WANT NEW NAME FOR ROYCE AVE. PROPERTY

A large and representative meeting has been called by the ladies' auxiliary of the G.W.V.A., Earlscourt, at Belmont hall for Thursday evening to discuss the name that shall be given to the Royce property recently purchased by the city as a park for this district. An executive committee will be appointed after the meeting has voted on the name. "Prince Edward," "Britannia," "Victoria" and other names have been suggested, but the general feeling in the district is that the name of Earlscourt Park should be the name. The meeting is to be an open one and all the local organizations are invited to be present and take part in the discussion. Messrs. W. H. Maton, William Carter, John Fitton, John R. Bull, oldest pioneers of the district; Reeve Miller, A. B. Law, H. J. MacDonald, Brook Sykes and Reeve Miller will be among the speakers.

At the sacred concert given on Sunday evening at the Royal George Theatre the sum of $42.85 was collected. The expenses amounted to $14, leaving a balance of $28.85, which has been handed over to Mrs. MacDonald, president of the auxiliary for the distress fund of the Earlscourt branch G.W.V.A. The committee desire to thank the Palmer family, and the other artists for their kindness in donating their services.

SWANSEA VICTORY L. O. L.

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

"BACK TO PARTY," CONSERVATIVE CRY

New Danforth Association Issue Call to Return to Party Lines.

Optimism for the future success of the Liberal-Conservative party was the keynote of the speeches delivered by many prominent speakers at a meeting of the new Danforth Conservative Association, which filled the large meeting room in Playter's Hall, corner of Broadview and Danforth avenues, last evening. J. R. MacNicol was in the chair.

In his introductory remarks the chairman pointed out that the new branch, altho the baby was a very lusty one, and together with North Toronto and the North End of Ward Six, formed the three associations inside the riding of South York. "When the next election comes along the group will raise up a big Conservative majority within the city limits," said the speaker. "The interests of Canada in general and the province of Ontario in particular, are bound up in the old Conservative party, which has placed more and better legislation on the statute books than all the governments since confederation," said Mr. MacNicol, who proceeded to point out that unrestricted reciprocity with the United States and free trade was the policy of the two young anti-conscriptionists and farmers, Hon. T. A. Crearer and Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King.

Praise for Sir Adam.

Proceeding, the speaker said: "Sir Adam Beck has always been a Conservative and he was one with the people in his own home town, who could not always follow Sir William Hearst. If Sir Adam Beck had been elected he would have led the Conservative party on to victory and would suggest to Northeast Toronto that Sir Adam be their nominee," said Mr. MacNicol.

Ex-Alderman H. H. Ball, who received an enthusiastic reception, said: "The people must get back to party government, and this feeling was shown by the resolution adopted at the Central Ratepayers' Association to outline a program for the Conservative party. I don't feel any interest in Ottawa," said Mr. Ball, "there is no program there to attract our attention. The franchise act after discussion by that government will no doubt be disapproved."

Stand By National Policy.

They were going to stand by the old national policy, declared the speaker, who pointed out that there is no country in the world where can be seen such a general uplift among the people, which, he maintained, was all due to the policy of Sir John A. Macdonald. With happy, thrifty and prosperous conditions the people of Canada were not going to disturb that policy.

Mr. Ball further pointed out that outside of Lloyd George there was no more outstanding figure than Sir Adam Beck, and the party was relying on Sir Adam to make the province the industrial hub with his great Hydro scheme.

Not Down-Hearted.

Joseph Thompson, M.L.A., said the party was not down-hearted, but full of pep and fight. "Forty per cent. of the Conservatives in the local legislature are not indebted to any anti-conscriptionists for being put there, and I would sooner be in opposition than be elected by such people. We are a conscriptionist party, and should fight for the motherland and Canada," he said.

R. H. Douglas, Cochrane, in his speech, defended the actions of Hon. Howard Ferguson in parliament, and the Kapuskasing camp. "New Ontario today is a business proposition for the older part of Ontario, and is the greatest investment for Ontario," said the speaker, who declared that millions of dollars have been made and millions of dollars will yet be made by the people in that section who do not want sympathy," he said. Mr. Douglas pointed out that New Ontario is the greatest clover and cattle country, and only needed clearing.

"Mr. Howard Ferguson's heart and soul are in his efforts for the returned men, who," said the speaker, "are disheartened because they cannot produce a crop the first year on the land." Ninety per cent., however, of the British people of New Ontario belonged to the Conservative party, and there were immense possibilities for settlers in the section.

Had Absorbed Liberals.

A. E. Donovan, ex-M.L.A. for Brockville, declared that the Conservative party, altho it absorbed the Liberals from time to time, was never itself absorbed by that party.

"We don't regret some of the bills passed in the late legislature in Queen's Park, but some of them were so uplifting they lifted us out of our seats. I was reminded by Hon. Mr. Hanna, when the O.T.A. was being passed, that the bill would put us out of power. It did," said the speaker, who added that the present government at Queen's Park would not receive the support of the farmers when it came to a question of free trade; it would not appeal to them, as it would not appeal even to the farmers in the west. What was wanted today was the policies of both the Liberal and Conservative parties.

