Round Hill Jottings.

Mrs. Thompson, of Sackville, N. B., is visiting friends in this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Berry, of Halifax, are visiting in the village.

We had an unusually heavy frost for the season, one night last week.

A few flocks of wild ducks have been seen, frequenting the adjacent marshes.

The June sun has prevailed upon the strawberry, numbers of which have ripened.

Rev. F. M. Young, Bridgetown, occupied the pulpit of the Baptist church, on Sunday evening last.

On Wednesday evening the 10th, St. Paul's church, Round Hill, will witness a social event, the marriage of one of our young ladies.

The lecture, "Newfoundland," in the hall on the 3rd was very favorably received by the public, the steroptican views being particularly good.

Lower Granville Notes.

Line fishing about Digby Gut has been profitable of late.

Some herrings have struck in the river and those interested in weirs are wearing a more cheerful countenance.

Planting is about over but the weather is cold and dry and vegetation retarded. There was quite a frost last Thursday night.

Capt. Delap is pushing on his new tern schooner vigorously and hopes to launch next month. She is a fine looking craft and will be a large carrier.

The barquentine Glenaffen, Capt. Mc. Whinnie arrived on Saturday and proceeded to Annapolis to load. We are glad to see the captain back again.

Hymeneal.

ALDRED—HUDGINS.—At the residence of C. H. Welsh, Esq., on the 26th ult., in the presence of many friends, Miss Lizzie Aldred, daughter of Mrs. A. Aldred and Mr. Elias R. Hudgins, both of Margaretville, N. S., were married. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Samuel Savin, D. D. The bride was attired in white faille francaise cut en train and trimmed with lace. She wore the usual tulle veil and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. After the reception the couple left for New York and will be home Thursday, June 25th.

The Apple Trade.

The following letter speaks for itself, and should be a shame and a warning to dishonest fruit packers:

London, May 21st, 1891.

MR. L. RICKETSON:

DEAR SIR,—The apple season having now closed we think it well to draw your attention to the very serious deterioration that has taken place in the packing during the past season, and that it cannot be too generally known. If Nova Scotia apples are to keep first rank in this market a vast improvement will have to be made in the future. Of course it may be said that apples being so inferior last season it was impossible to make them good by packing; this we admit to an extent; but when we tell you that in numerous instances we ourselves found, and buyers also called our attention to the fact, that such apples as Golden Russets, and other best sorts, had 4 to 6 layers, and possibly a third of the barrel, on the top Golden Russets and below were filled up with No. 2 Baldwins or Greenings, and in more instances still No. 1 apples were topped up, that is to say, the first few layers were all good apples and underneath were seconds and very bad seconds. You will admit with us that no matter how bad the season has been for apples this sort of thing is unjustifiable and is bound to do an immense amount of harm, and it is in the interest of every shipper in Nova Scotia to put a stop to it if he possibly can. By far the greater irregularity we found to be among the apples sent to us by dealers, it being impossible to trace the delinquents. The competition gets keener every season. Apples are continually arriving from fresh districts and the last few years English growers have put vastly more energy into apple growing, with the result that thousands of acres of young orchards are springing up in the apple growing districts of England. Nova Scotian apples, with a good season and honestly packed, will hold their own against all comers, and as we have endeavored for some years past to bring your apples into favor here and to obtain the best market prices for them we think the senders on your side, in their own interests and in justice to their patrons on this side, should endeavor to send their fruit over in the best condition and so maintain their name for honest packing. We remain, yours faithfully,

NOTHARD & LOWE.

Death Conquers.

