Vote by Ballot and the Liberals.

(From the London Review, Oct. 10.) The reign of Terror has begun in the counties. The doctrine of the right divine of landlords over their tenants' rotes has broken out with fresh fury. 'May I not do as I like with my own?' is the cry of "A Buckinghamshire Land-lord," whose letter we print in another part of our paper. With a frankness, which might be characterized by another name, "A Buckinghamshire Landlord" declares that he is the keeper of his tenants' consciences. In a high-handed style, which might befit a Southern slave breeder, he declares his right to dictate their opinions. His notions of political liberty are so refined that he would make every one under him vote as he does. He not only owns the laud, but wants to own the people. His idea of religious toleration is that his tenants sball be of the same creed as himself. In short, difference of opinion from himself is the part of our paper. With a frankness, difference of opinion from himself is the one thing which "A Buckinghamshire Landlord" will not permit on his estate. These amiable sentiments cannot be considered as exactly new. They have simply formed the basis of every political When carried out on a large scale they have dethroned kings and rained mighty states. EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF A COUGH.

The following letter has been received from WILLIAM BOARDS, Esq., an extensive agriculturist and land agent, residing at Edmonton, Middlesex:—

"Nightingale Hall, Edmonton "Dear Sir,—I have recently suffered much from a most violent cough, proceedin., from a tickling in my chest, which no remedy, out of many I resorted to, could allay. My head was constantly ashing, and my whole frame entirely shaken. Having seen the good effects of your Balsam of Aniseed in several members of my family, I purchased a small bottle, and, when going to bed at night, took a teaspoonful in two tablespoonfuls of water, just warm. The effect was immediate; it arrested the tickling in my chest, I slept well, and arose perfectly restored in the morning, with the exception of debility, arising from fatigue by incessant coughing for some days previous. My cough entirely left me, and has never returned. Having since heard of a lady in the neighborhood who for a long time had laboured under a most distressing cough, and who had resorted to every remedy within her knowledge, I sent the remainder of the bottle to her; and that long-standing, obstinate, and (as she thought) incurable cough, was perfectly cured. You are at perfect liberty to make what use you may please of this communication, as the contents are strictly true I shall take every opportunity of recommending your inestimable medicine, feeling as I do fully assured of its efficacy.

"I am, dear Sir, yours very truly,"
