PROPRIETOR AND PUBLISHER.

WEDNESDAY, April 22nd, 1908.

There is one respect in which Bridgetown is behind other towns of equal or inferior enterprise and development and that is through the lack of an active working Board of Trade. Doubtless it would surprise a good many of our citizens to know that Bridgetown has nominally such an institution, so long it is since it has given any indication of existence. Many a town owes its prosperity, almost its living existence, to its Board of Trade—population, manufactures and trade being so largely augmented by the progressive efforts of organized enterprise.

Few towns in the Province have been so happily favored by nature. In the matter of commercial advantage, natural scenery and climate there is little to be desired, but we cannot expect that all the world will come to find us out. People are not searching out obscure places to live in or to start their enterprises in. There are too many towns searching for the people and holding up their advantages to the limelight of publicity. Unless Bridgetown awakens to this fact we must inevitably find that we are left behind in the march of progress.

The great lever of advertising should be set to work, and besides a neat well-arranged pamphlet setting forth the attractions and advantages of the town, the advertising columns of well-established periodicals could also be made use of with good effect. There are many other methods by which the importance of the town could be made more prominent. It is a significant fact that while we have vacant houses for sale or to rent and fine modern business establishments standing idle, towns on each side of us with well-organized and aggressive boards of trade are making the complaint that they have not houses enough to accommodate their population.

DON'T FOLD THE ARMS.

By doing so you pull the shoulders forward, flatten the chest and impair deep breathing. Folding the arms across the chest so flattens it that it requires a conscious effort to keep the chest in what should be its natural position. As soon as you forget yourself down drops the chest. Here are four other things which should be made habits: Keep the back of the neck close to the back of the collar at all possible times. Always carry the chest farther to the front than any other part of the anterior body. Draw the abdomen in and up a hundred times each day. Take a dozen deep, slow breaths a dozen times each day.

PAY OF LEGISLATORS INCREASED

In the Legislature on Saturday last, Premier Murray, in accordance with notice previously given, moved that the indemnity of members be increased from $600 to $700. The premier instanced the increase in the Federal House from $1000 to $2500, and said that with two exceptions, Nova Scotia legislators were the lowest paid in the Dominion. In Ontario, Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan the pay is $1000; British Columbia and Quebec, $800; New Brunswick $500; P. E. Island $200. Mr. Tanner claimed that the business of the House could be transacted more expeditiously than was the case now; and the Premier in reply said that there is no Legislature which devotes its time more assiduously to its business than that of Nova Scotia. The increase was adopted, 24 to 4, the nays being Messrs. Tanner, McMillan, Baillie, Campbell.

Permanent Results

"I had been suffering for over two months with an obstinate cough, as had also my little girl. We tried several remedies common to any drug store without obtaining any apparent relief, in fact we were growing worse. I got a bottle of Coltsfoote Expectorant from my druggist and inside of two days the cough was stopped, and the results so permanent and rapid that we decided to keep it in our home continually.

THE STOCK MARKET.

Accuracy of the Exchange in the Analysis of Events.

Barring the case of manipulation, which carries its own remedy and which is one of the evils of speculation, the stock market tells the truth. Temporarily indications may be misleading, but it is eventually shown that its analysis of events is correct. The silent panic of March, 1907, was a premise of the panic of November. During the intervening seven months prices dropped steadily, showing plainly that there was a weakness in the financial and industrial structure. The utter foolishness of blaming speculation for the downward movement is obvious. The stock market with its daily record of prices said as plainly as it was possible to say: "Danger! Stand from under!"

Something similar happened in 1893. Bradstreet's for July 29, 1893, shows that twenty representative stocks fell on an average 45 points, or more than 50 per cent, between January and July. This mitigated the effect of the panic.

One of the most striking illustrations of the cold blooded accuracy of the exchange is recorded by Proudhon in the Speculator's Manual, published at Paris in 1857, in which he shows that in the later days of Napoleon and the restoration, while French patriotism was at white heat, prices on the bourse advanced with each victory of the allies, reflecting the belief that the defeat of Napoleon meant more for France than the success.—John Paul Ryan in Metropolitan Magazine.

ROYAL SCHOOLMASTERS.