"We want," he added, "stability, and we want to discuss the great questions. With regard to Sir Adam Beck, who has a greater proposition to handle with the $200,000,000 Hydro scheme than his acceptance of the premiership of Ontario, if such were offered to him. I honestly believe that it would be better for him to be alienated from the position, and the Hydro scheme taken out of politics altogether."

During the proceedings, Ernie Cooke furnished cigars to the audience, and a musical program was contributed by the following artists: R. J. Roberts, Sam Hill, R. Godfrey and N. Talbot, pianist.

Among those present were: J. M. Skelton, North Toronto; W. D. Robbins, W. Tyler, George Whiteside, Neil Macdonald, president Danforth Conservative Association, who welcomed the speakers in a brief address; A. J. Stubbings and others.

YOUNG JEWISH PEOPLE DEBATE LIVE TOPICS

Under the auspices of the young men and women of the Jewish community, the second series of popular debates was held yesterday in the Zionist Institute, of which H. M. Lehrer is president. The proceedings were of a very animated character, and was voted an overwhelming success. The first debate was between the young women, and the subject, "Resolved, that the British form of government is superior to that of the United States," resulted in favor of the affirmative. Miss D. Schechler and Miss E. Eiser of the "Victory" girls took the affirmative, and Miss J. Narossky and Miss S. Smith of the "Judah" girls the negative.

The second debate, "Resolved, that women should take an active part in politics," was defended by Miss Rosenberg and Miss Manilla of the Alpha Kappa, and was opposed by Miss J. F. Feuerstat and Miss L. Goldberg of the "Branders" girls. The decision was in the affirmative.

The latter debate was voted the best of the evening.

Mrs. I. H. Seigel, Beaches district, occupied the chair, and Mrs. Ald. L. A. Hamilton, Mrs. Hector Prenter and Mrs. H. G. Levetus acted as judges.

The proceedings next Sunday, which take the form of eliminative contests, will be held under the auspices of the Hebrew Literary and Athletic Club and the Disraeli Fraternity. The subject of debate will be, "Resolved, that the Canadian senate should be abolished." The winner of the above debate will contest against the previous two teams, and a trophy will be warded the winner.

YORK TOWNSHIP DIVISION.

One Ratepayer Thinks There Should Be Two Townships Rather Than Two Towns.

"The proposed division of York Township, if accomplished, will give the people of the eastern section no real relief, and will only favor the western section," said Dennis McCarthy, secretary of the Amalgamated Association of York Township Ratepayers' Associations to The World. "There should be two townships and not two towns, and wider powers given by the legislature for their government," said Mr. McCarthy, adding that he had at present an open mind on the matter of annexation to the city, in connection with the eastern section, and was neither opposed to or in opposition to the proposal.

"DAVID IN HIS YOUTH."

Under the auspices of Kew Beach Presbyterian Young People's Society, an interesting meeting was held last night in the Sunday school room. Russell Brock, president, occupied the chair. The address of the evening was a Bible study, "David In His Youth," after which there was a short debate, followed by a social hour, and a short musical program contributed by the members. Rev. J. A. Cranston, pastor, was among those present. The meeting was well attended.

FOR GOOD CAUSE.

Cara Gourlie, 220 Kingswood road, the little 10-year-old girl who was instrumental in raising a handsome sum of money by means of an entertainment held recently in Kew Beach Presbyterian Church, in aid of a distressed family, consisting of a mother and eight children, the father having died from the "flu," was presented with a handsome bouquet of flowers by the members of the Beaches Branch, G.W.V.A.

SCARBORO WATERWORKS' SCHEME BEFORE BOARD

Chairman MacIntyre of the Ontario Railway Board yesterday overruled local objection to the Scarboro township waterworks bylaw. I. H. Sanderson expressed a doubt concerning to the application of the whole of the $130,000. The board agreed that the district needs water and fire protection. The provincial board of health will certify the purity of the water supply.

LOOKS FOR INFLUX FROM OLD COUNTRY

F. B. Robins Returns From Visit to British Isles—All Eyes on Canada.

Canada may expect a big immigration from the British Isles beginning immediately, according to F. B. Robins, of the real estate firm of F. B. Robins & Company, who returned to Toronto on Sunday after an absence of five months spent in the old country. All the steamships are booked up for months ahead, especially the lines running from Scotland. Canada is well advertised, says Mr. Robins, and she will get hundreds of thousands of good citizens from outside in the next few years.

Speaking of conditions in the British Isles, Mr. Robins declares production is speeding up and everybody seems to have money. "Persons who have watched the pound dwindle may have had their fears for the financial safety of England, but let me tell you such fears are groundless," said Mr. Robins. "London is still the money centre of the world in spite of certain claims set up in New York. The British are holding the big end of the shipping trade and will continue to be the world's greatest exporting country. The depreciation in America of the value of the pound is not hurting Britain and it is doing a great deal of good for her industries. If they found it necessary they could pay off the debt to the United States in 24 hours and restore the exchange. There will be millions of British money for legitimate Canadian enterprises."

