GIRLS! USE LEMONS FOR SUNBURN, TAN

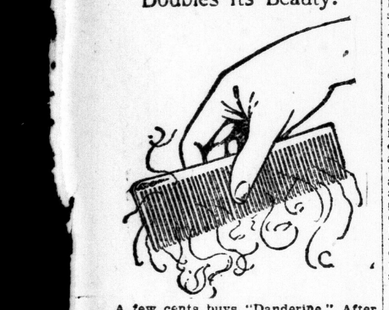
Try it! Make this lemon lotion to whiten your tanned or freckled skin.

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle, sunburn and tan lotion, and complexion whitener, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of Orchard White for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands and see how quickly the freckles, sunburn, windburn and tan disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.

"DANDERINE"

Stops Hair Coming Out; Doubles Its Beauty.



A few cents buys "Danderine." After an application of "Danderine" you can not find a fallen hair or any dandruff, besides every hair shows new life, vigor, brightness, more color and thickness.

Cocoanut Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—Advt.

VISITS LONDON AFTER ABSENCE OF 13 YEARS

Walter Wanless Notes the Wonderful Growth of City During Absence.

Walter Wanless, of Seattle, is in London for three weeks visiting his mother, at 877 Dundas street. This is Mr. Wanless' first visit to London for thirteen years.

"I would hardly know London, it has grown so swiftly," said Mr. Wanless today. "It is indeed the prettiest spot in Canada, and I am very glad to be back home again."

Mr. Wanless left for Seattle twenty-one years ago, and is connected with the Seattle Hardware Company.

PUBLIC UTILITIES MAY INSIST ON A FURTHER PROBE OF COLLEGIATE FIRE

Statement Attributed To Fire Chief Aitken Makes Investigation Probable.

A statement attributed to Fire Chief John Aitken that the destruction of the collegiate was due almost entirely to weak water pressure, may lead to a demand by the public utilities commission for a further investigation of the fire. General Manager Buchanan and members of the commission, by no means are willing to admit that this was the case. Gauges at various points of the system on the night of the fire indicated that a normal pressure was being maintained, they claim.

While Mr. Buchanan and the commissioners are not ready to state whether the destruction of the building was preventable or not, they are not going to allow the blame for it to be placed on their shoulders, Philip Pocock, vice-chairman of the utilities commission, said today. They are willing that another investigation be made in addition to that conducted by E. P. Heaton, Ontario fire marshal, shortly after the fire.

Another report states that an independent investigation of this kind may be asked by the chamber of commerce. A request for an investigation was made by that body immediately after the fire, but as it was received at the same time as a notice from the fire marshal, that he would commence an investigation immediately, it was filed. The request may be repeated. It has not been received at the city offices yet.

GAME ASSOCIATION CLAIM POACHERS AT WORK ON THAMES

Vigilance Committee Almost Captures One Gang.

Members of the London branch of the Ontario Forest, Fish and Game Protection have solved the mystery surrounding the large numbers of dead fish seen floating down the River Thames recently, after many days and nights of investigation. They claim that the fish were killed by poachers employing old but unique methods.

The said poachers, in groups of three or four would go out each evening, and, selecting a likely spot in the river, would throw in a bottle containing a quantity of lime, the bottle being corked with a quill inserted through a hole in the cork, which is fitted as tightly as possible. The water gains access to the lime via the quill route, and calcium hydroxide is formed, the gas bubbling off the lime, and because escape is arrested by the cork, the bottle bursts, all fish in the immediate vicinity being killed or stunned by the explosion. The bursting bottle throws the water in the air for a considerable distance.

Float on Surface.

The dead and stunned fish then float on the water surface, and the poachers gather the best edible types, leaving the others as evidence of their work. Some species of fish sink when killed by the concussion. The unfortunate part of this practice, which is against the law, is the fact that fish of all sizes fall victims, thousands of minnows, which are of no use to the offenders, being included on the death list.

