Dr. and Mrs. Nattress sailed this morning on the Parisian for England.

Rev. G. F. Damason sailed for England this morning on the steamship Parisian.

W. J. Holman, Gerrard-street east, is rusticating at the Hawthorne Mineral Springs, Thornhill.

Mr. J. H. Cameron appeared at Ripley on Tuesday evening and entertained an audience of over 1000 people in his inimitable style.

Dr. A. J. Johnson returned from Muskoka yesterday in company with the Railway Surgeons, who remained over from the outing on Saturday last.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Halligan of Crawford-street left on Tuesday for New York, and will sail on the steamer Parisian for an extended trip in Europe.

Mr. W. J. Porter, for some years foreman of The Mail job printing department, and formerly one of the make-up staff of The Empire and artist-printer, left town yesterday to take up residence in New York. "Jim" was a popular member of old "91," T.A.C., and his many friends wish him success in Gotham.

Bicycles at Auction.

On Saturday afternoon next the balance of the stock of bicycles contained in the Montreal and Quebec stores of the Griffiths' Cycle Corporation will be sold by public auction at their Toronto ware rooms, 235 and 235½ Yonge-street (just above Shuter-street). About a month ago over 200 of these wheels were sold in this city, and the purchasers without exception are well pleased with the satisfaction they have given. No neater, stronger or easier-running machines could be desired, and backed up by a guarantee from so reliable a firm as the Griffiths' Corporation these remaining 75 machines should be eagerly sought after on Saturday. The sale will commence sharp at 2.30 Saturday afternoon and will be continued in the evening if the entire lot is not disposed of at the afternoon sale.

THE GOVERNMENT NOW PANIC-STRICKEN

what it really was? Why pass an act to say black is white?

A Grave Scandal.

I feel that the thinking public, irrespective of politics, will look upon it as a grave scandal that the very men, whose seats are being attacked in the regular way in the courts, should be the persons to vote on this extraordinary proposed legislation. The accused, after having pleaded in the courts, is now called upon before the trial begins to sit in judgment in his own case and to take the decision out of the hands of the impartial and properly appointed judges of the land.

Years ago, questions as to the due election of members of Parliament were decided, not by the courts, but by a Parliamentary Committee. One of the greatest reforms introduced into this country and one that was approved of by all parties was the transferring of these trials to the courts of law. But in this instance we are asked to go backwards and have the Legislature, instead of the judges, decide, so that the Government, with two of its important limbs amputated, may live a little longer.

Blunder and Humiliation.

I don't think that Mr. Hardy has in this move shown his usual shrewdness. It looks to me as if he had been guided, not by his own judgment, when he perpetuated this blunder, but that he yielded to the importunity of those who foresaw their heads about to be cut off by the law. The proposed legislation may please the office-holder and the office-seeker, but it will be a humiliation to the majority of the independent and intelligent men of the Liberal party. It will help to swell the tide that has for some time been running in the province against the Government.

A Very Unfair Advantage.

Mr. E. F. Clarke, M.P., had fire in his eye when asked his opinion of this August session of the Provincial House. "I think it an extraordinary move on the part of the Premier," he replied, "to take from the courts the question of the right of constables to vote and leave it in the hands of a party, some of whose members owe their seats to these very constables. In some cases the majorities are so small that if the vote is disallowed the seats will change hands, and the Liberals be dished. The Government have taken a very unfair advantage of their political opponents," exclaimed Mr. Clarke, heredy. "The whole question should have been threshed out in the courts."

A Suicidal Move.

President E. M. Osmas of the Conservative Club said with a good deal of glee "I regard this move on the part of the Hardy Government as suicidal to their future. It is a confession of weakness, and we shall see them on the run before long. The Government feel that they must have the constabulary vote and must conciliate Beatty and Evanturel. There will be a big fight in the House before the measure is carried, and Beatty and Evanturel will consider the interests of the country before that of the Liberal party."

Justified by Precedent.

