YOUTH RUNS WILD WITH RIFLE AND SHOT GUN

Shoots Cow, Then Begins to Pepper Away at Members of a Household—Arrested and Held Pending Examination as to His Sanity.

Special to The Standard.

Woodstock, N. B., June 3. — The banks, schools, public offices and a few manufacturing plants were closed today in honor of the King's Birthday. A large number of baseball fans saw an interesting ball game in Connell Park in the afternoon between McAdam and Woodstock, the latter winning by a score of 4 to 3. The local team was composed of only boys who had been overseas. The line-up for Woodstock follows:

Hayden, c.; McGibbon, p.; Jones, 1b.; Manzer, 2b.; Ryan, 3b.; McManus, s. s.; Faulkner, r. f.; Buck, c. f.; Tompkins, l. f.

The battery for McAdam was Harris and Miller.

George Tisdale, an English lad 18 years old, who has been living with Guy Hall at Bedell for five years, created great excitement in that neighborhood this morning. At seven o'clock he armed himself with a shotgun and a 22-calibre rifle, and, after shooting a cow, he kept firing into the Hall residence whenever he saw any of the family to shoot at. Luckily none of the shots took effect on the inmates. Officers from Woodstock arrested him about one o'clock, and he is now in Woodstock jail awaiting a nexamination by a doctor.

RUSSIAN PAPER OF NEW YORK HITS AT BOLSHEVIKI

New York, June 2.—The Russkoye Sieve publishes this morning a special article by Nicholas Tchaikovsky, President of the Archangel government. The article is entitled, "To My American Friends from an Old Russian Revolutionary, Socialist and Democrat." It was written in Paris, and was brought to this country by the editor of the Russkoye Sieve, Leo Pasvolsky, who has recently returned from Europe. After contrasting Bolshevism with Teutonism, the two great foes of mankind and of civilization, Mr. Tchelkovsky gives the following picture of the results of Bolshevism in Russia:

"A year and a half of the Bolshevist regime in Russia has demonstrated clearly what can be the result of the introduction of communism by violence and sheer force. It has led to the cessation of all free group life; the dying out of all creative initiative in industrial labor and in agriculture; the wasting and the destruction of all material and spiritual values accumulated in the course of centuries, and the killing off of whole generations of educated and cultured men; starvation; the lowering of all standards of life; the return to savagery; the disappearance underground of all that is bright and hopeful. In short, a return to the mediaeval cultural deserts of the worst epoch. And there is no doubt that any forcible social revolutier of this kind must lead to precisely the same results.

"It is time for the proletariat of the whole world to ask itself seriously whether such a 'social revolution' is really what the working class needs. In its haughty madness the Bolshevist social revolution robs the workingman of what he enjoys even under the capitalistic regime—the opportunity to apply his creative ability to the needs of life; it dooms whole generations to misery and death through starvation.

"The workingmen of the world must choose today between a 'social revolution' of the kind that brings starvation and the abridgement of liberty on the one hand, and, on the other, democratic freedom with the introduction of social reform as experience warrants it and with the participation of representatives of the laboring population in the management of the economic and political life of the country."

Best Home Treatment for All Hairy Growths

(The Modern Beauty)

Every woman should have a small package of delatone handy, for its timely use will keep the skin free from beauty-marring hairy growths. To remove hair or fuzz, make a thick paste with some of the powdered delatone and water. Apply to hairy surface and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be free from hair or blemish. To avoid disappointment, be sure you get real delatone.

Bad Complexions Peeled Off At Home

The girl with the poor complexion complains, "I have to touch up my cheeks. I am sallow and a sight, and only my makeup saves me."

