THE NEW PRESIDENT

Is M. Loubet, Who Practically Walked Over.

FOUR NAMES WERE PUT UP

But All of the Opponents Drew Out of the Contest.

A Ballot Was Taken, Notwithstanding That M. Meline Withdrew Before the Voting Began — The Result Looked Upon as a Triumph for Republicanism—A Sketch of the New President and a Review of the Situation From a Republican Standpoint.

Paris, Feb. 18.—M. Loubet has been elected President of the French Republic by 483 votes against 270 votes cast for M. Meline, and President Loubet's selection has been officially announced.

The National Assembly met at Versailles at 1 o'clock this afternoon. M. Loubet, President of the Senate, declared the sitting open amid the applause of the Leftists.

The names mentioned as candidates were MM. Loubet, Meline, Dupuy, De Freycinet and Deschanel.

M. Loubet Arrives.

M. Loubet, President of the Senate and presiding officer, arrived in a carriage at 10 o'clock. Friends surrounded him when he entered the Gallery of Busts, and he said: "If you love me, I hope you won't vote for me."

Soon the scene became animated. Crowds of people surrounded the doors watching the arrival of the members. The palace was closed to the public.

The Ballot Completed.

In the meantime the voting continued and at 2.40 p. m. the ballot was completed. While the checking was in progress the members of the assembly left the hall and assembled in the galleries and corridors, where they discussed the chances of the election.

M. Meline loudly announced that he had voted for M. Loubet.

The Progressists insisted on voting for M. Meline, although he had withdrawn his candidature in favor of M. Loubet, which explains the vote cast for him. The votes not given to M. Loubet or M. Meline were divided between M. Cavaignac, General Saussier and others. M. Meline received an ovation when he voted.

M. Loubet Congratulated.

After the announcement of the result M. Chauveau and many members of the assembly repaired to an adjoining salon where M. Loubet awaited them. The result of the election was then communicated to him, and he received the congratulations of his friends.

The newly elected President promised to devote his best efforts to fulfilling the wishes of the country and to "reunite the Republicans who have drifted asunder by the current of unhappy events."

President Loubet's remarks brought forth lively applause from his hearers.

The Premier, M. Dupuy, then formally transferred the executive power to M. Loubet, and congratulated him upon his election.

The President, in thanking M. Dupuy, expressed the hope of having the support of the Cabinet.

The President's Reception.

The Senators and Deputies then filed past and shook hands with the President, who afterwards received a deputation of newspaper men and, through them, appealed to the whole press of the country to work in union and appeasement.

M. Loubet left the Palace in a carriage, accompanied by M. Dupuy and followed by the Ministers. The crowd along the route acclaimed President Loubet with cries of "Vive la République!" "Vive l'Armee!" "Vive Loubet!"

At 5 o'clock Versailles had resumed its normal aspect.

Back in Paris.

President Loubet arrived here from Versailles at 5.08 p.m., and was received with military honors. Amid renewed acclamations from the crowds, the President proceeded to the Elysee Palace in order to pay a tribute of respect to the remains of the late President Faure. He then went to the Foreign Office, where he received the high officials of State and the diplomatic corps.

M. Dupuy Still Premier.

Paris, Feb. 18.—President Loubet has asked M. Dupuy to retain the Premiership and the present Cabinet.

Career of President Loubet.

Emile Loubet, who until his election to the Presidency to-day was the President of the French Senate, was born at Marsanne on the 31st of December, 1838, was educated for the bar, and began his practice at Montelimar. He entered political life in the general election of 1876, when he professed himself a Republican, and opposed to general and complete amnesty. He was elected by a great majority, and at once associated himself in the assembly with the Republican left. He was one of the Deputies who refused a vote of confidence to the De Broglie Ministry in 1877.

After having been twice re-elected to the Assembly, he became a candidate for the Senate, in his old department, and was elected in 1855. He became a member of the first Tirard Ministry, which only survived for three months, holding the position of Minister of Public Works. When M. De Freycinet declined to undertake the Presidency of the Council, he was intrusted with the reconstruction of the Ministry, and took the position of Minister of the Interior, from which M. Constans had retired in 1892.

MRS. CRAWFORD'S COMMENTS.

The Man and the Whole Situation Ably Reviewed.

Paris, Feb. 18.—This election, by a single ballot and Republicans only, is the greatest Republican victory since Grevy's walk over the course.

