AWAITING ARRIVAL OF WELL DRILLERS

Public Utilities Has Several Sites Picked For Operation.

The public utilities department is still anxiously awaiting the arrival of well-drillers from Thamesville to sink wells here to provide additional water supply for the city. It is expected that the drillers will arrive some day this week, but the best thing the city can do under the circumstances is to patiently await their pleasure in getting here, for well-drillers, like cooks, are few in number, and come when it suits them. London is fortunate even to have the prospect of their coming here.

Time was when well-drillers were plentiful, the Petrolea oil wells providing steady fork for them. But newer and more promising oil fields in Texas, the Dutch East Indies, Japan, China, India, Mexico and South America are today being driven by drillers who learned their trade in Western Ontario. Wells will be sunk in the neighborhood of the coves, and also in the north-east section of the city, north of the East London industrial area, General Manager E. V. Buchanan of the public utilities department states.

MAKES PLEA FOR CHILD WELFARE

Rev. Peter Bryce Addresses Rotary Club Luncheon.

A plea for child welfare throughout Canada was the predominant feature of an address delivered to members of the Rotary Club by Rev. Peter Bryce of Toronto, secretary of the Methodist national survey of Canada, at the weekly luncheon held in the Tecumseh House today at noon.

"Child welfare has become almost a passion with me," began the speaker. "There has come in recent years a very characteristic change in the training of the social worker. There are now 35,000 trained in the United States."

"Preventive medicine indicates a stage in the prevention of an epidemic, and is not restricted to the treatment of disease. It is now recognized that the child is the keystone to public health. I visited your splendid Ryerson School today, and it is an indication of the attitude of municipalities to child life. We have come to realize that the child is the best asset in social service, and we have reached the preventive stage. Not that the old spirit of love and sympathy is passing away. Some think that they are not to be associated with science and modern methods, but this is not so."

"In addition to feeding the hungry and clothing the naked," he continued, "we are finding out the source of the need and endeavoring by constructive legislation to remove the cause and the need. I believe that the elimination of poverty is a possibility, and that it is not an essential of civilization. Social service development has been slow and tedious work. We are looking toward a creation of intelligent public opinion. The next ten years in Canada will be a period of social legislation for Canada. Mothers pensions and a minimum wage for factory girls is being considered at present by the government is an indication of this.

Problems Numerous.

"However, our problems are exceedingly numerous and difficult of appraisal. There is no one solution for them. The child is the foundation of all social betterment. It is not simply a social service problem, but one of the state, and in this we shape or destroy the nation of tomorrow. Child welfare work in Canada was at first individual and crudely worked, but it has now taken on a definite form, relating itself to all forms of community life. Every city has its child welfare champions, and the juvenile court is recognized.

"One problem to face is the child of a widow. No widow left with dependent children can be a home-maker and a breadwinner at the same time, yet that is what we have asked for years. So the social workers have realized that the children of a widow are handicapped for life. Something adequate must be done, and a constructive measure has been fostered by the social workers advocating mothers' pensions, to be introduced for legislation next week.

Remove Menace.

"Again for years we have asked the Government to remove the menace of the feeble-minded child, who is unable to cope with the intelligent child, and must be provided for. Adequate measures are coming and I urge the support of the Rotary Club. The so-called illegitimate child is found in every community. The father gets off scot free, and the mother suffers physically and mentally with disgrace, which is unjust. Our records show that with illegitimates the death rate is three to one as compared to the legitimate child. There are no illegitimate children, but there are illegitimate parents.

"The law should deal with them as is done in Norway, where the infant is protected. The so-called illegitimate child here is considered a social outcast, which state of affairs should not be, and this is one of the measures which we are seeking to secure.

"See that every child has health and a fair chance in life," concluded the speaker, as he urged all members present to take an active interest in the Child Welfare exhibit, which opens in this city Tuesday morning.

James A. Cowan was introduced to the Rotarians as a new member.

REPORT FAVORABLE RECEPTION BY DRURY

Board of Education Representatives Return From Toronto.

Representatives of the London board of education who returned Saturday from interviewing Premier Drury in Toronto on the matter of getting the county to pay more for education of county pupils in the Collegiate Institute, report a favorable reception from Mr. Drury and the promise of consideration for the desired legislative amendments at an early date. Now the county pays only 80 per cent of the cost per pupil in maintaining the Collegiate Institutes for each county pupil attending.

The county pays nothing on the capital account of the urban collegiates, and so the local board of education is asking that the county should pay for each county pupil the full maintenance cost per pupil of the collegiate per year. Thomas Coleridge, Edwin Smith and Dr. Claude Brown were members of the deputation from London.

