TUESDAY EVENING, APRIL 6.

A Sensitive Sect.

Our Catholic brethren, considering that they form so numerous and powerful a religious sect, are unaccountably sensitive, growing excited over attacks that other bodies of Christians would consider too insignificant to notice. There is Father Chiniquy, for instance, who is kept famous by being mobbed by Catholics every few weeks, and his power for harming the Church of which he was formerly a priest greatly increased. People would take no notice of Chiniquy's denunciations of Catholic ecclesiastics, preferring to judge from their own observation of them, if the outcry that is raised did not give plausibility to the statements. "My charges sting because they are true," the preacher is able to say; and the assaults on him enable him to gain a credit for sincerity and disinterestedness that no efforts of his own could bring him. Not satisfied with having gained Chiniquy audiences of thousands where he would have had but hundreds, the Montreal Catholic clergy are laboring to make the Witness the most popular paper published in that city. Anybody who knows the Witness must be astonished at the folly of dignifying it into an opponent worthy of attack from the pulpit. Its stock in trade consists of political, temperance, moral, and anti-Catholic cant, which it finds its account in serving up to politicians who are opposed to any stealing—by their opponents, to temperance men who are opposed to any drinking—by others, to moralists who frown on all sin—to which they are not inclined, and to sectarians who try to palliate their own want of systematic worship of God by abusing other people's. The Witness thrives by rejecting theatrical advertisements with holy horror; by giving a nasal twang to all its utterances; and by catering to the wicked prejudices of the good and the hypocritical pretences of the bad. It strengthens the prejudices of the ignorant and narrow-minded, instead of teaching them charity; and heightens the self-complacency of chromo Christians who should be warned against deceiving themselves into the conviction that God does not know that they are shams. The Catholic clergy might well afford to leave all such exponents of Protestantism to their admirers. And yet, with an estimate of the influence and position of the paper that augurs an almost incomprehensible degree of ignorance respecting journalism and enlightened public opinion, the Catholic clergy of Montreal consider the Witness worthy of being assailed and proscribed, thereby making it sought after by hundreds who have the lowest possible opinion of its merits and tone. Last Sunday the Rev. Father Hogan in the pulpit of St Ann's Church, after denouncing Mr. Chiniquy's labors, said he had spoken to them last Sunday against reading the Witness, and it was for them to have paid attention to it; however, it appeared that paper had still been read by a considerable number of Catholics. He could not understand what caused them to do this, for it was as devoid of style as of true logical ability, and had by its continued attacks on all that good Catholics held dear, not only wounded the feelings of Irish Catholics, but insulted them as a nationality. How they could continue to read it when it insulted and reviled their religion in the grossest possible manner, he could not understand. * * * * The Witness had made public all those slanders, lies and insults [Chiniquy's] and had done its best to hurt the Church. The Bishop had issued a command in consequence, and by the God that was above, the clergy would not give absolution to a man, woman or child after this who read the paper. They would be cut off from communion, and could die in their sins.

Such utterances as these are little short of evidences of insanity. The clergy must have a low estimate of the intelligence of their parishioners when they deem it necessary to prohibit them from reading the Witness; and they display a marvellous ignorance of human nature by the prohibition.

The extraordinary motion of the Postmaster General, giving newspapers the right of coming voluntarily under the new Postal Act, at any time previous to the date fixed for it to become law, was discussed with the proprietors of the Toronto Globe long ago, and that journal made its business arrangements accordingly. When Cabinet Ministers communicate their intentions to business men of their own party who will be affected by changes to be made in laws of this kind it is only reasonable to suppose that they give advance information of tariff changes as well. No other Government has dared to be so openly corrupt as this one. We must give Mr. Mackenzie and his colleagues credit for courage.

The cash value of the hay weighed at the Phœnix Market Square, Fredericton, during the past three months is estimated at $10,000.

The Fredericton Railway Co. at the annual meeting last week elected Mr. Thos. Temple, President, Mr. John Richards, Secretary-Treasurer, and Hon. J. J. Fraser, Solicitor.

In a case recently tried in Kings County the legal talent of Sussex and St. John was brought into requisition to make the common law of England and the statutes of New Brunswick apply to a goat valued at $2.90. The evidence and arguments were long and probably elaborate, and resulted in a decision being given in favor of the defendant. The wearied judge in giving the verdict mildly suggested that it would have been better and more economical to have settled the case without the machinery of the law being brought into requisition.

STARVING GLASS-BLOWERS.

A Chance for the Charitable—Wrongs that should be Redressed.

To the Editor of the Tribune.