Ottawa, June 7.—The end of the premier's long battle with death came shortly after ten o'clock Saturday night. More than thirty hours before this time the last indication of consciousness ceased, the dying man no longer took nourishment, his breath began to come in short quick gasps, the beating of the pulse grew fainter and more spasmodic. The learned doctors before midnight on Friday were certain that he had not more than an hour or two to live. Not one of them thought it possible that life could remain in that body until daylight, but the morning came and passed and night came down again before the end. Dr. Ryan and Dr. Powell noticed that the final change was at hand. The family and most intimate personal friends were gathered in. An hour later they saw him breathe his last. Around the bed side were Lady Macdonald, Hugh John Macdonald, the premier's sons and his wife; Mrs. Fitzgibbon, sister of the latter, Hon. Edgar Dewdney and Mrs. Dewdney, who have been most intimate friends of the household; Jos. H. Pope, the premier's secretary; Fred White, of the mounted police force, who was his private secretary for many years; George Sparks, a relative of Sir John; Dr. Powell, the family physician and Ben Chilton, for many years the premier's trusted messenger. It was twenty minutes after ten when the last bulletin conveyed to the outside world the tidings of the death of Sir John Macdonald and a few minutes later the fire bell on city hall tolled out the message to the people of the city, which had been his home for a quarter of a century. The telegraph offices in the city and parliament buildings were soon crowded with people sending private dispatches to their friends in all parts of the country. This morning.

FLAGS AT HALF MAST

were lazily fluttering in the light wind, the city was in mourning, churches were draped, the Dead March was played in a dozen churches and from every pulpit in the city, mention was made of the nation's dead.

World's Fair Notes.

The construction department of the Exposition is authority for the statement that by the Fourth of July 15,000 men will be at work on the World's Fair buildings in Jackson Park, and that a month later the number will be not less than 30,000

Peru has appropriated $25,000 to defray the expense of making its exhibit at the Exposition.

Virginia is becoming interested in the World's Fair. It is proposed to make the Virginia state fair in 1892, a much grander affair than usual, and then to take the best of the exhibits to Chicago in 1893.

U. S. Consul-General Ballentine, of Bombay, says that he believes several native Indian Princes will attend the Exposition.

It is reported that the people of New Mexico intend to raise $75,000 to add to the state's World's Fair appropriation of $25,000.

One of the interesting objects which will be exhibited at the World's Fair is a table, made from the timber of the house in Funchal, Madeira, in which Columbus lived for a time before he began his voyages of discovery.

Senator DeLamar, of Idaho, is enthusiastic over the Exposition and wants his state to be splendidly represented, and says that it shall be, even if has to spend $100,000 out of his own pocket. Idaho has appropriated $20,000, and Senator DeLamar has offered to duplicate any additional sum which the people will contribute. He believes that $100,000 will be raised in this way.

Two Years Ago.

Two years ago I was troubled with an ulcer on my ankle, having used B. B. B. for bad blood I procured a bottle and a box of Burdock Healing Ointment. After using 3 bottles and 3 boxes I was completely cured. Mrs. Wm. V. Boyd, Brantford, Ont.

Acadia College Closing Exercises.

LARGEST CLASS EVER GRADUATED FROM THE MARITIME PROVINCES.

The year just closed has been one of marked prosperity for the institutions at Wolfville. In the Arts department 139 students have been in attendance. The Seminary had enrolled 96, and the Academy about 60. This is encouraging, and should stimulate the friends of Acadia to give practical assistance to the Governors in their endeavors to further increase the efficiency of the schools by the erection of a new Seminary at a cost of $25,000. Anniversary week is one of intense interest to all the friends of the college, and this year especially was it so, from the remarkable increased size of the graduating class. The University under its new name has the distinction of graduating the largest class that ever received the "sheepskin" from a Maritime Province college. Forty-two were granted the B. A. degree. The following was the order of the exercises:

Addresses.

