PREMIER GIVEN GREAT WELCOME TO EAST ELGIN

Non-Political Greeting to Hon. Mr. Meighen and His Wife by the Town.

BAND AND PARADE THROUGH PLACE

Great Ovation When Premier and Wife Appear on Balcony of the Hotel.

Aylmer, Ont., Nov. 21.—"That the people of Canada delight in honoring their public men was demonstrated here Saturday afternoon, when, despite the feelings created by the most strenuous political campaign ever waged in this part of the Dominion, a vast crowd of East Elgin's electors of all shades of political thought packed the centre of the town in an enthusiastic and unmistakeably sincere welcome to the Prime Minister, Hon. Arthur Meighen, and his wife, who arrived here shortly after 3.30 p. m.

The streets had been gaily decorated with flags, and a very large contingent of the citizens, with the town band in attendance met the Premier's party at the western boundaries of the town, and, forming a procession, escorted them through the principal streets to the Brown House, where a civic address of welcome was presented to the Premier by Mayor F. L. Wagner.

Non-Party Greeting.

The appearance of Mr. and Mrs. Meighen on the hotel balcony, where the address of welcome was presented, was the occasion of a great ovation, Liberals and United Farmers followers sharing equally in the welcome with the large Conservative contingent.

In his reply, the Premier said:

"In the great welcome you have accorded us here today we realize an expression of respect to the holder of the country's highest office. We find in the warmth of your kindly worded welcome no hint of political significance, but, rather, a great significance of the solidity of the people of Canada in support of the great constitutional foundations."

More Grace In Heels Than In Their Heads

Rev. Canon Armstrong Referred to Number of Dance Halls Opening in the City.

"Some people are getting more grace in their heels than in their heads," said Rev. Canon Armstrong, in an eloquent sermon preached at Trinity Church last evening in which he referred to the number of dance halls opening in this city. The subject of the sermon was: "The Brazen Serpent," at one time a benefit to the children of Israel but which, when the Israelites worshipped it, became a hindrance to them and had to be destroyed. The lesson drawn was that amusement while a most healthful thing in people's lives is getting out of place. With so many dance halls opening it seemed as if many persons were paying more attention to development of the body than to the soul's growth.

To Alleviate Boredom.

(London Daily Express.)

A process of overhauling is a commendable and necessary procedure with things mechanical or human. What about overhauling your language? To converse well is a great art, but not as impossible to attain to as most people think. If they would spend as much time trying to express themselves in an interesting and distinctive manner as they spend in reducing their conversation to the level of the commonplace, the boredom of humanity would be greatly lessened.

WHAT OTHERS SAY—

Learning to be content with what we have is what bolts most of us.

WAS SUFFERING FROM INDIGESTION

No Fear of Pains Now.

Indigestion is one of the worse forms of stomach trouble, and many people suffer terribly after every meal they eat. The rising and souring of the food, pains in the stomach, heartburn, water brash, belching of wind, vomiting shortly after eating, etc., are some of the symptoms.

There is no need for any person to be troubled with indigestion, dyspepsia or any other stomach trouble if they would only take Burdock Blood Bitters, which contains a combination of nature's roots, herbs, barks and berries; a combination that cannot help but put the stomach right.

Mr. H. H. Collins, Norton, N. B., writes:—"I was with the overseas forces for four years and two months, and in October, 1916, I was unfortunate enough to be wounded and taken prisoner. I was a prisoner for two and a half years, and the food they gave us was not good, at times, and after a few months I found I was suffering from indigestion. When I came home in July, 1919, was nearly a wreck. I was told to use Burdock Blood Bitters. I did so and found great relief, and can now eat without fear of pains and sickness. I would recommend B. B. B. to all who suffer from indigestion."

Burdock Blood Bitters has been on the market for over forty years, and during that time has made a reputation second to none for relieving all stomach troubles. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Artists of Style And Distinction

New A. R. A. Paints Horses, Hounds and Gypsies With Marvellous Skill.

By M. ZANGWILL.

(Copyright, 1920, by Cross-Atlantic.)

London, Nov. 17.—Occasionally an artist arises who has such perfect command over his medium, such marvelous manipulative dexterity in its use, that his virtuosity commands universal admiration. Boldini and Sargent are instances, and a more recent one is Alfred J. Munnings, one of the new A. R. As., who paints horses, hounds, and gypsies with almost demoniacal cleverness. These are mainly oil painters, though Sargent uses water-color with nearly equal facility. Turner was great in both.

Fine Watercolors.

Blamire Young, a member of the Royal Institute of Painters in water-color, and of the Royal Society of British Artists, who is now exhibiting at the Fine Art Society in Bond street, displays a technical dexterity in his treatment of water-color that is little short of astonishing. He spreads his paint over large surfaces in big, broad washes of rich transparent color, obtaining his effects in the simplest, and apparently the easiest manner possible. In some of his designs there is a foundation of black and white, vivified by a superstructure of brilliant color. The result is both vital and significant, and the works, generally, impress by reason of their style and distinction.

