HOCKEY.

A LOCAL GAME.

A hotly contested game of hockey was played last night at the Jubilee Rink between the Arlington Club and the London Shoe Company. When time was called the score stood 6 to 0 in favor of the shoemen. The line up was as follows:

Shoemen.		Arlington Club.
Copner	Goal	Ward
G. Wilson	Point	Silk
Hennessy	C. Point	Bridgman
C. Wilson	Forwards	Jones

SHAMROCKS MAY COME.

The London Club is endeavoring to arrange a game here with the Shamrocks, of Montreal, who won the senior championship of the Dominion from the Winnipeg Victorias. A good guarantee has been offered them.

JUBILEES WIN THE CUP.

The Jubilee hockey team defeated the St. John's Athletic Club seven in the final game for the city championship last night. The match was contested at the Jubilee Rink, and was witnessed by a crowd of not more than one hundred people. The severe storm made it next to impossible for admirers of the game to turn out. Those who did brave the elements were rewarded by seeing a very fast game. The score at half-time stood three goals to two in favor of the Jubilees, but in the last half the latter added four goals to St. John's one, making the total seven goals to three. The St. John's club team covered themselves with glory, nevertheless. Pitted against them on the Jubilees were Peel, Hobbs and Johns, of the intermediate champions, while Fred. Beltz, who was very clever in the old days, was also with the victors. The only player not "raw" material who figured with the vanquished was Glover, the crack goal keeper. Yet the first half was a very even affair. The Jubilees added their third goal just as the bell rang, on a magnificent lift from cover point by Peel. The second half witnessed pretty rushes by Peel and Hobbs and Kerrigan and Tom Woolley, the three first named shooting successfully. Kerrigan was a great barrier to the Jubilee forwards. A few minutes before time, in checking Peel, he was thrown heavily against the rink side, and had one of his arms so painfully bruised he could not continue play, and the game was called. The players were as follows:—

St. John's Club.		Jubilees.
Glover	Goal	Johns
Hora	Point	Little
Kerrigan	Cover point	Beltz
Labatt	Forward	Hobbs
T. Woolley	"	Peel
W. Woolley	"	Breden

Referee—Jack Hobbs. Goal judges—Shillington and Mitchelltree.

THE SENIOR CHAMPIONSHIP.

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 28.—The first of two games between Queen's, of Kingston, and the Wellingtons, of Toronto, to decide the O. H. A. senior championship, was played at the Caledonian rink to-night, with the biggest crowd of the season in attendance. Queen's won by 3 to 1 in a fine game, played in a gentlemanly fashion, without the least rough play. At half time the score was 2 to 1 for Queen's.

BULLER'S VICTORY.

A BRITISH VICTORY

BRAVELY WON.

London, Feb. 28, 2.10 p. m.—General Buller's account of the tremendous resistance he is encountering, in his efforts to reach Ladysmith, has brought public interest with a sharp turn from complacent contemplation of Lord Roberts' victory to a realization of the serious conditions still existing in Natal. Though Gen. Buller's lengthy despatch is construed as a victory, bravely won, the commander of the forces in Natal has so often reported similar victories, without achieving his main objective, that the public has learned to contain its jubilation until Ladysmith shall actually have been relieved, while the list of casualties invariably following any gain by Gen. Buller is always awaited with dread and anxiety. However, it is the generally accepted belief that Gen. Buller is determined to reach Gen. White this time, and the nation confidently awaits the news of the relief of the besieged troops.

THE QUEEN TO BULLER.

London, Feb. 28.—The Queen has telegraphed Gen. Buller as follows:—"I have heard with the deepest concern the heavy losses sustained by my brave Irish soldiers, and I desire to express my sympathy and admiration of the splendid fighting qualities they have exhibited through these trying operations."

Gen. Buller has wired his thanks to the Queen for her telegram of "gracious sympathy and encouragement."

LADYSMITH'S RELIEF.