As it was impossible to hear all the above orations, a selection of twelve was made, which are marked with asterisks. Annapolis County, as in the past, sustained her interest in the college. A glance at the list above will show that six of the famous 42 are from this same county. Further, three speakers out of twelve, a pretty large per cent., were Annapolis County boys. The first in order was Mr. Louis H. Morse, who in a cleverly descriptive paper pictured the life of France under the great Richelieu. As a literary production it was of high merit, and brought much credit to the writer. Mr. R. O. Morse understood well how to handle his subject, "Faith as a Factor of the World's Progress." He showed that the world is full of faith; and his thoughts were couched in language, expressive and highly figurative. The effort was an able one, and well delivered. Mr. Litch discussed in an impartial manner the teachings of the Koran. It had many good features, and served for its day and generation, but it contained the canker within itself. Compared with the teaching of the lowly Galilean it was decidedly below the standard. The oration was a vigorous production, and showed careful thought on part of the speaker.

Another interesting part of the exercises was the presentation and acknowledgement of a portrait of the late Avard Longley, a life-long friend of Acadia College. The picture is the work of one of our own artists, Mr. Bradshaw of Bridgetown, and compared most favorably with others around it in Assembly Hall. When Dr. Sawyer announced the gift from citizens of Annapolis County by private subscription, he was greeted with cheers from the large assembly.

Died Under an Operation.

Willis P. Canda, 13, a son of John M. Canda, a well known merchant, died of heart failure on Saturday while undergoing an operation at his father's residence, No. 327 President street, Brooklyn.

The boy had a habit of biting his lips. He lacerated them about two years ago, and the result was that a membranous growth appeared. Last June a physician removed it from his lips. The growth reappeared, and it was decided to have it cut off again. On Saturday morning Professor J. S. Wright of Long Island College Hospital, and Dr. H. C. Rogers, who had been engaged to perform the operation, called at Mr. Canda's house.

Two drachms of chloroform were administered and Professor Wright carefully removed the growth on one end of the boy's lip. Symptoms of heart failure began to manifest themselves. Hypodermic injection of brandy and strychnine were given the patient, who seemed to be reviving.

His body was raised, and artificial respiration was begun and kept up for an hour and three-quarters. Several times the doctors felt encouraged. Just after the noon hour had struck there was a collapse and the boy died of heart failure.

Provincial Paragraphs.

The American schooner F. D. Hodgins, Landadowne, on Friday last, in Fox Bay, Anticosti, and towed to Gaspe.

A government bill was introduced in the British Parliament on Friday last phohibiting British subjects from catching seals in Behring sea fer a certain period.

SIXTY YEARS MARRIED.—Mr. and Mrs. Simon McQuarrie, an aged couple living at Hardwood Hill, have spent sixty-four years of married life together, and are still hale and hearty.

A company with a capital of $150,000 has been organized in Halifax to manufacture ale and peptonized beer, which has become celebrated in Chicago as a tonic for convalescents from la grippe.

BERWICK.—Rev. Dr. Saunders reports in the Messenger and Visitor three months work in the Baptist church at Berwick. As a result there has been a delightful revival, 60 were baptized on profession of their faith in Christ.

The rails of the missing link were connected with the rails of the W. C. Railway at Digby on Wednesday, at which time the road was all ballasted within a quarter of a mile of Digby. The line will be ready for traffic in about 10 days.

Hon. W. S. Fielding went to Quebec last Tuesday, whence he sailed by the steamer Polynesian on a short visit to England. During his absence Hon. J. W. Longley will act as premier, and Hon. C. E. Church as provincial secretary.

The telegraph line between Digby and Annapolis at present follows the public highway. Loops are now being built from Clementsport and Bear River, to connect with the main line, and give these places telegraphic communication with others.

WILL BEAT THE I. C. R. TWO HOURS.—It is expected that when the fast express gets running from Annapolis to Halifax, passengers from St. John via Annapolis, can reach Halifax two hours earlier than by the Intercolonial line.—Kentville Chronicle.

An action for $10,000 damages has been taken against the Grand Trunk Railway Company by one Pierre Guay. The plaintiff alleges that while attempting to board a train at Acton Vale, when employed in the Company's service, in June last, he fell and had his left leg cut off by the cars passing over it.

