Horace, Odes, Book II.
Euclid, Books I, II, and III.

ENGLAND.

SOCIETY FOR PROMOTING CHRISTIAN KNOWLEDGE.

Tuesday, November 7th, 1848.

The Lord Bishop of Gibraltar in the Chair.

A letter was read from the Rev. Dr. O'Meara, Missionary among the Indians at Mahnetooahneng, Canada West, dated Sept. 5, 1848, giving an account of the progress made in the building of the church in the district under his charge.

A letter was read from the Rev. R. Flood, Missionary among the Indians at Muncy Town, dated Delaware, Canada West, June 24, 1848, the following are extracts:

"Our worthy Diocesan has just held a confirmation at Old Muncey Town. Thirty-one Indians, who were well instructed in the Catechism and distinctive character of our beloved Church, were confirmed by his Lordship on that occasion. The Bishop was afterwards addressed by Abraham Skyler in behalf of his nation, the Oneidas, and by Tomice for the Munceys and Ojibeways. Their speeches were characterized by a deep sense of gratitude and affection to his Lordship personally, as the Ogemah (chief) of the Church, for his regular triennial visits.

The sum agreed upon for building our Indian church is £500. For this it is to be completed, and is to furnish three hundred sittings, with a tower and spire; a gallery, and an apse for the altar; the windows, doors, &c., to be Gothic. The Bishop approves of the plan and specification, and considers the cost of erection uncommonly cheap. The very circumstance of our poor Indians making us a grant of four acres for its site, with lands a parsonage and school house, speaks volumes for their love and attachment to the Church."

In a letter, dated September 16th, 1848, Mr. Flood said,—

"I have only to repeat my heartfelt thanks for all the assistance your Society has offered us, as well as for the kindness personally shown to myself, through its untiring Secretaries during my sojourn in London. The members of the Board have the rich pleasure of contemplating some of the fruits of your excellent Society, in a whole tribe of Indians, who were till lately bowing down to stocks of wood and stone, now uniting, with all their hearts and tongues, in repeating the responses of our admirable Liturgy in their own language."

The Board agreed to grant £100, in addition to the former grant to that amount for the church.

The Secretaries stated that at the request of the Rev. R. Flood, and with the approval of the Standing Committee, a book had been opened in the Society's office, for the receipt of contributions towards the Muncey Town Church and Mission.

A letter was read from the Rev. T. C. Childs, dated, Devenport, 3rd November, 1848, giving an account of his labours amongst the large and rapidly increasing number of emigrants sailing from the port of Plymouth.

The Secretary reported that the standing Committee had assigned £80 for the present year to Mr. Childs, towards the object of visiting the emigrants; and had directed a fresh supply of Books and Tracts, to the amount of £21, to be forwarded to him; making the amount in publications recently placed in his hands, for the use of poor emigrants, £221.

The Lord Bishop of Montreal, in a letter dated Quebec, September 21st, 1848, brought under the notice of the Society the wants of a church now in progress at Point Levi, on the bank of the St. Lawrence, opposite Quebec, in the mission of the Rev. Mr. Torrance.

The Bishop also forwarded a petition from the Rev. Charles Forest, Missionary at Grenville; the extent of the charge being twenty-six miles long, and more than twelve in depth, with only one church in which Divine service is conducted according to the discipline of the Church of England. Speaking of the inhabitants of a portion of his mission, Mr. Forest said—

"They want to erect a little church in the wilderness; for, situated as they are at the distance of eight, nine, or ten miles from the village of Grenville; and excluded by a chain of mountains and all but impassable roads from communion with us in front of the township, they cannot—the wives and their little ones cannot—attend church. A church, therefore, is needed, sadly needed by these people. They themselves, however, are too poor to admit of their giving more than labour and materials. They are willing to hew the timber and to put up the frame, that is, to do all they can; but the completion of the building, after the frame is put up, will cost not less than £100 or £200, and money they have none."

It was agreed that £20 be granted towards each of these churches.

The Bishop, in the same letter, recommended an application from W. Grasse, Esquire, Secretary of the Church Loan Library established in Montreal, for the purpose of disseminating, especially among the poor, knowledge intended to be serviceable to them both here and hereafter. It appeared from a communication made by Mr. Grasset to his Diocesan, that every effort had been made on the spot for the efficiency of this institution.

