PRESS DAY AT THE FAIR

The Press at Lunch.

Press day at the Fair brought out a good crowd to the Directors' luncheon, the Canadian Press Association being the guests of the Association. The speeches were not long but every word was of interest to those present. Among the editors, newspapermen and others present were: H. J. Pettypiece, M.L.A., D. McGillicuddy, Goderich; J. A. Cooper, L. K. Cameron, J. A. Macdonald, Hon. John Dryden, J. B. Clark, J. J. Bell, James Heverson, St. George; Prof. Dean, Guelph; Prof. M. Feeton, Guelph; W. J. Douglas, R. B. Faith, Ottawa; T. Sampson, Jones, J. J. Salmond, E. B. Biggar, E. B. Park, Brantford; D. F. Burke, Port Arthur; C. W. Young, Cornwall; W. J. Watson, Central Press; B. Williams, Collingwood; Henry Patterson, Geo. A. Robinson, Montreal; G. W. Johnston, W. M. O'Beirne, Stratford; R. W. Dillon, St. Mary's; N. Phelps, North Bay; G. McMurrich, R. S. Shaw, and D. O. Brenton.

After proposing the health of the King, President McNaught said the Association was always deeply indebted to the press for the way in which they had altogether joined in making the Industrial Fair the greatest annual Exhibition on the continent.

Pencil Pushers as Orators.

H. J. Pettypiece, President of the Canadian Press Association, thanked the Chairman on behalf of the press men of Canada for the invitation to the Fair. The fact, he said, that Toronto holds year after year the greatest annual Exhibition on this continent, was a credit to the city and to the province and thru these two, to the country generally. There were gathered together at this Exhibition from all parts of the country examples of Canada's resources, both minerally, commercially and industrially, showing indisputably that Canada was now enjoying unexampled prosperity.

The people of Canada must have confidence in themselves and in the country, said Mr. Pettypiece, when they seem ready to spend $100,000,000 or more toward the construction of a transcontinental railroad, and when the people have confidence in themselves they must necessarily go ahead. The press were glad to join hands with the Exhibition Association and make the Dominion Fair the greatest annual one of the world.

D. McGillicuddy spoke only for a minute or two, and his remarks were more of a jocular character, delivered in his own inimitable style. He did say, tho, amid laughter and applause, that at present there were only two questions at Ottawa; one was the G.T.P. and the other the Dominion Exhibition. Upon the former there was a slight difference of opinion, but the latter met with no opposition whatever. All were one in making the Dominion Exposition a record breaker.

W. J. Douglas, general manager of The Mail and Empire, said it seemed to be the motto of the association that "What we have we'll hold, and what we haven't got we'll get."

Has Its Joys and Sorrows.

J. A. Macdonald, editor of The Globe, made a brilliant and witty address. There were times, he said, when newspaper men did not agree, but on an occasion such as this all were of one mind, and he could express that, he thought, in saying that they were glad to be present.

He knew of no profession or calling that demanded so much energy, ability and perseverence, where men made so many personal sacrifices, and yet where the remuneration was so inadequate.

It was strange how men did stick to the work, tho other things were continually opening for them. They must love the work to stay at it so.

It could truly be said that the newspaper business was for the "general good of Canada," and there was not as much for the men behind it as there was for the promoters of other things under the same heading. (Laughter.)

At To-Day's Luncheon.

The following have been invited to luncheon on this, Manufacturers' Day: Hon James Young, C A Birge, J A Young, M J F Stewart, Watson Griffin, Geo C Heintzman, W B Rogers, J T Sheridan, J O Thorn, Geo Sleey, W Villemaire, J S King, Mr Knowlton, Mr Kingsley, J J Palmer, J F McLaughlin, Joseph Dain, Thos Addison, T E Bissell, C F Wheaton, A R Williams, W Gillespie, A C Knight, Mr Dobie, Henry Wright, Mr Pugsley, Fred Somerville, J R Shaw, F Stanley, Bert Massey, Mr Clokey, W A Geromy, Jno McIntyre, Martin Church, A C Larkins, John Muir, R A McDonald, A Kent, Richard Brown, James George, Fred R Shantz, C N Choote, W F Walker, Mr Cowan, Jno Taylor, R J Christie, James Ryrie, H Packard, Mr Mutton, Samuel May, Robt Munro, Mr Evans, H Magee, John Eaton, James P Murray, J W T Fairweather, Robt Gray, Mr McLaughlin, J B Tudhope, M.P., E Whaley, A S Sharkey, H Mason, Wm Doherty, Edward Gurney.

Supper to Press Men.

