her death at the hands of the said McDaniel, who subsequently attempted his own life, the Jury brought in a Verdict of "Wilful murder of Mary Squares, by Joseph McDaniel."

The unfortunate deceased was a married woman, and her husband is said to be in the United States.

PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE.—Our House of Assembly met yesterday for the dispatch of business. His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor came in state to the Council Chamber, and opened the Session with the following Speech:

Mr. President, and Honorable Gentlemen of the Legislative Council,

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly.

I HAVE called you together at this unusual season of the year, for the purpose of communicating to you His Majesty's final pleasure in reference to a measure of no ordinary favor and liberality on the part of the Crown—the surrender, to your control and disposal, of the proceeds of all His Majesty's Casual and Territorial Revenues in this Province, upon certain conditions; and the only observation with which I will accompany the important documents, copies of which I have directed immediately to be laid before you, is that I feel an entire conviction that the suggestions of the King's Government will be received by you with the most respectful attention.

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly,

My connexion with this Province is of much too recent a date to warrant my submitting to you, at present, any suggestions relative to the objects to which it might appear to me advantageous to the interests of the Province to recommend to you to apply any portion of the Revenues to which I have alluded. I will therefore merely express to you the satisfaction which, as His Majesty's Representative, I feel in being authorized and instructed to ratify, on the part of our truly paternal Sovereign, an arrangement with His Majesty's loyal subjects of this Province, of the advantages of which, as respects their interests, the King had only to be satisfied, in order to insure His Majesty's most willing and gracious assent.

Mr. President, and Honorable Gentlemen of the Legislative Council,

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly,

I will detain you from the exercise of your Legislative duties only for the purpose of expressing my earnest and confident hope that a spirit of harmony and of wisdom will continue to guide your deliberations upon the very important measures now to be brought under your renewed consideration, and upon which the future welfare and prosperity of this Province so mainly depend.

SHIP LOCKWOODS.—So much having been said in the New-York papers respecting this vessel having violated their Quarantine laws, we give below Captain LAWTON's deposition of the whole circumstances connected with this affair, which sets the matter in its proper light. The truth is, that the authorities of New York had no right to interfere with the ship; the ship was destined for another Port, and was in a manner inveigled into the waters of the State of New York by the Pilot, who informed the Captain that all vessels with passengers were obliged to touch at the quarantine station at Staten Island. This unpardonable interference with British ships for the purpose of extorting money, and the detention of the properties of our Merchants, call aloud for remonstrance against such mercenary and unjustifiable proceedings.

From the Quebec Gazette.

SHIP LOCKWOODS—NEW YORK QUARANTINE STATION.—The New York papers have made some noise about this vessel having violated the quarantine laws, by landing passengers at Perth Amboy. The following deposition of the Captain, WM. LAWTON, will set things to rights. It is much to be regretted that a young gentleman, named John Fotherby, who was merely a passenger, should have been made a victim on this occasion. Captain Lawton directly contradicts the statements made by the Inspecting Physician, Dr. Rockwell, on this occasion, who was abusive and seemed more anxious about his fee of 6 1-2 dollars than any thing else. Of the other officers, both those who boarded and on shore, Capt. Lawton speaks highly. He knew nothing, however, of the complaints made against him till he arrived at Grosse Isle:—