SIR: There is such a class as glass-blowers in this community, and, by what we hear, these men and their families were induced to leave where they were getting good wages to come here and work for a firm who got up an establishment of that kind in St. John. These poor men with their families were, as stated before, induced to leave home for St. John under the opinion that their fortunes were to be made; but in this they were sadly mistaken, for, if some of our charitable public would look round a little more, they would find the most of them, if not all, in a state of starvation, and it is known very well to parties that they have had not a bite to eat since last Thursday, only what was brought by another of the unfortunates from her boarding house, and that a poor woman with a small helpless family. We would ask the charitable of the city to see to some of their wants. It is too bad to see and hear such in our midst. Think if any of yourselves were left without a meal's victuals, seeing your children crying out for bread, father and mothers, would it not break your hearts? What must it be to these poor friendless people in a strange place, without one friend, all strange! Why are their wages not paid them? There are a number of these very men who induced them to come to this city to work for them well off, and these poor victims are allowed to starve. Does the law allow such? It is one of the sins which call to heaven for vengence. It would grieve any person who could see these poor people, without food for themselves or children going about too proud to let their wants be known. In one case a woman came to a neighbor's house, and she was asked to stop for tea, and she said she could not, as she left her children alone; and another more fortunate one said that she did not eat a bit since Thursday, only a few crusts, and the poor woman could hold up no longer, but bursted out crying, and, when victuals were placed before her, she said that she was afraid to eat much; it was so long since she eat anything, she was afraid it would make her sick. And others were similarly affected. My God! are such things allowed amongst us? Can't the Y. M. C. A. do something in the way of finding out these people? It could be easily done by enquiring. It is an act of charity and one that will bring its own reward. I would like to ask how it comes that the landlord of a house can get his rent from the owners of this glass factory, and the poor people can't get one cent: and, after this very landlord got his rent, he had the hardness of heart to order this poor family out, and this is one of our religious men, attending church every Sunday, praying at all times, but the appeal of this poor heart broken family has no weight with him! These facts can be vouched for as truth. I can give you the names. O. W.

Nova Scotia News.

In a street quarrel, in Halifax, between two brothers named Innes, one of them stabbed the other several times. The wounds are not fatal.

Sixty-one dollars was the amount missed by a captain in Halifax the other morning. And it all came of his not sleeping aboard his vessel.

Halifax ferry boats are overrun with dogs, and newspaper correspondents suggest that a treadmill power be employed so that the animals can pay for their accommodation by assisting the engine to turn the paddle wheels.

Worse and more of it. The British Consul at Portland, Me., has received a despatch from the Halifax Banking Company, asking him to caution all banks against a letter of credit issued by the company in favor of Robert Luling, and to have him arrested, if found. From this it would appear that the bank gave Mr. Luling a new letter of credit besides the $6000 in cash.

Times are so dull in Halifax that the people have hard work to find recreation. A few mornings ago an immense crowd gathered at the corner of two of the principal streets, having been attracted by a young man announcing that he had dropped a sovereign into the gutter. About a hundred people immediately began to clear the mud and ice in that gutter in the hope of discovering the gold. After two hours patient and clamorous search they gave up the job as a bad one.

It now seems that Luling disappeared somewhere between Truro and St. John, or else our Chief of Police has made a mistake. The Halifax Express says that "though persons who have returned from St. John say for a certainty that he was there on Tuesday night, and was offering large sums to be driven any where, any where out of the city, yet the St. John Chief alleges that he was never there—that he did not arrive by Tuesday's train, which was invested by Sergeant Ryder when it was some distance from St. John, and thoroughly searched. There is not the least doubt that he was in Truro, and left there by the Halifax train on Tuesday morning.

Bangor suffers from bad gas and little of it.

A British officer, writing from Teheran, Persia, to the London Times, remarks: "A Cathartic Pill, manufactured by 'an American Chemist' (Dr. J. C. AYER, of Lowell, Mass.) has cured the Shah of a Liver Complaint that threatened his life. This simple fact, as might be expected, renders the Americans immensely popular here, while we English are overlooked. Doubtless our own scholars made the discoveries which he employs, and thus it is, in everything; we do the labor, then the mousing. Americans put their mark upon it and take the reward. Dr. Ayer is idolized by the Court and its retainers here, which will doubtless be reflected to him on a gold snuff-box, or diamond-hilted sword, while not the name even of Davy, Christison or Brodie—the great lights by which he shines—is known.—[New York Sunday Paper.]

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION.—In bronchial and chest affections, in arresting incipient consumption, and in lessening the distressing symptoms of this disease in its hopeless stages, as well as in cases of nervous debility, in giving tone to the system, it is undoubtedly a valuable remedy. We are not to escape, after all. The base ball clubs have begun to elect their officers and to make other warlike preparations of a nature to intimidate the public.

The morning papers duly chronicle the movements of all wild geese passing over the city, and also the journeylings of the Halifax detectives in the wild goose chase after Luling.

The storm drum was hoisted yesterday afternoon. Soon after the clouds began to clear away, and in the evening the stars twinkled serenely in the heavens. To-day is full of sunshine.

Treasurer Moore of Portland is getting a rest to-day. On Saturday and yesterday his time was thoroughly occupied in receiving the money of tax payers who wanted to save their votes.

Syrup Lacto Phosphate of Lime.

An excellent remedy in recovery from fevers and other inflammatory diseases, acting as a tonic on the system and helping to support the waste of phosphate of lime. It is a pharmaceutical preparation, destined at no remote day to take a high rank amongst the new remedies of our national pharmacopia. Sold by J. Chaloner, Corner King and Germain streets. 1w

Correction.