Now, as a matter of fact, more women spoil their good looks than improve them with cosmetics. The practice certainly is unnecessary, now that the virtues of ordinary mercolized wax as a beautifier have become known. It has been found that the wax has wonderful absorbent powers. It causes the faded or discolored scarf skin to flake off in minute, almost imperceptible particles, so gently, gradually, as to cause no inconvenience at all. In this way the old complexion is actually removed—literally all fine lines, freckles, pimples, blotches, moth patches and other surface defects. A new complexion appears—a clear, smooth, youthful, healthy-hued skin such as no paint, powder or cream can produce. Mercolized wax, to be had at any drug store in convenient size package, is applied like cold cream and allowed to remain on over night.

MISSIONARIES URGE TURKISH MANDATE ON UNITED STATES

British Want Sultan in Constantinople and Investigation Commission Halts.

Paris, June 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Henry Churchill King started today for Constantinople to join Charles R. Crane, the other member of the American section of the Inter-Allied Commission to Investigate Conditions in the Near East, and will proceed to Smyrna and other points in Asia Minor. The French and British members are still in Paris and there is nothing to indicate when they and the Italian members will go to Smyrna. Apparently there is not complete agreement among the Allies as to the desirability of such a mission, despite the fact that the French, British and Italian delegations in Paris gave their approval to the plan several weeks ago.

Italian and Greek military activities in Asia Minor have focussed attention on that section of the world and the failure of the Entente to agree on any disposition of Turkey which does not intrust Constantinople and Armenia to the United States has caused the possibility of America's acceptance of the mandate to be one of the most widely discussed subjects in conference circles.

Henry Morgenthau, former American Ambassador to Turkey, and other American experts on the Near East now in Paris, including representatives of Robert College and other missionary interests, favor acceptance of the mandate for Constantinople, Armenia and Anatolia by the United States on condition that the Sultan be transferred to some point in Asia Minor.

This plan is not accepted by the British who for political and religious reasons wish the Sultan to remain in Constantinople, and they show no disposition to change their views. Armenia has been so badly devastated that it is argued by advocates of United States participating in Near Eastern affairs that it would be almost impossible to restore it without connecting it up with part of Anatolia and Constantinople, thus giving Constantinople considerable territory which would support it and on the other hand giving Armenia and Anatolia the benefit of a well established capital and commercial centre.

Years of effort and expenditure will be required to restore Armenia, in the opinion of Near Eastern experts, but they have great faith in the results which would be achieved by giving the Armenians modern agricultural implements and teaching them modern farming methods.

TOURIST, GAME AND RESOURCES ASSOCIATION CONVENTION

The All New Brunswick Boosters Got Away to Fine Start Yesterday—Many Visiting Delegates in Attendance—Committees Appointed—Constitution and By-Laws Adopted—Splendid Addresses Delivered During the Afternoon.

The "All New Brunswick" Tourist, Game and Resources Association got away to a fine start yesterday and an organization came into existance, which, judging from the enthusiasm shown at the meetings will place this province on the map in a way never before dreamed of. The organization elected as the first president F. B. Edgecombe of Fredericton, and decided to hold the next annual session at Dalhousie on June 22, 1920. The morning was devoted to organization and in the afternoon a large audience enjoyed some magnificent views of New Brunswick. The meetings were held at the Imperial Theatre, which had been placed at the disposal of the committee by the management. The theatre was nicely decorated for the occasion and had welcome signs out to greet the visitors. This morning at ten o'clock the delegates will meet at the Imperial and be the guests of the New Brunswick Automobile Association, who will drive them around the city. At noon they will be the guests of the St. John Power Boat Club at luncheon and later a sail on the river.

Morning Session.

E. A. Schofield, president of the Tourist Association, called the gathering to order and outlined the reasons for the convention. New Brunswick as a province had as much to attract the tourist as any province in the Dominion, and her natural resources were just needful of development. The history of the war had shown that it was possible to get the people of the province interested in a common cause, and it was felt by some that a provincial organization to advertise the province would be a step in the right direction. The preliminary steps had been taken and the meeting was for the purpose of completing the organization and launching it on its journey as a booster for New Brunswick. He voiced the thanks of the committee to the Imperial management, who had placed the house at their disposal for the day, and to the New Brunswick Automobile Association, who had arranged for a drive around the city and the St. John Power Boat Club who had planned a luncheon and sail on the river for the delegates. He then called on Premier Foster to welcome the delegates on behalf of the province.

