Friend In Need Is Lady Lamp

When power fails and the lights are , when transportation is out of com- ssion and telephone and te egraph rvice are interrupted; when the City London is a dark, unexplored re- n, and the streets black caverns of known perils, the traveler alighting an inhospitable station need havae fear. The Lady of the Lamp is re.

Of course, she's a travelers' aid sec- ery. All you have to do to find out to strike a match to see for yourself ask her to turn the spotlight on her dge.

Friday afternoon she was found just ide the door of the Grand Trunk sta- n before the arrival of a train.

"Much fun in the dark last night?" e was asked.

"Fun;" she repeated the question with phasis. "Fun? You should have been re to see for yourself. Near tragedy, mean. And the lady was so full her experience that she talked be- e she knew it, or that she was go- to figure in a newspaper story.

"When the darkness settled down," said, "I was the only one that had ight 'round the waiting-room. I sat r at the table, and everytime I heard door click, I flashed it in the face the newcomer. Sometimes, it was rase of following footsteps, and, if happened to be a man, he didn't re- t in the least my detective or hold- methods. He doffed his hat, pleas- ly as you please, and said: "Thank lady." They seemed glad to get leasata little light on their way.

After awhile, we were given a big tem for the waiting-room, bu , be- e that, I had been called upon to t the way to the Tecumseh House a man and his wife, who were stop- over to make connections here on r way to Los Angeles.

Piloted to Hotel.

They asked for the nearest hotel, and ointed in the direction of the Te- nseh House. The hotel was so im- fectly lighted, however, that they itated and I offered to take my flash- t and go ahead. They didn't even their toes on the way.

Busy? I should say so. Filled up the hotels and boarding-house ac- mmodation, including the Y. W. C. which was overflowing with girl mal students who couldn't get home the Port Stanley line. One difficult feature was that re was no way of notifying friends relatives out of town who might be ried by the non-appearance of trav- s.

One old lady on her way to Port nley took things most philosophically. when she couldn't get a message by telephone or telegraph. I took to the King street Y. W. C. A. and got a cot there for the n gh .

Fine for Chest Colds Too, and Is Cheaply Made at Home.

Hawking and snuffling and also soreness of the muscous membrane go and you will feel fine in almost no time.

Just get one ounce of Parmint (double strength) add to it a little sugar and enough hot water to make a half pint and you've got an inexpensive remedy better than you can buy ready mixed.