Dr. W. W. Ogden believed that Premier Hardy was fully justified by excellent precedent in taking the question away from the right of constables to vote from the courts. It would also be a great saving financially and therefore in the interests of the whole country.

The Theft Will Be Prevented.

Hamilton Spectator.

When the Premier of Ontario boldly proposes to elect a dozen constituencies by overriding the courts with an act of the Legislature, it is exceedingly lucky that the Opposition is about as strong as the Government. The theft will be prevented.

It will be in order, when Hardy's Legislature meets, to pass an act declaring that Hon. Messrs. Gibson and Dryden were duly elected, and made competent to hang on to their portfolios and salaries.

Her Majesty's loyal Opposition in the Ontario Legislature is strong enough to frustrate Trickster Hardy's attempt to steal a majority by act of Legislature, and, if this great family journal is not much mistaken, it will do it.

Elections don't count in Ontario. Hardy proposes to make members of the Legislature by act of the Legislature.

If Hardy is permitted to carry out his proposed program there is no use for either elections or election courts.

The Government in a Panic.

The Weekly Sun.

The Ontario Government in summoning the Legislature shows signs of panic for the first time in a quarter of a century. The proposed legislation it seems to us to be directed solely with a view to the Government's own preservation. It knows the advantage that the possession of office gives, and it is prepared to go to almost any length in order to retain it. We believe Hardy will find that he has made a tactical error, and that his move will be accepted in the country as a confession of weakness and an admission that he does not rely on public support, but on a straining of Legislative powers to hold office. To escape from his position he is playing a game as desperate as Cervera attempted. Will he meet with Cervera's fate?

Government is Impossible.

Catholic Register.

The sudden summoning of the Ontario Legislature will naturally give rise to a cloud of speculations. The one fact admitted by the action of Premier Hardy, since the House will meet only to adjourn over the appointed period, is that the continuance of the Administration under active regular conditions is for the present impossible in this province. A similar condition exists in British Columbia; and general elections in both provinces may be expected at any moment after the party in the majority attempts to go on with the business of legislation.

Smashed This Blockade Runner.

Washington, July 13.—Captain Sawyer, signal officer at Key West, has reported to the War Department that the ship San Domingo was wrecked off the Isle of Pines, Cuba, while trying to run the blockade. Her nationality is unknown, but Captain Sawyer believes she was one of the vessels secured by General Blanco to run the blockade and furnish food supplies to his army.

A Small Pill, but Powerful.—They that judge of the powers of a pill by its size would consider Parmelee's Vegetable Pills to be lacking. It is a little wonder among pills. What it lacks in size it makes up in potency. The remedies which it carries are put up in these small doses, because they are so powerful that only small doses are required. The full strength of the extracts is secured in this form and do their work thoroughly.

Gored by a Bull.

Henry Taylor, a farm hand in the employ of Mr. Stock, Mimico, was admitted to the General Hospital, having received injuries from a furious bull. The animal had gored him in the right side.

KILLED AT THE CROSSING.

Father and Daugher Lose Their Lives at Downsview.

Whilst Driving From the City Mr. Jacob Stong and Mrs. Peterbaugh Were Caught by the Northern Express and Instantly Killed—Another Daughter Likely to Die.

At 7.30 last night, as the Northern train, No. 68, in charge of Conductor W. Williams, was rushing past the crossing near Downsview station (old Weston), Mr. Jacob Stong, with his two daughters—Mrs. J. Peterbaugh, Edgeley, and Melinda Jane—in a double-rig, attempted to cross the track in front of the oncoming train. Engineer Fennell wildly blew the whistle, and Fireman Honeyworth reversed the lever, but all in vain, for the locomotive struck the vehicle square in the centre, crashing fearfully into the occupants. The horses broke away unhurt, but the father and Mrs. Peterbaugh were killed outright, while Miss Stong was terribly mangled and tossed over the fence. Mr. Stong was completely decapitated and his daughter bruised beyond recognition. The cowcatcher of the train was totally wrecked.

Her Life in Jeopardy.