House Scarcity Surprises

Mr. Robins was surprised to find such a scarcity of houses in England. The demand has been so great that the government has undertaken to construct 500,000 houses, and artisan's houses are costing about 800 pounds to build, but the workmen seem able to pay the prices.

Speaking of the outlook for building here, Mr. Robins predicts that there will be plenty of work in the building industry in spite of the high costs of materials.

"They have costs up in the States, too," he said, "but that is not stopping them. There is a new building going up in almost every block in the business district of New York."

He was gratified to find business so active in Toronto and thinks it will be even better very shortly. It was unfortunate that the tax rate was going to be so high as that would have a tendency to halt some people, but real estate was bound to continue very active.

Money in Real Estate

"There will be lots of money made in real estate," he continued. "People who have been plunging in the stock market and getting in wrong, as some of them have lately, will be getting back to solid investments. Wars come and go but real estate in a young and growing city like Toronto will always bring a profit to the investor."

Questioned about the report that he had negotiated for the purchase of sites for two hotels in the old country for John Bowman of New York, Mr. Robins said there was nothing to announce yet, as the deals would not be closed up until June. The New Yorker, he said, would have a large hotel in London and another for the summer trade in one of the most attractive parts of Scotland. Contracts for the construction of these hotels would be let in June.

DRIVER DID NOT TRY TO ESCAPE

No Truth That Police Are Looking for Driver of Wrecked Car.

The World yesterday received from Hughes and Agar, solicitors for R. McKay and F. B. Culliton, the following:

"In behalf of Richard McKay, of the city of Toronto, in the county of York, the driver, and F. B. Culliton, of the same place, the owner, of the motor car referred to in an article in the issue of your newspaper dated Monday morning, March 22, 1920, under the caption, "Car Turns Turtle—Driver Runs Away," we hereby notify you in writing that the following statements in your article are complained of: 'Driver runs away,' 'The driver has disappeared,' 'The chauffeur was captured shortly after the accident, but succeeded in making his escape, and the county police are now looking for him.'

"The accident did not take place at Mimico at all, but at Port Credit. The driver did not escape and did not try to escape, and the county police are not now looking for him.

"The article, therefore, impliedly and falsely accuses R. McKay of having committed a crime and is a very serious reflection upon his character and upon the automobile livery business of F. B. Culliton."

The World published the news item complained of in the usual course of events, and disclaims any intention of injuring in any way the two gentlemen conerned. For any injury that may be done them The World expresses its regrets.

The southern and eastern parts of Germany are reported quiet, altho unrest was said to be spreading among the agricultural population in Pomerania and Mecklenburg. The communists were still in charge today at Stettin. At Kiel, which the troops had left, conditions were reported quiet.

To the north of the Spree, in the Berlin district, the outposts of the regulars have been withdrawn, leaving detachments to guard the stockyards and railway station.

The marine brigade and the Baltic troops, which occupied Berlin during the Kapp regime, have been cleared from Charlottenburg, and have joined the other military units at the Doeberitz camp, where all are reviewing.

An official report from Leipsic says that no further excesses occurred on Saturday in that city, and that several points evacuated by the workmen were occupied by troops. In the suburbs, however, the workmen refused to abandon their positions. Further communist reinforcements have arrived, the reports added. Railway traffic in the Leipsic region was fully resumed on Sunday.

DOMINION G.W.V.A. ON VOTE FOR ALIENS

Dominion expect from them a full declaration of the principles for which the association stands, and that they are justified in this expectation, hereby declare:

1. That the foundation principle upon which this, our association, rests, is national service, and that we unreservedly commit ourselves to a standard of service for Canada and the British Empire in the work of national development as full, as self-sacrificing and free from personal motives as that rendered by our army overseas.

2. That we pledge ourselves to the common service of our country, acknowledging no pre-eminence in our association except devotion in the building up of our national life.

Only Demand Just Rights.

3. That we reject for our association and ourselves any claim to special or peculiar favors, based on our military services, simply demanding our just right as returned citizens of this country, to be placed on an equality with our fellow-citizens who were not privileged to serve.

4. We hold it to be inherently just, and only worthy of this great nation, that the dependents of our deceased comrades, who willingly gave their lives that this land should be free, and our disabled comrades should be given by the government of our country such pensions and allowances as will enable them to live according to the accepted standard of our people.

Reaffirm Loyalty.

5. We desire to reaffirm our unswerving loyalty to King and country, and while we deplore the existence of many condtions — political, religious, racial and social—which are harmful and pernicious, we also realize that lasting betterment can only be obtained by the free expression of the people's will, given in a constitutional way. Therefore, while we dedicate ourselves to the elimination of such unjust conditions, we pledge ourselves to lawful and orderly procedure.

6. Believing that national citizenship is not dependent on accidental distinctions of birth or sex, we urge the extension of the municipal, provincial and federal franchise to all persons of Canadian or British birth who have reached the age of 21 years, and to all persons of foreign birth of like age who have properly declared their desire for citizenship, who, after due probation, assumed full responsibilities of citizenship.