Blamire Young is a romanticist, and sees things in an individual way. His "New Millstone," with its great mill, dominating green slopes on which the sheep are grazing, has much of the poetry of an Old Chrome, though an entirely personal vision. A delightful picture is the "Barnstormers," picturesque strolling players, and an old barn, the scene of the performance, as duly placarded, of the famous "Maria Martin, or the Mystery of the Red Barn." The two small London scenes, "Albert Embankment," and "Westminster (Winter afternoon)" are gems, poetic in conception, and finely atmospheric, particularly the "Westminster," with its background of misty buildings. In each the great mast of a barge, with furled sail, rises above the embankment, and decoratively dominates the centre of the picture.

Blamire Young also paints the nude, on a much large scale than is usual for water-color, but here though as facile as ever, he is less interesting than in his landscapes.

14 OFFICERS SHOT DOWN IN DUBLIN CITY

At Nine O'clock Sunday Morning Sinn Feiners Murdered Heads of Military Courts.

At a house in Baggot street, Captain Newbury was shot by five men. He was in the front parlor of the house.

In the Gresham Hotel two former officers were shot dead in a fight which occurred with men who are believed to have been "Black and Tans," who entered the house. In Mount street two men are reported to have been killed and a civilian wounded.

During the excitement in Mount street, "Black and Tans" in a lorry heard cries for help and answered them. A fierce encounter ensued between Irish volunteers and "Black and Tans," in which two of the former were killed and several volunteers wounded.

Sinn Fein Reprisals

London, Nov. 21—The Irish office in a note says the wholesale killing of officers and former officers in Dublin was the result of the recent stringent campaign by the Irish Government against the Sinn Feiners. Most of those killed, says the statement, either were court-martial officers or were connected with the legal administration.

The members of the attacking party who invaded homes in various parts of Dublin, the statement asserts, also searched the premises of their victims as though seeking to secure evidence of the activity of the men slain or wounded in the enforcement of the law.

The List Of Casualties

The official list of those killed in the murder raid follows:—Major Dowling, Captains D. L. MacLean, Newbury Bagally, Fitzgerald and Price, former Captain P. McCormick and Messrs. Bennett, Aimes, Mahon, T. H. Smith and L. A. Wilde.

Cadets Garnin and Morris, of the Royal Irish Constabulary, were found dead in a garden after they had failed in an attempt to reach the garrison to spread the alarm of the massacre.

Some of the Wounded

The wounded are:—Colonels Woodcock and Montgomery, Captain Kinnelly and Messrs. Murray and Caldowns and one other. Caldow was first reported killed. Captain MacLean and Messrs. Smith and Caldow were attacked by a band of twelve men in a house in Northampton Road. They were taken from their bedrooms to the top story of the house, where they were shot.

Most of the civilian victims were former service men, who held positions in administrative departments closely connected with the administration of justice. The officers in some cases were marked men, because of their prominence in court-martial proceedings.

(Copyright, 1920, By Cross-Atlantic.)

London, Nov. 21.—The Right Rev. John Edwin Watts Litchfield the bishop of Chelmsford, has denounced the proposed new divorce law in a London church ironically. He also proposed this new form of wedding ceremony: "I, John ——, take thee, Mary ——, to be my wedded wife, until one of us gets drunk, goes mad, or gets locked up, or goes and lives somewhere else for three years; until then do I pledge my troth."

BOLSHEVIKI IS REAL MENACE TO THIS CONTINENT

Mr. Justice Riddell Declares North America is in Peril from Red Activities.

New York, Nov. 21—The whole American continent is menaced by Bolshevism, and all the people should work together to repulse these assaults, Judge Wm. Fenwick Riddell, of the Ontario Supreme Court, said here last night in an address at annual dinner of the Canadian Society.

Characterizing the "parlor Bolsheviki" as a "parasite who repays warmth and comfort by petty annoyance and irritation," he suggested that "this nuisance be given an opportunity to try under the rule he propagates. Let them have the experience of being forced to join a Bolshevik labor battalion on penalty of starving—the fate of the hundred or more enthusiasts recently deported from the United States."

Band Against Common Foe

Justice Riddell said the real working Bolsheviki is to be feared, because of his insidious propaganda and activities, and that the people of both the great nations of the American continent should band themselves together to fight this treacherous, wholly unreliable fanatic.

"It is not of vital importance to the world," he added, "whether or not the League of Nations is adopted. The whole future of the world ultimately will rest upon the peace, harmony, soul and unity of the English-speaking peoples."

The speaker said that if he were called upon to prophesy, he would say "whatever is to be said of military and naval strength, the combined fleets of Great Britain and the United States can command and enforce peace at the peril of unutterable war."

There is hope for any man as long as his dog doesn't cut his acquaintance.