Books from both Catalogues to the value of £10 were granted.

The Lord Bishop of Nova Scotia, in a letter dated Halifax, June 23, 1848, requested, in behalf of the Rev. Messrs. C. Ingles and W. Porter, of Sydney, Cape Breton, a grant towards a church of wood, 32 feet by 22, at Mainadieu, a settlement fifteen or sixteen miles from the nearest church.

The sum of Fifteen pounds was placed at the Bishop's disposal in aid of the erection of this church.

Arrival of the Niagara.

SEVEN DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

(From the Globe Extra.)

New York, 16th Dec., 1848.

The Steamer Niagara arrived at Boston early this morning.

Liverpool, Dec. 2nd.

Grain Markets.—Flour generally 21s. @ 27s.; duty at retail 27s. @ 28s. per bri., duty being 3s. 7½d. Austrian Wheat 6s. @ 6s. 3d., duty paid 7s. @ 7s. 9d. ⅌ 70lb. Indian Corn decidedly lower, quoted at 30s. ⅌ quarter; inferior white 32s. @ 33s. Best yellow Meal dull at 16s. ⅌ bri.

The funds continue very firm. Consols 87½ @ 87⅝. Money is still easy; bullion in the Bank of England, £13,919,960.

Exports from Liverpool have been very large, and the number of American buyers of goods at Manchester, is altogether unprecedented.

It is announced that Austria has accepted the offer made by the mediating powers to hold the conference for the pacification of Italy, at Brussels. Lord Palmerston has acquiesced. The armistice continues through the winter.

The death of Viscount Melbourne has been confirmed; he died on the 14th ult. Charles Buller, M. P. is also dead.

In England and Scotland, the Cholera seems to be on the decrease.

ROME.

The most important news is a Revolution at Rome, instigated by the clubs, and followed by the submission of the Pope, advices are to the 20th, at which time pefect quietness was restored. After having assassinated M. Rosse, the mob instigated by the club, proceeded in a body to the Quirinal palace.

On the 14th, they demanded a new ministry the declaration of war with Austria, &c. About 100 of the Swiss Guards assisted them. The diplomatic body also entered the palace, by their moral influence. Some attempts were made to set fire to the principal gate, but a few shots from the Swiss caused the mob to retire. Shortly afterwards the military, numbering some thousands, invested the palace in order of battle, and commenced a fusilade against the windows. The Swiss were overwhelmed, and the Pope's Secretary Monseigneur Palma was shot in the breast. The overwhelming force of the besiegers compelled submission. Negociations were opened by the Pontiff, and entered into with the leaders. These resulted in a proposal of a new Ministry, of which the chief insurgents were to form a part,

The Pope agreed to the proposal, and the new Ministry was completed on the 28th.

The authority of the Pope, by his forced acceptance of a new ministry, is in fact at an end. The fidelity of the Swiss has been rewarded by their being dismissed by the new Ministry.—National guards now occupy their places and fill their posts in the capitol.

AUSTRIA.

The war in Hungary continues. A numerous array of Imperialists is about to enter that country, and German papers say that the Hungarians will give them a warm reception. The execution of Dr. Behrer and of Dr. Zellick, for their participations in the late troubles at Vienna, created considerable excitement. The postscript of the European Times.

The report that general Windschgratz has been assassinated was current at the Paris Bourse on the 1st inst. but was not credited.

The Frankfort journals say that a plot for a Republican and socialist rising and for the assassination of several members of the German Parliament has been discovered in that city.

SARDINIA.

Marshall Radetzky, commanding the Austrian forces in Italy is reported to be dead.

The Pope appears to be satisfied with the new order of things.

FRANCE.

In the Assembly a majority carried a vote of confidence in General Cavaignac, who was declared to have deserved well of his country. The General in a speech, went over all the points of accusation made against him—"Having promoted the insurrection of June with a view to raise himself to power &c., for twenty-four hours."

