A DEEPER STUDY OF THE BIBLE

A Purely Secular Education Is a Monstrosity, Said Rev. Mr. Graham

BIBLE SOCIETY MEETING

Narrow Sectarianism of Churches Is to Blame for Much of the Discredit Thrown on the Word of God.

"A purely secular education is to my mind a monstrosity," declared Rev. J. W. Graham, D. D., who last night delivered an address before the Western Ontario Bible Society in the First Methodist Church. Dr. Graham spoke on the subject, "The Living Word," and made a strong plea for a deeper, more prayerful study of the Bible.

"It is a simple truth," continued Dr. Graham, "that the Bible is the greatest book in the world. It is a unique book, that reveals God to man, and teaches a faith in one God. Science and philosophy are today positing as never before the monotheistic idea of God, and the doctrine of immortality. The Bible teaches that God is the Great I Am, and that he is not far from any one of us. I believe that God revealed himself to the Hebrews. The Bible is a revelation of God to men through men. In a sense, the Bible is not so much a revelation as the record of the revelation of God to men.

A Flaw in the Bible.

"Some critics say if there is one flaw in the Bible, there may be one thousand, and the whole Bible may after all not be inspired. No one has the right to stampede men into accepting this argument, however much he may have a right to his own opinion. Why throw away the precious water of life because it comes to us in an earthen vessel? The world would be impoverished without the Bible.

"There is a possibility of wireless telegraphy being so perfected that messages may be sent in a secret code. Only those in tune with the Spirit of God can catch the deepest message of the truth of God. The teacher of the Bible should be a scholar as well as a person of saintly character, but I would rather have the Bible taught imperfectly than not taught at all.

Problem of Education.

"Absolutism is dead, and democracy reigns in her stead. The problem of modern democracy is the problem of education. Infidels, skeptics and Jews are not so much to blame for the opposition to the Bible in the schools of Chicago and New York as the Christian churches themselves. The narrow sectarianism of the churches discredits the truth of God. The problem of modern democracy is the problem of a Christian education. Religion is deeper and broader than Anglicanism or Methodism, or any other 'ism.' Religion is the most sacred thing in a man's life. Although I am a Methodist, I am perfectly willing to have the Bible read in the schools by an Anglican teacher.

Defending the Bible.

"Some would-be defenders of the Bible are really defending their own interpretation of it. We can understand the Bible better than a good many comments and expositions of those who are trying to 'doctor up' the Book. Some people stand before the Bible, swinging a club, as it were. They are like the man who was defending the lion in the cage. Let the lion out and he will defend himself. The Bible also is capable of holding its own. The Bible is the people's book. Give it to every man to read in his mother tongue. But read it a little more on your knees. The Bible is not inspired to me because the conference of the Methodist Church, or a certain church council passes a resolution or a decretal to that effect. It is inspired because it reaches me. It finds me and reveals God to me. It is inspired not because the authority of the church indorses it, but because of the appeal it makes. Fifteen million copies of the Bible in whole or part are distributed throughout the world in a year. The Bible is a living book. It has been sent out in 530 languages. The Bible has outlived the Colossus of Rhodes, and the gates of Thebes. It has entered the Roman Pantheon, and it has transformed cannibal orgies into love feasts. It has uplifted woman, once the slave and caprice of man's passion, to be the guardian angel of the Christian home."

Rev. Mr. Bowen.

Rev. R. J. Bowen, district secretary of the Bible Society, gave an address on the work of the society in Canada.

"The Bible has behind it today the promise of God," said Rev. Mr. Bowen, "that 'My Word shall not return unto Me void.'" He spoke of the value the society has been in the work of Christian evangelization in India, and of the particular assistance it has rendered in the missionary work of Canada. Already the Bible has been distributed in 107 tongues in Canada. Rev. Mr. Bowen emphasized the need for greater interest in the Canadian work, in meeting the constant stream of foreign immigration. There are in Montreal 40,000 Jews, and in Toronto 15,000. The work of the Moravian missions in the far northland was favorably referred to, and the relation of the Bible Society to the missionary enterprise of the church the world over was strongly and clearly pointed out.

Reports Presented.

