

London Will Present Stronger Lineup Against St. Mary's Tonight

TONIGHT'S INTERMEDIATE GAME PROMISES ACTION

London Lineup Partially Made Over For St. Mary's Battle.

"BUD" KELLY BACK

Doolittle Will Perform On Front Line For Local Sextet.

Forwards.
Burgess, McGeech, Gillies, Cooney, Doolittle.
Defence.
Somers, Kelly, Hindmarsh.

Reuter, Smith.
Referee—Allan Kinder, Preston.

London's intermediate hockey team will be partially made over for tonight's tilt against St. Mary's here. "Bud" Kelly, who used to cavort around wing or defence for intermediate teams in the past, has been coaxed back out of partial retirement, and Doolittle has been grabbed up for front-line work, probably as an alternate with Pete McGeech.

It promises to be a strenuous game. Pete McGeech's goal in the last moment gave London a win in the Stone Town, but it was close, perspiring work.

The St. Mary's team, like their lacrosse brothers, always play a fairly strenuous game, but slicing off huge chunks of stone out of the quarry is heavy work, so the local players do not feel that it's so much intention as habit on the part of tonight's guests.

The game should bring enthusiasm for the intermediate team, who, if they get working properly, have a nice comfortable lead in the group. In their last workouts they have shown some nice work, and Wednesday night's Manufacturers' League games brought out the fact that individually they were right back at themselves.

SPORT SNAPSHOTS

"One-Eyed" Connolly, world's champion gate crasher, who has seen every championship fight in the past thirty-five years and has never had to pay, is disconsolate. He is at Waterloo at Universal City and for the first time in his life is forced to use a ticket. He wanted to see Billy Sullivan and Phil Salvador box.

The bout took place in an episode in "The Leather Stocking" directed by Edward Laemmle, and a delegation of fight followers from the Hollywood Legion Stadium showed up at the audience. Suddenly in the midst of the battle, Tommy Regan, assistant director, stopped the action. "Something's wrong here," he asserted. The something wrong proved to be "One-Eyed" Connolly, who had "crashed the gate."

He was "bounced," and the filming went on. Suddenly there was a yell from Regan. "He's in again!" shouted the assistant. Again Connolly was ousted from the scene.

Four times he was "bounced." Each time he'd slip back into the crowd and get on the set again. "This here's a fight, ain't it?" he protested. "Always see fights and I never need a ticket. I know Jim Jeffries and Tex Rickard and Jack Dempsey and Ed Kennedy."

"Well, you'll have to have an extra ticket or a yellow pass," declared Laemmle. "However, you're so much trouble, being fired off this set, that I'll give you a pass."

The world's champion gate crasher accepted the pass, but he was near to tears. "It's the first time in thirty-five years I've ever had to use a ticket!" he almost wept.

C. A. C. CAGERS PLANNING SENIOR BOYS' LEAGUE

Athletic affairs at the local Catholic Athletic Club are looking up. Last night saw between twelve and fifteen candidates on the basketball floor getting in shape for the Senior Boys' League, which it is expected will get under way soon with two games a week, Tuesday and Thursday.

It is expected that four teams, and possibly a fifth, can be got together for this league. The league will be run along lines similar to the C.A.C. baseball and hockey circuits. A meeting will be held early next week to draw up a schedule.

JUNIORS PREPARED FOR BATTLE TONIGHT

Promise To Show Improved Form Against Woodstock in O. H. A. Mix.

London's junior O. H. A. sextet will go to Woodstock tonight a different team than that which went down to an 8 to 4 defeat at the hands of the Baby City youngsters last Monday. The local lads have put in some strenuous workouts since then, and will have an assortment of new tricks up their sleeves when they get into action tonight.

The Woodstock crew is heavier throughout, but the London outfit is not letting this worry them, as they know by now just about how to work together, a fact which a few games against stiff opposition is bound to bring out in any team. Bill Howard, the husky young local net guardian, who had his head in a sling for a few days after stopping a hot one with his left eye, is around again, and may be included in the line-up.

Poke and Cross Checks

The unofficial pickers of London's O. H. A. material saw three or four prospects last night. Doolittle and Gowdy, the big boy who played defence on the Bell Telephone team, were two of them.

Doolittle, although it was his first time on skates, looked awfully good and caused much comment. However, he wasn't overlooked when the O. H. A. squad was picked—he over-looked the workouts. He is sure to be seen in action in the intermediate O. H. A. ranks.

Charlebois was another prospect. However, Western "U" wanted him to play for the college team exclusively, and he would not be available.

The Western "U" team has a hard struggle ahead, and they'll need every bit of Charlebois' pep.

The goal-tender always stars! The report of every hockey game concludes with: "Had it not been for the great work of Stopen in goal the winners would have run up a cricket score." And perhaps the reason may be that every time the goalie makes a stop, half the crowd heaves a sigh of relief that sounds like a young cyclone, while the other half yells: "That guy's got horse-shoes hanging on every corner of him."

