THE GARLAND.

For the Weekly Observer of St. John.

SPIRIT OF THE MOUNTAIN.

Thou stern inspector of some thousand years,
Who on the highest peak of Coolin wears
The mountain mist for mantle, hoar and chill,
Thou guiding destiny of Scotia's will!
My soul now whisper's unto thee in song
Heroic verse, the singing woods among.

But genius of my fathers! not confined
To the spot where once I was a child!
Thy hallow'd shrine is erected far and wide,
Upon the mountain's brow and on the tide,—
The spangled canopy of distant wave,—
The cabinet, the court, the white sail.

Thy magic wand, unconscious to the eye,
Is still extended where thy children lie,
To fan the flame of patriotic love,
And waft their loyal souls to realms above!
Kindly at the tenants on thine hills,
Soothing as the murmur of thy rills,
Scowling like the tempest on thy wilds,
Stubborn as the rocks to wintry tiles
Thy spell-bound progeny on distant lands
Be always bound to thee in faithful bands!

The bounding skiff of their midnight dream
Swiftly, swiftly glides across the stream,
The tide, the gulf, the distant sea after,
Where to my Neptune mounts his fluid car
And rolling on in soothing rapture wild,
Is cast upon a rock each knew a child!
The murmur of each distant stream and rill
That wend their tuneful course around each hill,
Instil into their minds in measures mild
The tie that binds to thee a distant child!

From the summit of the towering peaks
Of Nishrimlal, to me thy spirit speaks,
And floats around thy mind in kindly guise
Which sordid sons of pelf can never prize.
The spell-bound charm around my mind is cast!
A willing slave to freedom I am fast!

The herald of the morning chanticleer
In accents loud and shrill upon the ear
Summonses each spirit to his post,
And quicker far than thought that host
Of countless thousands, whose devoted minds
Fleeting fast upon the passing winds
Animates each one his kindred clay
To bring him to his post at dawn of day.

But when the sun has compassed in his spheres
Diurnal speck of time, and night appears,
When wearied nature sinks to take repose,
Thy marshalled host in willingness disclose
A loyalty remote from selfish bribe,
Which neither tongue can tell nor pen describe!

Oh, happy thou! the "Spirit of the North"!
So lofty exalted, looking forth,
To watch the kindred spirits of the night
And find thy hallowed shrine that wing their flight!

21st Aug. From the random thoughts of Montcola.

THE TENDER HEART.—"Although I'm the finisher of the law," said Jonathan Mills, the hangman at Aberdeen, "I'm the tenderest hearted man in a' Scotland." In proof of this assertion, Johnnie being once called on to execute a woman at Arbroath, whilst he was adjusting the rope round her neck, she began to shrink, and manifest other symptoms of terror. "Dinna be fearit yen, my dear," said the feeling hangman, "dinna be fleyed, I'll be as canny wi' you as ever I can."

M. Dupin, in a letter to a friend at Paris, says, "I cannot conceive why the English should be reckoned a grave people. Every where I go I see none but people bursting with laughter."

PUBLIC NOTICE.

THE high repute and extensive sale of ROWLAND'S MACASSAR OIL, throughout the world, has induced adventurers (in order to gain a trifle more profit, to introduce "spurious imitations" into America,—injurious to the Hair, instead of the ORIGINAL.—To prevent such Imposition, it is necessary to Notice, that each bottle of the Original is enclosed in a Wrapper, which has the Name and Address in Red, on Lace-work,

A. ROWLAND & SON, 20, Hatton Garden.

—All others are Counterfeit.—Particular attention to this Caution is necessary, as the Proprietors cannot be responsible for the serious injury resulting from the use of base imitations.

This faithful assistant of nature has, from intrinsic worth alone, acquired the high and distinguished patronage throughout Europe; and, with rank, fashion, and discerment, supersedes all preparations of protessed similar import. Rowland's solely genuine Macassar Oil elicits a luxuriant growth to the head of fine silky hair, and insures the continuance of it in plenitude and beauty to the remotest periods of human life. This celebrated Oil ranks pre-eminently with the most distinguished Ladies as a conservator of personal attraction, preventing the hair from falling off and turning grey, and sustaining it in graceful ringlets, in pristine decoration, during many hours, while the fair possessor mingles in the dance and promenade, or enjoys the recreations of equestrian exercise and aquatic excursion,—thus realizing an important convenience in lengthened duration of head-dress.—Price 3s. 6d.—7s.—10s. 6d.—and 21s. per bottle.

ROWLAND'S ESENCE OF TYRE. For changing Red or Grey Hair, Whiskers, Eyebrows, &c. to Black or Brown. Price 4s.—7s. 6d.—10s. 6d.—and 21s. per bottle.

ROWLAND'S ODONTO, or PEARL DENTIFRICE.—Is recommended by the most eminent of the Faculty, as the mildest, yet most salutary and efficacious Dentifrice that was ever discovered. (forming an efficient VEGETABLE WHITE POWDER, composed of ingredients the most pure and rare,) is a never-failing Remedy for every disease to which the Teeth and Gums are liable: it eradicates all deleterious matter; at the same time healing, strengthening, and firmly fixing the Teeth in their sockets—ultimately realizing a beautiful set of Pearly Teeth! and operate on the Gums as an ANTI-SCORBUTIC, restoring and sustaining their healthy appearance; and gives fragrance to the breath. Price 2s. 9d. per box, duty included.