When dead fish were first seen floating down the river the suspicions of local members of the association were aroused, and they organized vigilance committees in an effort to capture the miscreants in the act. Several evening trips were made throughout the country by the vigilant ones, but no captures were made, although at one time they were so close to the poachers that the explosion of the lime and bottle could be heard, but the culprits sought safety in flight without waiting to gather up the spoils of their work.

However, the local sportsmen are well satisfied with their efforts, because since they have stalked the offenders continually the "dynamiting" of the fish has ceased, the poachers being frightened off. The favorite hunting ground for them was the north branch of the Thames, through the city, and the main stream between Byron and Komoka.

BANK CLEARINGS.—The local bank clearings for the week total $4,444,158. In the same week last year they were $2,806,968, an increase of $1,637,190.

JEWISH REVIVAL MEETING.—Mr. Finestone, of the Jewish Mission, Toronto, is in London, and will conduct a series of revival meetings among the Jews of the city.

VOCAL RECITAL.—The vocal recital of Charles Percy will give a recital at the Normal School on Thursday evening, assisted by Miss Bessie Kern, pianist, and the London Conservatory String Ensemble.

REBUILT GRATIS.—The piano wrecked by the fire at Egerton Street Baptist Church in February was rebuilt by the Sherlock-Manning Company. The employees gave their time and the company supplied the fixtures. The piano is in just as good a shape as it was before the fire.

BUILDING TOTAL. — Keene Bros. will make a two-story cement-block addition to their store on King street. A building permit was taken out today. The cost of the work is estimated at $2,000. A total of $142,945 new building has been commenced this month, bringing the total for the year to $793,710. It is expected that the $800,000 will be passed by the end of the month.

FOR WELFARE FUND.—A contribution of $100 has been received by the United Welfare Fund Association from L'air Liquide Society, with headquarters at West Toronto, and a branch factory in East London. Absence of the principals of the firm from home at the time the welfare campaign was conducted in London is given as the reason why the contribution was not sent at an earlier date.

RECITAL TONIGHT.—A great deal of interest is being taken in the recital to be given tonight at the London Institute of Musical Art, since the entire program is to be given only by pupils who have received all their instruction at that institution since its opening in November last. There will be a varied program, consisting of piano, vocal, 'cello, violin and elocution numbers, in addition to a demonstration by kindergarten pupils. The public is invited to this recital.

SUES FOR $10,000.—Frank E. Wray, through his solicitors, Meredith & Fisher, has entered an action in the supreme court against Frank E. Osborne, claiming $10,000 damages for "false arrest and malicious prosecution." Charges preferred by Osborne against Wray, who is at the head of Everybody's Overalls Company, alleging failure to properly account for money supplied in connection with the operation of Wray's company, fell through in a recent county court action, and the counter-action for damages is the sequel.

PLANS FOR NEW COLLEGIATE TO BE PREPARED SOON

Possible That Department of Education May Not View One Central School Proposition Favorably.

Preparation of plans for a new collegiate will be authorized at a meeting of No. 3 committee of the board of education to be held soon. Approval of the erection of a new building on the old site was given by the board at a special meeting Wednesday afternoon.

In preparation for its extensive building program the board this year engaged L. E. Carrothers as an architect, and it is likely that the additional work of planning the collegiate will be placed in his hands along with the public school work, which is now practically completed so far as the plans are concerned.

It is doubtful whether much progress will be made with the collegiate this year. After the plans are completed they will have to be approved by the board, and then by the department of education.

May Not Approve.

It is by no means certain that the government department will approve a big central school, unless it is assured that the London board has plans for erecting high schools in other parts of the city as well. Dr. F. W. Merchant, one of the high school inspectors for the province, discussing building plans with the board before the collegiate fire, said that the government favored the establishment of branch schools rather than the erection of one large building.

It is possible that the board may decide to use the new building eventually for only middle and upper school classes while lower school classes may be accommodated at branch schools.

Of the extensive public school building program only one small section is actually under way. This is the work at South Colborne street school, involving only a few thousand dollars. As tenders for this have been finally accepted it is likely that work will be commenced by next week.