Miss Melinda Jane Stong, who was in the wrecked rig, and is the only one left alive, was brought down to the Union Station and thence conveyed by ambulance to a ward in the General Hospital. A bright, healthy young woman of 20 before the accident, she now lies shattered and torn, and her future hangs in the balance. The doctors were unable to get any story out of her, as the poor girl is semi-conscious, and her lower jaw is broken. The rest of her injuries have been diagnosed to be the fracture of three ribs, the perforation of the right lung by a rib, the upper jaw and face bruised and several teeth knocked out. For a short time after her arrival at the hospital the wounded girl moaned piteously, and beat at the air with her hands, but medical treatment speedily took effect, and at the last tidings she was resting quietly.

Respecting the Killed.

Jacob Stong was 70 years of age, a man of massive frame, weighing fully 225 lbs. He was born in York Township, and lived up to the time of his sad decease on lot 25 in the 4th concession of the said Township—the last lot on the town line. He was highly respected by a large circle of friends, who mourn his sad taking off.

Mrs. Peterbaugh was the wife of Mr. J. Peterbaugh, farmer, of Edgeley P.O., Vaughan Township, and leaves two little children.

Eye-Witnesses' Story.

Mrs. Baker, who, with two children, was standing on the platform when the accident happened, was seen at her home, 11 Edmund-street, Toronto Junction, last night, and furnished the following details: "I had just flagged the train. I and others were on the platform, and saw a big load approach the crossing, when Mr. Stong drove past. The train was just approaching; it appeared he was trying hard to cross before it came. The men on the load shouted to him. We on the platform waved our handkerchiefs. Both the rig and the train seemed to be the same distance from the crossing at the same time. When we saw that he was not going to stop we were horrified. I grasped my little girl and boy and rushed from the platform, and it was well we did, for we might all have been killed. Mr. Stong was thrown from the crossing to the other end of the platform. His whip struck my little boy on the head and the shattered splinters of the rig flew everywhere. I do not know any more, as I was afraid to look, and cannot sleep for thinking about it."

After the tragedy a messenger was sent for Coroner G. W. Clendenan, Toronto Junction, who, upon arriving, gave orders for the custody of the remains, pending a preliminary investigation, which will take place at Downsview at 2 o'clock to-day, when a jury will be empanelled.

A Narrow Escape.

A serious accident was narrowly averted last night, when a baker's wagon attempted to cross the C.P.R. tracks on the Weston-road, at the Junction. As it was, the passengers were badly shaken up by the sudden application of the brakes.

PLAYGROUNDS FOR CHILDREN.

New York Opens Twenty of Them, Thereby Setting an Example.

New York Telegraph, July 6: The school children of Greater New York have no need to go into the country or to the sea shore in order to find room for recreation during the hot summer months.

Twenty play grounds for school children's use during the vacation months were opened yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, and were crowded all day by the young people who have looked forward to the opening with much pleasant anticipation. Although primarily intended for school children only, no child will be excluded from the ground simply because of failure to attend the public schools.

The grounds will be open daily from 8 a.m. until noon, and from 1 until 6 o'clock. There were more people in attendance yesterday in the afternoon than in the morning. But judging by the spontaneous rush to the grounds yesterday, it will not be long before every playground is crowded all the time.

Nurses with children, and mothers and babies, are also accorded the freedom of the grounds, and were out in full force yesterday. These people simply took the air, but the school children and others of an age who enjoy themselves romping and indulging in children's sports did so without restraint. It is intended when the system is in full operation to assign instructors to teach the children how to play various games, such as tennis, football, handball and croquet, together with such feats of strength and skill, of an athletic nature, as may suggest themselves to the instructors.

There were many half-clad and poor looking tots in the playground at No. 203 Rivington-street yesterday. The east side element scarcely knew what to make of their good fortune at first, but the news rapidly spread that the long-looked-for city playground had been opened at last. There was scarcely anything for the sad-faced little children to do but to walk around and play tag, but they did that to the limit. Down at No. 23 Bayard-street, where another playground has been opened, more of the east side element gathered. It was the same story everywhere—poor, sick-looking children, starving for fresh air and recreation in the midst of a big city.

