Poetry.

FORGET NOT THE DEAD.

Forget not the dead, who have lov'd, who have left us,
Who bend o'er us now, from their bright home
above;
Not believe, never doubt, that the God who
bereft us,
Permits them to mingle with friends they still love.
Repeat their fond words, all their noble deeds
cherish,
Speak pleasantly of them who left us in tears;
From our lips their dear names other joys should
not perish,
While time bears our feet through the valley of tears.

Dear friends of our youth! can we cease to remember
The last look of life, and the low whispered prayer?
Oh! cold must our hearts be as ice of December,
When love's tablets record no remembrances
there.
Then forget not the dead who are evermore
nigh us,
Still floating sometimes to our dream-haunted bed
In the loneliest hour—in the crowd, they are by us:
Forget not the dead—Oh! forget not the dead.

Poetic Legal Questions—By John G. Saxe.

"If in a shindy or a fight
Dick Roe had turned the tables,
And eke should tear a piece from out
John Doe's un-men-tion-a-bless—
Quere—in such a case as that,
What course to go upon?
Should John bring suit against Dick Roe,
Or Dick bring suit to John;
Or if compelled to sue Dick Roe,
Say what the New Code treaches,
Should John sue Dick for a breach of the peace,
Or for a piece of the breeches?"

A MARRIAGE IN FUN.—A correspondent writes us from Center Harbor as follows:—

"A few evenings since at the Center House, while all the boarders were in the parlor, a young gentleman who has been "flirting" about with a sweet damsel who was a domestic in the House, came into the parlor and requested Esq. T——— to marry them in fun. The Esquire performed the ceremonies and proceeded to his office where he recorded the marriage on his books. Soon the parties found the affair was no joke, and the young husband—only 17 years old—began to grow dissatisfied and tried to get his neck from the matrimonial noose—but the "silken cord" was not to be broken—"the knot" could not be slipped—the wife "held him to his bargain" but after mature consideration, it was agreed to let the matter rest, for awhile at least, and mean time the joys of wedlock were to be experienced only in a glorious state of anticipation."

The first case under the new Fugitive Slave Law occurred in New York on Friday. No attempt was made to defeat the ends of the law or rescue the slave, who was carried off by order of the Commissioner before whom the examination was held.

"What's the matter with your veal?" said a nasal-voiced yankee to a street butcher, the other morning; "what makes it look so blue? Didn't die, did it?" "No," said the other, "it didn't die zactly, it kind o' gin out!"

Never get angry—it does no good, and often results in great injury.

The undersigned has spent several years in the study of Veterinary practice in "London and Edinboro'," he has also availed himself of the researches of Liebig, and other celebrated men, who have contributed so much towards a judicious treatment of animals; the principles of our practice consists of the rejection of general bleeding and the total rejection of all medicines that experience has shown is be of a dangerous tendancy These remedies are in harmony with the vital principle, and when given according to the directions which accompany each article they are capable of exciting and increasing the natural functions, without diminishing or destroying their power, hence are safe in the hands of every one.

With FORTY Coloured Engravings, illustrating the Anatomy, Physiology, and Diseases of the Reproductive Organs, explaining their structure, uses and functions, and the various injuries that are produced in them "by solitary habits and excesses, and infection."

By Samuel La'Mert, M. D.

No. 37, BEDFORD SQUARE, LONDON.

Doctor of Medicine, Matricular Member of the University of Edinburgh, Licentiate of Apothecaries' Hall, London, Honorary Member of the London Hospital, Medical Society, &c.

CHAPTER II.—On the Anatomy and Physiology the Generative Organs, their functions, structures, and secret uses, proving that great Mental and Physical Power are dependant on their healthy action.
CHAPTER III.—On solitary Habits; their various effects on the Animal Economy; the concealed cause of Debility of the functions of the Stomach, Lungs, and Brain, and general Weakness of the Mental Faculties.
CHAPTER IV.—On the Secret Disorders of Youth and Maturity, and the Treatment of Nervous and Local Weakness, Mental Debility, and Premature Decay.

REVIEW OF THE WORK.

