The Chief Justice in returning his thanks to the Grand Jury for this address, stated, that he would not affect to deny that such a testimonial was very grateful to his feelings—that he hoped the descendants of the first settlers of the Country would long be deemed worthy of filling its public offices and that his own future course would be such as to justify in some degree the favourable opinion they had expressed of him.

Mr. Justice Parker expressed himself also much flattered by the wholly unexpected honor which had been done him by the Address of the Grand Jury.—He observed that his situation on the Bench, as they were probably aware, was of very uncertain duration, as it had not yet received His Majesty's confirmation; but that while he retained it, it should be his anxious study faithfully to fulfil the duties of that important office; and should he be removed he would endeavour to render himself useful to the community in a more private sphere.

Thus our new Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Parker take their seats under pleasing auspices; and we sincerely hope, with the Grand Jury, that they may long enjoy the high and important situations which they are so well qualified to fill.

BERMUDA.—His Majesty has been pleased to appoint to the office of Chief Justice, (made vacant by the retirement of James C. Esten, Esquire,) Thomas Butterfield, Esquire, late Attorney General; and to the office of Attorney General, John Harvey Darrell, Esquire, late Solicitor General; and to the office of Solicitor General, Duncan Stewart, Esquire.—These appointments have given great and unalloyed satisfaction to the community generally. It is with much gratefulness that we would acknowledge that consideration on the part of His Majesty which has led him to make these important appointments from among ourselves, and with the fullest conviction that their credit will be eminently sustained by the Gentlemen who have been thus honored by His confidence.—Bermudian.

We learn from the Montreal papers, that his Majesty's Government has given a decision in favour of allowing American Beef and Pork salted, to be exported from the Canadian ports to other British ports duty free. This will enable the West Indies to obtain those articles of Provisions at much cheaper rates than heretofore, and we may, in consequence, expect an encrease of that trade, and a more extensive demand for the Beef and Pork of New York, Ohio, and Michigan, in the Montreal and Quebec markets.—New-York Albion.

The Quebec Gazette states that probably an average of 20 to 30 persons are annually drowned at that port while embarking or landing from the steamers.

To the Editor of the Weekly Observer.

CARLETON, OCT. 24, 1834.

SIR,—I am directed by the Committee of the Carleton and Lancaster Temperance Society to request that you will have the goodness to correct some of the statements contained in the editorial article in your last number, on the subject of the late Temperance Meeting at Carleton;—the Committee being of opinion that should they allow them to pass unnoticed, their silence might be construed into a sort of testimony to the truth of them.

It is true that Carleton does contain, at present, only 812 persons; but in the three Temperance Societies which exist in that place, (one of them exclusively for persons of color,) there are only 363 members in the whole, and of them, as the following schedule will shew, 109 do not reside in the place. Of the 812 persons, therefore, there are 262, not 400 (nearly), who are members of the Temperance Society.

	Carleton & Lancaster Society.	Carleton Society.	African Society.
Number of Resident Members,	153	109	..
Non-resident Members,	36	45	22
Persons who have ceased to be Members,	23	4	..
Errors,	..	3	..
	212	161	22

Such being the true state of the case, the Committee regret exceedingly that it should have been thus publicly stated, that "nearly the whole population of Carleton are now enlisted under the banners of Temperance,"—"that almost every individual capable of judging in the matter is actually enrolled,"—"that very few adults are now unconvinced,"—"that there seems but little now to do in Carleton; the chief object of the Societies there being now to perpetuate the good they have effected, and to preserve consistence of conduct among the members."—It cannot be denied that much has been done among us, more than could possibly be expected; but much still remains to be done. As yet the Temperance Societies form but a small minority in the community, and we have many obstacles in our way, and many formidable difficulties to contend with, which will require great exertion on our part to overcome. The Committee have therefore thought it right thus to rectify the erroneous statements which have been put forth with respect to our numbers, but, should we be detected of exaggeration in a point so easy of detection, credit may be withheld from us when we really speak the truth; and the small meed of praise which we do deserve, be put at hazard by our laying claim to more than is our due. I am, Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

ROBERT SALTER, Secretary.
