CHECKED EVERYWHERE.

Official Bulletins Say Germans Are Held All Along Line.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—The following official information was given out by the French War Office last night: "In Belgium, Nieuport has been violently bombarded, and the effort of the Germans has continued on the front between Nieuport and Dixmude, without, according to the latest advices, any result whatever having been reached.

"All the front comprised between La Bassee and the Somme has been equally the object of violent attacks at night, all of which have been repulsed.

"On the remainder of the front there is nothing to report."

The official communique of the French War Office, issued yesterday afternoon, says: "During the day of yesterday (Sunday) our front along the general line between Nieuport and Dixmude was maintained. The German force which crossed the Yser between these two towns has not been able to progress.

"Our front has held also in the region between Ypres and Roulers, between Armentieres and Lille, to the west of La Bassee and Lens, and to the east of Arras. This line is continued to the south by the line which already has been indicated in these official communications. During the fighting of recent days the enemy seems to have sustained considerable losses.

"In Russia, to the west of the Vistula and to the north of the Pilica river, the Germans have been captured at the point of the bayonet by the Russians.

"To the south of the Pilica, in the direction of Radom, there has been a lively engagement between the Russians and the Austro-Germans, who lost prisoners and cannon.

"To the south of Soleo, the Russian troops crossed the Vistula by main force, driving the Austrians back. On the River San, and to the south of Przemysl, there have occurred stubborn combats resulting favorably to the Russians. An Austrian column debouching from the Carpathians on Dolina (in Galicia, 22 miles to the south of Stry) was routed."

How Tinfoil is Made.

In making tinfoil the melted tin is poured into molds making thin plates. These plates are then passed through rollers, first singly, and then as they grow thinner several are run through together until, finally, as many as 300 sheets pass under the rollers at once, which reduces each sheet to a thickness of one-tenth of a millimeter. Then it is still further beaten out by hand with wooden mallets. The metal is often alloyed with 1 or 2 per cent of copper, while for the cheaper kinds, such as is used for wrapping tea, tobacco and candy, lead is used as the alloy.—St. Nicholas.