The new President comes from the part of France where the Roman power lasted longer, namely, Marsanne, in the Department of Drome. He gives the impression of remote Latin origin, and looks to be a solid, practical man, who sees the facts of life just as they are. As President of the Senate he has official and other experience that will be useful to him as President of the Republic; but he is essentially a plain, middle-class man, whose mind is sharpened by his practice at the bar in the provincial town of Montelimard in the South of France. He is there most popular and everyone at Montelimar counts

RIOTS IN PARIS

Partisans of the New President Were Thrashed by Their Opponents.

A NUMBER OF RIOTS OCCURRED

Police Had Their Hands Full and Arrested Many—Quiet at Midnight.

Paris, Feb. 19.—Police measures for the maintenance of order have been taken on an extensive scale. M. Loubet did not quit his residence at the Luxembourg until 6 o'clock this evening.

Toward 7 o'clock demonstrations occurred in front of the office of Sebastian Faure's Anarchist paper, The Journal du Peuple, on the Boulevard Montmartre, for and against Loubet. There was a collision between the rival factions and several persons were injured. The partisans of the newly-elected President were worsted in the conflict and moved off to the Cafe Brebant, where they were again attacked and dispersed by their opponents. Many arrests were made.

Similar encounters occurred at about 9 o'clock at the offices of The Libre Parole, and more serious disorders later at the Brasserie Maxeville, on the Boulevard Montmartre, where several women were trampled and injured.

A fracas also took place at the Cafe des Panoramas, where blows were freely exchanged. In both cases the police intervened energetically, arresting many.

Demonstration for Zola.

At 11 o'clock an enormous crowd was demonstrating in favor of M. Zola. Toward midnight crowds broke the windows of the Rothschilds' offices, in the Rue a Grue Lafitte, and another group wrecked the office of The Anti-Juif.

In the course of the demonstrations the Dreyfusards attempted to invade the offices of The Petit Journal. Finding the doors barred against them, they smashed the windows.

Bonapartists Made Trouble.

At the Hall of 1000 Columns, 700 Bonapartists met to protest against the election of M. Loubet. Speeches were made by Baron Legoux, M. Lasies and M. Cuneo D'Ornano. Several persons who interrupted the proceedings were ejected. When the meeting broke up there were some slight disorders and several arrests were made.

Minor disturbances took place in various parts of the city, but the crowds gradually dispersed and at midnight quietude had been almost restored.

Funds for the Funeral.

To-morrow M. Dupuy, the Premier, will ask the Chamber of Deputies to vote f6400 for the obsequies of M. Faure. This was the amount voted for President Carnot's funeral. President Loubet, following the precedent set by President Casimir-Perier, will attend the obsequies. M. Loubet will preside at the first council of the new administration on Tuesday.

On the advice of the medical attendants, the remains of M. Faure were placed in the coffin this morning in the presence of M. Dupuy. This afternoon crowds defiled past the bier.

Madame Faure continues to receive telegrams of condolence from rulers in all parts of the world.

M. Loubet is receiving a host of congratulatory telegrams. The Temps rejoices in his election as "The best possible choice." The Journal Des Debats, which is more guarded, will wait to see him actually at work. The Liberte exhorts him to remove the impression that he was elected in the interests of Dreyfus.

Boulevards Are Battlefields.

London, Feb. 20.—The Paris correspondent of The Daily Mail describes the scenes at the Versailles election as a Donnybrook Fair, with a touch of tragedy therein, tragedy of a newly chosen ruler attempting to ignore his own unpopularity and smilingly returning thanks for congratulations."

"I believe," says the correspondent, "that the riotous scenes in Paris are only a foretaste of what is coming. Last night the boulevards were battlefields, and nowhere was a voice to glorify the new president. To-day the press is uncommonly rancorous."

TRIED TO CROSS THE BAY,

Went Through the Ice and Had a Scramble for Life— A Team and Two Men.

A team of horses attached to a heavy wagon with a load of mortar came to grief Saturday afternoon while crossing the bay to Hanlan's Point. The journey was being made from the foot of Bay-street about 3.30 o'clock. The two men who were seated on the wagon were told by a number of the iceboat crews that the route they contemplated taking was a dangerous one, owing to the thin ice. However, the men refused to take the warning and started out.

There is a large break in the ice at this point, which is in a triangular form and off which every person was warned to keep. The wagon with its heavy load continued in this route, and no sooner was the dangerous spot reached than the ice cracked and the wagon and horses went in. Both men jumped and saved themselves.

