LAST NIGHT'S WAR CABLES

London, Nov. 8—The press and public were largely occupied today with the American note, which has been the subject of more discussion than any diplomatic question for many months. The foreign office has already given it very careful consideration, but it has not yet been before the cabinet, and probably it will be a fortnight or more before a reply can be prepared. For the moment the note has even overshadowed the near eastern situation, and Earl Kitchener's proposed visit to that theatre of operations. Beyond the fact that Lord Kitchener has departed for his destination there is little news from the Allied side respecting Balkan affairs.

The Austro-Germans have succeeded in crossing the Morava river in Serbia, and General Von Gallwitz has occupied Krusevac, one of Serbia's largest towns, about thirty miles due northwest of Nish. The fall of Krusevac means that the branch railway line to Ushitza near the Bosnian frontier, has been broken by the invaders close to the point where it leaves the main Belgrade-Nish, Saloniki line. A large number of prisoners, ten guns and a lot of war material fell into German hands, according to their account.

MONTENEGRINS WIN ANOTHER VICTORY.

The Bulgarians also are advancing from the east, but in the west the Montenegrins claim to have inflicted another defeat on the Austrians. The Austrians are said to be concentrating a force of 120,000 men in Herzegovina for an invasion of Montenegro.

The Russians continue their attacks in Courland, Volyhnia and Galicia and while they report some successes they are apparently not making any attempt to advance. According to Petrograd correspondents, there is no intention of such an attempt the present object of the attackr being to harass the Austro-Germans and prevent them from preparing positions for the winter.

The Italians captured the Col Di Lana, and after a charge through the snow hoisted the Italian flag on the summit. The Austrian war office admits that the Col Di Lana was taken by the Italians but declares that counter-attacks by the Austrians resulted in its recapture.

There has been no action of importance on the western front.

Submarines are becoming more active. The British have sunk in the Baltic the German cruiser Undine, which was escorting a German ferry steamer, and now all the German ships in that sea are under heavy convoy. In the Mediterranean the Germans have sunk several steamers, including the British boarding steamer Tara.

TRUSTEES RECOMMEND NEW NORTH END SCHOOL

Committee Reports Serious Overcrowding in West and North Ends—Classes in the Assembly Halls

A special committee reported to the monthly meeting of the Board of School Trustees last evening that the buildings in the north and west ends are seriously overcrowded and strongly recommend the erection of another building in the vicinity of the present Newman street school, North End. In La Tour and Albert schools in the West Side and Dufferin and Alexandra in the North End, and each teacher has an average of fifty pupils and extra classes are accommodated in the assembly halls; Newman street school also is crowded to fullest capacity.

Miss Muriel A. Seely, A. Hogan and M. Stone applied for positions on the teaching staff. Miss Mary R. Mitchell was given leave on account of illness.

Owing to the lateness of the season no action was taken on tenders for painting La Tour school. Repairs to the retaining wall at Alexandra school were referred to the building committee.

The Playgrounds Association was given permission to use the High School assembly room for a lecture on payment of $2 expenses.

Thomas Lewis was appointed janitor of Victoria annex.

Superintendent Bridges was given authority to arrange for instruction of deaf pupils in the manual training work.

INVESTIGATING DEATH OF STANLEY AKERLEY

An inquest was begun at the Narrows yetserday by Coroner S. C. Perry into the death of Stanley Akerley, whose body was found last Saturday morning at the edge of a wood pierced by a rifle bullet. Several witnesses were examined but hearing was adjourned until November 22. The opinion was that the coroner arranged the adjournment for the purpose of consulting provincial authorities regarding action in the case should present suspicions too well founded.

Those who gave testimony yesterday included Mrs. Stanley Akerley, wife of the deceased, Elias Thorne, who was with her at the time the body was discovered, and Otty Thorne and others.

COMPANY OF INDIANS IN NEW BATTALION

Ottawa, Nov. 9—Some additional battalions to be raised under the new recruiting scheme of the Minister of Militia are announced by Sir Sam Hughes. It was also stated that one company of a new regiment to be raised in Haldimand, Ont., by Col. Baxter was to be truly representative of Canada, in that it will be composed of 250 full-blooded Indians.

TURN OVER TIME.

When Nature Hints About the Food.

When there's no relish to food and all that one eats doesn't seem to do any good then it is the time to make a turn-over in the diet, for that's Nature's way of dropping a hint that the food isn't the kind required.

"For a number of years I followed railroad work, much of it being office work of a trying nature. Meal times were our busiest; and eating too much and too quickly of food such as is commonly served in hotels and restaurants, together with the sedentary habits, were not long in giving me dyspepsia and stomach trouble which reduced my weight from 205 to 160 pounds.

"There was little relish in any food and none of it seemed to do me any good. It seemed the more I ate the poorer I got and was always hungry before another meal, no matter how much I had eaten.

"Then I commenced a trial of Grape-Nuts food, and was surprised how a small saucer of it would carry me along, strong and with satisfied appetite, until the next meal, with no sensations of hunger, weakness or distress as before.

"I have been following this diet now for several months and my improvement has been so great all the others in my family have taken up the use of Grape-Nuts with complete satisfaction and much improvement in health.

"Most people eat hurriedly, have lots of worry, thus hindering digestion and therefore need a food that is predigested and concentrated in nourishment."

"There's a Reason."

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Bring Back its Color and Lustre With Grandma's Sage Tea Receipe

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, at drug-stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

TO PUBLISH DIARY OF AVIATOR PEGOUD

Was Lost in Clouds Over Germany, Dec. 27, and Nearly Out of Gasoline

Paris, Oct. 20 — (Correspondence — Friends of Pegoud, a French aviator, are planning to make a permanent record of his services to aviation by publishing his diary, which contains a minute and characteristic chronicle of his daily work. His activity, as shown by his diary, was extraordinary.