A seizure of Canadian cattle on board the steamer Lake Huron was made at Liverpool last week, on the ground that pleuro-pneumonia existed among the animals. After killing an animal and examining its lungs, it was decided that there was not a trace of the disease, and the cargo was consequently released.

HEAR THE BELLS! WEDDING BELLS.—The marriage of Mr. William Fenwick Young to Eiss Fannie Etta Guptill, both of Digby, took place in Trinity church Wednesday morning. The bride was dressed in a neat travelling suit of gray, with cut steel trimming. She was attended by her sister, Miss Grace Guptill, who wore navy blue. The groom was attended by Mr. H. B. Short.

There is now nearing completion in the shipyard of Mr. C. R. Burgess, Kingsport, N. S., the largest sailing ship ever constructed in the Dominion of Canada, she is to be launched on the 24th of June, and will be called "Queen." She is 240 feet keel, 275 feet over all, 45 feet beam, and will register 2400 tons. She is owned by Mr. C. R. Burgess, and will be commanded Capt Munro, of Harborville.

MR. PURCELL'S STOLEN REMAINS.—Mr. Purcell's friends, in despair of finding the stolen body of Glengarry's ex-member, have now offered an increased reward of $1,000. A Glengarrian in town this morning says there is little likelihood of the desperate men giving up the body for such a sum unless it was accompanied with the promise "and no questions asked" The pity is that detectives cannot ferret out the men who did the stealing and make an example of them.

In a private letter dated Hastings (Eng.) May 12th, the Bishop of Nova Scotia says: "You will be glad to know that I am getting along well. The voyages were most beneficial, and this seaside place is delightful. I must not be too sanguine, I suppose, but I cannot help indulging the hope that I may get back sooner than the doctors anticipate." The Bishop adds that he is going, in the month of June, for a six weeks' cruise in the Baltic Sea, on board a friend's yacht.

On Monday last, a beautiful seal, appearing quite tame, and yearning for somebody's love and companionship, followed the boat of George Denton ashore at Little River. Mr. D. had no use for him, but the visitor wouldn't leave. He was therefore boxed up and sent to Digby, where Capt. Daley purchased four feet to send him to St. John. It was very touching to watch the pleading brown eyes, and hear the child-like "ma! ma!" of this poor, bewildered creature, as he struggled to follow anyone who might happen to notice him or speak to him. It is probably the lost pet of some affectionate mermaid.

Two sons of Henry Hyland, of Liverpool, Queens Co., died recently, one a few days after the other, and two others of his sons are sick. All of the cases exhibited symptoms that led to the conclusion that the children had in some way been poisoned. At first, mainly because the first child who died had been eating an orange shortly before he was taken ill, and consulted up some of the peel under the effect of an emetic, the theory was started that the child was poisoned by eating orange peel. The subsequent cases, however, seem to require another explanation, and the supposition is that either from the water in the well or in some other way the children have been poisoned.

—Lord Romily was smothered by smoke caused by the upsetting of a parafine lamp in a room of his London house on Saturday night. Two servants were also smothered by the smoke of the burning building.

Correspondence.

We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions of our correspondents.

MR. EDITOR,—One of our newspapers commenting on the franchise for women proposes that legislation on the subject be postponed until the women ask for it. Is it not the work of the male philanthropist as well as of the women? Is it not rare, if ever, that a downtrodden people is emancipated solely by its own act? Who liberated the slave? Was it done by themselves? Did the women who worked in the mines of England ask or think of liberty? They were not even in a position to realize their degredation. But was that a reason that the humane reformer should not work in their behalf. Because a people's rights are withheld, is that a reason for continuing to withhold them?

The women of Turkey and Egypt are consigned to the harem. Because they do not ask for another life, is that a reason they should be kept there?

Looking to the argument that women will be degraded by mixing in party politics, we can say the same vile selfishness that pervades and degrades politics will also pervade and degrade our domestic circle. There are no Dr. Jeckles and Mr. Hydes. Man can have but one character if he does wear a mask.