The effect of his speech was highly satisfactory. The funds improved and his claims to the Presidency were supposed to be increased; but on Tuesday a manifesto of Louis Napoleon appeared. A change again came over the minds of the Parisians. Prince Louis avows his Republican sincerity and his detestation of Socialism—proclaims himself the friend of peace with surrounding nations, and regarded the army and conscription as a heavy burden to be relieved; lastly he promised to surround himself with all the talent he could secure to aid him in the government should, if he be elected President, and would engage exalted intellect and honesty whenever he found them, without distinction of party.

Cavaignac has made a popular move respecting Rome in consequence of the alarming news from Italy. Fears were at one moment entertained of actual personal violence to the Pope, and that in consequence of the treatment he had received from his subjects and the army, he meditated flight from Rome. Cavaignac has despatched four Steam frigates carrying a brigade 2500 men to Civita Vecchia for the purpose of securing the liberty of his Holiness and respect of his person.

General Lamoriciere purposes to reduce the army about one-half, by which a saving of 160,000 francs would be effected.

The funds have improved; three per cent have risen to 42-90 fives are 65-10.

NEW YORK MARKET.

December 16th, 1848.

Before the steamer was announced there was a fair business doing in Flour and market firm for fair common brands. New York State and Western sold at d.5.31½; good brands were d.5.37½—price d.5,50 @ d.5.55. There was a good demand for fancy brands, and some 800 barrels sold at d.5,75 @ d.6,50; within a few days, 1500 bushels sold for March, at d.5,60.—After the news the market became heavy and little or nothing done.

Grain.—Wheat lower; prime samples Genesee at previous prices; Western d.1 @ d.1,12. Some demand in the morning for Corn, at previous prices; but afterwards, market very dull. Shippers offering within 2 or 3 cents of previous prices; 55 @ 57 for new, and 60 for old.

Sterling, first class bills 87½ per cent.

Ashes—no change, d 6,25 for Pots and Pearls

Arrival of the Canada.

SEVEN DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

(From the Patriot Extra.)

New York, December 14, 5 P. M.

The steamer Canada, from Liverpool, 25th Nov., arrived this morning, had a very rough passage.

The Bank of England exhibits an increase of bullion to the extent of more than £750,000. The stock of gold and silver in the Bank vaults is now £15,700,000. Money is abundant for commercial purposes.

Lord Melbourne was very ill on the 25th., and there was no expectation of his recovery.

The total number of cases of Cholera reported thus far is 1,715, deaths 610, recoveries 220, whilst 375 remain under treatment.

In Scotland the mortality has been greater.

IRELAND.

Martin has been convicted, but not sentenced.

FRANCE.

An alarm was decidely felt at the result of the election, and many were escaping from Paris until the result should be known. It was universally believed that Louis Napoleon would be the successful canditate. The concentrated and organized power of the whole government is being put forth to secure the success of Cavaignac. The choice of the Red Republicans still balances Ledru Rollin and Raspail. An outbreak by the latter was feared.

AUSTRIA.

Messenhauser the commandant was sentenced to death by hanging, but at his friends' urgent request he was shot on the 16th. Windischgratz refusing to delay the execution of the sentence till the Emperor's answer to a petition to save the prisoner could be received. Some of the students and fighting men were, after the affair was over, run in batches and shot.

Letters from Vienna of the 19th inst., contain accounts of a solemn Military Mass which was performed on the 18th a few miles from that capial, for the repose of the soul of Count Latour

A grand Catafalque was erected, and surrounded by 15,000 men under arms, whilst 12 batteries of Artillery fired salvos every minute. The Prince Windischgratz reviewed the troops.

Central Europe continues in a state of convulsion.

Vienna has subsided into something like tranquility; but in the whole Prussian Provinces the cities are are in antagonism to the rural districts.

A strict state of seige is kept up in Vienna, and the people in spite of their reluctance, have been compelled to give up their arms.

All eyes have been turned towards Berlin; in that city the resistance of the people to martial law, put in force by General Wrangel, has continued up to the latest advices.

No blood however has been shed. The Assembly has been again dispersed by order of General Wrangel. Breslaw and other towns are ripe to take up the cause. The peasantry however, are of a different opinion. General Wrangel has steadily followed up his disarmament of the Burgher Guards.

A guard is sent round to every house and arms demanded, and almost all the arms are now given up.

GERMANY.

A letter from Cologne states, that Dusseldorf was declared in a state of seige on the 22nd. The civil guard was ordered to give up their arms, and the troops occupied all the squares.