Additions to the Ealing school will likely be commenced next. Tenders for part of this have been received, but no bulk tenders have been made. The time for making tenders was extended until next week.

FLAX GROWERS HOLD ANUUAL MEETING TODAY

The Canadian Flax Growers' Association opened its annual sessions at the London Chamber of Commerce board rooms this afternoon, with Owen Geiger of Hensall presiding. The convention was scheduled to commence this morning, delay in the arrival of J. R. Hutchinson, chief of the fibre department of the Government experimental farms, and the other chief speakers, preventing the opening of the meeting until this afternoon. About fifty delegates, nearly all practical flax growers, are in attendance from Hensall, Blyth, Goderich, Parkhill, Hamilton, Toronto, Chatham, St. Thomas, Lucan, Denfield and some points outside of the province.

Election of officers and general routine business, will be principal items in the afternoon program in addition to the addresses and discussions.

EXCEPTIONAL SAVINGS AT THOMAS' SALE

The mere fact that prices are steadily advancing makes Thomas' Furniture Company's Sale all the more attractive. At no time in Thomas' history has such success been met as on this present occasion. Of course, there is little wonder that this is so—with walnut furniture and chesterfields selling at a straight reduction of 30 per cent. To show just exactly what this means, a $165 chesterfield can be purchased at $115.50, a walnut dining-room suits, regularly priced at $385 goes for $298, and so on.

Yesterday morning a number of special bargains were placed on sale, resulting in virtually two days' business in one. For the week-end, commencing Friday and ending Monday, there will be a succession of special offerings that should attract all London. The end of the month will see the windup of the sale. In view of this it is advisable to take advantage of the money-saving opportunities immediately.

SHEEP AND DOG CASE

To Be Heard Before Squire Chittick Saturday.

A sheep and dog case will be tried before Squire Chittick in the county court Saturday. James More, of Dorchester Township, complainant, charges Garfield Clipperton of West Nissouri with keeping a dog which is alleged to have killed two lambs belonging to the plaintiff, and injured three others. Damages to the amount of $75 are asked.

An unlucky dozen of thirteen speeders have been summoned for trial before Squire Chittick at various dates in the near future. A number of the speeders came into court this morning and voluntarily paid their fines in advance in order to have court proceedings ended.

ONE ON THE POLICE

Thomas White, a youth residing in North London, put one over on the city police this morning when he pleaded not guilty in police court to a charge of riding on a sidewalk contrary to a city bylaw. White, according to the information laid, rode his bicycle along the north side of Huron street, but informed the court that this is a county sidewalk.

Investigation revealed the fact that the county-city boundary line is in the centre of the road, and White was accordingly dismissed. The county police may take action against him.

Legal Queries Answered

SOME LEGAL POINTS.

A SUBSCRIBER: Can any clerk of the court state what the expenses would be of entering any suit for debt and in two years after state it was $1.10 more, saying the inspector said he had not charged enough? A.—Yes.

If the party only paid part of the expenses at the time of asking what the expenses would be and told the clerk not to take action until I authorized him to do so, and before I did so he had sued for it, would he be justified in doing so, as I only paid part of the costs and told him not to sue him until he heard again from me? A.—No.

When $5.00 was paid on my account after getting judgment, could he retain my money for two years legally, without notifying me that it was paid into him, stating he was told by defendant to do so. A.—Yes.

WHICH WILL YOU HAVE?

Fred and Frank, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. Colver, Lobo, born on July 12, 1919, and winners of first prize for twins at Poplar Hill picnic yesterday.

The C. P. R. is not the only railroad which can complain of great shortage of labor, according to the officials of the G. T. R. in this city. Although the Grand Trunk has several fair-sized gangs working throughout the district it is considered doubtful whether the company will be able to carry out the full program of construction planned for this summer.

Delayed at the beginning of the season by non-arrival of rails, work is now proceeding slowly. Because of the shortage of labor, there is a danger that the hundred-pound rails will not be laid all the way from Paris to Sarnia this year. At the present time only one-half mile a day is being laid instead of a full mile.

