IMMENSE EXPORTS CARRY WHEAT UP

European Demand Grows Urgent—U.S. Receipts Fell—Corn Goes Higher.

Canadian Press Despatch.

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—Immense exports carried the wheat market today sharply upward. Closing prices were strong, 3-4 to 1 3-4c above last night. Other leading staples, too, all scored a net gain—corn 3-4 to 1c, oats 3-8 to 3-4c and provisions 5c to 10c.

It was apparent from the start that sentiment in the wheat trade had turned against the bears. Signs were discovered early that business with foreigners was of much larger proportions than had been reported and that contrary to popular belief the European demand instead of being diminished by German naval exploits had suddenly grown extremely urgent. Anxiety to purchase for export however, showed the greatest increase of force immediately after announcement was made that for the first time this season, primary receipts in the U.S. had fallen below the total at the corresponding time a year ago.

Exporters Very Busy.

Notwithstanding that the government report on winter wheat acreage and condition was regarded as somewhat bearish, the acreage exceeding what had been looked for, the market at no time suffered any important set back. Virtually all other influences were lost sight of in view of huge seaboard clearances and because of advices of unusual activity of exporters not only here but at Kansas City, St. Louis and Omaha and in the east as well.

Corn swept high with wheat. Besides, receipts were smaller and there was an improved call from feeders, the result of cold weather. Offerings to Europe were all accepted, about 250,000 bushels. The strength of other grain spread to oats. Sales to the seaboard aggregated 400,000 bushels.
