The Weekly Observer.

HILLSBORO, N. B., Jan. 24, 1888.

Observations.

For the Farmers.

We occupy a large portion of our space this week with a report of the proceedings at the Farmers' Association held last week at Fredericton. We offer no apology for so doing as THE OBSERVER circulates largely amongst farmers who will naturally desire to learn all they can of the doings of their brethren at the Convention. The discussions of the farmers ought to result in much good and we think all classes ought to be interested in them. We hope in the near future to refer more at length to some of the papers read at the Association, Impure Literature.

We are in receipt of a circular from H. T. Todd of St. Stephen, N. B., requesting us to "aid the interests of innocence and purity by excluding from our columns everything that tends to lower the moral tone of society." It has ever been, and we trust will ever continue to be, the aim of THE OBSERVER to withhold from its columns everything of an immoral nature. We give no space to boat racing, horse racing, prize fighting and similar objectionable doings, as they are, as a general thing, conducted by gamblers or at least largely controlled and patronized by rum drinkers an gamblers.

With reference to publishing accounts of "murders, elopements, divorces, and acts of youthful depravit , "there is room for a difference of opinion. We know a good Baptist deacon who once declined to take the Christian Visitor because it did not publish the police records of St. John, etc., as he said he wanted his boys to know "the wrong doings in cities so they might be the better prepared to shun them." By publishing accounts of murders and showing their causes (intemperance in 9 out of 10 cases) the public ought to be enabled the more clearly to realize the great evils of intemperance and to have temperance principles more firmly instilled in their minds. However disgusting details of murders, divorces, etc., ought to be excluded from all respectable paper.

We are in sympathy with the W. C. T. Unions in their efforts to purify the press and can assure them THE OBSERVER will do all it can in its humble way to further their efforts.

Farmers' Convention.

The 13th. annual meeting of the Farmers' Association of New Brunswick was held last week at Fredericton. Besides our leading Provicial farmers several distinguished gentlemen from a distance were present, including Dr. Twitchell, editor of the Maine Farmer, Prof. Saunders, superintendent of government farms, Ottawa, and Col. Blair, manager of the experimental farm at Nappan. On the opening day, Jan. 16., the farmers enjoyed a drive to Marysville where Mr. Gibson showed them through his cotton mill.

The President, S. L. Peters of Queen's Co. gave a very interesting and appropriate opening address. He referred to the Agricultural institutes held recently and thought they would prove beneficial to our farmers. He commended the Provincial government for importing stock and thought good results must follow. He said New Brunswick occupied a very favorable position, as on account of her nearness to the seaboard, her exports could be shipped at small expense as compared with those of other portions of Canada. The soil of the province was fertile, producing various kinds of grain, fruits and vegetables of the finest quality and with good cultivation yielding an average per acre scarcely excelled by the most favorable portion of Canada. He also referred to the annexation question and said it is the opinion of all Canadians without regard to party, that we are the fortunate possessors of a country that is destined to occupy a prominent position in the history of the world. Although young, Canada is giving bona fide evidence of the great proportions she means to assume under the protecting care of old England. Guided by her patriotic and astute statesman, our people are devotedly attached to the Queen and British institutions. They have great and abiding faith in the resources of the Dominion, but have no time to discuss visionary notions of commercial union or annexation.

Sir Leonard Tilley also delivered a brief address, welcoming the association to Fredericton. He was glad to see present the visitors from various parts of the province and state of Maine. Among those assembled were many aged men who still felt sufficient interest in agriculture to be here. He saw many young men who were very largely the life of the institution, and who would soon be its very life. Farming was the highest occupation except those of the minister of the gospel and the teacher of the youth of the country. One way to make young men remain on the farms and to induce others to take up farming was to prove to the people that it was a paying business. Many young men left agricultural pursuits because their fathers could not give them farms on which they were satisfied to settle, and they were not in a position to purchase farms for themselves. Farmers should endeavor to make their business more profitable, in order to give their sons good farms. The agricultural interests of the various provinces were of the highest importance to the dominion.

At the evening session Judge Stevens of St. Stephen spoke briefly. He was pleased to see that our farmers were raising the profession of agriculture to the standard it had reached in other countries. God had given us a magnificent country and he would say peris the man who cried it down.

