SHORT AND SNAPPY.

Readable Items about Men, Women and Things in General.

The widow of Meyerbeer, the composer, who recently died in Germany left a fortune of $2,500,000.

It has been decided to hold triennial art exhibitions in Madrid which shall be open to artists of all nations.

Mme. Bernhardt's experience in a Brazilian prison does not probably increase her admiration for South American institutions.

Miss Rose Elizabeth Cleveland says that "Goethe is not universal." Her experience in Chicago has doubtless led her to this wise conclusion.

A tea gown of pansy plush is lined with pink silk the tint of a plush rose. Female attire is evidently working around rapidly to a state of bucolic simplicity.

—West's Pain King excels all other remedies in promptly curing dysentery, diarrhœa, flux, colic, cholera, cholera morbus and all diseases of the stomach and bowels. Price only 25c. All druggists. d

Mrs. Margaret Custer Calhoun, whose husband and brother—the latter, General Custer—were killed in the terrible massacre, is supporting herself by giving public readings in Michigan.

The Queen regent of Spain, who is spending the season at La Granja, may be seen every pleasant morning out walking with her children. She dresses simply and is unattended.

The secret of M. De Lesseps's success in raising the Panama Canal loan is his persuasive power with the ladies. He has inveigled no less than 16,000 of the gentler sex into his scheme, and still they come.

—Have you tried Holloway's Corn Cure? It has no equal for removing these troublesome excrescenses, as many have testified who have tried it.

Mrs. Agassiz found one morning in one of her slippers a cold, little, slimy snake, one of six sent the day before to her scientific spouse, and carefully set aside by him for safety under the bed. She screamed, "There is a snake in my slipper!" The servant leaped from his couch crying, "A snake! Good heavens! Where are the other five?"

—Cholera and all summer complaints are so quick in their action that the cold hand of death is upon the victims before they are aware that danger is near. If attacked do not delay in getting the proper medicine. Try a dose of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, and you will get immediate relief. It acts with wonderful rapidity and never fails to effect a cure.

Lord Cholmondeley spent $10,000 in advertising the sale of Houghton, Lord Walpole's seat, and didn't get a purchaser after all.

Mr. Gladstone, who is going to spend his vacation on Lord Wolverton's yacht, will cruise around the coast of Ireland and the west coast of Scotland.

General Ben Butler is said to be "stuck on" yellow. He has purchased yards of yellow ribbon and has decorated the furniture both in his house and on his yacht with gaudy bows and rosettes.

Horace Smith of Salisbury, Ct., who is 92 years old, has lived to see seventy grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. He was a school teacher in that town from 1813 to 1873.

Socialists seem to be having a hard time of it all around. William Morris, the Socialist poet of London, was fined a shilling the other day in the Marylebone Police Court for some objectionable capers.

—Use the safe, pleasant, and effectual worm killer, Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator; nothing equals it. Procure a bottle and take it home.

A Russian art gallery is to be founded at Rome under the direction of the Russian painter Bogoliuboff and at the instance of the Grand Duke Vladimir.

General Lew Wallace, in a lecture on the Turks, says that they have been greatly misrepresented. The average Turk is never drunken, but always brave, kind to children and good to animals.

No perfect copies of Miles Coverdale's translation of the Bible are known. A "grubby" copy, in which the map, title page and first few leaves were in fac-simile, was recently sold in London for $600.

—All leading druggists will gladly inform anyone enquiring as to the wonderful merits of West's Pain King. The standard remedy for flux, dysentery, summer complaint, cholera morbus, cholera, colic, etc. 25c. d

Publishers say that the publication of a work in cheap form lessens very little the sale of the better edition. At first authors were adverse to the experiment, but the result was both surprising and gratifying.

The sale of photographs of Mrs. Cleveland in her wedding dress has been prohibited by order of the President.

Women are employed as guards at the crossings of Prussian State railways. They are paid 12 to 19 cents a day.

It is stated that the profits already received by Mrs. Grant from the sale of the "Grant Memoirs," amount to $630,000.

When the Emperor of Germany travels he has a special train of three salon coaches connected by connected passageways. The Imperial carriage proper is lined with blue damasks, and contains a saloon, sleeping room and study. Each one is appropriately and elegantly furnished.

—West's Pain King acts promptly, cures quickly. Never fails to cure bowel complaint, colic, cholera morbus, cholera. Costs but 25c. and is always ready. Enquire regarding its merits of any druggist. d

Lewis will shortly be passed dealing with tramps in England. We might pass some here, too, but we look in vain for the mercantile commodities of these gentlemen outside of nerve and cold cheek.