The Archduke John, Regent of Germany has published a strong address to the German people, and deprecates the strong proceedings in Prussia; above all commands peace amongst all true Germans.

DENMARK.

The Ministry have resigned and a new Cabinet was in process of formation.

FRANCE.

Lamartine was expected daily in France, and will make an attempt to obtain the Presidency; his chances were considered doubtful.

M. Dillon Barrot has thrown his whole strength into the scale of L. Napoleon. M. Thiers takes but little open part in the struggle, but his journal warmly espouses the Prince's cause.

ITALY.

The journal of Milan on the 12th inst., contains a proclamation of Marshal Radetsky, dated the 11th, in which he announces his decision to exact an extraordinary contribution from the following classes, viz.:—

First, of the late Provisional Government; 2nd of those who took an active part in the late troubles.

Colonial.

To the Editor of the Mail.

Niagara, November 28th, 1848.

Sir,—One of the most glaring instances of sectarian bigotry I have heard of, certainly in modern times, has come to my knowledge, and is of such a character as to deserve exposure. It is well known to a large portion of the inhabitants of this town, that a respectable and worthy mechanic, by name Charles Toal, who departed this life on Monday morning last, was, for seven months past, prostrated on a bed of lingering sickness. It is also well known that he was a member of the Roman Catholic Church, and an Odd Fellow.

Some time since, it was currently reported that the Rev. Mr. Carrol had refused to visit him professionally, because he belonged to this order. This in itself was bad enough. But it will hardly be credited that, now that the spirit of the deceased had passed away, the same reverend gentleman has not only denied the right of Christian sepulture to the irresponsible clay, but refuses to admit it within the precincts of the graveyard attached to his church, even without the usual ceremonials. Contrast this circumstance with what recently took place, when the body of a malefactor, executed for one of the most heinous crimes, was demanded from the authorities, and carried to the graveyard in procession. The remains of an exemplary Christian, dying on a bed of peace, honoured and respected by all who knew him, are debarred this right; and his grieving widow and children have their sorrow deepened by the knowledge of this denial, and the reflection that it has been caused by his own praiseworthy effort, to secure for them protection and aid when he should be no more, by joining a society whose great objects are to succour the distressed, to relieve the widow and orphan, and to provide for the necessities of the sick. Is this the tolerant spirit of charity dictated by our blessed Saviour, and inculcated by his apostles? Is this the principle of a church whose vaunted purity and rigid discipline are the theme and admiration of its members? Yet must there be something wrong here, for it is equally well known that a near relative of the worthy and respected priest of St. Catharines, is a member of the same church, and an Odd Fellow. I feel that further comment is unnecessary from

Your obedient servant,

A Subscriber.

A fire broke out about half past one o'clock, yesterday (Tuesday) morning, in the shed of a house on Queen Street, corner of John Street, lately occupied as a tavern by Mr. Kettie. The fire extended westward to the stable of Mr Tyler, Grocer. Queen Street, in which we regret to say, two horses were burnt to death. The fire then completely destroyed the frame dwelling house of Mr. Brandon, still further to the westward. To the northward of where it broke out, the fire extended to a rough cast house, occupied by Mrs. Grant Powel and Mrs Seymour. All the furniture was taken from the house, and the building itself might have been saved. The fire was, no doubt, the work of an incendiary. We regret to say that an attempt was made to fire St. Patrick's market, on Sunday night.—Globe.

Streetsville plank Road.—We understand that it is in contemplation to extend this important plank road to Guelph, via Norval, Georgetown, and Acton. And we hope after the next meeting of the Directors to be able to report that the necessary initial steps will be taken to procure an extension of the charter accordingly. There is good ground for anticipating that the stock heretofore subscribed for a railroad on the same line will be appropriated for this undertaking. Sincerely do we trust that the scheme will be carried into effect and that without delay. As to its success no reasonable doubt can possibly be entertained.—Review.

University of King's College.—We offer our acknowledgment to a "A Layman" for his communication on this important question. Coinciding, as we do, in all the important points he has so well treated, we recommend it to the careful perusal of our friends.

For the Patriot.

Question of Questions.—In this land, calling itself Christian, is, or is not, Religious instruction to be recognised as essential to education?