In the absence of F. P. Sharp of Carleton Co., who was to have read a paper on Fruit Culture, Mr. McGibbon of York Co, read a paper he had prepared on

FRUIT GROWING.

The paper was very interesting and instructive. He said apples would grow anywhere between Florida and the Arctic circle, but we must have different varieties for different places. The apples that grow well in Nova Scotia did not yield as well in this province. The soil must be rich in lime and potash or apples could not be raised on it. It was not necessary to drain an orchard. Mr. McGibbon then gave a list of the varieties that proved a failure or partial failure on his farm. The following were the varieties of apples that had proved profitable with him: Red Astrachan, Malden's Blush, New Brunswick, Alexander, Wealthy, Twenty Ounces, Fameuse, Swar, Scot's Winter Red Peabody Greening, Honey Pink, American Golden Russett, Tulman Sweet, Ecckles apple, Ben Davis and Gideon.

A LENGTHY DISCUSSION.

followed. Prof. Saunders of Ottawa said bark lice could be killed by spraying the trees with an emulsion of soap, milk or albumen. Apple trees could not be raised on wet ground and every orchard should be properly drained. Compost should never be put into the hole in which the tree is planted as an attempt to stimulate growth was to invite failure. He mentioned three varieties of apples that grew well in Quebec, namely Longfield, Arabka and Yellow transparent. An alkaline wash applied to trees made the insects which deposited eggs from which the borer come avoid them.

At the second day sessions important and interesting papers were read. A paper prepared by Herbert F. Page of Amherst, N. S., referred to the importance of system in breeding; favored winter dairying; recommended a cheap silo—an air tight and frost proof enclosure was all that was needed. A silo large enough for 10 cows ought not to cost more than $40. He advocated the raising of corn, it being an excellent succulent, and gave some valuable hints about the proper mode of cultivating it. He saw no reason why New Brunswick should not rank among the foremost as a dairy producing Province. And he advised all our farmers to aim high. A standard of not less than 500 lbs. of butter a year should be raised. (Mr. Page has a cow which has yielded two and a half pounds of butter a day.)

Dr. Twitchell, of Maine, Col. Blair, of Nappan, N. S., and Prof. Saunders, of Ottawa, all spoke in favor of the silo, showing how it was a benefit, etc.

Hon. D. McLellan, Provincial Secretary, addressed the Association. He favored an agricultural college for the Province and said the government desired to aid the farmers in every possible way.

W. J. Gilbert, of Dorchester, read a paper on dairying. He favored the deep setting system as the best for private dairies, and yielding the most cream. He condemned the dash churn, favoring the box or barrel churn with no internal machinery. Said government should grant aid to open up creameries and cheese factories.

Dr. Twitchell also read a paper on the dairying interest. He regarded dairying as the most profitable business the farmer could engage in. He described at length his own method of work and quoted figures to show wonderful results from dairying operation in Maine. Attention to breeding, feeding, milking, cream raising, churning and washing butter are all essential to success. Dr. Twitchell's address was very instructive and was listened to with a great deal of attention.

Hon. Mr. McLellan said parties had applied and would likely get a model dairy now at Sussex. The parties could sell all the butter made by this process to the I. S. S. Co. at twenty-six cents per pound.

Col. Baird of Woodstock spoke on the agricultural possibilities of the province and Col. Blair of the Nappan experimental farm told what was being done and would be done there. He said New Brunswick should join the Nova Scotia dairymen's association and the two provinces should have an agricultural college.

Prof. Saunders showed what was being done at the experimental farm at Ottawa.

Before resuming business on the third day of the session the farmers inspected the government stock.

Papers on sheep husbandry were read by B. E. Patterson, of St. John and Howard Trueman, of Point deBute. The proper management of sheep and lambs, characteristics of the sheep best suited for Canada, manner of feeding the sheep, etc. were dealt with in Mr. Patterson's paper. Mr. Trueman also discussed breeds, care of sheep, pasturage, etc. He favored the Shropshire, Southdown and Leicester.

Prof. Bailey of N. B. university delivered an interesting address on the conditions of farm life in New Brunswick.