To facilitate matters in this division two gangs of men were sent here from Montreal yesterday. One of the gangs will work in the vicinity of Princeton, and the other will start at Pt. Edward.

ACTING CHIEF.

During the absence of W. A. Killingsworth, the chief dispatcher of the C. P. R. in this city, who will be away for a few weeks' holidays, R. Taylor will be acting chief dispatcher. J. Powell will relieve Mr. Taylor on night dispatching.

CAR SHOPS PICNIC.

It is expected that the car shops picnic will be held in Port Stanley on or about July 24, according to a member of the picnic committee. All the funds to cover the expenses of the picnic and the prizes have been supplied by the employees of the shops.

ANNUAL EXCURSION OFF.

There is little possibility that the car shops will hold the customary annual excursion this year. There is a great shortage of rolling stock, which is threatening to put an end to all such celebrations.

ANNUAL PICNIC.

The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, Local No. 240, of this city, will hold its annual picnic at Springbank on Thursday, July 22, it was announced today.

THAT WAGE AWARD.

Although a dispatch has been received from Montreal to the effect that a vote is to be taken by mail on the acceptance of the wage award made by the board of conciliation, there is little likelihood that the local employees will take part in the vote, according to J. Chick, the chairman of the grievance committee of the C. B. R. E. in this city. Mr. Chick has been instructed to forward the result of the vote in this city to Ottawa before June 26.

Montreal has been added to the list of places to turn down the award.

HIGH COST OF FILING WILLS

Court House Officials Notified of Change in Provincial Legislation.

Court house officials have been notified of a change in provincial legislation under which crown fees will be calculated on the real property of estates as well as on the personal property. The new arrangement will in most cases mean increased charges on estates in connection with wills filed for probate and other legal procedure in connection with the transfer or bequeathing of property.

LUXURY TAX COLLECTOR HAS HIS OWN TROUBLES

T. G. Davis, collector of inland revenue at the local customs house, and his staff are having troubles all their own these days with regard to enforcement of the luxury taxation. The chief difficulty seems to be in obtaining correct returns from district merchants. This is not due to any attempts on their part to evade the issue but to ignorance of the correct methods of procedure on their part.

The bugbear of Collector Davis is the fact that the majority of the merchants in submitting affidavits as to their sales, instead of signing their own names sign that of the firm, which in some cases is a company or partnership. One merchant has had his affidavit returned to him three times within the last few days, and yet it is incorrectly made out.

Another difficulty is the fact that checks for taxes from the merchants are made payable to the wrong officials. Instead of being made in favor of the district collector of inland revenue, several have been received here payable to the minister of finance. However, a local bank has agreed to accept all such bona fide checks for payment, thus eliminating one great obstacle in the collection of the luxury tax. In the meantime the collector and his assistants continue to muddle through the returns in their own way, each doing his best.

When their services can be spared from the local customs houses two clerks will tour the district in autos in an effort to eliminate difficulties by explaining the correct methods of submitting returns to the merchants. This step has been authorized by the Government, and the two missionaries will hit the trail about July 2.

LOTS OF JOBS

Although Work Not as Plentiful as Some Time Ago, Says Government Bureau.

Although work is not as plentiful as it was some time ago, there are still enough jobs to go around, according to the officials of the provincial employment bureau, Dundas and Talbot streets. In addition to a demand for farm laborers, that the bureau can scarcely begin to supply, there are a number of felt and rubber workers required for factories in Kitchener and other Western Ontario towns, and a small number of men are being placed at various lines of work in local industrial plants and offices.

WAS CARRIED AWAY IN THE MOVING VAN

St. Catharines, June 24.—The police at Thorold have information to the effect that 6-year-old Katharine Beechman, who has been missing for over seven weeks, has been located in Buffalo, she having climbed into a moving van in Thorold unknown to the driver or assistants and made the trip to that city. At Buffalo the child was unable to give the address of her parents. The father has gone to Buffalo to investigate the story.

