WOMAN'S ART CLUB.

The First Annual Exhibit Opened—Some Meritorious Exhibits.

The first annual exhibition of the Woman's Art Club of this city opened at the rooms, 436½ Richmond street, this morning, and if the attendance keeps up as it has so far the club will be well rewarded for their efforts.

The room in which the exhibit is being held is well laid out, and the many beautiful specimens of art shown are displayed on tables extending from end to end on both sides and down the center. They are covered with linen cloth, and the exhibits of the different artists are seperarated by ribbons. The exhibits number about 50, and include about 1,000 pieces of almost everything in the shape of china ware. There are jardinieres, plaques, afternoon tea trays, cups and saucers, tapestry, bon-bons, dessert plates, pin trays, vases, and a hundred and one other articles useful and ornamental. To mention the many displays worthy of notice would be impossible, but a few of them are the tapestry work of Misses Owrey, Cowan, Adams, Paul, Gunn, and the ladies of Hellmuth College, which, hanging around the walls, add very much to the artistic effect of the room. The work of Miss Galbraith, of Hamilton, is admired by all visitors. It includes a scene entitled "Physche at Nature's Mirror" and and elegant vase and jar. Miss Hessen, of Stratford, with a vase and many most dainty trifles, makes a splendid exhibit. A tray of white grapes and fruit by Miss Burnett, city, and a snowball tray by Miss Judd, of Hamilton, are exquisitely finished, and attract the eye of the visitors. The miniature paintings and medallions by Miss Proctor and Miss Bertram, of Toronto, are gems.

Among the exhibitors are the following from the city: Mrs. Fenwick, Miss Gussie Jarvis, Mrs. A. C. Johnston, Miss Gunn, Miss Clara Owrey, Miss Flo White, Miss Wright, Mrs. Mortimer, Mrs. Hume Cronyn, Mrs. Seavey, Miss Morphy, Miss Paul, Miss Burnett, Mrs. Screaton, Miss Belton, Mrs. John Hunt, Miss Buckle, Miss Ager, Miss Kains, Miss Gibson, Mrs. (Hon.) David Mills, Miss Priddis, Mrs. C. W. Leonard, Mrs. Davis, Miss Brown and four pupils of Hellmuth College—Misses Raht, Albers, Broasted and Zekind. Mrs. Leipsic has some very fine wood carving.

The outsiders who have went to considerable expense to aid in making the exhibit a success are: Miss Galbraith, Hamilton; Mrs. (Dr.) Aikens, Miss Knapp, Miss Hannaford, Miss M. Thompson, Miss Bertran and Miss Proctor, Toronto; Mrs. Hesson and Miss Clark, Stratford; Mrs. W. A. Wilkes and Miss Spence, Brantford; Mrs. Dr. Fulton, St. Thomas, and Miss Judd, Hamilton.

The exhibition will be open every afternoon and evening, closing on Saturday night at 10 o'clock. The admission—10 cents—is within the reach of every citizen.

HORSEFLESH FOR FOOD.

The Taste for It Spreading in Europe—Sentiment and Science Against It.

Hippophagy, or to speak less euphemistically, the habit of eating horseflesh, is spreading in Europe. While savage man is known to have sated his ravenous hunger on horseflesh or any other variety of flesh he could find, the modern origin of this peculiar taste dates from the siege of Paris, during the Franco-Prussian war, when the populace were compelled from dire necessity to sacrifice this noble quadruped to sustain life. Many acquired a taste for the meat and the demand for it did not cease with the capitulation of the city.

"It was to be seen on sale at many of the butchers' stalls, and has been ever since a staple article of diet for thousands of the poor of the French capital. For horseflesh is much cheaper than beef. Beef in Paris is worth 20 cents a pound, while horseflesh can be had for 8 cents a pound, which affords a reason why the barbarous custom should take such a firm hold upon these people when once necessity gave it root.

Once planted in Paris the practice spread to other Continental cities, especially Berlin, where horseflesh is now consumed in considerable quantities by the poorer classes, and the medical authorities and humanitarians are raising their voices against what they justly consider a barbarous and dangerous custom.

The medical men warn the eaters of horseflesh that the horse is particularly liable to the disease known as trichinosis, also found in hogs, and while cooking generally destroys the germs of this disease, it cannot always be depended upon to do so. The disease is frightfully fatal in its effects and baffles medical skill.

The humanitarians take the ground of sentiment, urging the almost human affection of the horse and the close companionship he has shared with man since the dawn of the human race. A base return, they deem it, to slaughter and eat this noble creature. In spite of these warnings and protests hippophagy is on the increase in Europe. It has not yet reached Eugland, nor is it likely to as long as the roast beef and mutton of Australia and New Zealand last. Still, if the sentimental Britishers are too squeamish to eat their horses, they are not too squeamish to sell them to the Continent to be eaten. Quite a number of superannuated equines are exported for that purpose.

Train Robbers Foiled.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 29.—The Southern Pacific passenger train, west bound, was held up at Elka at 12:30 o'clock this morning by two masked men. They fled before securing anything, however. Blood hounds will soon be on their track.

A Source of Dyspepsia.

A fruitful source of dyspepsia is the habit of eating too rapidly and washing the food down with drink, instead of chewing it thoroughly so as to moisten every article of food with the saliva of the mouth. When serious complications do result calomel and other poisonous drugs should not be resorted to. Eseljay's Liver Lozenges will positively cure these troubles without injury to the system. They are 25 cents a box, or five boxes for a dollar.

THE KIDNAPPING CASE

Enlarged For a Week to Find Three Witnesses.

A Crowded Court Room—Interesting Array of Legal Talent—Preliminary Crossfiring.

Today was the date set for the hearing of the Morkin kidnapping case at the police court. Before the magistrate arrived the court was crowded both inside and outside the railing. The five defendants—Messrs. Boyd, Logan (two), Kingsmill and Donaldson—sat behind their lawyers on the bench usually occupied by witnesses. In front of the cage sat Mr. Edwin Morkin, the prosecutor, and his son, John Morkin, who is alleged to have been spirited away the night before the election. At the right sat Mr. P. H. Bartlett and Mr. I. F. Hellmuth; facing the magistrate were Messrs. Hume Elliot, Emanuel T. Essery and Mr. R. M. C. Toothe. Mr. J. B. McKillop represented the crown.

When the case was called Mr. McKillop announced that the crown was prepared to proceed, but would not be able to complete today. There were three witnesses who had not been served.

The magistrate asked if it was desirable to both parties to hear part of the case and postpone it.

Mr. Hellmuth stated that he appeared for Mr. Kingsmill, and it was not reasonable after the lapse of so many days that the crown should not have all its witnesses served.

"Who are the witnesses?" asked Mr. Parke.

"George Cicely, Thomas Webb and George McDonald," answered Mr. McKillop.

"Do they live out of town?"

"No," answered Mr. McKillop. "One lives in London West, another in the city, and the other in Pottersburg."

"Why were they not served?" asked the magistrate