It was resolved to appoint a delegation to visit the Dairymen's Association of Nova Scotia which meets at Truro in March and confer with that body with a view to forming such an association for the maritime provinces.

The Association endorsed the government's sheep importations and urged provincial farmers to give the sheep industry their most careful attention.

A resolution was passed calling the attention of agricultural societies to regulation 12 of the new act and the importance of holding meetings during the winter season and the discussion of agricultural subjects. Also commending the question of an agricultural school or college to the consideration of the government. And recommending farmers to avail themselves of advantages offered by experimental farms for acquiring more accurate knowledge.

Another resolution dealt with the importance of getting in line with other countries in the best dairy methods, and asking the local government for a small grant to assist in defraying expenses of a delegation to the proposed dairymen's association at Ottawa.

Hon. Mr. Blair made a brief address expressing the willingness of the government to do all possible to advance the interest of agriculture.

The following officers were elected;

President—S. L. Peters, Queens county.

Vice-President—Carleton, E. M. Shaw; Victoria, Geo. E Baxter; York, Charles Murray: Sunbury, D. H. Smith; Kings, E. G. Peters; St. John, S. S. Hall; Charlotte, Judge Stevens; Albert, Ezra Steeves; Westmorland, Thomas Pickard; Gloucester, Wm. Ferguson.

Recording Secretary—M. B. Hall, Gagetown.

Corresponding Secretary—W. W. Hubbard, Burton.

Treasurer—Thos. Roach, Sussex.

Disqualified and Fined.

Says an exchange:—By a decision of the Montreal election Court last week, Hon. James McShane, lately Commissioner of Public Works in Mr. Mercier's cabinet, and one of the most eminent elevators of the standard of purity, was disqualified for seven years and fined $400, for personal bribery and corruption. The seat held by him for Montreal Centre is accordingly declared vacant. Another reformer of electoral morality was disqualified and fined $200. for intricacies of method.

Farmers and Farm Work Not to be Ridiculed.

Mr. Editor:

There appears to be considerable interest taken in farm matters lately, both by the press and by specialists. We have Mr. Lynch on dairying, Mr. Gilbert on stock raising, the agricultural departments in provincial newspapers as usual, and here in Hopewell the local paper treating on fashions, deportment, etc. The clothing, habits and dialect of the inhabitant of country districts in this county have been pretty freely commented upon during the last month or so. "Now" if farmers knew one half as much about the style of living best suited to their means as their callow advisers try to tell them they should soon manage to make a presentable appearance on ordinary occasions. However, they have a shrewd surmise that those comments are not intended so much for their good as to provide fun for the aesthetic editor and a certain class of readers. It comes in order to ask, where does this prerogative of criticism descend from? or how long a time has passed since the forest trees were cleared away from the sites of "our" busiest business centres? And whoever chooses to look back within the limits of a century could probably find in the incidentals of country life during that time as fit subjects for ridicule, as the peculiarities of "countrified" people afford now. Let this conjecture be strictly correct or not, it may be taken for granted that, a systematic attempt to make game of farming communities is a heavy undertaking, one that implies a want of forethought, perhaps of good manners. Subscribers to newspapers do not expect such treatment, or the scurrility that a fit of temper sometimes prompts, and there is a growing feeling in this section that we are overcrowded by newspaper enterprise of an aggressive type. If the weekly issues of the paper referred to should become monthly, instead there would be enough of them. The reading matter that creates a distaste for farm life among young people by making farm associations or surroundings the butt for stale jokes, don't appear to be relished by thoughtful persons of any calling, neither is it very much sought after by the departments of agriculture or of immigration.

Wanted, An Export Duty on Pulp Wood.

Mr. Editor:

You would be doing a fine thing for this County and Province by successfully abvocating an export duty on pulp wood, so high that it would kill the business. This trade is making no money for the owners of the lumber, nor for the men who get it, and, if carried on as it at present promises to be, will very soon destroy the whole lumber business, as it is taking all the small, growthy timber right out and leaving none to grow into logs, from which our great lumber interest is derived. So thinks

Satan Rebuking Sin.