The visiting press men were the guests of the directors at supper at Webb's. About 150 gentlemen and ladies were present. There were no speeches, the event being altogether informal. President McNaught was in the chair and formally welcomed the visitors to spend as many days at the Fair as they could.

Among those to register at the booth of the Press Association on the grounds were: W. E. McLellan, editor of The Chronicle, Halifax; E. G. Stairs, formerly of The Herald, Halifax, and now of the circulation end of The News; Almon Hilchey of The Recorder staff, Halifax, was also on the grounds. Neither of these three gentlemen of the Halifax papers was able, however, to be present at the luncheon. Both Mr. McLelland and Mr. Stairs had previous engagements to prevent them, and Mr. Hilchey had to leave for home during the afternoon. Dr. James Hannay, formerly editor of The Telegraph of St. John, and now well-known as the descriptive historical writer on Canadian topics, also registered.

"The Home Beautiful."

One of the most attractive features of the women's building in the morning was the kindergarten class. The mites went about their work with a willing earnestness and utter disregard of the crowd of interested and curious onlookers that was pleasant to see, and any one who had not before seen such classes in operation could not but be impressed with its value, as well as the contrast between the old-time children struggling with their first lessons and bodies longing to be free to run about. The manual training class also excited much interest and was well attended.

A little after 4 o'clock the sound of music attracted those in the building again to the demonstration hall, and the following program was enjoyed: "The Promise of Life," by Cowan, was sung with taste and feeling by Master Fred Duggan, the boy soloist of St. Simons choir; a short paper by Mrs. Y. W. F. Harrison (Seranus), entitled "The Home Beautiful," was read by Mrs. Forsyth Grant. This paper prompted by Stevenson's lines:

A naked house, a barren moor,
A shivering pool before the door;
A garden bare of flowers or fruit,
And poplars at the garden foot,
Such is the place I live in,
Bleak without and bare within.

And the very note of it the very opposite; that the home beautiful should express the character, taste, life and ambition of the dweller therein; that it should not be an incongruous collection of bric-a-brac, a museum of curiosities, not be imitative or emulative of others, but on the contrary, be individual, comfortable and befitting, in keeping with its environment of scenery, climate and conditions.

Two lyrics by Ellen Wright—"The Parting Hour" and Spring is Here"—were delightfully rendered by Mr. Fairweather. Mr. J. W. F. Harrison, who presided at the piano, then played the National Anthem.

The audience heartily endorsed the vote of thanks expressed by Miss Fitzgibbon, who, as a member of the Women's Committee, occupied the chair, to Mrs. Harrison, Mr. Fairweather and Master Fred Duggan, and to Mrs. Harrison for her paper, and Mrs. Grant.

The meeting this afternoon is arranged by the W.C.T.U., who will have an attractive program of music and short addresses.

Stock Judging To-Day.

Grade stock and fat cattle will be judged to-day, commencing at 9.30 a.m. Some classes of pigs will also be judged in the morning.

For Live Stock Men.

Henry Wade, registrar of live stock, has an office on the Exhibition grounds in the government tent near the cattle ring, where stock breeders may conduct their business. It will be found a very great convenience to them, and the registration of shorthorn, Hereford, Polled Angus, Devon, Ayrshire and swine pedigrees will be received, and also of hackney, Clydesdale and Shire horses and sheep. Mr. Wade's office will be open all during the Exhibition.

Dairy Education.

The list of addresses to be given in the theatre of the dairy building at 2 p.m. daily during the Fair is as follows:

Geo. Publow, on Wednesday, Sept. 2, "The System of Factory Instruction in Eastern Ontario."

J. A. Ruddick, on Thursday, Sept. 3. "The Exhibits of Cheeses and Butter at the Dominion Exhibition."

G. H. Barr, on Friday, Sept. 4, "The System of Factory Instruction in Western Ontario."

G. C. Creelman, on Saturday, Sept. 5, "What the Farmers' Institutes are Doing for Dairying in Ontario."

Dr. James Mills, on Monday, Sept. 7, "What the Ontario Agricultural College is Doing for Dairying and the Canadian Farmer."

D. Derbyshire, on Tuesday, Sept. 8, "How Eastern Ontario is Maintaining the Reputation for Fancy Canadian Cheese."

Hon. John Dryden, on Wednesday, Sept. 9, "What the Ontario Provincial Department of Agriculture is Doing and Going to do for Ontario Dairying."

C. C. James, on Thursday, Sept. 10, subject to be selected.

James Connelly and J. N. Pageton, on Friday, Sept. 11, "The Manufacturer's Side of Co-operative Dairying."

Rush of Exhibition Visitors.