The reports of the Western Ontario Bible Society for the past year were passed on the motion of Rev. Principal Waller, seconded by Mr. Edward Towe. A great and encouraging advance over the work of the preceding year was shown in the different spheres of the society's activity. The conduct of the programme for the meeting was in the hands of the president of the society, Very Rev. Dean Davis. The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Dr. Ross and Rev. Richard Whiting. A feature of the evening was the special music provided by a massed choir under the direction of Mr. A. D. Jordan, organist of the First Methodist Church. Two splendid oratories were rendered, Haydn's "The Heavens Are Telling," and "The Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel. The former was conducted by Mr. Wheeler, organist of St. Andrew's, and the latter by Mr. Goethe Quantz, organist of Askin Street Methodist Church. The leading parts were taken in "The Heavens Are Telling," by Messrs. Quantz and W. A. McCutcheon and Miss Beatrice Hunt. Mr. J. E. Jordan, organist of Colborne Street Methodist Church, took part in the service at the organ.

At the close thanks were tendered to the speakers of the evening, Rev. Dr. Graham and Rev. Mr. Bowen, and to the organists and members of the choir who had contributed to the musical part of the programme. The financial report of the society showed a substantial cash balance, after paying the expenses of the year and remitting $3,500 to the Canadian Bible Society. The contributions received were considerably in advance of the previous year.

Doctor Told Her She Did Not Have A Pint Of Good Blood In Her Body.

Mrs. Dosithe P. Cormier, Middle Sackville, N.B., says:

"In the spring of 1897 I was all run down, and the doctor told me I had not a pint of good blood in my body. I took different remedies from doctors, but they did not seem to do me any good. After having taken a lot of different other kinds of medicine, and they did not seem to benefit me, I was almost in despair and did not know what to do until my husband met a lady and told her about my sickness and she told him to try Burdock Blood Bitters as she had received the greatest benefit from using it. My husband went and bought me a bottle, and after having taken it I felt better, so I kept on using one bottle after another until I had taken six in all and then I was strong and well. I am positive that my being alive to-day is due to the use of Burdock Blood Bitters. One spring since then I was not feeling very well and had a lot of work to do. I thought I would procure a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and after I had taken two I was able to do a lot of hard work all the summer, and I never felt better in my life. In the winter of 1906 I had Pneumonia, and it left me with a severe pain in the left side. Every morning when I would get out of bed I had to sit down for a while it was so painful. After I had used Burdock Blood Bitters the pain disappeared completely. It has also cured me of bleeding piles. I have received so much benefit from Burdock Blood Bitters that you may publish this as it may help others as it has me."

STORMY SCENES

Labor Members Very Strongly Oppose Passage of Redistribution Bill.

Melbourne, Australia, Jan. 17.—The stormiest scenes in the history of the Parliament of Western Australia have followed the debate on the proposed redistribution bill. The measure incurred the hostility of the Labor members of the House, and they resorted to obstructive tactics. For 29 hours they kept the House sitting, delivering speech after speech, and argument after argument, until from sheer exhaustion they were obliged to move up.

During the progress of the sitting six members of the Labor party were ejected from the House. One of the Laborites showed fight, and the services of the police were required. Finally the Labor party withdrew in a body and progress having been made with the redistribution bill, the assembly arose.

The bill will be enacted into law in spite of the opposition of the Labor members.

DUKE A REAL WORKER.

A partner in the company states that the duke does the work of an ordinary clerk, and does it well. He is particularly eager to get a thorough insight into financial affairs.

ST. JOHN'S WORK FOR C. P. R. MEN

Steps Taken Last Night to Form Two More Branches in This City.

A COURSE OF LECTURES

The Objects of the Association Will Be Laid Before the Members With Full Instructions.

At a well attended meeting of the trainmen and enginemen of the C. P. R., held in the waiting-room at the depot last night, steps were taken to organize two branches of St. John's Ambulance Society. All C. P. R. men will be eligible for membership, and the inestimable value of the training to be received was impressed upon those present by Dr. Beattie, of Toronto, head physician of the C. P. R., and Mr. S. A. Gidlow, general secretary of the C. P. R. St. John's Ambulance Societies.

Arrangements were made by which Dr. W. J. Stevenson will give a course of practical lectures one evening every week for five weeks.

Mr. E. I. Walker, chief clerk for Superintendent McNeillie, was appointed secretary, and at a meeting to be held later officers will be elected.

Mr. Walker stated to The Advertiser today that in all probability five classes, with 15 or 20 men in each, will be formed.