COMMISSION IS TAKING ACTION TO EVICT CHAS. HARVEY

First Case of Its Kind Will Be Heard in Courts Shortly.

Action to evict Charles Harvey from a house on Beatrice street which he purchased from the London Housing Commission will be taken by the commission. Mr. Harvey claims the house was sold to him for $3,175, and refuses to make monthly payments larger than required to cover this amount. The housing commission later told Mr. Harvey that the house would cost $3,600 or $3,800, and a still later estimate places it at $4,500.

The commission claims it did not sign a contract to sell the house for $3,175, and that this price was only mentioned as the probable cost of the house. They assert that Mr. Harvey was allowed to occupy the house before it was completed and before the actual cost was known, as a favor to him. Later, when the cost of the house was found to be higher than expected, they claim Mr. Harvey verbally agreed to pay a reasonable rental for the house until he could find another one. They offered to repay him the money he had deposited for the house, less this rental.

Mr. Harvey has placed the case in the hands of his solicitor, A. M. Judd. Soldier organizations of the city may also assist, as Mr. Harvey is a returned soldier.

The Central Soldiers' Council will take up the case of Charles Harvey, whom the housing commission is trying to evict from the house which he purchased from them. Mr. Harvey claims he bought the house for $3,175. The commission claims that it cost much more than that, and that he should pay the full cost of it.

OFF THE RAILS

Some persons, believed to be three boys, stole a McLaughlin car belonging to C. E. Knowlys, son of the manager of the Canadian Railway News Company lunch counter in the G. T. R. station, from the yards behind the station on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. The car had not been recovered up to the present time.

Mr. Knowlys drove the car into the yard behind the station a little after 6 o'clock. He left the car near the door of his rooms on the west end of the building. A few minutes later his son came rushing in with the information that the car had been taken by a boy.

Twice during the evenings friends of Mr. Knowlys thought they saw the car being driven by three boys at a high rate of speed. Although the matter was put immediately into the hands of the police, the car had not been recovered. The auto is a six-cylinder and the number was 50889.

WORK STARTS.

Work on the new G. T. R. freight house in Walkerville is to start immediately. The bricks have already arrived on the scene. Extensions to the freight house in Aylmer is to start in three weeks, it was announced.

INSPECTION TOUR.

Superintendent C. F. Forrester, G. T. R., accompanied by F. Rutherford and the heads of each department in the local division, left on a special train this morning to make an inspection of the division. The party are in Point Edward this morning. The trip will take at least three days.

TESTERS HERE.

The G. T. R. local examination or school car was in this city today. The car makes a tour of the division, giving tests to the employeese of the different departments at every point. At different times the engineers, brakemen and conductors are put through sight and hearing tests. The car was in charge of J. Lavelle of Stratford. The car is due up the BZruce in the morning.

MORE GRAVEL.

Over one-half of the right-of-way between Hamilton and Toronto on the the G. T. R. has been reballasted already this year. The gravel for this work is taken from the pits near Paris.

PRETTY FERN.

The new offices of the local freight department of the G. T. R. has been further beautified by the installation of a beautiful big fern. The plant is over three feet in diameter, and creates a beauty spot in the otherwise monotony of desks and typewriters. The fern is the gift of a friend.

MOVED AWAY.

Everything but the stop-blocks have been installed in the renovated freight sidings before the local G. T. R. sheds. The old passenger cars which up to lately have been acting in the capacity of offices, have been moved away, and the old tracks torn up and moved closer to the sheds. All the tracks are in use once more for the first time since the fire.

TO POSTPONE SURVEY OF CITY UNTIL FALL

Ministerial Alliance Makes a Decision At Meeting Today.

The Ministerial Alliance, at a meeting held this morning decided to postpone a social survey of the city until a later meeting. Some of the clerics were of the opinion that the matter should be brought before the congregations. Others thought that it rested with the minister himself, as it was upon him that the extra work would fall and not on the congregation. It is expected that plans will be made whereby the survey can be commenced immediately after the summer holidays, as not very much of the work which the survey will entail could be done while the majority of the ministers are on holidays.

Principal Ritchie of the Congregational College of Montreal, who was a visitor in the city over the week-end, addressed the alliance on "Modern Preaching of the Holy Ghost." Principal Ritchie spoke of the various new religions constantly springing up, and describing Christianity as much like a ship at sea, that docked at different ports and picked up other passengers. He advocated that the ministers of the gospel should make the historic Christ the inner Christ. Principal Ritchie stated that none of these new conceptions of Christ could stand the strain of real facts, and that, therefore, it was the duty of every minister to present only the vital points of Christianity and to present the thoughts of today and not the echoes of yesterday.

The alliance decided to close the Armenian fund, which was opened by it some months ago, and to send a letter of appreciation to Nathaniel Mills, the treasurer.