In the University Bill now before the public, as proposed by the present party in power, this momentous question is involved. It appears that this bill is to contain "a strong assertion of Christian principles;" and yet, as if to give this assertion practically the lie, this bill not only carefully excludes all religious instruction from the proposed new University, but destroys what little remains in the present one.

With those, who for the sake of expediency surrender the Royal Charter, must rest the responsibility of having allowed what ought to have been the means of sound instruction, to become a bone of contention for political intriguers. How this state of things has been brought about we will not stop to enquire—we will deal with the fact that King's College University has become an "Act of Parliament University" requiring farther Parliamentary enactment for its settlement. We have to deal with the fact, that the party in power have proposed a measure for its settlement by which, from it, the highest school of learning in the land, all religious instruction is carefully to be excluded, as being either unnecessary to, or in the way of the right training of youth. We will deal with the fact, that it is proposed that Parliament shall gravely declare by its most solemn act, that in the institution whose influence for good or evil must be more widely felt than that of any other, and to be termed by that same Parliament Christian, religious instruction is unworthy of either place or consideration.

We have also, for our sins, to deal with the further fact, that the most crude, ill-understood, and mischievous doctrines, or notions rather, of Responsible Government, are for the moment rampant; and that under that name we are now ruled by a party, and for party purposes. But it is not with the question of Responsible Government as interpreted by the present party in power, that we here intend to meddle, however we may have to do with its immediate effects, one of which is the consequent weakness of Government, and we shall pass from the subject, merely observing, that on this subject we widely differ from our contemporary, the British American of Woodstock. We deny that "Responsible Government," in the present acceptation of the term, and intended for party purposes alone, is the "Responsible Government" described or intended by the Imperial Government; or that it is acceptable to the majority of people here. We do not believe that free thinking British people, can or will rest contented under it; and we trust that the day is not far distant when their own good common sense will throw it to the winds from whence it came, as the most wordy, flimsy, trumpery rag of gauze, with which man ever attempted to blindfold himself.

The University question, however, has to be decided by Legislation; and we must take things as they are. Were it possible to maintain the University, as was originally intended, strictly under the control of the Church of England, we would have it so, because as churchmen we believe that under the control and authority of our National Church the soundest gospel instruction would be given; and as politicians, we see in her alone, a defence against the usurpation and tyranny of foreign spiritual dominion and heresy on the one hand, and internal dissent, heresy and schism on the other. But having surrendered the authority of the Church, to regain it would be very difficult, and we should propably injure her position generally by contending for it. Neither is the position of the Church in the present University worth defending. The worship of God there, according to the simple and pure forms of the Church of England, is maintained only on sufferance. It is but an accidental circumstance, if we dare term God's good Providence such, that has placed a learned and pious Minister of that Church in the Theological Professor's chair. But were the Church of England even so far established in the University as to render that secure which is now uncertain, still something more would be required to insure or promote the religious instruction of those who are not of her communion. Providing for the religious instruction of a part is not sufficient, and the question now is, is religious instruction to form an essential part of the education of Christian men?

Most anxious for the final settlement of the University question, we see that this cannot be obtained without a mutual desire of unity, and we fear that among us all there is as yet too much unwillingness to concede; still we are most desirous to arrive at something mutually satisfactory, and we cannot but believe that such may be accomplished. Though satisfied that the Church of England must progress under all circumstances, yet all right minded persons must be anxious to avoid perpetual turmoil and bickering; and all really religious minds aspire after religious unity, because unity in the Church of Christ is one of God's commandments. It is obvious that the perpetual recurrence of secular dispute must keep wounds open and hinder the progress of vital religion among us all; and we are anxious for the increase of piety amongst all denominations, the more so, not the less so, because we are most anxious for the real welfare of the Church, which is much hindered by being viewed through a distorted medium.

But to return more immediately to the University question. We are not at all disposed to meddle with mere University regulations. It is not our province, and we leave them to those best qualified to arrange them. But far above all such is the question of religious instruction. The question of questions is, shall religion have a place in the University or not? and if it have, on what plan or by what means? This is the vital and important question—and when once settled, every thing else may be left to follow as circumstances, or the University Council may arrage. The question is capable of being judged of and discussed by all, and therefore it is no presumption in a plain man taking it up. As the most important question either in general or professional education, we shall say that if neglected the country neglects it at its peril.