The Good Work.

In the course of his address last night Dr. Beattie spoke of the work the ambulance societies are doing, and urged the importance of all railwaymen being ready at any time to know exactly what to do in case of emergency. First aid work, he showed, was invaluable to the physicians, as in the majority of cases if those hurt were properly attended to much suffering and trouble could be avoided afterwards. He stated that at the big Angus shops in Montreal ambulance work has been carried on for eight years, with most excellent results. Last year two classes were started in Toronto, and it is proposed to extend the work all over the country.

The Objects.

Secretary Gidlow, in his address, outlined the objects of the association:

1. To teach what can be done in case of injury until a doctor is secured.

2. To teach what is not to be done in such a case.

3. To teach quick rescue methods in case of drowning and similar accidents.

Among those who were at the meeting were Chief Dispatcher Killingsworth, Assistant Superintendent Carmichael, Foremen Pendleton and O'Hara, and many others.

COMMISSION QUALIFIED TO HANDLE RAILWAYS

Proposal to Have Parliament Pass On Rates Dropped by Commons.

Ottawa, Jan. 17.—In the Commons today the member for South York moved that Parliament learn the rights of the public using the C. P. R. to a reduced tariff, according to the agreement with this country.

Hon. George P. Graham, minister of railways, showed that the railway commissioners were better qualified than the members of Parliament to deal with this matter. He declared the C. P. R. to be the strongest railway corporation in the world. As Mr. Maclean alone represented the amendment, there was no division.

Mr. Borden said there was some fatal weaknesses in Mr. Maclean's motion. It proposed to investigate the tariffs of one company only. The member for South York had not advanced any argument to show that the C. P. R. rates were higher than those of other companies. If there was to be an investigation the three big railways at least should be included. Then the proposal under the motion would not lead anywhere in particular, because, as he pointed out, the railway board was fully authorized to deal with rates. If Mr. Maclean knew of any grievance arising out of high rates he was at perfect liberty to go before the board and secure redress. The motion in this respect was both evasive and indefinite.

Mr. Borden repeated that it was idle to say that Mr. Maclean's motion met the situation unless it could be shown that the C. P. R. rates were higher than those of the other railway companies.

Guarantee Forfeited.

That a guarantee bond of $100,000, held by the Quebec Bridge Company against the United States Fidelity and Guarantee Company, in security for the contract for the erection of the Quebec bridge by the Phoenix Bridge Company, was forfeited after the collapse of the bridge, because of failure on the part of the Quebec Bridge Company to promptly notify the Guarantee Company or default by the Phoenix Company, is the information made in a return presented to Parliament by the Minister of Railways, Hon. George P. Graham.

A Debate on Divorce.

In the Senate, Senator Power declared that divorce committee of the upper house was efficient, and need not be displaced by a divorce court. He declared that a multiplicity of divorce courts invariably caused the increase in the number of divorces.

McSORLEY PLEADS GUILTY.

Cayuga, Jan. 17.—"Doc" McSorley pleaded guilty in court here today to the serious charges of desecrating a cemetery that have been preferred against him. He was remanded until Jan. 31 sentence. In the meantime his lawyer, R. S. Coller, will be permitted to produce evidence showing his previous good character.

McSorley shipped the body of the caretaker of the Presbyterian Church at Jarvis, in a barrel, first to Toronto, and then to Montreal. He labeled the barrel "turkeys." He opened the grave for the purpose, and evidently intended to sell the body to a medical college.

HELP FOR THE CHINESE.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The sum of $2 will save the life of one Chinaman among the millions who are now starving to death in the flood-swept provinces of Kiangsu and Anhiu, according to mail advices received at this state department from officers at Shanghai and Hanking. An international relief company is trying to collect from the charitable $2,000,000, which they estimate will carry 1,000,000 people through the winter.

Dropsy—

Given up by Doctor

"I had dropsy, and was told by my family physician that there was no chance for me. My family also gave me up. My limbs and body were swollen one-third larger than natural, water collected around my heart and I had to be propped up in bed to keep from smothering. I took Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy until I was entirely cured. This was in 1902, and I am now able to do any kind of work on my farm. My cure was certainly marvelous."

L. TURLEY CURD,
Wilmore, Ky.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy has been wonderfully successful in relieving heart trouble. Its tonic effect upon the heart nerves and muscles is a great factor in assisting nature to overcome heart weakness.

