JACK! THE FIRE-ESCAPE MAN. Words by C. J. Rowe, Author of "The Raft." Music by FLORIAN PASCAL. Net, 2s. Baritone Compass, no Notes, (Duet) to 8.
He turns to drawing—he is feeling for a wife—this fact—
When the flushed burning timber leaves short mouth
He flings his arms wide—one word muttered aloud—
And the child and its mother are buried in a crowd!
Quick eyes saw the lad strong arms caught the child,
In safety twas clasped to the mother's fond breast—
But he—my old comrade—died thus his brave heart!
Lending his duty—had gone to his rest.
