SEND BRYAN TO EUROPE ON A PEACE MISSION

Editors of Foreign Language Papers in States Want Him To Make Journey

Washington, Sept. 17.—William Jennings Bryan last night announced that he had taken under advisement a suggestion from editors of foreign language newspapers in the United States that he go to Europe as a private peace envoy to the warring powers.

In a statement to a committee of the editors, who had urged him to undertake the task, Mr. Bryan indicated that he might at least visit neutral European countries, in the hope of finding information to aid America in "the maintaining of neutrality, and the prevention of a preparedness that provokes rather than prevents war."

Mr. Bryan's references to military preparedness attracted attention in the capital in view of the possible effect of his attitude upon some elements in the house relative to national defences. Earlier in the day he had given out a statement declaring money for increased military expenditures would be difficult to secure, and adding:

"I do not see that there is any reason for changing the policy of the country in this respect. The preparedness which is now being advocated (by the national defence and navy leagues), not only cultivates the spirit which leads to war, but it involves an expenditure which the people will not submit to unless convinced that some nation is getting ready to attack us, and we cannot single out nations and prepare against them without making hatred a national policy."

Mr. Bryan said that if he decided to make the trip he would go, not as a spokesman of any group, but as "a representative of the peace sentiment of the United States, which includes the vast majority of our people."

Moore-McAndrews

The wedding of Miss Nellie McAndrews, daughter of John T. McAndrews, of West St. John, to Philip Moore of the office staff of the McLean, Holt Co., took place this morning in St. George's church West End. Rev. W. H. Sampson, rector, officiated. The bride was nicely dressed in a navy blue traveling suit with hat to match. She was assisted by Miss Annie Thompson, also wearing navy blue. Robert Landrigan was best man.

A tempting breakfast was served at the home of the bride in Guilford street and later Mr. and Mrs. Moore left on a honeymoon trip to the New England states. They will reside in Lancaster on their return. Many handsome wedding remembrances were received.

THAT WOUNDED SOLDIER.

The wounded soldier whose exploits in St. John were described in the Times yesterday is no longer in the city. He arrived in Campbellton on Sunday night, and told the Tribune he had been visiting friends in St. John, and would now renew old acquaintances in Campbellton for a few days. He added that it was his intention to return to England to spend his days. Some friends he made in St. John would be glad to see him again before he goes.

Arthur Simpson, of Curryville, died in Moncton, where he went for treatment a few days ago. Mr. Simpson was fifty-eight years of age, and leaves his wife and a grown up family.

HIGH HOPES OF SUCCESS IN THE MATTER OF LOAN

Paris, Sept. 18—Asked to outline the status of the negotiations for a loan in the United States, Finance Minister Ribot replied:

"All I can say now is that both the British and French delegates speak in the highest terms of their reception in America and have high hopes of success.

Rockefeller May Help

New York, Sept. 18—Standard Oil millionaires, including John D. Rockefeller, Jr., it is reported, are considering the terms of the proposed billion dollar credit loan to Great Britain and France with a view to participating.

New York, Sept. 18—The two parties to the negotiations looking to the mammoth credit loan met in secret again today in an effort to adjust their differences over this question. Shall the big credit, billion dollar or otherwise, provide funds for the payment of munitions of war as well as wheat, cotton and other commodities, or shall a separate and distinct method be adopted in settling the bill for items coming under the meaning of the word munitions? The commission, who are conducting negotiations on behalf of Great Britain and France, are said to want the credit to take care of munitions.

The American bankers, or what appears to be a majority of them, apparently do not. In their camps, however, there is marked division of opinion, while the commission is reported to be unanimous.

REINFORCEMENTS TO GO AS UNITS IN FUTURE

Ottawa, Sept. 18—A change in the policy of the Militia Department as regards the sending over of reinforcements for the Canadians at the front is, it is understood, to be made. Where hitherto drafts from various units have been sent from time to time these units are now to be sent as a whole. In other words, battalions instead of draft companies will be sent. They will go to Shorncliffe, and drafting will be done from there if necessary.

Sir Sam Hughes announced during his visit to Valcartier a few days ago that such a policy would probably be followed. Its merits are that it will preserve the esprit de corps of battalions by maintaining them as units.

RETAIL MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION TO HELP

A letter from the Retail Merchants' Association was received this afternoon by H. A. Porter, manager of the $50,000 Patriotic Auction, saying they are in hearty accord with the movement, and would give all help possible. The president, A. O. Skinner, and the secretary, N. C. Cameron, personally offered their time and services for any period desired.

A further generous offer was that to give to the auction a valuable lot of goods, consisting mainly of prizes left over from the Merchants' Picnic, the gift however not to be taken as meaning that the members were not intending to donate from themselves as well.

IN CENTRAL NOW

Lance Corporal White of the 55th battalion who has been in the city for the last few days, and who says he is a military policeman, was taken into custody at noon today in Britain street by Policeman Hogg. He had been, it is said, molesting a soldier of the 64th and, because of the disturbance caused, the policeman interfered. Hogg was having a rather difficult time of it with the big soldier who, it is said, had been drinking, until Private Detective C. A. Worrell went to his aid and together they placed the man under arrest.