Kings Who Turned to Teaching to Make a Living.

In the early part of the life of King Christian IX. of Denmark there was no prospect of his ever becoming the ruler of that country. With this in view he became a schoolmaster at the German university of Halle.

Being too poor to keep a servant, the Dowager Czarina Dagmar of Russia, one of his daughters, used to help her mother to do the household work and take care of the younger children. During this period there were King Frederick VII. and several others in the direct line of succession that stood before Prince Christian; but, by a succession of deaths that occurred, he became the heir apparent, and after the death of King Frederick VII. in 1863 he was proclaimed King Christian IX. of Denmark.

Another instance of a similar nature is that of Louis Philippe. During the time he was exiled from France, then being the Duc de Chartres, he became a teacher of mathematics and geography in Switzerland. About thirty-six or thirty-seven years afterward, on Aug. 9, 1830, he was proclaimed King Louis Philippe of the French.—London Answers.

Puzzling Differences In Weights.

Which is heavier, a pound of feathers or a pound of lead? They weigh the same.

Which is heavier, a pound of feathers or a pound of silver? The pound of feathers is heavier, because feathers are weighed by avoirdupois weight, which has 7,000 grains to the pound, while the precious metals are weighed by troy weight, which has only 5,760 grains to the pound.

Which is heavier, an ounce of feathers or an ounce of silver? An ounce of silver, because in the troy ounce there are 480 grains, while in the avoirdupois ounce there are only 437½ grains. The avoirdupois pound of 7,000 grains is divided into sixteen ounces, while the lighter troy pound of 5,760 grains is divided into twelve heavier ounces.

The First "Coin Sweater."

"Coin sweating," which so often figures in the Old Bailey calendar, is a very, very old crime. More than six centuries before Christ there was a coin sweater, one Alexander of Byzantium. He was chief officer of the public treasury, and he amassed an immense and sudden fortune by "clipping" the money in so skilful a manner that his frauds could only be discovered by weighing. The Byzantines gave him the nickname of "The File" from his making such dextrous use of that tool, whence probably comes the modern term of "file" applied to thieves, pickpockets and cunning hard-headed scoundrels.

Clothing In China.

In winter throughout the cold latitudes of China the Chinese of all classes wear fur, wool or hair lined garments. Even the cooly laborers have their sheep or goat skins, and people of the middle and official classes have many sets of garments lined with the richest furs. In China houses are rarely heated to the winter temperatures of European or American interiors, and in consequence fur lined clothes are worn indoors as well as out.

He Got It.

"If Groucher ever comes around your place borrowing anything," said Wise, "don't let him have it."

"You've spoken too late," said Hiskie. "He was around yesterday."

"You're easy. What was he borrowing?"

"Trouble. He's in the hospital today."

Responsible For It All.

Hewitt—I never should have had any trouble with my wife if it hadn't been for that man. Jewett—How did he make trouble? Hewitt—He married us.

One trouble with some people is that a very small effort enables them to keep their self respect.—Chicago Record-Herald.

RHEUMATIC PAINS RELIEVED.

Mr. Thos. Stenton, postmaster of Pontypool, Ont., writes: "For the past eight years I suffered from rheumatic pains, and during that time I used many different liniments and remedies for the cure of rheumatism. Last summer I procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and got more relief from it than anything I have ever used, and cheerfully recommend this liniment to all sufferers from rheumatic pains." "FRUIT-A-TIVES" SAVED HIS LIFE

Mr. Dingwall was Superintendent of St. Andrews Sunday School in Williamstown for nine years and License Commissioner for Glengarry — and Tax Collector for Charlottenburg—for fourteen years continuously. Read how strongly Mr. Dingwall comes out in favor of "Fruit-a-tives."

Williamstown, Ont., April 5th., 1907.

