PICTURESQUE SCENE AT THE CATHEDRAL

Marriage of Miss Gladys Borlase Perry to Mr. George C. Johnson Took Place Saturday Afternoon

Very pretty was the wedding of Miss Gladys Borlase Perry to Mr. George C. Johnston which took place at Christ Church Cathedral Saturdap. The church was exquisitely decorated for the occasion by friends of the bride with quantities of white crysanthemums, white sweet peas and clematis, with arches up the aisle arranged with masses of the same flowers.

The dean of the cathedral, the Rev. A. J. Doull, officiated and the service was fully choral. The bride who was given away by her uncle the Hon. E. G. Prior was attended by seven bridesmaids, who wore charming dresses of cream ninon over soft cream satin, trimmed with medallions of lace on overskirts, with the same lace at the waist, drawn with cream ribbon. Their pretty Dutch collars and elbow sleeves were carried out in lace and they wore cream tulle mob caps with soft cream ribbon bows. Instead of the usual bouquets they carried white crooks adorned with tulle bows, and streamers of white flowers and smilax. The bridal gown, in which the bride looked lovely, was of ivory satin with court train and panel and underskirt of cream silk net, exquisitely embroidered in a raised design of fleur-de-lis with trimmings of pearl and silver. The draperies of the gown being caught up with sprays of orange blossom. A tulle veil was worn over a coronet of orange blossoms. The duties of best man were carried out by Mr. H. A. Bromley, while Messrs. D. H. Twigg, R. Monteith, J. Young, J. Cambie, Clarke, Gamble, and Arthur Lowry undertook the duties of ushers.

The bridegroom's gift to the bridesmaids were to Miss Vera Mason, brilliant hoop earrings; Miss Helen Peters, pearl bar brooch; Miss Marguerite Little, pearl drop earrings; Miss G. Irving, turquoise and pearl brooch; Miss Doris Mason, pearl and peridot pendant; Miss Lorna Eberts, pearl and amethyst pendant; Miss Violet Pooley, pearl and turquoise brooch.

The bridegroom's gift to the best man was a gold scarf pin.

After the ceremony a very largely attended reception was held at "The Priory," the residence of the Hon. E. G. Prior and Mrs. Prior. The bride and bridesgroom received on the lawn and the refreshments were served in a large marquee in which was also the bride's table beautifully decorated with white flowers and clematis and white satin ribbon on which was the handsome wedding cake. The decoration were carried out by Mrs. Frank Barnard and Mrs. Harry Pooley, assisted by many young friends of the bride.

Many exquisite toilettes were noticed: Mrs. Prior, aunt of the bride, looked handsome in a lovely Paris robe of black jetted net over soft white satin. With this she wore a black picture hat trimmed with beautiful black plumes.

Mrs. Johnston, mother of the bridegroom, wore a becoming gown of soft mauve with toque to match and Mrs. Barclay, sister of the bridegroom, looked well in a pale pink crepe de chine with hat to match.

The presents were numerous and costly of which a list is given as is also a list of invited guests most of whom were present.

Later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. George C. Johnston left for Shawnigan where part of the honeymoon will be spent at the summer residence of Col. and Mrs. Prior lent for the occasion. The bride's traveling dress was a pretty reseda green tailor made coat and skirt, trimmed with green silk and braid and a dainty motor bonnet of green straw to match.