BISHOP FALLON SAYS ROTA DECISION IS QUITE SATISFACTORY

Repudiates Decision Which He Has Always Protested.

Windsor, June 24.—Commenting upon the decision of the Rota tribunal at Rome in connection with the suit in canon law brought against himself by five priests of this district, Bishop M. F. Fallon of the London Diocese, who is in Sandwich in connection with the retreat at Assumption College, made the following statement this afternoon:

"In 1913, certain priests of this diocese forwarded to Rome a declaration that Bishop Fallon had forbidden the teaching of French to the children of French-Canadians and preaching in French localities of that nationality.

"On learning of the existence of this document, which the signers supposed would be kept secret, I made every effort to have them either prove the charge or withdraw it and apologize for it.

"I failed in these endeavors and was obliged to institute proceedings in the diocesan court. I had to meet every form of evasion and subterfuge. It was claimed that the decision was confidential, that inasmuch as it had been filed in the supreme ecclesiastical court at Rome it was privileged, and that finally, my diocesan court was both incompetent and suspect.

"On the application of the priests concerned the case went to Rome to be tried on its merits. The late papal delegate, Mgr. Stagni, was appointed a commissioner by Rome and spent six weeks in Kent and Essex taking evidence. Every opportunity was given for the production of witnesses who might be able to substantiate the original accusations.

"The case has since followed its course in the supreme ecclesiastical tribunal at Rome, and its decision, which has just been announced, embodies the following points:

"(1) The statement to which I originally objected and which is at the bottom of the whole case, has been found untrue and has been ordered to be expunged from the legal acts.

"2. The claim that the document in question could be considered as either confidential or privileged is rejected.

"3. The competency of the diocesan tribunal of London is absolutely established.

"(4) There are two points of procedure upon which my diocesan tribunal and myself were adjudged irregular; these points are not essential and, considering the multiplicity of questions involved, I am surprised that our inexperience did not oftener lead us astray in matters of procedure.

"The decision of the Rota is entirely satisfactory to me. It repudiates the declaration against which I have always protested, and the circulation of which has been so unfair to myself and harmful to the interests confided to my care—namely, that I forbade at any time or place, directly or indirectly, the teaching of French or preaching in that language."

GERMAN GUNS FOR FEDERAL SQUARE

The four German guns, London's share of the war trophies, will be permanently located on the "Federal Square." When a new wcity hall is built, they will form a part of the ornamental scheme.

Mayor Little at first proposed that one of the guns should be located in each part of the city at Thames, Queen's and Victoria Parks, and the Federal Square. However, as there are many detachable parts on the cannon, which might prove a temptation to souvenir hunters, it was thought better to keep them at a central point, where they would be well guarded against vandalism.

TEN PER CENT OF LONDONERS HAVE FUEL SUPPLY IN Public Institutions Have Fair Supply On Hand.

Preliminary results of the fuel survey being conducted by J. W. McCallum are not encouraging. Coal dealers report that only about 10 per cent of their customers have been supplied for the coming winter. Supplies in the yards are not large, and new shipments are not moving any too freely over the railways.

Some public institutions and utilities have a fair supply on hand, but none of them are completely prepared for the winter.

With several months before a real demand for fuel is made, Mr. McCallum is hopeful that a considerable improvement in the situation can be effected.

"This part of the province does not seem to be so well supplied with coal as the eastern part is," said Mr. McCallum. "If we can give an accurate statement of the condition of affairs here it may help in getting bigger supplies."

DROVE AS IF HE WERE MAD

South London Grocer Gives Evidence in Speeding Case —A. W. Onn Fined $10.

Alfred W. Onn of this city was convicted in police court this morning on a charge of reckless driving on Tecumseh avenue on June 18 last and was fined $10 and costs. Onn pleaded not guilty to the charge, and the peculiar feature of the case is the fact that the conviction was registered on evidence given by two South London residents, the local police having nothing to do with the information laid against him.