This year's Exhibition promises to create a record-breaking passenger traffic, so say the officials. Yesterday presented an animated picture at the depot, what with the crush of Torontonians on the lookout for friends and relatives coming in by train, and those same friends and relatives. It is safe to say that many a visitor failed to get the expected warm handshake at the station yesterday; not because there was no one there to meet him, but because they "missed each other." Many of the trains were late, and this meant waiting around the station in a way to tax human patience, but it was a good-natured throng, and the holiday spirit was in the air.

Butter Making To-Day.

A butter-making contest will be held to-day at 10.30 in the demonstrating theatre of the dairy building. There will be five contestants for first honors, and a good exhibition is expected.

Over 100 of the boys from the Mimico Industrial School attended the Fair, by the kindness of the directors. The boys were to be seen all day thru the grounds, in their uniform of grey and red.

THE GURNEY FOUNDRY EXHIBIT.

A Splendid Display of Cooking and Heating Apparatus.

A most interesting display at the Toronto Exhibition is that of the Gurney Foundry Company, Limited. It is just inside the Western entrance of the stove building, and has much of interest to householders, as well as to steam-fitters, architects and builders. The first part of the booth is devoted to the Oxford Radiator, in many styles and sizes, showing its adaptability to interior decoration of all kinds. The centre of the exhibit is occupied by a Gurney "Bright Idea" Safety Water Tube Boiler, cut in half, so as to show the economic and efficient arrangement of the interior. The exhibit also includes samples of this company's famous Imperial Oxford Range, Oxford Hot Water Heater, John Bull Hotel Range and Oxford Carving Table. The booth is tastily decorated with bright colored hangings and potted plants.

The Gurney Foundry Company's representatives are receiving their many friends at their booth, and quite a number have visited their new foundry at Toronto Junction, where everyone interested is welcome.

Sunlight Soap.

One of the finest exhibits at this year's Dominion Exhibition is that made by Lever Bros., Limited, proprietors of Sunlight Soap, Lifebuoy Soap, etc. It is situated about the centre of the manufactures building, in an extremely handsome booth, finished in white and gold. The many different products of this big concern are exhibited in glass cases, from Sunlight Soap, dry soap powders, to glycerine, and above are views of the different plants throughout the world.

The immensity and world-wide extent of Lever Brothers' interests is suggested by these views. From the head plant at Port Sunlight, Cheshire, England, an entire town owned by Mr. Lever, and exclusively populated by employes of the Lever Brothers' factories, to far away branches in Australia they range, giving special views of the oil plants in the Southern States, etc.

The Lever Brothers, Limited, exhibit is instructive and pronounced by everyone who has seen it as one of the best on the grounds.

The Jas. Morrison Brass Mfg. Co.

The exhibit of the James Morrison Brass Manufacturing Company in machinery hall is an excellent display of their magnificent works in brass, iron and copper. Illuminating this comprehensive exhibit are dozens of gorgeous chandeliers of many beautiful designs, serpent, dragon and lily designs, in all colors of iron work. Among a thousand brass fixtures that would fill a large catalogue will be seen a very handsome brass churchrail. The Heintz Steam Saver is also on view. This is a steam-saver and consequently a fuel saver and works from one-half pound up. There are taps, valves, stopcocks, rails, all arranged for easy inspection, and a handsome brass table with onyx top. Locomotive inspirators are neatly set up. Automatic sight feed lubricators, showing a full range from one quart to a gallon, are also to be seen in the James Morrison brass exhibit.

Williams New Scale Pianos.

At the Williams Piano exhibit in the manufactures building yesterday might have been seen the usual rush for souvenirs, and an interested crowd listening to the high-class music. Robert Williams, president of the company, and Mrs. Williams, were among their numerous visitors yesterday. Mr. Williams expressed himself as highly pleased with the beautiful exhibit. They have already received visits from their numerous customers from all parts of Canada. Many very satisfactory orders have been placed already, and numbers of visitors are enquiring every day for New Scale Williams Pianos.

John's Bohemian Glass Blowers.

Just to the right, as you enter the Midway at the Fair, are to be found the famous Bohemian Glass Blowers. Here half a dozen expert glass blowers make bottles, jugs, vases and a hundred different articles, which are given away to every visitor. None should miss the Glass Blowers at the Fair.

Natural Food Co.'s Exhibit.