Marriage requires the fulfilment of several conditions, in order that it may be really the cause of mutual happiness. Could the veil, which covers the origin of domestic wretchedness, be raised and its true source in every instance disclosed, in how many could it be traced to physical disqualifications and their attendant disappointments. Excesses are always injurious; the gift, which when used in moderation is fraught with advantage, becomes, when abused, the prolific source of mischief, and of greater or less injury to the constitution and vital powers. The particular excesses, on the nature and consequences of which this Treatise professes to dilate, are productive of greater misery to the human frame, than any other to which it is subject.

This Work contains an accurate and complete account of the Anatomy and Physiology of the Reproductive Organs, and of their relative conditions in health and disease. Not are these the sole contents of the Work, the means of escape, as well as the nature of the danger are pointed out in clear and intelligible language. It deservedly requires the closest attention and study, for what subject can be of more importance than the preservation of health, and the physicial capabilities of which every man should be possessed. It unfortunately happens that the unhappy victim of excesses indulgence and vicious habits, whether acquired in early life, or from the follies of advanced age, while suffering from their invariable consequences, unwisely entertains a fear of applying to the qualified physician for relief. Shame and the dread so frequently but erroneously entertained that these complaints are beyond the reach of art, alike restrict him, and prevent his seeking for assistance where alone it can be procured. In acting thus, he forgets that actuate discrimination in ascertaining the causes of disease, sympathy with the sufferer, and above all, secrecy, invariably characterize the intelligent and practical physician and to the medical man, who can show by his possession of the requisite legal qualification that he is entitled to esteem and respect in his professional pursuits the utmost confidence should be extended. DR. LA'MERT has obtained the highest medical honours, as his diploma is testify, and the great extent of his practice for many years is a guarantee for his professional experience, which has reference almost solely to the treatment of these diseases.

The work may be had in St. John, of H. Chubb & Co. price 2s 6d. stg.; Halifax, Messrs. Mott on & Co.; Quebec, Mr. Neilson.

In drawing attention now, at the commencement of the Spring Trade, to our Large Establishment.

Corner of King and Cross Streets.

we wish briefly to enumerate the advantages which we offer to our Customers and the Public. We have always studiously avoided claiming to ourselves any power of Selling at thirty or forty per cent. under others in the trade, but simply rested our claims on our extensive experience—buying our Goods direct from the best Manufacturers at Cash prices.

In commencing the Clothing Business some time ago, in St. John, in addition to our large Custom Trade, we introduced a scale of prices little known previously to the respectable class of the public; this we were enabled to do, by entirely rejecting the long credit system, and supplying first rate articles at a moderate scale of Profit for cash.

Our theory has invariably been, that improvements can always be introduced. This year we endeavour to do better than last.

PRICES THE LOWEST—QUALITY THE BEST—AND WORKMEN SUPERIOR.

And by thus continuing to progress during the few years we have been in business, we apprehend we have now brought our business to a point surpassed by none.

The superiority of our style of Cutting is well known. The newest Paris and London Styles are introduced as early as in New York or Boston, and every improvement is at once adopted. In alluding to the large Stock of Clothes in our Establishment, we may merely state that it comprises the best assortment of FRENCH and GERMAN TWILLED CLOTHS, and DOE-SKINS, of every shade and colour to be found.

Having thus alluded to the general arrangement of our business, as far as regards the Order Department, we wish particularly to draw attention to the other very large and increasing branch of our business, viz:

THE EXTENSIVE READY MADE DEPARTMENT.

Of this branch, we may say that every article in our Establishment is made up as carefully as if ordered. No workman is too good to be employed by us. We make all description of Garments, up to the highest priced COATS, Numbers have proved and acknowledged the value of being at once fitted.

Some idea may be formed of the system pursued, when we state that in Coats we keep thirty six sizes, so that all shades and heights may feel a certainty of being fitted.

To enumerate the varied Stock would far exceed the limits of an advertisement, but our customers will find on visiting the

PANTECHNETHECA,
Corner of King and Cross Streets, that all their expectations will be fully realized.