M. Janes, a local grocer, testified in court that Onn drove down Tecumseh avenue "as if he were mad" in a yellow car on the night in question. He estimated his speed at 30 miles per hour. Mrs. W. R. Crawford informed the court that the yellow car was going like an express train. She could not recognize the driver or number of the car owing to its great speed. She further stated that she was greatly alarmed for the safety of the children and old people on the block.

Onn, in his defence, stated that he was not on the street at the time claimed by the witness. However, he stated that he knew Mr. Janes and there was not much likelihood of mistaken identity.

"You were fined a few days ago for speeding," said Magistrate Graydon to Onn. "If this keeps on I will have to increase the penalty or do something."

For breaches of the motor vehicles act, J. McLellan, W. J. Hopkins, J. A. Chivas, W. R. Deolin, S. H. Redding and J. Chiera were assessed $2 and costs. Breaking bylaws cost George H. Belton, B. Lewis, William Ferguson, Francis Westman, E. Gibbons and F. McCormick a two-spot each, while R. Lind and L. Silverstein contributed $5 and $1 for similar offences.

WESTMINSTER HOSPITAL BULLETIN

Deaths.

No. 512443, Ex-Pte. Sydney A. Ganney, died at this institution at 1.45 p.m. on June 17. Primary cause of death, general paralysis of the insane; immediate cause, paretic seizures. He enlisted with the C. A. S. C. at Toronto on March 15, 1916, and proceeded to England with that corps, remaining in England until July, 1917, when he was invalided back to Canada and was discharged January 12, 1918. He was buried in Mount Pleasant Cemetery (soldiers' plot) at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, the 19th inst.

New Patients.

Three new patients were admitted during the past week, two on transfer from Davisville Hospital, Toronto, and out-patient was readmitted.

One patient was released on parole.

The institution was visited by Col Shannon of Guelph on Thursday, the 17th inst.

The usual divine services were held at this institution at 3 p.m. Sunday. Rev. Mr. Pugsley, the unit chaplain, presided.

BYRON SANATORIUM NOTES.

The Sunday services were held as usual.

The ladies of the Red Cross visited each ward and gave the usual welcome comforts.

The orchestra gave an excellent concert in the infirmary on Wednesday, their efforts being much appreciated.

Many of the patients have small garden plots, and are very interested in their work.

The outdoor games are in constant use during the hours allowed for exercise.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Rogers and son, Leroy, of Salt Lake City, Utah, are visiting with Mr. Rogers' sister, Mrs. R. E. Sanders, Oxford street.

SHORT OF BREATH

Could Hardly Walk Without Resting.

When you go to a physician to be examined for any heart trouble one of the first questions he asks is: "Are you short of breath?"

Now, when the heart becomes affected there ensues a feeling of a choking sensation, a shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensation, dizziness and a weak, sinking, all-gone feeling of oppression and anxiety.

On the first sign of the heart becoming weakened or the nerves unstrung Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just the remedy you require. They regulate and stimulate the heart, and strengthen and restore the whole nerve system.

Mr. Stephen Crouse, East Clifford, N. S., writes: "I suffered for five years with heart trouble. I could hardly walk from the house to the barn without resting as I used to get so short of breath. Doctors could not help me. My wife told me to get a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and I felt better after taking them; three boxes made me quite well. I am now helping my son to work the farm, and can truthfully say I feel like a different man."

Price 50c a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ELMWOOD AND THISTLE PAIRS REACH FINALS

Two London Rinks Play This Afternoon in First Event Finals

Two London rinks battle this afternoon in the finals for the Free Press trophy, Laur and Bluett of the Thistles and Murray and Gordon of the Elmwoods. Two Elmwood clubs found their way into the semi-finals out of the fourth round play, but the Thistle finalists had little difficulty with Cornelius and Gidley, the other vanquished Elmwood rink.

Payne and Shannon, the Ottawa pair, made a tidy battle of their competition with Murray and Gordon, but were down in the final ends badly.

S. A. C. MAY ESTABLISH CHILDREN'S SHELTERS

Has Same Rights and Powers As Children's Aid Society.