Captain T. Fisher and John Hanlan, with several others rushed to the scene and were successful in getting out the horses by means of boards and ropes. The wagon was also saved after some difficulty and risk.

HARD CASH DID THE TRICK

That is What Mr. Foster Said Regarding the Result in New Brunswick.

WILL HAVE MORE TO SAY ABOUT IT

Hon. A. R. Dickey Also Tells How the Wheels Were Greased During the Campaign.

Montreal, Feb. 19.—(Special.)—"We have both creeds represented and a thoroughly united party."

This was the jocular remark made to The World to-day by Hon. G. E. Foster, who arrived here to-day from New Brunswick. The ex-Finance Minister was seen prior to his departure for Ottawa. He remained in St. John till the polls closed, and then took the train for Montreal. It was hard cash and the influence of the Dominion Government that brought about Saturday's result, and Mr. Foster thinks the Government corruption fund reached $80,000 to $100,000.

Mr. Foster states that the Government made a particular dead set upon York, St. John, Carleton and Westmoreland, and in Westmoreland Melancon defeated Hon. Mr. Richard, so the Opposition have secured two men from Sunbury and two from Westmoreland. The ex-Finance Minister said he would have something to say regarding the result as soon as the official returns came to hand. He made no comment whatever on the fact, but simply stated that for some reason or other the Catholic vote in St. John had gone solid for the Government candidates.

One Gleam of Sunshine.

Before leaving, Mr. Foster stated that one pleasing feature of the day's work was the return of Mr. Hazen a Sanbury. He was formerly M.P. for St. John, took a leading place in the House of Commons and will make a most valuable leader of the party at Fredericton.

"No doubt Mr. Gibson's influence and the Canada Eastern deal was a strong factor against you?"

"Yes," Mr. Foster replied, "but this could have been overcome had they not had so much money."

Hon. Mr. Dickey Also.

Hon. Mr. Dickey, ex-Minister of Justice, was also in the city to-day en route for Ottawa, and he told your correspondent that several days before the election the Emmerson Government was beaten, but that nothing could resist the wholesale manner in which they set in to buy up the election. The Gibson deal was the first thing that put them on their feet, and for this the wheels were well greased. He adds that there were ward-heelers in St. John yesterday who had never been known to possess $5; yet some of them were exhibiting sums all the way up to $500, and this state of things existed all over the Province. The ex-Minister was then asked if he thought that most of the Conservatives who had rallied to the support of the Emmerson Government would now definitely remain in the Liberal camp, and he said it was quite likely they would.

"And Mr. Costigan?"

"No; I do not think so. I should have excepted Costigan."

"Do you believe he will accept office in the present Government?"

"No," replied the ex-Minister; "I do not think there is the least danger of any such a course on Mr. Costigan's part."

About Nova Scotia.

Mr. Dickey then referred to the situation in Nova Scotia. He said that the recent municipal elections had been fought out on party lines, and the Conservatives had captured a good many counties. The large majorities secured by the Conservatives and the generally small ones by the Liberals, indicated a decided change in public opinion. "If a Dominion election," concluded the ex-Minister of Justice, "were to take place to-morrow in Nova Scotia, the Opposition would carry a majority of the seats."

A $10,000 FIRE THIS MORNING.

Todhunter, Mitchell & Co.'s Spice Works on East Adelaide-Street Badly Damaged.

At 2 o'clock this morning fire broke out in the building occupied by Todhunter & Mitchell, spice manufacturers, 130 and 132 East Adelaide-street, and did damage to the amount of $10,000, which is fully covered by insurance.

The fire was discovered by P. C. Redford, who saw the flames and, running along Lombard-street to the fire hall, he notified that section, and then pulled in an alarm from box 24, King and Jarvis-streets.

On the arrival of the firemen, the entire top storey was found in flames, which had originated near the elevator and there was great danger of the fire spreading. Lines of hose were run in from the rear entrance and from the front, and in 10 minutes the fire was under control.

The stock carried was valued at $75,000, and consisted of cocoa, chocolate and spices. Most of the damage was caused by water. The building is controlled by the Toronto Financial Corporation. Night-watchman Burrows noticed the smoke while on King-street and he awakened all the adjacent occupants.

ALMOST STARVED TO DEATH

Shocking Cruelty to a Boy of 12 Who Was Working for His Uncle.