BROUGHT NEAR BY BULLER'S SUCCESS.

London, Thursday, March 1, 4.15 a.m.—Gen. Buller's distinct success in storming Pieter's Hill brings the rescue of Ladysmith near, but the War Office intimated late last night that an immediate announcement of relief need not be expected. The goings to and from at midnight of officials and messengers suggested that important news had been received. If this were the case, Lord Lansdowne obviously desired to sleep on it before taking the public into his confidence. As his message reveals, Gen. Buller's successful attack came after the hard fighting of Friday, and it was improvised and its execution began during the armistice of Sunday. In imposing the armistice the British commander stipulated that both sides should be free to move, but that neither should do any shooting. He was therefore within his privileges in immediately beginning to transfer his troops. Gen. Buller's tidings come weighted with his long list of casualties. His losses in the four attempts to get Gen. White out aggregate four thousand.

IN DEEPEST STRAITS.

Ladysmith is in deepest straits. Mr. Charles Williams, the military expert, says he learns on very high authority—presumably that of Lord Wolseley—that "Gen. White's force is almost at its last gasp." "This is not so much," says Mr. Williams, "on account of any lack of provisions or ammunition, neither of which is yet exhausted, as because of the poisonous waters of the Klip River, and the evil effects of the heat on the terrain in which the garrison must reside. Even those who have escaped fever, dysentery and diarrhoea are in a state of low vitality. They can still man trenches and would probably hold their own against a last desperate assault, but they can initiate nothing. The water of Klip River is not available for drinking, and to boil it is impossible, because of the scarcity of fuel. It is thick, with putrid animal matter. Tea made of it has a suspended fibre, something like beef tea. It is caused by the sewage from the Boer camps."

AT RAILWAY HILL.

DETAILS OF LAST FRIDAY'S FIGHT.

London, Feb. 28.—Richard Harding Davis sends the following despatch to the Daily Mail from Pieters', describing the desperate fight at Railway Hill. It is dated Feb. 24:—"Last night the Inniskilling Fusiliers, mixed with some of the Dublin Fusiliers and the Connaught Rangers, attempted to carry Railway Hill from Pieters. They were under a continuous fire, through which they passed up the heavy broken ground to the first Boer trench. Half way up the hill the Boers retreated to the crest, and then came back on either flank of the Irish troops, enfilading the captured trench with a savage cross as well as direct fire. All night and until 9 o'clock in the morning our men held the position and at a terrible cost. At roll call only five officers and one hundred men answered to their names. Col. Thackerey and Major Sanders, of the Inniskillings; Col. Sitwell, of the Dublin Fusiliers; Captain Maitland, of the Second Gordons, and Col. Thorold, of the Welsh Fusiliers, were killed. Two hundred and fifty-two of the rank and file were killed or wounded.

UNDER A CEASELESS FIRE

WITH LITTLE EFFECT.

Gen. Lyttleton's brigade relieved them at 10 o'clock this morning, when the Boer artillery pounded the troops holding the centre kopje without pause, but with little effect.

GREAT DIFFICULTIES

ENCOUNTERED BY BULLER'S FORCE.

London, Thursday, March 1.—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Pieter's Station, dated Sunday, Feb. 25, and describing the five days' continuous fighting, of which the attack upon Railway Hill by the Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers was one of the supreme moments, says:—"The Inniskillings joined the column with 24 officers. They have five left. That tells the tale; no map, no penned account can give an idea of the difficulties of these hills and ridges, which succeed each other like waves in a heavy sea, one giving way only to another. Each can be enfiladed, and until one is taken, it is impossible, even with the keenest scouting, to know what fortunes lie behind it. The military problem changes as the column advances, each kopje refusing to give up its secret until the advancing troops touched its crest. To add to the difficulties, the tropical rainy season set in to-day. For twelve hours the uniforms clung to the men like wet seaweed. Mud caught them under foot. Mists closed down and shut out the position of the enemy. This discomfort is borne by all alike. Gen. Buller and his staff are virtually living the private's life. There has not been even a tent to cover the commanding generals. They eat from their knees and with their shoulders against the rocks, and they sleep where they can. Field work is carried on under transport wagons, and as these are not built rain-proof, tiny streams of water pour down upon and blot the official records."