In the month of August, for example, there were eleven days of rain and two days when he was prevented from flying by accidents to his machine. On the other eighteen days he chased twenty-one German machines, fought two "pitched battles" in the air and made more than a score of reconnaisances.

A characteristic bit from the diary is published in the Paris Journal, describing Pegoud's journey of December 27, when he lost his way and nearly ran out of petrol in the enemy's country. The airman writes:

"Weather cloudy. Morning observation at Verdun. No Boche aeroplane about; 13.20, leave with eight shells for Nantillois. At 4,200 feet over Bras I get into clouds. Fog and rain continue over Nantillois. More than beastly. My machine in all positions. Can see nothing. Am continually wiping my glasses; compass jammed.

"After 1½ hours of all sorts of worry, dive to get my position. I notice, 1,800 feet under the clouds, a fine captive balloon and drop my eight bombs. General panic in the company. Several guns are fired at me; I rise up into the fog. Lost again. Dive down to see and continue fight at 3,000 feet. Up again among the clouds and dive down to 2,400 feet.

"I steady the machine and compass and take the direction southwest. I have an hour's petrol left. Swearing like a pickpocket. It's the limit. I don't know where I am and am fired at. I am 2,400 feet up. Up into the clouds. Down again. Note a rather large station. Am shot at. Up into the clouds again. Dive twenty-six minutes later and am again over the station. I'm like a roaring wild beast. Only fifteen quarts of petrol left. Don't know where I am. Am shot at. I make up my mind and am going to fly under the clouds at 2,400 feet southwest, till petrol gives out, despite shots.

"I note a village far off, and as I get nearer recognize Etain. I can use my lungs to breathe now. Saved! Good Heavens, to think how mad I have been with rage. I dive with the motor at full speed. The wind is in my nose. I keep on wiping the glasses, and break one, case and all. Pass over Etain at 1,450 feet, still diving, with motor at full speed.

"Reach Verdun in fog at 150 feet, and get hail and rain. Can see nothing. One of my eyes is hurting badly. I can breathe now, with my face to the wind, and take in lungfuls of air. But I think how I have cursed. Another lesson for me, and I shall keep my eyes open more than ever.

"Report made at once. Captain astonished, and boasts about it to other officers, and makes his report. Food. At my ease, very pleased to be by the fireside at Verdun. Smoke several pipes, which are excellent. Bed."

Fifty grand prizes in the patriotic drawing.

GIRLS! TRY IT! HAVE THICK, WAVY, BEAUTIFUL HAIR

Every Particle of Dandruff Disappears and Hair Stops Coming Out

Draw a Moist Cloth Through Hair and Double Its Beauty at Once

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Dahderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for prettty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any druggist or toilet counter, and just try it.

Save your hair! Beautify it! You will say this was the best 25 cents you ever spent.

HAD PLANNED TO INVADE MEXICO

Gen. Orozeco's Cousin, Now Under Arrest in Texas, Gives Details of Huerta Conspiracy

El Paso, Nov. 9—Col. Jose Orozco, cousin, and aide-de-camp for General Pascual Orozco, made a confession to United States District Attorney R. E. Crawford regarding the full details of the plot which he says General Victoriano Huerta formed to invade Mexico from the United States, establish his provisional capital in Juarez and to march on Mexico city.

The confession followed the arrest and conviction of Col. Orozco on a neutrality charge. He is now in the county jail awaiting departure for Leavenworth Prison to serve eighteen months on a charge of violating the neutrality laws, and his confession is said to have followed the refusal of prominent local Huertistas to make bond for him pending his appeal. According to the confession, the plot for the invasion of Mexico at Juarez, the capture of the village garrison and the declaration of General Huerta as provisional president, originated while Huerta was in New York after his return from Spain. The Church is said by Orozco to have been concerned in the financing of this revolution. According to the report of Orozco's confession, which became known today, he was given $11,000,000 in gold with which to buy elements and to pay men for the revolution. General Pascual Orozco, who was arrested ot the same time that General Huerta, was selected as the commander-in-chief, and General Jose Ynez Salizer, now in jail at Sante Fe, N. M., was to have been second in command.

Col. Orozco, according to the report of his confession, was to organize the troops, equip them from among the refugees on this side and send them against Juarez from the American side. He admits having armed 200 of these men with a part of the first shipment of six thousand rifles which were sent here together with ten million rounds of ammunition, sixty machine guns and unlimited supplies. A part of the men had met at a ranch near Juarez to organize and were only awaiting the arrival of Orozco. Col. Orozco is said to have declared to move on the Mexican town.

The arrest of Orozco and Huerta spoiled the plan and it was never sufficiently revived to make it operative.

Some prominent civil officials here, in San Antonio and in New York, are declared to be implicated in the Huerta plot and to have arranged for the financing and for the equipment of the invading army.

Felix Diaz, former associate of Huerta, was also mentioned as one of the men concerned in the plot in an indirect way, but is said to have had only a minor part in the affair, as Pascal, Orozco, Huerta and Salazar were to have carried out the plans. A large part of the rifles, a quantity of the ammunition and several steel pieces, said to belong to Huerta have been located here.

Indictments are expected to follow here and at San Antonio, besides New York, as soon as the confession can be corroborated. It has created a sensation on the border, and some of the most prominent officials in the southwest and east are said to be implicated in the widespread plot.

An Imperial pass for a year is one of the prizes in the patriotic drawing.