HE BECAME A LIVING SKELETON.

Was Fed on a Scanty Allowance of Potatoes and Dry Bread—A Cripple for Life.

Parry Sound, Feb. 18.—A shocking case was presented before Judge McCurry here yesterday and concluded to-day. It was a charge of cruelty to an orphan boy who lived with a family named Stacey, near Sundridge. Freddy Stacey, the boy, about 12 years of age, lived with his uncle, John Stacey, on a farm, and was made to do work around the place. The evidence revealed the fact that the boy was starved almost to the point of death. He became literally a living skeleton. Gangrene had set in in his fingers and toes, from the effects of which he will suffer for life, having lost some of his toes at the first joint. When Dr. Carmichael of Sundridge was finally called in he found the boy unconscious, and in a dreadfully emaciated condition. No other restorative than food was administered, and by good treatment and a liberal diet during the last month the boy is fully restored, except from the effects of the gangrenous sores, which still affect his hands and feet.

Potatoes and Dry Bread.

The lad stated that he got nothing else to eat than one or two potatoes and a small morsel of dry bread. At one time he fed on raw peas, oats and chop stuff that he got from the barn, and sometimes raw turnips. For a time he managed to steal eggs from the fowl house. He ran away once, but was brought back.

The case is certainly one which for utter heartlessness is hard to parallel. Stacey was sentenced to six months' imprisonment and his wife was made to enter into a bond of two hundred dollars to appear later on for sentence, presumably to be given when her husband is liberated.

FIGHT AT TALIEN-WAN.

Conservatives Meet.

The Northwestern Conservative Association of Toronto met Saturday night last in the Forester' Hall, corner of Dufferin and Bloor-streets. The vice-president, J. H. McGhie, occupied the chair. There was a large number of members present. Upon motion of Mr. Beetham, seconded by Mr. Moore, the secretary was directed to send a letter of condolence with the late president, Mr. Thomas Christian, as an expression of the loss the association has sustained by his death and of the very high esteem in which he was held by his fellow-members. Mr. J. H. McGhie was then elected to fill the vacancy created by the death of Mr. Christian. Mr. J. A. Boyd was elected vice-president, and the association adjourned to meet on the last Wednesday in March.

AMERICANS HAD A REVERSE

California Volunteers "Abandoned" Guadaloupe and "Retired" to San Pedro Macati.

LITERALLY HAVING A HOT TIME

The Tropical Temperature is Beginning to Tell on the American Soldiers.

Manila, Feb. 19.—(3 p.m.)—The California Volunteers abandoned Guadaloupe Church at 5 o'clock this morning—which has since been set on fire—and retired to San Pedro Macati. The rebels still hold the country in the vicinity of Guadaloupe, Pasig and Patere, despite the efforts of the gunboats to dislodge them from the jungle on both sides of the river.

The heat to-day is intense and is increasing perceptibly daily. Under present conditions, it is impossible to provide shade for the troops in certain parts of the line. Particularly McArthur's Division, King's Brigade is also exposed from San Pedro Macati to Cuilcuill, where it joins Ovenshine's Brigade.

Refugees in Danger.

Mr. Higgins, the manager of the Manila-Dagupan Railroad, is believed to be safe at Bayambang, although no communication has been received from him since Feb. 9. He was then housed at Clark's place, with his wife and family and about six other Englishmen, some of whom are accompanied by their wives. While it is unlikely that the natives of the locality will harm them, it is feared that others from distant provinces might wreak vengeance at their expense.

In view of the fact that the enemy were concentrated on the American right flank, preparations were made last night to give them a warm reception in the event of attack. General Ovenshine's line, consisting originally of the North Dakota Volunteers, the Fourteenth Infantry and two troops of the Fourth Cavalry, stretching from the beach at Camp Dewey to General King's right, was reinforced by two battalions of Oregon Volunteers and three troops of the Fourth Cavalry as infantry.

The Buffalo's searchlight, discovering the rebels unusually active about 10 o'clock in the evening, signalled the flagship for permission to fire upon them, and, this being granted, bombarded the enemy's trenches for 20 minutes. The only effect of the fire was apparently to drive the rebels further inland.

Beyond a few ineffectual volleys from the trenches, which were returned with interest, the enemy was undemonstrative, and all is quiet along the rest of the line.

Fur Snaps for Cold Snaps at Dineens'.