E. H. Lance, secretary of the Soldiers' Aid Commission, is in receipt of an amendment to the Soldiers' Aid Commission act. The act is cited as the soldiers' children's protection act, and will come into force on the day upon which it receives the royal assent. The amendment to the act reads:

With respect to the child of any person who has served with His Majesty's forces or the forces of any of the allies of His Majesty in the late war, the Soldiers' Aid Commission shall have and may exercise and perform all the rights, powers and duties of a children's aid society as provided by the children's protection act.

The commission may establish children's shelters or homes for children coming under its care by virtue of this act, and may apply any of the funds of the commission for such purpose.

The Soldiers' Aid Commission may enter into an agreement with any person who served with His Majesty's forces or the forces of any of the allies of His Majesty in the late war, or who was the wife or husband of a person so serving before the cessation of hostilities, whereby the Soldiers' Aid Commission may accept the custody of any child or children of such applicant upon being satisfied that the circumstances of the applicant are such that the applicant is unable to properly maintain and care for such child or children.

JUNIOR FARMERS VISITING O. A. C.

R. A. Finn, B. S. A., in Charge of Party.

London District Junior Farmers' Improvement Association is holding a tour to Guelph Experimental Farm today and tomorrow, and will also visit a number of leading farms in the intervening territory. Roscoe A. Finn, B.S.A., and J. J. E. McCague of the county department of agriculture are accompanying the party.

The first stop was made this afternoon at the Ayrshire stock farm of David A. Ashworth, concession 15, London Township, where an auction sale was held. They will also visit the farm of J. J. Elliott in Wellington County. They will visit the experimental farm at Guelph tomorrow morning, and will have luncheon there at noon, returning to London tomorrow evening.

ST. RY. MEN TO HOLD MEETING TONIGHT

Present Working Conditions To Be Fully Discussed.

Something definite as to the feeling of street railway employees regarding the agreement under which they are now working will be learned at the regular meeting of their union tonight and Friday afternoon. The men employed on the day shifts will meet tonight, and in addition to other union business will discuss present working conditions. No information concerning this meeting will be given out until the night men have had a meeting on Friday afternoon.

STANDARD STOCK EXCHANGE.

Toronto, June 24.—A considerably stronger feeling was indicated in the list on the Standard Mining Exchange this morning, particularly among the gold stocks, which are expected to show a great improvement in the near future. Lake Shore and Kirkland Lake, both of which are likely to again develop a record output shortly, maintained steady levels. Lake Shore sold at 117 and Kirkland Lake at 18½. Keora remained unchanged, maintaining yesterday's closing quotation of 18¾.

In the silvers Trethewey sold up a half point to 36. Beaver was quoted at 42½. Petrol Oil at 139 was a shade easier. Sales approximated 33,760 shares.

FUEL CONTROLLER MAY TAKE UP THE GAS QUESTION

Matter Will Be Decided After Books Examined.

An appeal to the fuel controller of the province to take up the matter of gas prices in London may be made when city auditors have completed their examination of the company's books. Members of the special committee of the city council dealing with the gas question will make a further investigation of this possibility.

Under the companies act of the Province of Ontario, appeal can be made to the lieutenant-governor of the province to deal with rates. Unless this clause is overriden by some special act, it is possible that in this case he could authorize an increase in gas rates if a united request to this effect was made by the city, the company and the fuel controller after a careful investigation of the necessity of such an increase had been made.

ABDUL HAMEED IS LECTURED BY COURT

Ignores Summons To Appear As Witness in O. T. A. Case.

Because Abdul Hameed, a material witness in the case, failed to answer a summons served on him, the charges against Henry Left and Meyers Gootson of this city, alleging breaches of the Ontario Temperance act, were not heard in police court this morning.

A constable was sent out to locate Hameed, but the court could not wait for him, and accordingly the case was enlarged until Friday. Hameed was later brought into court and given a lecture by Magistrate Graydon for ignoring the summons.