SUNDAY'S ARMISTICE.

BURIED DEAD AND REMOVED WOUNDED.

London,* Thursday, March 1.—A despatch from Colenso, dated Feb. 26, says:—Yesterday an armistice was agreed upon, and both sides removed their wounded and buried their dead. The Boers lost heavily in attacking, and many were killed among the trees. Severe musketry fire was resumed last evening. It was started by the accidental discharge of a rifle. It is reported that there are 400 Boers near Ennersdale."

TRUCE LASTED TILL DUSK.

Winston Churchill, in a despatch from Colenso, dated Saturday, says: "The condition of the wounded who were unattended on hill sides yesterday was so painful that Gen. Buller sent a flag of truce to the enemy, and it was arranged that throughout Sunday military movements should continue on both sides, but that there should be no shooting. This truce terminated at dusk. The Boers then opened a furious musket fire on the British left. The attack was repulsed. Fighting continues vigorously. We will see who can stand bucketing best—the Briton or the Boer.

ILLEGAL BULLETS.

Mr. Churchill goes on to say that there is abundant proof of the Boers using a large portion of illegal bullets. No fewer than five different kind of exploding or expanding bullets being found. He also asserts that the Boers are supplying armed Kaffirs, and adds:—"I have always tried to be fair to the Boers. Now, after making allowance, it must be said that they show in stress a very dark, cruel and veangeful underside of character.

THE INNISKILLINGS ADVANCE.

London, March 1.—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Colenso, dated Friday, describing the famous advance of the Inniskillings on Friday, says:—"I saw the first company waver and break before a sheet of well directed leaden hail, and not a man was left inside a moment. It seemed to me that the brave company of Fusiliers was annihilated. Shortly afterward, however, I could see some of them move, then rise and walk quickly to the rear, taking cover. The supporting company was also cut up, but not quite so severely. The Boers and British fraternized during yesterday's armistice. It is reported that 4,000 Boers have left the vicinity of Ladysmith for Dundee."

THE WOUNDED.

London, March 1.—A despatch to the Times from Colenso says:—"Before Sunday's armistice many of the British wounded had been left out for 36 hours. The Boers gave them water."

THE CRITICS.

NEXT ATTACK DECISIVE.

London, March 1.—Mr. Spencer Wilkinson, commenting on Gen. Buller's operations, says:—"It hardly seems as though Tuesday's attack had covered more than an advanced position, carrying the Boer main lines of investment, or that the Boers have abandoned any part of these lines. Otherwise Gen. Buller and Sir George White would have met the same night. The next attack ought, one way or the other, to be decisive. Apparently Lord Roberts cannot for some time influence the course of events in Natal, and Gen. Buller's force has now been subjected to a very considerable and prolonged strain. The moment seems opportune to point the necessity of sending Gen. Buller reinforcements."

THE TIMES' MAN.

The military critic of the Times, dwelling upon the difficulties facing Gen. Buller, says:—"Although his progress has not been so great as earlier reports had led us to expect, the sacrifices his forces has made already have been great. The country is exactly adapted to the tactics of a tenacious rear guard, and if the Boers continue their resistance with the skill and stubbornness hitherto shown, many difficulties remain to be surmounted."

THREE CHILDREN PERISHED IN THE FLAMES.

New York, March 1.—A fierce fire broke out last night in the tenement at 1,691 Third avenue. The police and firemen made many thrilling rescues, and after the fury of the flames had been spent, the bodies of three children were found in the rooms. They are thought to be the children of Edward Friedman, who lived on the top floor of the building. Friedman's wife is missing. She is thought also to have been burned to death.