W. SUFFRAGE.

—Thomas A. Edison, the famous electrician and inventer, is preparing to astonish the world by the exhibit he will make at the World's Fair in 1893. "I shall have two or three things to show" said he recently "which I think will both surprise and please the visitors to the electrical department of the Exposition, which, by the way, I am fully convinced will be a great success. Two of these inventions are not yet ready to be described, or even characterized. The third, however, is so nearly perfected that I do not hesitate to say something about it. I hope to be able by the invention to throw upon a canvas a perfect picture of anybody, and reproduce his words. The invention will do for the eye what the phonograph has done for the voice, and reproduce the voice as well, in fact, more clearly. I have already perfected the invention so far as to able to to picture a prize fight—the two men, the ring, the intensely interested faces of those surrounding it—and you can hear the sound of the blows, the cheer of encouragement and the yells of disappointment. And when this invention shall have been perfected," said Mr. Edison, with the trace of enthusiasm's glow in his face, "a man will be able to sit in his library at home, and, having electrical connection with the theatre, see reproduced on his wall or a piece of canvas the actors, and hear anything they say. This invention will be called the Kinetograph.' The first half of the word signifies 'motion,' and last 'write,' and both together mean the portrayal of motion. The invention combines photography and phonography." Mr. Edison occupied nearly an acre with his exhibit as the Paris Exposition. As he wishes to show at Chicago all that he exhibited at Paris, and numerous other things besides, he is desirous of being accorded a greater space in 1893. The electrical exhibit is expected to be the wonder of the Exposition.

When you're languid and dull in the spring of the year,

ROLLING IN WEALTH.—The new treasurer of the U. S. has been busy for some time counting the national cash to see that it is all right. That he has had a formidable task may be seen from a Washington letter to the Boston Transcript, in which it is stated that there is one room 100 feet long, 60 feet wide and 14 feet high, chock full of silver dollars. There are something like $85,000,000 in this one room. Another contains $25,000,000 in gold and $60,000,000 in silver. Altogether there are over 4,500 tons of precious metal in coin of various description and $300,000,000 or more in notes. Half this amount is in one closet. It is said that the cash has never been found short except on one occasion when it was three cents out and the retiring official had to make it up out of his own pocket.

MESSRS. C. C. RICHARDS & Co.,

For several years I suffered so severely from Neuralgia that my hair came out and left me entirely bald. I used MINARD'S LINIMENT freely on my head, which entirely cured my neuralgia, and to my astonishment I found my hair growing rapidly and now I have as good a head of hair as I ever had. WM. DANIELS, Springhill.

GHOULS AT BARNUM'S GRAVE.—Although two watchmen, armed to the teeth, have been stationed within 100 feet from Barnum's grave since his interment, an attempt was made at an early hour on Friday morning to steal the body. They had been very tired when they went to the cemetery the evening before, and having no suspicion of trouble, fell into a nap about midnight. Two hours later they were aroused by a noise as of a pick, and descried, in the shadow of the Barnum monument, three men, two of whom were busily at work, and the third standing guard with a dark lantern. They were challenged, and ran off at full speed over the graves, and outside were heard to drop their tools into a vehicle and escaped. They had started a hole at the grave about four feet long and a foot deep. They left the lantern on the upturned sods.

Makes the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but in the most natural way Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes creates an appetite, purifies the blood, and, in short, gives great bodily, nerve, mental and digestive strength.

"I derived very much benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I took for general debility. It built me right up, and gave me an excellent appetite." ED. JENKINS, Mt. Savage, Md.

Fagged Out

"Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time, so that I could hardly attend to my business. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me. There is nothing like it." R. C. BEGOLE, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

Worn Out

"Hood's Sarsaparilla restored me to good health. Indeed, I might say truthfully it saved my life. To one feeling tired and worn out I would earnestly recommend a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. PHEBE MOSHER, 90 Brooks Street, East Boston, Mass.
