D. Arnold Fox Died In England

Rev. Mr. Fleming Spoke Feelingly at St. John's (Stone) Church Yesterday.

The word that D. Arnold Fox, for many years a familiar figure to music lovers in St. John had passed away, was learned with much regret by a host of his friends in this city yesterday.

Few knew of his passing until word was given out at the morning service at St. John's (Stone) church yesterday by the rector, the Rev. Mr. Fleming who read the cable he had received Saturday. It stated briefly, "Arnold passed away."

Since his coming to the city some nineteen years ago, as organist to St. John's church through the agency of the Rev. Mr. De Soyres, Mr. Fox steadily won his way into the hearts of the people of the city. He was at all times ready to assist at social festivities and presided at the piano at many a society dinner. He was grand organist of the Grand Lodge A. F. and A. M. of New Brunswick.

Speaking in St. John's yesterday morning, Mr. Flemming, in referring to Mr. Fox's death spoke of the affection in which he had been held by the congregation. He said that although the late Mr. Fox had suffered nearly every day of his life, he had borne his suffering bravely and cheerfully. The two psalms, which at his request the congregation had read the Sunday following his departure from the city, the 107th and 130th, denoted his own idea of a man's life. At the close of the service yesterday the congregation all stood while the organist played the Dead March in Saul.

Mr. Fox, after a brief treatment at the hospital here, left on October 26 for his father's home at Benden, Teddington, Co. Middlesex, England, to join his father, the rector of Hythe and it was there that he died.

F A Campbell delivered the report of the committee of two, composed of himself and F S. McMullin, who had been delegated to attend the Farmers convention at Albert on Friday afternoon last. He stated that on account of the Albert branch train being delayed, he and Mr. McMullin were not in time to attend the convention in the afternoon, which, however, reconvened Friday evening at eight o'clock.

It was also stated that about 125 delegates were present at the Farmers convention from differene parts of the county, and N. W. Calhoun was nominated as their representative.

After hearing this report, it was unanimously decided to call a convention of the Labor party for this evening at eight o'clock in its hall for the purpose of nominating a Labor representative on a Farmer-Labor ticket. W. M. Calhoun will then address the meeting.

WAS ACTING AS THOUGH INSANE

Man Giving Name of James Brady Attracted Attention and Was Arrested.

Passers by at the head of King and along Charlotte street had their attention centered on the traffic cop's stand at the intersection of the two streets early Saturday evening, where a lone civilian with all the arrogance of an Imperial sergeant-major was directing traffic. The chap had all the motions down to a fine art, but quickly disappeared when a real cop hove in sight.

Later in the evening he was taken into custody for acting as though insane. He gave his name as James Brady, residence as Liverpool, England. It is believed that he is a returned man. He speaks with a decidedly cockney accent, and is apparently suffering from a number of delusions. Among other things he believes that he is wanted for murder, and insists on telling all and sundry that he is not the man that's wanted.