Managar Arthur Barrett of the St. Thomas intermediates has made arrangements with the McGeech's team of London, Ont., to play an exhibition hockey match at the Granite rink tonight. A good battle is predicted.

Stratford Beacon-Herald: "Among any large crowd of fans there is bound to be a few who show their displeasure at the efforts of players on either team or the referee in a manner which more broad-minded devotees find hard to interpret. It is the same all over the Big Four circuit, and Stratford is far from being an exception.

"Fifty people can make their efforts sound like the unanimous hooting of 2,500 if they are scattered about the rink. That was the case last night. Every time the Greenshirts came on the ice the players stopped to tie his shoe lace, there was hissing. It wasn't by any means general, but it had the effect of making the visitors think the home crowd was unscrupulous. The mere fact that such a crowd went to see the game was a tribute to the playing abilities of the visitors, as well as the homesters.

"And, by the way, one has to hark back to the good old days to find the sportsmanship. Last night the visitors dressed at a downtown hotel rather than use the dressing-rooms at the rink. It's the same all over the Big Four. Years ago a visiting team was welcomed by the band and banqueted after the game. Now they come and go without even a kindly round of applause now and then."

STIRLING GETS K.O.
Miami, Fla., Jan. 10.—Young Stirling of Macon, Ga., knocked out Mike Nestor of New York in the fifth round of a scheduled 12-round match here tonight.

M'GRAW SAYS SCOTT DESERVES HARD JOLT

Giants' Manager Declares Long John May Be "Grateful" Next Time.

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Jan. 10.—Baseball followers were puzzled today by the waivers granted by all other fifteen major league baseball clubs on Jack Scott of the New York Giants, pitching sensation of the 1922 world's series. Not only did all the majors pass up the tarheel souponner, but the Louisville American Association Club refused to accept him as part of a deal for Dean.

Scott is the second pitcher of note to leave New York for nuzzling reasons this winter, his predecessor being Carl Mays, who was grabbed by Cincinnati. The Mays case was not so mysterious as Scott's, however, as several clubs dickered to buy him, while Scott, who won more games last year than the submarine twirler, was completely refused.

It was suggested today that Manager McGraw might be getting under Scott's hide to force him to keep better discipline this year than he did last, and really intends to retain him, though McGraw himself gave no such indication. He said he hoped Long John could be more "grateful" to the next club which hired him.

Scott's case, like Mays, was more a case of inability to get along with his manager than anything else.

PETROLIA HIGH TO OPEN WOSSA SERIES IN SARNIA

Special To The Advertiser.

Petrolia, Jan. 10.—The local High School hockey team will invade Sarnia tomorrow to open their "Wossa" schedule with the fast Collegiate sextet at the arena. The Hard Oil kids are considerably weakened this year, having lost four of last year's team, but they have been showing up well at practice. "Dad" Donald will mind the nets with "Connie" Boges and B. Churchill on defence. Tanton, Bryant, Thompson, O'Dell, Wilson and Lindsay will form the forward line.

This game will be watched with keen interest by both Sarnia and Petrolia hockey fans, as it is the first time that the blue and whites and the Hard Oil have ever met on ice as far as can be ascertained from old times. Sarnia Collegiate will play the return game next Friday afternoon.

On the Side Lines

With C. S. G.

IS NOT ALL IN MUSIC.

The value of rhythmic action in all sport is not newly discovered by any means, but it has been emphasized by the slow-motion camera. A strong physique, keen brain and courage are not alone enough to land an athlete to the heights of achievement. They fall short unless there is present a keen sense of rhythm.

Before the days of the slow-motion camera this need of the sense of rhythm was known about and vaguely expressed by the word "form." Now prize-fighters, golfers, swimmers, trackmen, all manner and sorts of athletes are shown doing their stuff all under the eye of the slow-motion camera, and the obvious feature in all these films is the rhythm, the perfect co-ordination of eye, brain and muscle which the pictures bring out.

USES MIRROR.

Alwyn, the crack Hamilton C. I. quarter-miler, whose running form when he performed at the Ontario track championships here last summer drew comments from even the uninitiated, and who will be almost certain to make the Olympic team, lacking a slow-motion camera, finds, according to reports, a long mirror a good makeshift arrangement.

He is said to practice constantly before the mirror, and corrects his own form as he does his tread-mill stuff. Athletes who take their work as seriously as this are needed on Canada's Olympic team.

WRITER'S CRAMP.

The U. S. hockey body will restrain hockey players from writing articles on the games. As it is popularly supposed in Canada that U. S. "amateur" hockey players are paid by check, and therefore don't have to sign receipts even, there will be little danger of writing cramp now among the ice stars.

THE SAME, YET NOT.

Siki has probably found out by this time that Monsieur Jacques Barilec and John Barilec, U. S. A., may have a family resemblance, in outward appearance, but there the resemblance ends.

ALL TO YANKS.

Many of the American League teams are conceding the pennant to the Yankees. None of the National League teams is conceding the Giants anything.