"Love," says a southern poet, "lingers longest where roses bloom over the door." Perhaps this is true. The philosopher will not gainsay the word of the poet, but it is a prevalent opinion that roast beef and red Madeira are very useful in the retention of love.

A few days ago a statue of Diderot, the famous French author, was unveiled in the Place St. Germain des Pres, at Paris.

—A. B. Des Rochers, Arthabaskaville, P. Q., writes: "Thirteen years ago I was seized with a severe attack of rheumatism in the head, from which I nearly constantly suffered, and after having used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for nine days, bathing the head, &c., when I was completely cured, and have only used half a bottle."

Mr. Godey, who died leaving a fortune of two or three millions, made chiefly out of his "Lady's Book," when asked why he did not raise the standard of his magazine, said, "I am not making a magazine for the few, but a magazine for the Eliza Jones. They are in a vast majority."

—Some persons have periodical attacks of Canadian cholera, dysentery or diarrhœa, and have to use great precautions to avoid the disease. Change of water, cooking, and green fruit, is sure to bring on the attacks. To such persons we would recommend Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial as being the best medicine in the market for all summer complaints. If a few drops are taken in water when the symptoms are noticed no further trouble will be experienced.

President Grevy's political enemies in France allude to him as a "galvanized cadaver."

Cotta, an Italian tenor, who was recently hissed at Oporto, threw himself from a window and put an end to his life.

Mr. Gladstone's physician, Sir Andrew Clarke, says that there is not a single unsound spot in the ex-Premier's constitution. He is in perfect health.

—Thousands of lives saved annually by the use of West's Pain King, the household remedy for chills, colds, flux, summer complaint, dysentery, colic and cholera. Only 25c. All druggists. d

P. T. Barnum has offered $20,000 for the skin of the sea serpent seen some time ago off the New England coast. Here is a chance for some enterprising fisherman to make his fortune.

Gold has been discovered at Eau Claire, Wis.; the tombstones and whisky barrels will follow, of course.

It is nothing new to hear of red tape interfering with justice. It is true not only of red tape, but of all other tape, that it's arrival is a signal for a tie-up.

—The best way to repair strength and increase the bodily substance is to invigorate the stomach and improve the circulation with Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure. Simultaneously with the disappearance of indigestion it relieves that morbid despondency, and the nervousness which are as much the product of dyspepsia as the weakness of the stomach and loss of vigor and flesh which proceed from it: as a blood purifier it has no equal.

FLIRTING IN CAMP.

Pleasure That Would be Called by Another Name in Town.

Flirtation in the woods is always a more serious and impressive thing than in town. You'll see a couple come gradually together, says the San Francisco Chronicle, in a camp or at a hotel by the beach. As much as two or three days will elapse before any special affinity develops itself. Then you'll see little attentions of a delicate nature; they segregate from parties first, not too obviously; then they take to kind of devoting themselves to each other; then they get taking strolls alone, and the seriousness becomes imposing. The other campers or outers are very respectful; a compact seems to exist that flirtations shall be respected. But the demure air they both put on is awfully funny. They're partly ashamed and partly proud; they are a little scared at first, and steal off separately and meet accidentally out of sight. But it doesn't last long, and they very soon take to marching off openly together, while every man and woman in the camp casts a smile askew at them as they go. Then they quarrel and she won't speak to him; she treats him with great frigidity, and everybody in camp sympathizes on one side or another. Then they make up, and everybody in camp knows it. And all you ever hear of it after the season is: "Oh, yes; they were a good deal together at Montereyy." If it was in town, everybody would say: "It's shameful the way those two are going on."

Your Friends Will Never Tell You.

—But perhaps somebody, who isn't your friend, will, that your presence is rendered offensive by the foul, fetid smell of your breath. Every word you utter, though it be the very echo of wisdom and poetry, disgusts your hearers, and you laugh a productive of anything but mirth to them. It is a duty you owe, not only to yourself, but to society to remove this cause of offense. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will heal the diseased mucous membrane, will bring relief to yourself and others. Do not hesitate to employ it.

Newsdealers and subscribers are requested to provide boxes or paper slits on their doors; otherwise their Worlds will be exposed on the step for two hours or more and liable to be stolen. Our morning delivery is now so large that the carts and boys start out on their rounds at a very early hour.

To the Rescue.

—"When all other remedies fail," for bowel complaint, colic, cramps, dysentery, etc., "then Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry comes to the rescue." Thus writes W. H. Crocker, druggist, Waterdown, and adds that "its sales are large and increasing." 246

Women in Paraguay.

