it in gold letters, Thomas Warner, Esq., confidential. On Mr. W.'s return, he proceeded to open the box in the presence of his family, when perceiving a blue and yellow flame arising from it, he, with great presence of mind, told his family to leave the room, which they had no sooner done than an explosion took place which shook the whole building and did serious damage to the same. The ceiling was blown upwards 6 inches. One of the pictures in the room was perforated with two balls. The box was made of mahogany, and on the inside was found a surface of sand opposite to blue loco foco matches, powder and other combustibles. A reward of $1000 has been offered for the discovery of the dastardly offender.

James Peake, Esq., of P. E. Island, has purchased a Steamboat in England for the purpose of plying between Charlotte Town and Pictou.

Communication.

[FOR THE OBSERVER.]

MR. EDITOR.—In looking over the late Clearances at this port I observed that of the "DUNDONALD," Captain Wright, for Liverpool, than which I believe a finer Ship has never left this port.

The very flattering observations made in your paper respecting this noble vessel at the time of her launch, induced me with many others to inspect minutely the materials, fastenings, and workmanship throughout, all which I am happy to say most fully justified your remarks and exceeded our anticipations, and have more firmly established the character of the Messrs. WRIGHT, for their superior taste in modelling, workmanlike finish, and symmetrical sparring of their ships. Her tonnage is 1170 tons, O. M., and the Cargo now on board is equal to 2200 tons Timber, which is a large proportion to her register; and there is no doubt as to her superior sailing qualifications.

Surely if this Ship were carefully examined by the Inspectors in Liverpool, and their opinion given free of prejudice for their own country built vessels, it might have the effect of discontinuing the antipathy to Colonial Shipping, in the classification of which too little discrimination has been heretofore exercised, for what advantage can the owners of such a ship derive under present regulations, when almost, if not all of those sent home, are classed A. 1. for four years, (which I believe is all this Ship will now stand) many of which are no more to be compared to the "Dundonald," than the light of a taper to the blaze of the noon-day sun.

I hope you will pardon the liberty I have taken in thus occupying a part of your columns, but as a well wisher to all enterprising individuals, and particularly so to those engaged in Domestic Manufactures, I hope this communication may be noticed and due attention given to the inspection of this Ship in Liverpool, and a certificate of her superiority given accordingly.

Your's respectfully,
A MERCHANT.

FROM THE OLD DOMINION.

Waynesborough, Augusta County, Virginia, March 19th, 1847.

Dr. Fowle:—During the past year, my daughter was sick with a fever about two or three months; this left her in a low and feeble state; she then was attacked with a most violent and severe cough, raised daily large quantities of very bad corrupted matter accompanied with considerable blood. She was afflicted with great pain in the side and breast—this continued for several months, until she was reduced almost to a skeleton. During this time she was under the care of good and skilful physicians, who done their best, but did not remove the symptoms, which appeared to be fatal Consumption, and which threatened every day to carry her off. At last, a friend who had been afflicted with a very bad cough for several years, told me he was effectually cured with Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and recommended my daughter to try it. She did so, and when she had taken a single bottle, she began to improve. I then told her physician that my daughter was using Wistar's Balsam. He replied, very well, I think it a good preparation—keep on, it will not hurt her—she continued to use it until she was restored to good health. I believe it saved my daughter's life, and do not hesitate to recommend others, who are afflicted as my daughter was, to try it.