A feature of the lumbering operations in the Ottawa valley this season is the small cut of square timber, and it seems as if the day of this class of lumbering has had its day. The cut of ordinary lumber this year will be quite equal to that of previous years, as the comparatively light fall of snow all winter has made operations in the woods quite easy, and with the winter continuing fairly into March, a first-class season's work will have been performed.

Quebec, Feb. 28.—Lady Pelletier, mother of Maj. Pelletier, has received a telegram from Sir Wilfrid Laurier, informing her that her son was but slightly wounded.

THE CANADIAN ARTILLERY.

A cablegram has been received by Mrs. J. F. Wilson, wife of Lieut.-Col. Wilson, from Capt. "Buff" Ogilvy, dated at Kimberley, reporting himself well. Evidently on reaching Cape Town "D" and "E" batteries of the second Canadian contingent were rushed through to Kimberley, and are at present stationed there. Sergt. Peppiatt, "F" Company, First Canadian contingent, who was among the 29 wounded, was a well-known non-commissioned officer of the R. C. A., attached to "B" Field Battery, and was among the first to volunteer for service in South Africa. He is a married man. Since his departure Mrs. Peppiatt, who is a young woman, has become a mother.

ROSEBERY OUT OF POLITICS.

London, March 1.—Lord Rosebery yesterday resigned the presidency of the Scottish Liberal Association, a post he had held for twenty years, and also the honorary presidency of the Midlothian Liberal Association, which he had held since its formation. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman was elected to succeed him as president of the Scottish Liberal Association. It is understood that Lord Rosebery's retirement is due to Scotch disapproval of his war policy, and it is believed that his retirement means his absolute retirement for the time being at least from politics.

RAILWAY FROM GODERICH TO GUELPH.

Montreal, Que., Feb. 28.—Mayor Wilson, of Goderich, and Mayor Nelson, of Guelph, had a conference to-day with the Canadian Pacific authorities. The merchants of Guelph and Goderich have been pressing for the construction of a line between the two points, and it was with the object of seeing what could be done that the deputation waited on the C. Children Cry for CASTORIA.

"Honesty is the Best Policy."

Never was a more pointed saying put into print, and yet to be honest only because it is policy is a poor kind of honesty. Better change "policy" to "principle" and the world will like you better. In the medical world there is one medicine honest for principle's sake—and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It is the specific of the age for all blood troubles. The liver, kidneys and bowels are all toned up by its action as a cleanser and thus good health ensues. It never disappoints.

Rheumatism—"I believe Hood's Sarsaparilla has no equal for rheumatism. It has done me more good than any other medicine I have taken." MRS. PATRICK KENNEY, Brampton, Ont.

Bad Cough—"After my long illness, I was very weak and had a bad cough. I could not eat or sleep. Different remedies did not help me but Hood's Sarsaparilla built me up and I am now able to attend to my work." MINNIE JAQUES, Oshano, Ont.

Biliousness—"I have been troubled with headache and biliousness and was much run down. Tried Hood's Sarsaparilla and it gave me relief and built me up." A. MORRISON, 89 Defoe Street, Toronto, Ont.

Heart Trouble—"I had heart trouble for a number of years and different medicines failed to benefit me. I tried Hood's Sarsaparilla and three bottles completely and perfectly cured me." MRS. C. A. FLINN, Wallace Bridge, N. S.

A Safeguard—"As I had lost five children with diphtheria I gave my remaining two children Hood's Sarsaparilla as they were subject to throat trouble and were not very strong. They are now healthier and stronger and have not since had a cold." MRS. W. H. FLECKER, Pembroke, Ont.

Varicose Veins — "I have been a great sufferer from varicose veins, which swelled my foot and limb, discharging watery matter. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla faithfully and the sores healed." MRS. A. E. GILSON, Hartland, Vt.