Rev. W. J. Ashton, Rev. T. A. Symington, Rev. L. Armitage and Rev. T. S. Roy were appointed as a committee to nominate officers for the election to be held at the June meeting. L. M. Houlding of the Y. M. C. A., announced that a co-operative camp was being opened, and asked the clergy to draw the attention of the young people to this fact.

J. G. RICHTER WILL ASSUME NEW DUTIES IN 2 MONTHS' TIME

Will Assist in General Revision of Assessment.

J. G. Richter, who has resigned from the court of revision to aid in a general revision of assessment, will not assume his new duties until late in July.

Assessment for 1921 is well under way, and this will be completed before any new work is undertaken. A system of revision has yet to be evolved. Assessment Commissioner Grant and Mr. Richter will get together to devise a plan and will commence putting it in operation during the fall. Any system that is adopted will be based on careful measurements of the property concerned.

DANIELS OBJECTS TO GENERAL STAFF FOR UNITED STATES NAVY

U. S. Naval Secretary Declares It Would Curtail Official's Power.

"RUBBER STAMP" MAN

Maintains Congress Should Be Left To Decide the Matter.

Washington, D. C., May 17.—Secretary Daniels today presented opposition to the advocates of a general staff for the United States navy, declaring that they sought to "Prussianize the navy department and make the civilian secretary a 'rubber stamp.'" He told the senate committee investigating the navy's conduct of the war that "one of Rear-Admiral Sims' chief objects in writing his letters of January 7 and bringing about this investigation was to curtail the power of the secretary and remove the navy, so far as possible, from civilian control.

"If Congress wished to depart from the 'traditional American policy' of civilian control of the navy it should do so directly and clearly and without pretence," said Mr. Daniels, "by making an admiral secretary of the navy and a member of the president's cabinet. The most ardent advocates of the general staff system had not anticipated going so far, however, because they wished to keep a 'rubber stamp' civilian as a figurehead in the secretary's office," he declared.

INTERESTING PROBLEM FOR CITY COUNCIL

Dr. Stevenson's Action re City of London Bill Is Embarrassing.

Dr. Stevenson's refusal to move the third reading of the London bill has provided an interesting problem for the city council tonight. The matter will be discussed to see if some other way of having the matter taken up by the House can be found, so that it can be put through without Dr. Stevenson's assistance.

In addition to this the council will deal with a petition to have permission to hold a meeting in the city hall to protest against the passing of the bill. The petition also asks that the city pay for a proclamation giving notice of the meeting.

BETTER TRAINING FOR THE PUBLIC SCHOOL TEACHERS

Toronto Announcement Is Viewed With Favor by C. B. Edwards.

"I've always thought that the faculty of education put most of the stress on training the high school teachers," said Inspector C. B. Edwards, approving in part the announcement that all school teachers are now to be trained in various normal schools of the province.

Inspector V. K. Greer also inclined to the opinion that a better training of public school teachers might be obtained in the normal schools, leaving the universities to train the high school teachers only.

Press dispatches from Toronto have been a little bit ambiguous as to how the high school teachers are to be trained. They state that Queen's University has been relieved of its faculty of education, and intimate that Toronto faculty of education is also to pass out of existence.

Mr. Edwards, while holding that first-class public school teachers would be likely to get better training in the Normal Schools than in the faculties of education where the bulk of the attention was given to men holding arts degrees and preparing for work as high school teachers, points out that some provision will have to be made for training the high school teachers.

He suggested the possibility that Toronto University is preparing to establish a teachers' college such as Chicago and Columbia Universities now have. Toronto dispatches intimate, however, that the training of high school teachers is to be brought more closely than ever under the control of the minister of education.

Western University never having had a faculty of education it is not of local interest whether Toronto is to get a similar grant to that received by Queen's University ($100,000), to reimburse it for losing its educational department.

DOCTOR'S ULTIMATUM

Demand Pay for Filling Out Compensation Claims.

Sydney, N. S., May 17.—Doctors in Glace Bay have notified officials of the United Mine Workers that after June 1st they will refuse to make out the compensation claims of the miners. The situation created by this ultimatum of the doctors is a most involved one, and Chairman Paton of the compensation board, was here to meet representatives of the miners, the doctors and representatives of the Dominion Coal Company. The doctors declare that this work of signing and preparing the claims of the men entail considerable clerical work, for which they receive no remuneration. They also assert that the completion of these forms gives to the compensation board certain statistics, for which the boards pays nothing. Chairman Paton, on the other hand, told the joint meeting that no claims could be paid to the miners unless this application form is filled out as required by law. The board cannot pay the doctors any fee for this work, and the miners are, therefore, between two fires, so to speak.