A letter from Paraguay to the Chicago News says the women are the chief mark and product of the country. They are comely and modest-faced. Their dress is sparse, adapted to the heat of the climate and to their poverty. Their dress is intended to consist of a white cotton skirt, stopping a little above the ankle, a chemise, with lace embroidered yoke, open to the waist, and a piece of cotton cloth, not unlike a sheet, wrapped about the head and shoulders. Thus attired, with their black eyes and unusually brunette faces, they make a picturesque appearance. Many of them are without the skirt, and some, chiefly pure Guarani women, have only the sheet-like wrap. Then this is worn wrapped round the body, either over the shoulders or under the arms, covering the body. At certain hours in the day the streets are filled with these women attending to their marketing. They constitute the great mass of the population, and do nearly, if not quite all, the work. In the market (the building covers a large square or block) one sees more than a thousand of these women moving about in all directions. We saw but one woman on the street wearing shoes. The ladies who compose what we call society are very few, and are dressed and cultivated after the fashions of Europe. It is said to be almost impossible to find a score of them in the entire republic outside of the capital and the nine chief towns. The women greatly exceed the men in number—in the whole country more than two to one, in the cities sometimes twenty to one. They nearly all have families. The marriage ceremony is not considered a necessity. It may rather be called a luxury for the opulent. Not long since a priest, by direction of the authorities, announced that he would marry, free of charge, any person who wished the service. This offer reached hundreds of families not formerly married, but not one accepted the offer.

—It is of the greatest importance that all bowel and stomach complaints should be attended to at once, especially at this season of the year. West's Pain King is prompt, reliable and certain never to fail. Only 25c. All druggists. d

A proverb in the Talmud says, "An old woman is a pearl in the family, but the house trembleth before an old man."

A Complete Breakdown.

—"For ten years," says Jennie M. Harrett of Wallaceburg, Ont., "I did not see a well day—was all broken down with dyspepsia liver complaint, catarrh and debility. Three doctors abandoned hope for me, when Burdock Blood Bitters came to my rescue. It is the best medicine I have ever taken. I say this for the benefit of all suffering as I did. 246

Bernhardt's Rio Adventure.

From the Rio News.

A memorial tablet in honor of Sarah Bernhardt has been put up in the San Jose Theatre, in San Paulo, and the students of the law school there are to have a bust of her for their institution of learning. A tablet is also proposed for the San Pedro Theatre of this city. If further suggestions are in order, we would suggest a bust of Sarah for the Central Police Station, in which the great actress will be represented with ten thumbs and fingers projecting horizontally from the nose.

A Fruitful Season.

—The fruitful season of this year is prolific with many forms of bowel complaints, such as diarrhœa, dysentery, colic, cholera morbus, cholera infantum, etc.; as a safeguard and positive cure for those distressing, and often sudden and dangerous, attacks nothing can surpass that old and reliable medicine, Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. 246

Dilke Defies His Foes.

From the London World.

The Gladstone Cabinet leave the perplexing question of Sir Charles Dilke's future to the consideration of their successors. Sir Charles Russell declined to assist Sir Augustus Stephenson with his opinion on the ground of having been counsel in the case; and Sir Horace Davey pleaded ignorance in criminal law as an excuse for non-interference. Sir Charles Dilke himself still boldly proclaims his innocence, and defies his foes to do their worst.

Worth Remembering.

—In a long letter from John H. Hall of Baddick, Cape Breton, N.S., he says: "I believe were it not for Burdock Blood Bitters I should be in my grave." It cured me of kidney and liver complaint and general debility, which had nearly proved fatal. 246

Our Own.

If I had known in the morning
How wearily all the day
The words unkind
Would trouble my mind
I said when you went away,
I had been more careful, darling,
Nor given you needless pain;
But we vex our own
With look and tone
We might never take back again.

For though in the quiet evening
You may give me the kiss of peace
Yet it might be
That never for me
The pain of the heart would cease.
How many go forth in the morning
That never come home at night,
And hearts have broken
For harsh words spoken
That sorrow can ne'er set right.

We have careful thoughts for the stranger
And smiles for the sometime guest,
But oft for "our own"
The bitter tone,
Though we love "our own" the best.
Ah, lips with curve impatient,
Ah, brow with that look of scorn,
'Twere a cruel fate
Were the night too late
To undo the work of the morn!

A Sure Thing.

—A sure cure for summer complaints.—Procure from your druggist one 37½ cent bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and use according to directions. It is infallible for diarrhœa, cholera morbus, canker of the stomach and bowels, and cholera infantum. 246
