WEDDINGS

Kennedy-Keenan.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Peter's church Monday morning at 5 o'clock, when Miss Annie Keenan, youngest daughter of James Keenan, of Metcalf street, was united in matrimony with Leo Kennedy, of Alma street. Rev. A. J. Duke, C. SS. R., performed the ceremony. The bride was given away by her father. She made a charming appearance in a princess gown of cream serge, with a cream mohair hat with ostrich feathers, and carrying a shower bouquet of cream roses. Miss Alice Smyth was bridesmaid. She wore a resada green silk gown and cream picture hat, and carried a bouquet of carnations. Louis Bowes was groomsman.

Among the numerous presents received by the happy couple was a handsome dining room set from the employes of C. & E. Everett, Ltd., where both bride and groom were employed. The groom's present to the bride was a locket and chain.

Newcombe-Snider.

The home of Capt. John Livingston, 67 Murray street, was the scene of a pretty wedding Monday, when Capt. Herbert Newcombe, of Parrsboro, was united in marriage to Miss Agnes Snider, of Lorneville. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. J. J. McCaskill. The bride was attended by Miss Jessie Galbraith, of Lorneville. The happy couple received a large number of beautiful and costly gifts, which go to show the esteem and popularity in which they were held. Mr. and Mrs. Newcombe will make their future home in Rhode Island.

ALL ALONE.

(The Wasp.)

An amusing story about Mr. Roosevelt has just become public after many years. Doing the honors at the White House to an English guest, the president regaled the latter with stories of his prowess during the Spanish American war. Kermit, who had been listening attentively to the monologue, finally broke in with the anxious query:

"Say, popper, couldn't you get anybody to help you lick the Spaniards?"

THREE-YEAR-OLD SON OF J. M. ROBINSON BADLY INJURED

Fell from Second Story Window to Pavement Below—Doctor Has Hopes for His Recovery.

As a result of falling from a second story window, the three year old son of J. M. Robinson, 70 Leinster street, had a narrow escape from meeting with almost instantaneous death Saturday evening. The lad was picked up in an unconscious condition badly bruised about the head and grave fears are still held out for his recovery. How the boy came to fall is almost a mystery for the nurse who had him in charge had only left him about two minutes before the time of the accident and then he was out of harm's way. It is believed that the boy, had it not been for a pile of sand which covered the pavement on which he struck when falling, would have been killed. Dr. Thomas Walker was called to the house and worked over the child for about an hour before restoring consciousness. Dr. Walker said last evening that unless some serious complications set in he had hopes that the child would recover.

MR. PENDER'S INVENTION AN IMPORTANT ONE

James Pender left last evening for Montreal. Mr. Pender is making the trip in connection with the patenting of an invention of his own developing which has now been put through most of the preliminaries necessary for its protection. It is an improvement upon the present process of manufacturing wire nails, which Mr. Pender believes will be of great benefit to the art. It is to be patented in Great Britain and in the United States, but until its protection is complete the inventor does not care to make its nature known in any degree.

DON'T FEED A COLD!

A Pernicious Proverb. The Real Facts in the Case.

One of the commonest of English proverbs is, "Feed a cold and starve a fever,"—advice which has helped fill many a churchyard.

The fallacy lies in assuming that a cold and a fever are different. As a matter of fact, a cold is a fever.

When the organs of elimination, especially the bowels, lungs and skin, become congested or clogged, a "cold" with increased temperature results. The poisons accumulate and the familiar symptoms are felt. A similar effect is produced by infection, or "catching" a cold.

Father Morriscy's method was to stimulate the organs to do their duty, without giving them extra work by overeating. The good priest-physician believed in assisting Nature to cure.

His famous prescription, No. 10, or Lung Tonic, may now be procured anywhere in Quebec or the Maritime Provinces. This Lung Tonic is made of Nature's own roots and herbs, and contains no opium or other dangerous drugs. Take it in time, hasten recovery, and build up the system against future attacks.