It would have gladdened the heart of the most hopeless of all cynics to have witnessed the way in which the little children took advantage of the opportunities offered them to secure pleasure free of charge. In some cases the air was not quite as fresh as if the children were in the Adirondacks, but as these children have never been in the mountains, they did not know the difference. To them the city playgrounds were as near to heaven as it is possible for the average east side child to get on earth.

Boys' Brigades for Camp.

The Church Boys' Brigade go into camp to-morrow for eight days. They leave for Oshawa on the steamer Greyhound at 5 o'clock. The advance guard, headed by Quartermaster Gelly, leaves this afternoon to perfect arrangements for the camp. The boys will assemble in Harbor-square prior to their embarkation.

County Clerks Convene.

About 20 county clerks met yesterday afternoon i nannual conclave at Osgoode Hall. Subjects of technical interest were discussed.

HARBOR COMMITTEE IN SESSION.

Sports Raid a Lunch-Counter — Policemen Want Revolvers—Other Notes From Ambitious City.

Hamilton, July 13.—(Special.)—The Harbor Committee was in session for an hour this evening, Ald. Fearnside presiding. At the recommendation of the City Solicitor the committee decided to ask the Public Works Department to supply a copy of the Act Respecting Public Harbors. The secretary was instructed to send a letter to the Smelting Works Company, thanking them for making an opening in the dock at the works. The Dominion Government will be asked to senda the dredge at present at Oakville to this port.

Where is Leonard?

Mrs. W. H. Schofield, 237 Ferguson-avenue, north, has asked the police to try to find her step-father, who has been missing for several weeks. The missing man's name is David P. Leonard, and he left Kamloops, B.C., to come to Hamilton. It has been learned that his ticket was used only as far as Winnipeg. His furniture arrived in Hamilton some time ago.

A Lawless Crowd.

About 1 o'clock this morning a special train on the T., H. & B. R. from the Fort Erie race track pulled into the Hunter-street depot. About 100 track toughs rushed into the depot and crowded the lunch room, and smashed about $50 worth of dishes and carried off everything eatable. The train pulled out before the police arrived.

Police Want Pistols.

The Police Commissioners will meet on Friday morning, and it is likely that a petition will be presented from the constables of the city, asking that they be supplied with revolvers. Since the Toohy shooting in London some of the officers here have been a little nervous going about unarmed. It is said that in case of a riot there is not a shooting iron worth carrying at the command of the Hamilton police force.

Minor Matters.

James Taylor, of Barton Township has been summoned on a charge of assault and refusing to pay wages. George Fisher is the complainant.

James Burgess' pacer, Teddy B., by Sam Davis' Octoroon, has been entered in two big stake events in Massachusetts. It is said he can go a mile in less than 2.11.

Miss Rachael Berry has been engaged to take charge of the new school in East Hamilton.

Miss Sarah Cummings, 110 Inchbury-street, was seriously injured in a bicycle accident at Victoria Park last night.

Detective Bradley of the G.T.R. staff arrested William Southey Johnston, jockey, here this morning. Johnston was taken to Fort Erie to answer to a charge of stabbing a trainer named Long.

John Reardon, 57 Cannon-street west, employed as bottler at Pilgrim's soda water factory, had his left eye badly cut by the explosion of a bottle yesterday, and will probably lose the sight of one eye.

A large barn at the corner of Queen and Market-streets was burned down this evening. It made a great reflection in the sky, and thundreds of people rushed to the west end of the city thinking that the Wire Works was on fire. Ed. Peacock had a lease of the barn.

At the meeting of the Hamilton Association this evening a paper on "Chaucer," prepared by H. B. Witton was read. A committee was instructed to interview the Y.M.C.A. regarding rooms in the proposed building.

A case of surgical instruments was stolen from Dr. Wolverton, James-street, to-night.

THE ART OF EXPRESSION.

A Musical Voice May Be Obtained by Diligent Study.