A NEW WAY TO SERVE YOUR KING

The city grant for recruiting expenses, bands, etc., has been consumed. It spun out wonderfully, like the widow's cruse of oil, and now it is of great importance that the nightly meetings be marked with something more than speaking — some little patriotic music or other interspersed feature. Therefore an urgent appeal is made to all people possessing the ability to entertain—singers, reciters, instrumentalists, et al. It is the finishing touch to a meeting to introduce some items of varied interest, and as this is one way of fighting to keep the dear old Union Jack afloat, there should certainly be a ready and steady response to this appeal, which emanates from the general committee. A. M. Belding, of the Times office (Tel. 2417 or 1272), is in charge of this branch of the work.

Your Banker Knows

that the success of your business depends largely upon you. He realizes what the loss of your services would mean to your firm. The possibility of your death is ever present in his mind.

Don't you see the effect this knowledge has upon his official attitude towards your house? Don't you realize how it would tend to loosen his purse strings---how it would inspire confidence on the part of all your creditors---if your business was protected financially against the consequences of your death?

Imperial Business Life Assurance policies are designed to provide for this and many other contingencies which arise unexpectedly in commercial enterprises of all kinds.

Our booklet "Business Conservation" explains briefly this special feature of our business. Write for a copy on your business letterhead.

was again examined and again failed to pass. He is now ready to enlist with any overseas battalion without pay, to demonstrate to the military authorities that he can stand the rigors of military life.

Two Moncton Men

There are at least two Moncton boys in the 25th Nova Scotia Battalion, which landed in France on Wednesday. They are Fenwick W. W. Colpitts, son of John W. Colpitts, Sunny Brae, and Robert Rolly. "Fen" Colpitts has already distinguished himself by the capture of escaping Germans near Halifax.

Was at Ypres

A letter dated Belgium, August 28, has been received from Gunner A. W. Starratt of Dorchester and contains the following interesting news: "I am glad to say that I was at Ypres. It was a hard fight, but we had the satisfaction of stopping the rush, so were fully paid. We were in action and under shell fire practically all the time for twenty-two days. I see Charley Elsdon very often. He has been with us since the start and is a fine fellow, and a good gunner. He has also sent over a number of souvenirs, including a piece of shrapnel that struck a button on his tunic."

Employers Help Recruiting

Nearly fifty Fredericton employers of labor have pledged themselves to hold their positions open for any employes who go to the front.

In the works of the Cowan Company, Limited, manufacturers of chocolate and cocoa, Toronto, the following notice to employes has been exhibited: "To all in our employ who enlist for service abroad we agree to pay the full wages of married men from the time they leave Canada until their return; to pay half-wages to unmarried men from the time they leave Canada until they return."

A Fredericton Boy

One of the officers of the 82nd Battalion of Calgary, is a Fredericton boy, Lieut. Edward Hanning, signalling officer who connected the oil fields by wireless. Lieut. Hanning had under way a big scheme for connecting the Peace River with Edmonton and the rest of Alberta by means of the wireless, but the war came and put a stop to the plans.

Wounded Soldier Coming

It is reported in Marysville that Private John Markey of that town who was severely wounded in Flanders while serving with the Princess Pats is a passenger on the same steamer which is bringing Major Percy Guthrie to Canada. Private Markey was one of the first York county boys to reach the trenches and made a splendid record for himself as a soldier.

Recruiting in Kent

The list of the recruits in Kent county obtained this week are as follows::

Leigh Bell, Alonzo Johnson, Joseph Heins, Richibucto; Arthur Lannigan, Harry Glencross, Thomas McLelland, Alfred Gould, Rexton; Harley Peters, Peter's Mills; James E. Reid, Young's Cove; Emil Richard, Rogersville.

The meetings will be continued at Kouchibouguac tonight, at Harcourt, on Saturday night at St. Louis, Sunday morning and at Richibucto Village, Sunday afternoon.

Sergeant Knight and Rev. Dr. Campbell will speak at Harcourt on Saturday night.

Sergeant Gregory Improving

Sergt. T. R. W. Gregory, 55th Battalion, now at Valcartier has been informed that his son Sergeant R. A. Gregory 10th Battalion who was wounded in France is about to return to the firing line. He is now in Scotland recuperating.

All Want the 64th

Halifax, Amherst and Sussex are all pulling to be made the winter quarters of the 64th Battalion, and some uncomplimentary and untrue things are being said about the accommodation at St. John.

Taking Infantry Course

Lieut. H. H. Pineo, of the 6th Mounted Rifles, is now taking a staff course at a Canadian School of Instruction at one of the training centres in England. Lieut. Pineo writes of having "never felt better in my life," and as one who 'would rather enjoy trying conclusions with an ordinary German." The former Amherst man is the only maritime province officer now at the school.

Springhill Man Wounded

Mrs. Neil McKinnon has received official word that her husband, now serving with the colors in France, has been wounded. Neil McKinnon joined the Expeditionary Force in August, 1914. He is very popular in Springhill, and has a reputation as an exceptionally good hockey player. For some years he played goal for local teams, and in 1914 held down the same position with the Boston Athletic Association septette.

THE BEST QUALITY AT A REASONABLE PRICE

They Are Proud Of Howards. Why?

Howard Watches are not the most expensive watches. You can pay more for other makes than a Howard will cost you and not get as much value.

No; it isn't the price he paid that makes a fellow "chesty" about his Howard. It's the reputation of the watch and the fact that his Howard performs up to that reputation.

For a long, long time Howard Watches have had the name of being superior timekeepers. Your father knew them as the best watches of his day, and the well informed man knows they are still the best watches.

Sharpe has an excellent stock of Howards. Step in and look them over. Let us explain why they are superior watches.