The Natural Food Company, makers of Shredded Wheat, Niagara Falls, N. Y., are busy every moment at their clean, bright and tasty exhibit at the Exhibition. People of every age, size and from far and near, crowd around to taste their wholesome food, put up in so many forms to tempt the appetite. In the science of food production nothing stands higher among the foods prepared by the Shredded Wheat Company than "Triscuit." "Triscuit" is made and baked by the most modern process—electricity. "Triscuit" is used as a toast, wafer or bread in all their various forms, and as the staff of life for all mankind. In the manufacture of "Triscuit," no attempt has been made to improve upon the chemistry of nature. "Triscuit" in a neat compact form of filamented wheat, its shape and size make it convenient for carrying. It is unexcelled as a food for children, because it contains all the elements of whole wheat, and nourishes the whole system. Ask for it when calling at the Natural Food Company's exhibit.

LET FAIR VISITORS SEE CHAPMAN'S BIG INVENTION

Every Wheel That Turns in Machinery Hall Gets Its Impetus Thusly.

The dollar!

The great golden dollar, great not on account of its size, but because of its power. They say it is not what we earn, but what we save, that makes us rich.

The dollar!

The great golden dollar!

To save it, one must first possess.

Now, have you ever noticed the Chapman Double Ball Bearing? By "You" is meant the man who has to do with machinery, with the whirring of wheels and binding of belts.

There is an ocular demonstration that you can save a large percentage of your money spent in driving your machinery.

This demonstration is in machinery hall at the Exposition.

Equipped the Exhibition.

Every wheel that turns in machinery hall receives its impetus over the Chapman Double Ball Bearing; every lesser bit of machinery receives its motive power over these bearings.

The entire shafting of machinery hall is equipped with the Chapman Double Ball Bearings.

Yes, and they are equipped by order of the Executive of the Exposition.

Last year the visitors to the machinery hall dodged oil drops, and grime, as it trickled from the journals above. There is none to dodge this year. Why? Well, simply because these bearings use no lubricant. They don't need any. This article is intended for those interested, for Mr. Moneymaker, for the man who believes a dollar saved is one earned.

A Doubter Convinced.

Several leading manufacturers' representatives called on the Chapman people yesterday. They were out for the dollar, as every business man is.

They came, They saw. They believed. But, as in sacred lore, there was one Thomas. He doubted. "Aren't you afraid," he asked, "aren't you afraid of the bearings giving out up near that main driving belt?"

"I am no more afraid of the bearings giving out than I am of the engine," replied Mr. Murray, the local manager.

Then he sat down, and, with facts and figures, he demonstrated the reason for his belief.

"By George, you're right," replied Thomas, the doubter.

Some Samples of Its Work.

Now, the lily cannot well be painted, and the only thing to do is to see these bearings and see how they run under a practical and severe test.

Then call into the Chapman Double Ball Bearing exhibit in machinery hall and see for yourself. You will see that above all things the Chapman Double Ball Bearing is a practical bearing for all kinds of motive power.

There is a brougham wheel there fitted with the bearing. It runs more easily than a bicycle wheel, and that runs easily enough for the most fastidious. There is a railway car bearing run by a thread. There is a dynamo fitted with the bearings. A gust of wind, almost, and it moves.

Did you ever hear of Louther? He is one of the foremost experts in things mechanical in America to-day. He said of the Chapman Double Ball Bearings: "There is no question about this being the universal bearing, because of the freedom from wear and the low co-efficient of friction."

It may be used for everything in the motive line.

See it, Mr. Moneymaker.

Exhibition Bargain.

At the Hole in the Wall Cigar and Tobacco Store, we have about ten dozen pipes to sell at 10c each, with bands round the stem, so they will not split—bent and straight; about 2000 cigars to sell at $1.75 per box of fifty, or sample lot seven for 25c. We will not be able to repeat this offer, as we were open to buy and we got these right. 169 East King-street.

A Handsome Piano for Quebec.

A beautiful Heintzman & Co. piano has been chosen for the new theatre, near old St. John's gate—the Auditorium—Quebec. For concert and opera purposes of all kinds, this instrument seems ever the favorite.

The customs receipts yesterday totalled $44,000.

There is a bicycle lying at the R. & O. freight office, which the owner can have by applying there and proving property.

C. R. Dinnick yesterday took out permits for building two houses of brick and stone, two and one-half storeys, one on Kendall-street, near Dupont, to cost, $2500, and one on Bernard-avenue, to cost $2500.

The Board of the Nursing Mission, 55 Beverley-street, report for July and August 60 patients attended by the nurses, 735 visits (28 being all night duty), 12 deaths (5 from consumption), 5 patients sent to the hospitals.

Chief Justice Falconbridge yesterday dissolved the injunction secured by Blyth & Co. restraining Ross & Co. of Ottawa from disposing of certain property on Sparks-street, valued at $80,000. The defendants were assignees of the property under an agreement, and the plaintiffs alleged that if it were sold at the present time it would be impossible to obtain its proper value.