Mr. Editor:

Why does the Maple Leaf apply my remarks in a former issue under the above caption, to itself? I was only asking for information. Surely the Leaf is not the paper referred to. Oh, no! Who would ever think of such a thing from such a moral teacher. Don't be so sensitive, Mr. Maple Leaf, and publish another column or two of "taffy" about yourself. You are getting behind on that.

Fatal Neglect.

The breaking of the smallest wheel in a mammoth factory, if not repaired or replaced, will ruin the entire plant, as a speck of dust will derange the delicate machinery of a watch. Were people as thoughtful to repair their broken health on the first approach of disease, as the owner is to mend his machinery, they would escape indescribable suffering, and often death. Slight causes will sometimes derange the digestive organs, on whose healthy action the health of the whole system so much depends, and feverish blood, headaches, and consumption itself, set in. The wise person will at once arrest the cause of these unhealthy symptoms, resorting to that world-famed remedy, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which purifies the blood and cures liver disease. Of all druggists.

The Worst Nasal Catarrh.

no matter of how long standing, is absolutely cured by Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It does not merely give relief, but produces permanent cures in the worst cases. 50 cents, by druggists.

"The Bank Tragedy."

is the title of a serial story of great power, written by Mrs. Hatch, author of "The Upland Mystery," which was published in the Transcript two years ago, which since then had a sale of about 100,000 copies in book form. The new serial is a detective story, the plot of which is constructed with remarkable skill. It will exercise the ingenuity of those who are experts in guessing the plots of half read novels. The scene is laid in northern New Hampshire, but some of the tragic and romantic incidents of a recent famous bank case in Maine are worked into it. The story is being published in the Portland Transcript, beginning Jan. 2nd. The publishers offer several premiums for the best guesses at the plot sent in by subscribers before Feb. 20th. Subscriptions, $2.00 a year, 6 months, 1.00.

Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, Hay Fever.

A New Home Treatment.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks. N. B.—For catarrhal discharges peculiar to females (whites) this remedy is a specific. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent on receipt of ten cents by A. H. DIXON & SON, 303 West King St., Toronto, Ont. — Scientific American.

Sufferers from catarrhal troubles should carefully read the above.

General News.

RAPID TRANSIT.—Says the Summerside Journal: Yesterday morning, 9th. January, 1889 Mr. Leonard Morris received at the Post Office here a package of Halifax Heralds posted to his address, of date April 6th 1888. Only 9 months and 3 days from Halifax to Summerside. This will afford Mr. Brecken an idea of the care with which our mails are handled.

LONGEVITY.—Six persons are living within an area of one mile from each other near this town, whose ages aggregate 517 years; they are as follows: James P. Lockwood, 85th year; three sisters, Emily Smith, Nancy Peabody and Christian Stokoe, in their 90th 89th, and 87th years respectively; Maria Bull, 89th year, and W. D. Smith, 77th year.—Carleton Sentinel.

Our Kilburn Station correspondent sends us the following: Wm. Kilburn, of Kilburn, N. B., who has been ill for some time, was visited last week by his five brothers from the vicinity of Fredericton. There are six brothers, all living. Death has not as yet broken the circle. The eldest is now 84 and the youngest 67. Their average ages amount to 74 years, or a sum of 448 years. They are all hale and hearty, excepting William, who in all probability will not recover from his present sickness. He had not seen some of his brothers for thirty years, and the meeting after so long a time was very pleasant. A photographer came from Presque Isle and took their pictures.—Fredericton Gleaner.

GOOD YIELD.—John E. Dean, of Diligent River, Cumberland, N. S., threshed one hundred and four bushels of barley from four and three quarter bushels sown. It grew on less than two acres of ground.

A NEW INDUSTRY.—It is rumored that a movement is on foot to start a factory for the manufacture of matches, pails, tubs and other wooden ware, somewhere near the line of the I. C. R. between Hampton and St. John. A gentleman interested in the enterprise has lately been inspecting sites at Rothesay and at other places in Kings county. He expects to employ 70 or 80 hands.—St. John Gazette.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the following formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh Asthma and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical Cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Two things most desirable in Life Insurance are:

1st. The certainty of protection to a man's family in case of early death

2nd. The certainty of profit to himself if he lives to old age.

These are combined in the