There is every indication that Jack Frost is lying in wait somewhere up in the Arctics, preparing to swoop along with one or two more real cold snaps, and in which men can test the comfort of Dineens' special fur-lined overcoats, which are offered this month at the cash cost of production. And the prospects are so certain that the choice grades of fur in these garments will advance in price before fall, that buyers will have reason to congratulate themselves on the good fortune of having bought these at Dineens' special prices this month. No house in Canada has ever been able to duplicate the quality of these garments at Dineens' regular prices, and no comparisons can be made while they are offered as special.

WAR EAGLE HOISTING PLANT

Is Almost Complete and Heavy Shipments of Ore Will Soon Be Made.

CENTRE STAR SHOWING UP WELL

Good Strike at Velvet Mine—Stock Business the Largest in Two Years.

Rossland, B.C., Feb. 19.—(Special.)—War Eagle hoisting plant is complete with the exception of some trifling details, but will not be started until an auxiliary engine is installed, probably within three weeks. The new incline tramway to the railway will then be completed and the mine will ship from three to four hundred tons daily.

Messrs. Gooderham and Blackstock leave for Toronto this week, probably Wednesday. Regarding the report that they would establish a big departmental store here, Mr. Gooderham has come out with a positive statement that they will do so. He says he has no desire to do anything to injure the business of the camp, and will only have a storehouse for supplies required for the War Eagle and Centre Star properties. He says Centre star could ship two or three hundred tons daily, but no regular shipments will be made until early in the summer, when sufficient ore will be blocked out to insure continuous shipments. He is perfectly satisfied with the appearance of War Eagle and Centre Star.

Six feet of forty-dollar ore has been struck in the Velvet mine, at the 160-foot level.

A new hoisting apparatus is being placed in Le Roi. When completed, which will be within a few days, the mine will ship three to four hundred tons daily.

The stock business of the last week was bigger than any week in the last two years. It is estimated that six hundred thousand shares of various stocks changed hands.

RELYING ON CHARLTON

Both $1 and $2 Lumbermen Think He is With Them.

CORLISS WANTS FREE LOGS

And a Treaty That Will Allow Warships to be Built on the Lakes.

Ex-Governor Rich Has Not Given Up Hope of a Compromise, But is Not So Sanguine as He Was—He Believes Some Sort of a Reciprocal Treaty Will Be Fixed Up, But It Will Have to Have a Lot of Ratification.

Detroit, Feb. 18.—A Washington special to The Evening Journal says: "Tawney of Minnesota, who is the chief pusher of the high-duty lumbermen, says that he has the East Shore of Michigan, done up to a certainty, and that there will be no reduction in the lumber tariff scale. He is evidently not so sure of this as he seems, as he is working on the commission all the time and thinks he has Charlton on his side. Both the $1 and the $2 tariff men are depending on Charlton, and quietly asserting the belief that he is with them. Congressman Corliss is also almost constantly with some of the High Joint Commissioners, and when asked why, said because it was of general interest to the people of the whole country, but more especially to Detroit and Michigan. He is openly in favor of free logs and a reduction of the duty on lumber and wants a treaty that will permit the building of warships on the lakes.

Ex-Governor Rich said to-day that he had not given up hope of a compromise, but he did not appear to be as sanguine as he was in the past. He absolutely denied the statement that he had ever said he had ever given hope of a treaty and a favorable lumber recommendation. It is now regarded as certain that some sort of a new reciprocal treaty will be recommended, but there is no hurry about it, as it must pass the Imperial, Dominion and Provincial Parliaments before it can become operative on the Canadian side, and must pass the Senate here. For this reason there is no hope or attempt to get it ready for this Congress.

End Not Yet in Sight.

By Associated Press.

Washington, D.C., Feb. 18.—The Anglo-American commission held several sessions to-day, going over a variety of subjects without final action on any of them. The full commission was in joint session during the forenoon, and reassembled later in the day and spent until after 5 o'clock this afternoon arguing over several points at issue. In the absence of any result of a conclusive nature a definite statement is withheld. Both the English and the American commissioners during the day held separate sessions.

There were no indications to-day of a definite break in the negotiations, and the reports that they were practically at an end, based on the assumption that there is no agreement in sight, are given positive denial. At the same time, it is said, such progress has not been made in the adjustment of the important problems before the commission as would warrant a definite statement of the probable outcome, and the termination of the negotiations is not yet in sight.