It is true that Cleveland, Detroit and St. Louis are not among those who consider the Yankees winners before the race starts. Ty Cobb believes that if he can dig up a second baseman and one more pitcher he will make the Yanks hop along pretty merrily, and Tris Speaker is another manager who is not doing any conceding.

Baseball is a queer game. At the opening of last season it looked as if the Giants would have a walkaway. The Yanks were favorites in their league, but it was thought they might have a tough fight. Things didn't happen that way. Nor does anyone know what may happen this season. It doesn't take a very big money wrench to play havoc with the works of a baseball machine and four pennants in a row have been shot at and missed by more than one great club.

DUNDEE OFFERED $12,000 TO DEFEND HIS TITLE

Associated Press Despatch.

Meriden, Conn., Jan. 10.—George Dwyer of Bridgeport, matchmaker of the local National A. C., wired Jimmy Johnston, manager of Johnny Dundee, the junior lightweight champion, an offer of $12,000 to meet Louis (Kid) Kaplan of this city, for a bout with the title involved. The offer was made yesterday.

C. A. C. ARROWS DEFEAT YOUNG JUDEANS 24-3

Good Combination Displayed in Second Juvenile Game of L. and D.

C. A. C. Arrows' hard checking and consistent combination proved too much for the Young Judeans in the second battle of the juvenile section of the L. and D. Basketball League at the Central C. I. gym last night, emerging victors to the tune of 24-3. Dromsle and Pitt were outstanding on the green-shirted quintet, while Levy was the best for the losers. Arrows—Pitt (7) and Dromsle (11), forwards; Cook (4), center; O'Hara (2) and Henry, defence; Raffaele and Coles, subs. Judeans—Siskind and Cohen (1), forwards; Levy (2), center; Wilensky and Hoffman, defence; Sobel, sub. The Arrows are anxious to secure exhibition games with any other team in the city or district in their same class.

Manhattan Lassies Will Brave Unknown Bushes

Mixes Baseball With His Hockey

Special To The Advertiser.

Toronto, Jan. 10.—Here is another one for the book—Garrison, the Oshawa junior, uses a baseball infield's finger glove in goal. Cobourg protested last night, and Referee Bobby Armstrong of Toronto ordered Garrison to remove the facing from between the first finger and the thumb on the ground that it might come under the rule governing equipment which gives a goalkeeper undue assistance.

Armstrong says that Garrison was making one-hand pick-ups like Frank Frisch. Knotty Lee is invited to look this boy over. Years ago a goalkeeper named Despard, who played for Toronto Rowing Club, used to drop his stick and catch them like a ball player. St. Paul had a goalkeeper last year who cut his club down to three feet. He used to bat them out or tuck it under his arm and catch them baseball fashion.

"SID" RANKIN TO REFEREE CHESLEY-MITCHELL MIX

"Sid" Rankin will referee the Chesley-Mitchell senior Northern League game at Chesley tonight, providing the ice is not so soft as to cause the game to be postponed.

He was slated to handle the Guelph-Stratford mangle in the Classic City last night, but was informed early in the evening that the battle was off, due to the mild weather mashing up the ice.

OLYMPIC TEAM DEFEATS MARITIME CHAMPIONS

Canadian Press Despatch.

St. John, N.B., Jan. 10.—The Canadian hockey team tonight defeated the Maritime amateur champions, the Abegweit, of Charlottetown, P.E.I., here in the final game to be played by the Canadian representatives on this side before sailing to uphold Canada's honors at Chamonix.

Leave Bright Lights Behind To Meet Shamrocks Here Tomorrow.

WESTERN PLAYS VARSITY

Intercollegiate Series Opener Billed For Preliminary Game.

The London Shamrocks are providing girls' basketball fans with a bang-up tilt as the opener of their winter campaign. The Manhattan Lassies, routed direct from "Ole" Broadway—the Great White Way—and with their eyes still blinking in the semi-darkness of the bushes, will be here tomorrow night. As a curtain-raiser the armories cage fest tomorrow night, Varsity opens the intercollegiate season here against Western University quintet in what would be a main event if it were not contrasted against the big task Shamrocks have assumed in bringing the Manhattanites here.

It's a long trip for the Broadway girls, the longest they've ever taken, but as they've toured the New Jersey and New York state wilds, they are rural broke, and won't be so depressed with the lonesomeness of the wild open spaces and lonesome howling of the wind as to be off their game.

The New York Herald sport department discovered the Lassies were making this trip, and apparently the New York Herald's Gotham gave explorers and other hardy adventurers when they sail off into the "unknown and uncharted."

The Herald has this to say: "The Manhattan Lassies, a strong combination of girl basketball players of this city, will leave tomorrow night for Canada to play the London (Ontario) Shamrocks, contenders for the championship of the Dominion Basketball League. The game will be contested under boys' rules, which are seldom employed in games played by the Manhattan Lassies. Nevertheless the New York girls expect to make a good showing, says Miss Mae Kahl, manager of the team. The record of the Manhattan Lassies to date shows 15 victories and one defeat."