The New Orleans Picayune quotes a recent lecture by Mrs. Marion Martin, in which she says:

Women are finding out that many things that they used to think were the gift of nature are in reality only the reward of intelligent study.

Five years ago a woman was considered equipped for a prominent place in club life if she were a parliamentarian. Now she is expected to be in addition an exponent of physical ease and deftness, and to add to personal elegance all the refinements of voice and gesture. The woman who finds herself on the platform and does not know how she got there or how to get off is becoming noticeably infrequent.

The woman who cannot make herself heard is losing her popularity, if not her confidence, and forced and disagreeable voices are recognized as the active irritants they really are. We may never have the time to study our voice under the direction of a three professors, as did the Athenians, but we are quite sure of studying voice production and extension, and the methods which lead to a pleasing personality and spontaneity of expression. In these days, when we meet a woman who has ease of body and charm of voice, we hear the comment, "What a delightful personality!" While the more natural conclusion is that there has been systematic training of the body and the intelligence. It was Goethe who said, "A certain mechanical expertness must precede all art." The value of the voice as a social factor is no new thing to women of the world. As a power in public work it is now asserting its claims.

We are one-half muscles. The muscles are most plastic and are intended for general usefulness. From lack of understanding of the muscular system we allow these helpers to become inert and anaemic. The result is awkwardness, stiffened muscles and accumulations of fat, or the obtrusive leanness. It is not by accident that stage favorites do not lose their symmetry nor their elastic grace with their youth, but rather by persistent and intelligent physical exercise along certain proved lines. Fat is not a fixed quality, nor need leanness be accepted with hopeless resignation. The modern woman is learning that. The woman who has possession of herself and of the amenities of social life stands equipped to conquer in the home, the salon or the commercial world.

And this equipment is not the result of accident, but of careful, intelligent training. The mental and physical forces may be kept in nice balance, and must be for harmonious development. By our intelligent activities we have gained twenty years on our Athenian sisters of the leisure class. By a more careful study and application of nature's guide posts, by adaptation of the simple rules of standing, breathing and moving we may add a score of years to our span and give at the same time an athletic value to the little things which grace life.

Pleasure at the Point.

Again last night the free entertainment drew a large crowd to Hanlan's Point. The bill is a good one, and includes the Hungarian Band; Mlle. Flora, who does some clever work on a slack wire; Alex. Burke and McDonald, in their acrobatic comedy, and several other good attractions. The performance will run all week without change.

Charged With Shop-Breaking.

Some time ago "Six-Eye" Thompson and John Tozer lived together in close proximity on Victoria-street. They had several rows, and Tozer was obliged to move away to Church-street. Last night Thompson was arrested on a charge of shopbreaking, preferred by Tozer.

THE K. OF P. GRAND LODGE

Opened Its Annual Convention at Woodstock.

Members Entertained by Local Lodge—Supreme Lodge Meets at Indianapolis Next Month — The Day's Business Closed With Election of Officers.

Woodstock, July 13.—The Knights of Pythias Grand Lodge opened its annual convention at the Court House this morning at 9 o'clock. Grand Chancellor Robert Ironsides of London presided. The following delegates are in attendance: W H Murch, G V C, St Thomas; R W McConnell, S R, St Thomas; E S Brown, St Thomas; J E Davidson, St Thomas; G E Mitchel, G K R S, Toronto; W A Gates, M A, Walkerville; Jackson L Little, G I G, Toronto; C K Barnsdale, Stratford; F J Fitzgerald, London; Charles Deverall, Toronto, and others. Besides the above delegates, a number of past chancellors and others were in attendance to greet the supreme chancellor, the Hon. Philip T. Colgrove of Hastings, Mich.

Received Reports.

