FELL ASLEEP IN BALLOON
Awakes to Find Himself Suspended in the Flies of the Theater.

Washington, June 4. — Miss Helen Rockefeller, who is playing the part of Capt. Desmond in "The Girl's Eye" at the Lafayette Theater, missed the supper to which she was invited after the performance, and incidentally created some excitement at the theater, shortly after midnight.

An initiation balloon is used in the play, and after the performance it is drawn up in the flies until again required. Miss Rockefeller, last evening, just before the end of the last act, sat in the basket as a convenient place to rest, and fell asleep. The curtain went down for the night, lights were turned out and property men hoisted the balloon as usual, to the flies, without noticing the occupant of the basket.

Shortly after 1 o'clock Miss Rockefeller awoke, and finding herself suspended in the dark some 25 feet or so in the air, let out a series of piercing shrieks that fairly raised the hair of the night watchman. He groped around the stage, but was unable to find the cause of the screams, and by this time, thoroughly scared, went out in the street for assistance.

Two policemen responded to his call, and after considerable investigation located the trouble in the basket of the balloon up in the flies. They lowered the basket to the stage, and rescued the young lady, who was in a hysterical state. She missed the supper, which was attended by the other members of the company.

—Mr. Wm. Gray left last night on a three weeks' trip to New York, Pittsburg and California.

Sergt. Price has returned to Wolseley Barracks from Brockville, where he had been acting as drill instructor.

Mr. J. K. Little, of Westminster, has purchased the residence of Mr. George H. Davis, Ashland avenue, East London.

—Messrs. G. S. Gibbons and A. A. Magee, of this city, were among the successful students in the Osgoode Hall examinations.

—The Belmont postoffice will have some inconveniences as the result of an official visit from Deputy Postoffice Inspector Fisher, of this city.

—The choir of the Grove Methodist Church, intending a concert in the church on Wednesday next, a good programme will be provided.

Messrs. Torrie and Eaton, of the McMaster Band, preached, yesterday morning and evening, respectively, at the Adelaide Street Baptist Church.

—Rev. D. S. Hamilton, pastor of the First Congregational Church, left for Montreal yesterday afternoon, having been called to attend the funeral of a friend.

—One of the largest crowds of the season went down to Springbank Saturday. The weather was ideal and the baseball matches in the afternoon and the vaudeville performance in the evening, furnished excellent attractions. Tonight a new bill will be put on in the theater.

—Before the members of the conference, Rev. T. W. Blatchford, B. A., preached at Wesley Hall, Saturday afternoon on "Immortality." In the evening the Church Historical Society listened to an address from Rev. Dr. Grundy of Winnipeg, on the New Connection Methodist Church.

—Miss Ida May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Russell, of Rectory street, was married to Mr. Fred W. McLaren, of Galt. The interesting ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Moffat, pastor of Chalmers Church. The bridesmaid was Miss Cameron, of this city, and the groomsmen Mr. T. H. McLaren, of Galt, brother of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. McLaren will reside in Toronto.

—Saturday evening a largely attended meeting of the travelers of Western Ontario was held in the Travelers' Club. Great enthusiasm is being manifested in the preparation of the programme of sports, and it will be quite a treat from last year's. It is also intended to have a splendid electrical illumination of the grounds at night, which should in itself prove a most potent attraction. The fancy drill of the Travelers' Light Brigade, the military contests, and other features, should make the travelers' picnic a hummer this year.

RECEPTION TO DEAN BALLOU.
Owing to unavoidable haste in sending out the invitations for the reception to be given in honor of Dean Ballou today from 4 to 6 p.m., some mistakes have arisen. It has been learned that an invitation to convocation was inserted in the envelope by mistake. It was the intention of the senate to invite all patrons and friends of the university, who are requested to accept this in lieu of an invitation.

AN INFANT'S DEMISE.

AWAITS A CLAIMANT
$15,000,000 of Unclaimed Estate in England.

London, June 4.—A fortune of $20,000,000 awaits those who can prove that they are the lawful descendants of Major Sinclair, the 7th Duke of Devonshire, who died 35 years ago.

Major Sinclair, it is believed, was a member of a well-known family at Wick. At an early age he entered the army, and accompanied his regiment to India. He married there, and had one daughter, who was sent home to Wick, and who married a farmer of that town, also named Sinclair.

Major Sinclair had an adventurous career in the east, and was killed in a small engagement. His estate was never claimed, and accumulating for over 35 years, has now reached the value of $15,000,000.

An Edinburgh firm of lawyers have recently made investigations, and, if they are correct, have discovered that numerous descendants, each heir, it is expected, will receive a legacy of about $500,000.

Imposing Procession at St. Peter's Cathedral—Large Class Takes First Communion.

The Feast of Corpus Christi, always an event of more than ordinary importance in the Roman Catholic Church, was celebrated in an inspiring manner in St. Peter's Cathedral and St. Mary's Church yesterday.

In attendance at St. Peter's were the children of the Holy Trinity, the Children of Mary, the Consolators of St. Anne's Society and the Saint Mary's boys, in surplices and sturtons and bearing candles. The host was carried by Rev. Father Egan, with Rev. Fathers Cherrier and Stanley on either side, in full vestments, under a canopy of rich tulle. This canopy was carried by Messrs. John Forristal, Jun., Edward Cook, Clement Garvey and Roy Nopper.

Then came a guard of honor of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, after which followed the separate school board, members of the C. M. B. A., the Catholic order of Foresters and other societies.

As the procession left the church and slowly and solemnly wended its way about the grounds, two acolytes, one of whom carried a cross, came first, and they were followed by the altar school children in their white robes, and the choir of the church.

Then came the ladies of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin, the Children of Mary, the Consolators of St. Anne's Society and the Saint Mary's boys, in surplices and sturtons and bearing candles. The host was carried by Rev. Father Egan, with Rev. Fathers Cherrier and Stanley on either side, in full vestments, under a canopy of rich tulle. This canopy was carried by Messrs.