In discussing this question it may be as well first to consider among whom we have to work, and from whom we should seek assistance, and this we propose doing in the next number of the Patriot.

The British Consul at Baltimore has presented Captain Travers of the barque Francis Partridge, belonging to that port, with a gold medal on the part of the British Government, and a gold watch on the part of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, as a token of thanks for his services and humanity in rescuing four British seamen from the wreck of the brig Robert of New Brunswick. Captain Travers lost a boat and three of his own crew on this sad occasion, but his owners refused to allow the British Government to pay for the boat.—Ibid.

"I was brought up in the early knowledge of religion by my pious parents, and I well remember that my mother taught me the history of the Old and New Testament before I could read, by the assistance of some blue Dutch tiles in the chimney-place of the room where we commonly sat; and the wise and pious reflections she made upon these stories were the means of enforcing such good impressions on my heart, as never afterwards wore out."

AND

THE NOBILITY, CLERGY, AND GENTRY OF GREAT BRITAIN.

OFFICE OF THE SOCIETY, 137, REGENT STREET, LONDON.

Managers.— { Mr. HENRY HERING. Mr. HENRY REMINGTON.

It is the desire of the Projectors of this undertaking to give the middle and poorer classes an opportunity of possessing works of a pious and instructive tendency, calculated to improve the taste and elevate the mind, replacing those which have hitherto tended to demoralize, and render it less susceptible of religious impression; at the same time, the expenses attendant on the production of subjects of great importance, by Artists of the highest talent, being very considerable, the most liberal support is absolutely necessary, and it is hoped that the Nobility, Clergy, and Gentry will render every assistance towards the promotion of such an object, the want of which has been so long felt.

The price of each Subscription will be, Plain Prints £1. 1s., Coloured £1. 11s. 6d., Proofs £2. 2s., (being the lowest which the cost of production will admit of,) to be paid in advance, which will entitle the Member to Twelve Original and highly-finished Lithographs, from Drawings made expressly in the style of the well-known and much-admired Prints, viz.: Overbeck's "Christ Blessing Little Children;" Bendemann's "Captive Israelites;" Bega's "Christ Predicting the Ruin of Jerusalem;" Hubner's "Consider the Lilies of the Field;" Scheffer's, "Christus Consolator;" Veit's, "Two Marys at the Tomb;" Steinle's, "Raising the Daughter of Jairus;" and others of this School, which have been sold hitherto from 10s. to 15s. each plate.

Gentlemen desirous of forwarding the interest of this Society, and procuring early impressions, are respectfully requested to enter their names on the list as soon as possible, as the Prints will be delivered in numerical order, and a printed list of Subscribers published at the close of the subscription for the year 1848.

Society for the Distribution of Religious Prints.—We have at different times received various communications respecting the "Society for the Distribution of Religious Prints" We have hitherto refrained from taking any notice of its objects till we were better acquainted with the arrangements. Now, however, we have great pleasure in recommending the Society to the attention of our readers, as we understand the selection of engravings is under the management of a committee containing names that afford every safeguard for the orthodoxy of the object in view. With this guarantee we may safely treat of the Society on a lower ground, namely, its encouragement of art. We have received a specimen print, "The Scourging," which will at once obtain a presence in the higher walk of art. It is a highly-finished German lithograph, fully equal to the many beautiful devotional prints we have lately received from that school. We may also take a still lower view, and treat of their cost. Those who have been in the habit of laying out a guinea at the Art Union, receiving in return (we allude more particularly to the past year) two wretched prints and a few outlines for their money, will here acknowledge that they receive for the same amount twelve engravings, any one of which will in value surpass the whole of the inferior productions of the Trafalgar-square Society. For these three reasons, then, we cordially recommend the Society to the care of our readers: for its orthodox object; for display of artistic talent; and for its reasonable prices; placing a series of good religious prints within the attainment of the middle classes, and affording every opportunity of offering superior presents for the adornment of the cottage or charity school.

The Price delivered in Toronto will be, Plain Prints £1. 7s. 6d. C'y, Coloured, £2. 1s 3d. C'y. Proofs. £2. 15s, C'y.
