The financial condition of Manitoba, Mr Howfinancial condition of Manitoba, Mr How-land stated, was not as good as it should be. The reaction of the boom caused a large amount of trouble, as everyone in the country knows, but the people would re-cover from the shock gradually, and soon everything wil be as firm as ever again. Already there are visible signs of return-ing confidence noticeable in commering confidence noticeable in commer-cial life. The banks are becoming more liberal, and money is moving easier. Some of the banks become unnecessarily alarmel.
Mr. Howland thought, but they acred in order to protect themselves, as they did not know what crisis was pending. Hill enter the Manitoba and the Northwest had been importing all artiels of consumption, and