I have much pleasure in testifying to the almost marvellous benefit I have derived from taking "Fruit-a-tives." I was a life long sufferer from Chronic Constipation and the only medicine I ever secured to do me any real good was "Fruit-a-tives." This medicine cured me when everything else failed. Also, last spring, I had a severe attack of bladder trouble with kidney trouble, and "Fruit-a-tives" cured these complaints for me, when the physician attending me had practically given me up. I am now over eighty years of age and I can strongly recommend "Fruit-a-tives" for Chronic Constipation and bladder and kidney trouble. This medicine is mild like fruit, is easy to take, but most effective in action. 147

MOVING AYLESFORD BAPTIST PARSONAGE

Mr. W. A. Chute, of Bear River, was called to Aylesford last week to make arrangements for moving the Baptist parsonage and stable in that village a distance of 2,000 feet. The parsonage is 61 feet long 2½ stories high and a very heavy building. Mr. Chute has also been asked to move a freeport dwelling one mile. He says it is fashionable to move about the 1st of May.

THE WHOLE WORLD KIN."

When a rooster finds a big fat worm he calls all the hens in the farm yard to come and share it. A similar trait of human nature is to be observed when a man discovers something exceptionally good—he wants all his friends and neighbors to share the benefit of his discovery. This is the touch of nature that makes the whole world kin. This explains why people who have been cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy write letters to the manufacturers for publication, that others similarly ailing may also use it and obtain relief. Behind every one of these letters is a warm hearted wish of the writer to be of use to someone else. This remedy is for sale by

MOUNT TEMPLE FLOATED

The biggest performance in the wrecking annals of the North Atlantic coast was consummated last week when the Halifax Salvage association floated the C. P. R. liner Mount Temple, which for four weeks and a half had lain on the rocks close to Ironbound Island, and took her to Lunenburg for the night.

It was on December 2nd, that the Mount Temple, from Antwerp for St. John, in command of Captain Boothby, struck on Ironbound. Her cargo was removed and then the work of floating the steamship began in earnest. To accompli-h this there has been an expenditure pr bably of $40,000 but no one can yet state this definitely.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney Nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Brights or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell

THE HABIT OF TALKING

It can be cultivated just like any other habit, and there is probably no other of which the majority of good women have more need, writes Kate Upson Clark, in the Brooklyn 'Eagle.' Is it because we have to keep talking so often at dinner parties—because a pause at such times is such a dreadful thing—that we form the habit of talking on and on and on—when there is no party and no pause, and we might much better be silent?

And when one has grown accustomed to hearing one's own tongue constantly prattling, it is like the habit of smoking or drinking or opium-tippling—almost impossible to break.

'You seem to have a prejudice against that Mrs Blank,' said one friend to another. 'She seems to me a harmless kind of a woman and rather agreeable. What fault do you find with her?'

'Oh, nothing much,' replied the other hesitatingly, 'only she tells me so much that I feel I ought not to know.'

The poor woman had grown so used of telling freely everything which passed through her mind and she read so little and knew so little outside her own family affairs, that she was almost unconciously, retailing far and wide the intimate doings of her household. No one could bear her with out recalling the ancient and honorable proverb regarding the airing of soiled linen—for in the flood of revelations which she seemed inclined to pour forth, of course, the good and the bad became thoroughly mingled. Apparently one may become hardened and blunted in this matter, so that home secrets which one would never think of mentioning at one time, pass the lips freely a few years later. When one acquires the talking habit, one may go down hill with startling rapidity.

There is no surer test of refinement than one's topic of conversation.

DEATH OF SENATOR LOVITT

Senator John Lovitt, who has been in poor health for some time, died at his home in Yarmouth on the 13th. He was born in 1832. He first followed the sea, but soon retired, and became one of Yarmouth's greatest ship builders. He acquired great wealth, and was one of Yarmouth's foremost citizens.

He was elected to the Legislature, in 1874, and remained there one term. In 1887 he was elected to the Commons. In 1896 he was called to the senate. He was president of the defunct bank of Yarmouth.

He is survived by a widow, one son and four daughters.

FERTILIZING STRAWBERRIES.

After a careful study of the anatomy of the strawberry plant, the Wisconsin station is of the opinion that a liberal top dressing with fine manure after the fruiting season is the most rational method of fertilizing the strawberry plantation. This dressing protects the crown of the plants from excessive summer heat and furnishes the young roots with abundant nourishment throughout the growing season, developing strong plants which are able to store up in the short stems a good supply of reserve material for the first leaf growth the following spring.