Through a typographical error in yesterday's second edition the name of Mr. Austin appeared at the foot of the poll in Ward 1. Mr. Austin polled 191 votes instead of 101 as stated and was one of the three elected.

No Desecration.

The Magistrate requested that no intoxicating liquors be brought into the Police Court during the election to-day, feeling, no doubt, that their use even at election times was a desecration of the Temple of Justice. Justice is supposed to be blind, but can probably smell whiskey a long way off.

CATARRH CAUSES CONSUMPTION.—Yes, this is true, as the medical record will show. It was first a cold, then catarrh and lastly confirmed consumption. Reader's German Snuff will cure the worst cases of catarrh.

Successful Enterprise.

The proprietors of the New Brunswick Paper Mills Co. are not confined to the Maritime Provinces for a market for their papers. They have now a regular demand in the upper Provinces for printing, wrapping, and leather paper, and have shipped during the past season over $10,000 worth. This is simply the beginning of what they believe will lead to a larger and lucrative trade with consumers all over the Dominion.

A few drops of Dr. FORSTER'S IMPROVED ENAMELLINE upon a wet tooth brush forms a rich, creamy foam in the mouth, imparting a delightful fragrance to the breath, and thoroughly cleansing the teeth from all impurities. Call at the Drug Stores and get a sample bottle free

Policeman Pickett's Purchase.

The following certificates were published in the News this morning:

I, Dennis Burke, at the request of the Police Magistrate and H. W. Pickett, have measured three tubs of coal in Mr. McGivern's yard, such measure as I usually give the public, and in putting it into flour barrels with bottoms in, it made three and three-quarter barrels, water measure. DENNIS BURKE.

St. John, N. B., April 5th, 1875.

ST. JOHN, N. B., April 5, 1875.

This is to certify that I was present at the coal shed occupied by Mr. Levi Waterhouse, on Johnson's Wharf, on the 22d day of March last and saw Policeman H. W. Pickett receive four barrels of coals from the man who had charge of the coal shed, and is in the employment of Mr. Waterhouse. Mr. Pickett did not receive from him or read any order, neither did he tell him he had paid for four barrels of coal in my presence.

JAMES MILLER.

The above statement was made and signed in my presence.

JOHN R. MARSHALL,
Chief of Police.

ENORMOUS.—No medicine that has ever been introduced into these Provinces enjoys the enormous sale that Reader's German Snuff does. The reason is obvious, because of the grand fact notorious throughout the United States and the Dominion of Canada that it cures that fatal disease catarrh, when all other remedies fail.

THE PARLIAMENT OF CANADA.

(Special to Daily Telegraph.)

OTTAWA, April 5.

Dr. Tupper asked when certain reports would be laid on the table, and Hon. Mr. Smith said his reports were ready within time, but it had been quite impossible to to get them through the printer's hands. They would be ready in about ten days.

Mr. Archibald asked whether any steps had been taken to prevent speculation in land on the line of the Pacific Railway in Manitoba and the North West.

Hon. Mr. McKenzie said steps were taken to pass an order in Council, prohibiting the sale or pre-emption of any lands on the line of Railway, until the Government had time to consider the question of the final disposal of those lands in connection with contracts. The order embraced the entire route from Rat Portage to Fort Pelly.

After some further remarks from hon. members, the matter dropped.

Several orders were discharged, and the House went into committee on resolutions on the subject of the naturalization of aliens, which were passed, and an address based on them drawn.

The supply bill was read a third time and passed, and the House adjourned at 5 o'clock.

The Senate to day passed the Insolvency bill, with a few slight amendments.

The Supreme Court bill passed its first stage to-night.

It is probable the Upper House will get through business by Wednesday.

The U. S. Government having given a bonus to sugar refiners to an extent equal to $2 per barrel, Canadian refiners have appealed to the Dominion Government for protection, with a possibility of their representations having the desired effect. Mr. Cartwright will give his final answer on this, as well as on the subject of re-imposing discriminating duties on tea and coffee, to morrow, as prayed for by Montreal importers, who complain of laboring under disadvantages, compared with the United States traders.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

(By Telegraph to the Tribune.)

FREDERICTON, April 5.

A discussion on the section providing for appeal when over-valuation is made, took place, Messrs. Smith, Murchie, Davidson and others claiming that a ratepayer should be allowed the privilege of appeal for less than twenty per cent. of over-valuation on his property.

Fifteen per cent. over-valuation was then carried, instead of twenty-five, as originally provided in the bill.

A discussion took place as to the date at which the assessment roll shall be filed.

The matter was finally arranged by a provision by the Attorney General, that the assessment roll be filed seventy days after the warrant is placed in the assessors' hands.

Progress was then reported.

Mr. McQueen introduced a bill to authorize the appointment of a Stipendiary Magistrate and the erection of a lockup at Moncton.

The Secretary recommitted the bill relating to trustee process, Mr. Pickard in the chair.

Mr. Murchie desired a provision inserted securing a sum out of wages due a garnishee to any person who might be furnishing him with the necessaries of life.

The exemption was finally fixed at twenty dollars, and the other sections having passed, the bill was agreed to.

Mr. Austin introduced a bill to author-
