

This Is To Be a Season of Out-of-Doors

Summertime is welcomed by women who have learned that the out-of-doors brings roses to the cheeks and vigorous, womanly health. And so this is to be a season, more than ever, that shows the influence of motoring, golfing and tennis upon the apparel of women. Suits, coats, and even dresses of certain types are made in practical styles, freedom of movement, and are refined and graceful. Many will be spending their summer vacations at the lake shore, in the country or motoring, and will want to be properly and comfortably attired for all occasions. We have, therefore, provided a complete display of garments that are designed for such use.

The "Wavecrest" Non-Sinkable Bathing Suit.

Many attempts have been made to produce something that will assist a novice learning to swim by keeping him or her afloat, but they all have disadvantages which bar them from extensive use. The "Wavecrest" not only keeps the non-swimmer afloat while he gains assurance and learns to strike out, but it also is a protection for an expert swimmer when he ventures out too far and is seized with cramps or some like mishap. Identical in appearance with an ordinary bathing suit. The non-sinkable feature is a patented rubber inset which, when inflated, will keep anyone afloat. It is not bulky and there is nothing to interfere with a free swimming movement. See the Wavecrest displayed in the Men's Shop today. Made in sizes for men, women and children, in navy, maroon and emerald. Girls' and Women's, Second Floor. Boys' and Men's—Men's Shop.