"Personally came and appeared before me, one of His Majesty's Justices of the Peace, in and for the District of Quebec, in the Province of Lower Canada, William Lawton, Master, of the Ship Lockwoods, of Liverpool, in England, who being duly sworn, did depose and say; that on the 12th April, 1837, Deponent sailed in the said vessel, from Liverpool, with a number of passengers, bound to Perth Amboy, in the State of New Jersey, one of the United States of America, and about four hundred and twenty tons of coals, for Quebec, in North America; that on the 27th May, at 4 P. M. a Pilot, of the highland of Navasink, hailed the vessel, but not being able to take her to Perth Amboy, refused to take him, and at 10 P. M. a pilot from New York offering, took him on board, at about 7 or 8 leagues distance from the block light. Upon his informing the Deponent that all vessels with passengers were obliged to touch at the quarantine station, at Staten Island, and although Deponent remonstrated with him, that the ship, not being bound to New York, he did not think he was bound to go to the Quarantine station of that State, he yet allowed him to Pilot the vessel thereat, where she arrived on the 29th May, at half-past 3 P. M. the vessel was immediately visited by a Physician, and the crew and passengers mustered on deck, for inspection, at 5 P. M. Deponent went to New York by the regular Steamer, from Staten Island, and on the next day went with Mr. Rawson, the ship's Agent, to the Custom House, to ascertain whether it was necessary to report the vessel on account of her being at anchor at Staten Island, although bound for Perth Amboy; when Deponent was informed by an officer of the Custom House that the vessel not having been twenty four hours at Staten Island, and being bound to another State, no report was necessary, and that he could proceed right on to his destination. Immediately engaged the Steamer Statesman to tow the ship to Perth Amboy, and got a pilot from the Commissioners of Pilots.

About noon got alongside with the steamer and weighed anchor immediately; while proceeding Deponet discovered a boat rowing after the ship, when he requested the Captain of the steamer to slack his steam, and upon the boat coming up, found that it contained the Doctor who had at first boarded the vessel, (Dr. Rockwell,) and a gentleman who stated himself to be a Revenue Officer for the States; the Doctor absolutely insisted, upon our returning to Staten Island with the ship, without taking any notice of Deponent's observations; however, upon explaining to the Revenue Officer that the vessel was not bound to New York, but to Perth Amboy, in the State of New Jersey, and that Deponent had called at the New York Custom House, where he had been informed that he might proceed to the vessel's destination, he advised the steamer and the Pilot to proceed on their voyage, which was done, and arrived at Perth Amboy the same evening, May 30, and early next morning an Inspecting Officer visited the vessel; Deponent landed with him and entered the ship inwards at the Custom House; at about 10 A. M. two Inspectors and a Physician came on board mustered the passengers and crew on deck and visited every part of the vessel, and allowed the passengers to be all landed in their presence, with their luggage, after having examined the same, excepting five passengers who had been landed at Staten Island, by order of the Doctor. In the afternoon Deponent cleared outwards at the Custom House; having lost some of his men by desertion, he went to New York to procure others, which having effected, on the 1st June, he returned to Perth Amboy, and on the same day sailed thence for Quebec. Deponent further deposeth that the young man, named John Fotherby, arrested as supercargo of the vessel, was not so employed, but was merely a cabin passenger, bound to New-Brunswick.

NEW YORK, June 20.

Illegal Importation of Aliens.—The Corporation have taken up this subject in earnest, and are adopting the most rigorous measures for putting an end to the alleged abuses. Within the last few days Captain Swinford of the barque Ocean has been arrested at the suit of the Corporation on a writ for $100,000, for not having bonded his passengers. The penalty is $500 for every passenger so neglected to be bonded, and hence the large amount, for which the Corporation Attorney, however, consented to take bail for him in the sum of $10,000, which he procured, and was liberated. Captain Kay of the ship St. George was also arrested on a writ for a similar amount, and not being able to procure bail in $10,000, he remains in prison.

Violation of the Passenger Laws.—The ship St. George, Capt. Kay, was yesterday seized by the Deputy Sheriff, on a writ issued by the Corporation Attorney, for a violation of the passenger laws, in not reporting regularly his passengers. The Capt. was arrested on Saturday, but having procured the requisite bail, was discharged. If the charges, as perferred, can be substantiated, (of which there is little doubt) the vessel will be confiscated.—N. Y. Courier & Enquirer.

We are pained to record the death of Samuel Neilson, Esq. Editor of Neilson's Quebec Gazette, and son of the Hon. John Neilson of that city. He arrived at the Quarantine Ground on Saturday, from the Mediterranean, whither he had gone in pursuit of health, and died the same day. A very sudden change must have come over him, as when seen by our boatmen he was apparently well.—Ib.