During the morning session the Grand Lodge received the reports of Chancellor Ironsides, grand keeper of records and seal; George H. Mitchell of Toronto, and Grand Master of Exchequer D. J. Pears of Hamilton, and of the various deputies, grand chancellors on the work of the order throughout Ontario. The Committees on the State of the Order, Printing, Finance, Judiciary and Distribution were then placed in possession of the respective reports of the officers for consideration. During the morning session the Grand Lodge were welcomed to the town by Mayor Andrew MacKay, Councillor McKay and County Councillor E. W. Nesbitt, in appropriate addresses. The afternoon session adjourned early after taking into consideration some of the committee reports, and the Grand Lodge were entertained by the local lodge to a drive around Woodstock and surrounding neighborhood for the purpose of seeing the beauties of the banner County of Oxford, the drive winding up at the C.P.R. station at 5 p.m., when the Grand Lodge welcomed Supreme Chancellor Colgrove. The evening session was occupied by the address of the supreme chancellor, who exemplified the secret work of the order to the Grand Lodge, Woodstock lodge and visiting knights. The Hon. Philip T. Colgrove kept his audience in rapt attention for about two hours by an eloquent address.

At Indiananapolis Next Month.

The Supreme Lodge meets in Indianapolis next month, and it is expected that over 50,000 uniformed knights will be present. Supreme Representatives R. H. McConnell and P. R. S. Fitzgerald of London will attend the Supreme convention. The Grand Lodge convened at 8.30 Wednesday morning, when ex-Grand Chancellor Thomas G. Soole of Toronto, and Malcolm Meston of Hamilton, the Committee on the State of the Order, presented their reports; the reports of the various other committees were presented during the day. The election of officers took place, and resulted as follows: Grand chancellor, W H Murch, St Thomas; grand vice-chancellor, J A Maclaren, Woodstock; grand prelate, W A Cates, Windsor; grand keeper of records and seal, Walter Haynes, Toronto; grand master of exchequer, Ald J P MacLeod, Hamilton; grand master of arms, Jackson L Little, Toronto; grand inner guard, T A Parkinson, London; grand outer guard, E K Barnsdale, Stratford.

Niagara Falls, Ont., was chosen as the next place of meeting of the Grand Lodge. The meeting will open on the second Tuesday in July 1899. This afternoon Past Grand Chancellor Thomas Elliott of Brantford, assisted by Supreme Rep. R. H. McConnell and P. G. C. Fitzgerald, installed the incoming officers. The business of the Grand Lodge closed this afternoon. The local lodge this evening are entertaining the visiting representatives with the exemplified form of the third rank.

Bullocks as Cavalry Remounts.

At the Homebush sale yards some days ago a Queensland bullock, dissatisfied with his surroundings and anticipating worse, cleared a 7 foot 6 inch pen, and wantoned in liberty for a brief period. Beyond the great height of the jump the affair would appear to possess but slender interest. But, surely, it suggests that the claims of this mammal, both in the hunting field, in the ranks of war, have been overlooked. Topped by determined men, there would be no escaping the pursuit of such creatures. The wiliest fox would go down before them, the staunchest square become a wreck. Even Pomeranian grenadiers could not be expected to stand when faced by a flight of bullocks bearing over their bayonets. Now that war is in the air, the authorities should see to it that the Australian riders are provided with the best mounts procurable. With such a troop, led by one I could name, who was evidently unacquainted with bovine peculiarities when he established his company, the country would be safe. Even their horns, while dangerous to an enemy, would offer a convenient point d'appui to a friend. When a country possesses resources of an exceptional character it would be absurd not to make the most of them.—Sydney Mail.

Roof Garden Next Week.

The play, "Charley's Uncle," which will be staged at the Roof Garden, Hanlan's Point, next week, is one of the cleverest farce comedies extant. Its situations are screamingly funny, and plot ingenious and clever. It is a continual laugh from the rise to the fall of the curtain.

Mrs. Harvie Not Yet Appointed.

Hon. E. J. Davis was seen by The World yesterday, and asked if Mrs. Harvie had been appointed inspectress of the Mercer Reformatory. "Not yet," the Minister replied, "but we have the matter under consideration, I think it is a move in the right direction."

Told that the announcement of the assembling of the Legislature had dropped like a thunderbolt from a clear sky, he remarked with a significant wink: "Oh, it did, did it?"