Amusements

Russian Ballet and Orchestra Tomorrow Night.

The following is taken from the Montreal Star of Saturday last:

"Coiners of words and makers of phrases may talk of ocular opera and rave about motion-drama; but neither words nor phrases, alone, will suffice to describe, adequately and correctly, the art of Anna Pavlowa and Mikail Nordkin. For it is an art which so far transcends mere word-painting that even epigrams seem tame as expressions of its beauty. It is so appallingly trite to call their art "poems in motion," or anything of that sort. Even if all the phrases and all the word-pictures and all the epigrams be true, when they have all been set down, they are only expressive of the husk.

"It would be superfluous to describe the dances in detail. They must be seen to be appreciated, and description would be futile. The Arabian Nights ballet is a thing of sheer, luscious beauty. The national dances are things of astounding vividness and immense aesthetic significance.

"The music is a delight alone. An orchestra most capably directed plays this Russian music with fine fire and rhythmic sense. The setting and mounting of the scenes are wholly admirable; the costuming perfect; and—to note but one of a score of striking features—the skill displayed by the whole company in make-up is at once a revelation and an art in itself."

Jerome the "Silent."

A peculiar story, worth the retelling, is credited to Jerome K. Jerome, who is a very reticent man. He was being pursued by a relentless reporter from a noted London daily paper immediately after he leaped into fame as the author of that risibility raiser "Three Men in a Boat." The reporter plied Jerome with questions, finally getting on to his friendships, and matters intimate. "You see that man out there," said Jerome, pointing to an old chap bending down, and obviously the gardener. "Well, he is my best friend."

The reporter, astonished, asked him how it came about that a gardener came to be his best friend. "Well, you see," said Jerome. "He's a German and can't speak English, and I don't speak German."

Jerome's great play "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," pays a return visit to the Grand on Friday next, with Ian Robertson as "The Stranger" supported by an entirely English company. The seat sale opened today.

A Favorite With Londoners.

This is Miss Robson's third season as "Aunt Mary," under the direct management of Mr. L. S. Sire, who has given the play a most elaborate production, and made "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary" one of the most famous plays of the present day. This was possible with the extraordinary genius of May Robson, for developing eccentric old women and making the character distinct, impressive, and very, very funny, yet human, and not a stage character, and one is apt to forget May Robson and see only the eccentric old maid, with her smiles and tears, her odd expressions and big heartedness. Miss Robson gives two performances here on Saturday. Plan now open.

Stock Inventory Today

THROUGH the newspapers we try to keep the public in touch with the pulse of this store, as we realize more and more each season that the people of London and vicinity feel that this is their store, and it is our aim and purpose that every customer should feel just that way. We have put on since the first of the month many pre stock taking sales with most satisfactory results. Many have benefited greatly by these sales, and it is gratifying to us to know that when we make a statement in the newspapers, whether it is a dollar value for one dollar or dollar goods for 49c, the public know that they will find it just as advertised (which it should be). Today our stock inventory will be taken. Every article of merchandise has been handled during the last few days and will be listed today. This means bringing to the front scores of broken stock lots, soiled or mussed fabrics and the odds and ends of a busy year. Many such lines are not sufficient to advertise, but taken collectively such lots cannot help but be most interesting to both men and women. The savings are great, the economies are fine at every turn, for these are the days when we reckon little with the cost in making the selling price. Come often and ru..mage through, you'll profit thereby.

What Has Dandruff Got to Do With Baldness?

You see the statement every day that the one cause of baldness is dandruff. But is it?

True, dandruff often precedes the departure of the hair.

It is equally true that you know men with a shock of hair you can hardly put a comb through, who have carried around a dandruff-laden collar as long as you have known them.

You have also seen men whose scalp was kept as clean as a baby's, whose

That dandruff talk sounds well and convinces a good many of us, but let us not fool ourselves.

Of course dandruff isn't a good thing to carry around, but it is only an indication.

The same trouble that causes the hair to fall out usually causes drandruff, so if you get at the cause and arrest the loss of hair you will stop dandruff too.

Those who use Nyal's Hirsutone find it the most satisfactory hair healer and hair dressing they have ever used.

It does stop the hair from falling out. It will also stop dandruff.
