recede from its order.

Strikers and the Cars.

Col. Gibson said the company was in a position to give a better service than the public was taking advantage of. Threats had been made against the people who used the cars, and those threats certainly did not come from the company. Whenever things looked satisfactory for the strikers the cars were not molested, but when they looked unsatisfactory to the strikers the cars were molested. He said it was a physical impossibility for the company to take all the man back forthwith, but it would give a reasonable compliance to the board's order.

Chairman Leitch admitted that the order was drastic, but the board would do all in its power to help the company if it ran against snags.

It was then agreed that all the strikers were to report for duty in the morning, and as many as the company had cars for would be put back to work.

The company denies that it made an official announcement to Mayor Biggar yesterday that it intended to renew its roadbed and rolling stock. It says that it never said anything that could be construed into an announcement of that character, and had no intentions in that direction.

Ordered to Report.

It was a happy lot of men that left the Trades and Labor Hall about 10.30 to-night at the conclusion of the meeting of the street railway employes. Every man had orders to report at the barns at 6 o'clock in the morning. The only trace of resentment on the part of the men at returning to their old jobs was the objection of some of them to operating filthy and unsanitary cars. Comment has been made by citizens about the condition of the cars since the strike-breakers have been handling them. It is even said that the strike-breakers slept in the cars at night.

There is still a possibility of complications when the company undertakes to operate the cars in the morning. Late to-night Superintendent Miller stated that while none of the strike-breakers will be on the cars, the fifteen non-union men who were brought in some time ago, and kept in readiness to operate the cars when peace was restored, will be given the preference, and they will take the first cars out. The union men will then be accommodated as best can be. The company expects that it will be able to operate only 22 cars. The union men may refuse to work with the non-union.

Will Sue City.

Chisholm & Logie have served notice on the city that they will issue two writs for damage caused by the riots.

The cars were operated by strike-breakers this evening for the last time, it is hoped.

This morning, at police court, Thos. Ryan and John J. Millen, strike-breakers, were fined $5 each for being drunk and disorderly.

St. Andrew's Ball.

The annual St. Andrew's concert and ball was held in the Arcade Hall to-night in celebration of the 71st anniversary of the St. Andrew's Benevolent Society. A musical program was presented in the early part of the evening, after which a ball was held. Among those who contributed to the musical program were: Miss Mabel Manley and Donald C. McGregor of Toronto. The annual address of William Murray, the society's bard, was read by W. M. McClemont.

Knights Off for Buffalo.

About 500 Knights of Pythias left here by special train this afternoon for Buffalo to attend the Pythians' jubilee, which opened there to-day. Besides Red Cross and Bismarck Lodges of this city the party included representatives from lodges in Brantford, London, Strathroy, Georgetown and Petrolea. A procession was formed at the Knights of Pythias Hall on North John-street, and, headed by the 21st Band, marched to the King-street G.T.R. Station. William Peebles was marshal of the parade, and John Leith, assistant marshal. The following was the committee in charge of the excursion: John Burns, chairman; Harry James, secretary; J. C. Bleaken, A. Ramsperger, H. Kampf, Thomas Beasley, Thomas Towers, C.C., Red Cross Lodge; Alfred W. Wilkes, district deputy, and D. J. Pearce, supreme representative. The jubilee is being held in Convocation Hall, and the feature to-night will be the putting on of the third rank by the degree team of Iola Lodge of Dayton, Ohio, 135 strong. The local delegation will put up at the Lafayette Hotel.

Brevities.

A bogus cheque man is operating in the city. One of the victims was W. Tomes, tailor, North James-street.

The assignee has made a statement in connection with the estate of H. P. Heming. The creditors get 12 1-2 cents on the dollar. The assets were only $6583, and the liabilities $52,635.

THE LIME IS ALL OUT!

Hygeia Distilled Water

is LIKE RAINWATER—Rainwater is distilled water—It is the moisture of the earth evaporated by the sun and condensed as snow or rain in Nature's Big Distillery.

Spring water is good, but DISTILLED WATER IS BETTER. More lime than the system needs is found in our food. The mineral salts in well and spring waters are inorganic, and Cannot be Assimilated or Digested by the System. The soil of the earth is also inorganic in form, but the wheat and vegetables which it produces are organized food materials and contain phosphates, etc., which Are Assimilable.

Every column of this paper could be filled with quotations from famous physicians and scientists in Europe and America advising the use of DISTILLED WATER and giving the "reasons why."

In London an immense distilled water business is done. Visitors to New York, Boston and all the large American cities are impressed by the hundreds of water wagons delivering distilled water. Nearly 2000 companies are engaged in the business. The demand is enormous and increasing.

THE CULTURED CITY DWELLER

Would be deprived of many of the daily luxuries and necessities rather than lose the benefit and luxury of good distilled water. Like most well-read laymen, he knows all about the amusing arguments against "too pure" water, and as he reads the best reviews and magazines he is familiar with the fact that the only absolutely safe, reliable and pure water, free from bacteria, dead or alive is

Diamonds as Gifts

¶ "When in doubt choose Diamonds" is a sure axiom for Christmas gift-making. The gem of gems fails never in receiving ardent appreciation from young and older alike.

Present Worth

¶ A Diamond's intrinsic worth carries an assurance that the giver feels the "best none too good" for the favored recipient. The more is this certain if the gem be from Diamond Hall. The Ryrie guarantee as to quality is known to accompany every gem that leaves the store.

Future Value

¶ Then there is the satisfaction of knowing that a Diamond gift this Christmas will be no whit less brilliantly beautiful ten or twenty years hence. Instead, its value will be enhanced—almost fabulously so, if gem prices soar as there is every indication of their doing during the years to come. An ever increasing demand, and a limited world-supply combine to keep the Diamond market a steadily rising one.

Our Prices

¶ Our present prices are distinctly favorable to you—more so than there seems any possibility of their being a year hence. Through our permanent buying offices in Amsterdam we received unusually extensive Autumn shipments this year. And our "spot cash" purchasing methods secured for us advantages that enable us to offer price-values unequalled elsewhere in America.

Unique Ring

¶ A unique ring in our Christmas showing is one containing a large and brilliant Canary Diamond, surrounded by platinum-set scroll of almost innumerable white Diamonds, inter-spersed with clearest square-cut Emeralds. The buyer of this ring has the assurance that none like it is to be found the round world over.

Purchase Now

¶ Now—before the Christmas rush is on—is by all odds the best time for you to make your gem selections. So many of our jewel pieces are of exclusive design that delay endangers your losing the chance of choosing the finest of them.