Premier Foster assured the delegates it gave him great pleasure to welcome the delegates to the conference, and he assured them that they would have the sympathy and support of the government in their activities and efforts to boom the province. He thought the organization was being launched at a very opportune time, and believed it would do much to make known the advantages of New Brunswick.

Mayor Hayes said it gave him great pleasure to welcome to the city such a representative body of men, who had come with one purpose in mind, the good of the whole province, not any particular section. New Brunswick was a beautiful province, and if its beauties were made known they would, no doubt, attract tourists. The city was their's for the two days the convention lasted, and on behalf of the city he extended a warm welcome.

Dr. Thomas Travis, of New York, associate editor of Forest and Stream, outlined the benefits of such an organization as that planned, not only in a material way, but as an uplifting factor for humanity.

Hon. C. H. LaBillois, Dalhousie, assured the conference that they would have the support of the northern counties of the province in the movement and suggested that the counties of Gaspe and Bonnaventure in Quebec be not forgotten, as they were linked very closely with this province.

W. Harry Allen, president of the Guides' Association, moved that the organization of a provincial body be proceeded with. This was seconded by W. H. Golding and carried unanimously.

The chairman then appointed the following committees:

Nominating committee—J. J. McCaffery, A. H. Lindsay, J. W. Scovil.

Resolutions comittee—C. H. LaBillois, W. Harry Allen, H. S. Campbell.

Constitution committee—T. P. Regan, R. H. Dean, R. P. Allen.

These committees retired and a recess was taken until they were ready to report.

On the resumption of business the report of the nominating committee was first taken up as follows:

President, F. B. Edgecombe, Fredericton; vice-presidents: St. John, E. A. Schofield; Albert, Hon. C. I. Osman, Hillsboro; Charlotte, R. W. Grimmer, St. Stephen; Queens, Hon. J. E. Hetherington, M. L. A., Cody's; Kings, J. D. McKenna, Sussex; Sunbury, D. W. Mersereau, M. L. A., Fredericton Junction; Carleton, Carl Ketchum, Woodstock; Victoria, George E. Armstrong, Perth; Madawaska, J. E. Michaud, M. L. A., Edmundston; Gloucester, George Gilbert, Bathurst; Restigouche, Hon. C. H. LaBillois, Dalhousie; Westmorland, M. Lodge, Moncton; Northumberland, W. A. Park, Newcastle; Kent, R. O'Leary, Richibucto; secretary-treasurer, C. B. Allan, St. John; additional members of the executive, T. P. Regan, St. John; C. C. Avard, Sackville; W. H. Golding, St. John; W. Harry Allen, Penniac; N. Marks Mills, St. Stephen.

The constitution and by-laws were then adopted as follows:

Constitution.

This organization shall be known as "The All New Brunswick" Tourist, Game and Resources Association.

Its objects shall be to foster a broad community spirit and create more optimism among our citizens. To encourage development of our natural resources and a greater publicity of the advantages and attractions of New Brunswick. Any person who is in sympathy with the objects of the Association and in good standing in the community, shall be eligible for membership.

There shall be elected at the meeting for organization and thereafter at each annual meeting for the year ensuing, the following officers: a president, (the same person shall not be elected president two years in succession), one vice president from each county in the province and a secretary-treasurer. These officers and five other members to be elected by the association shall constitute the executive. Five members of the executive shall constitute a quorum. The executive may appoint such committees of the association and on such subjects as it may deem fit and proper and fix the quorums thereof.

Honorary membership may be conferred on such persons as in the opinion of the association may be entitled to such distinction. Honorary members shall be entitled to the privileges of the floor during meetings, but shall not be entitled to vote, and they shall pay no dues.

All members of the conference adopting the constitution, and all persons eligible and who are nominated by a member shall become members of the association upon payment of the annual dues for the current year.

By-laws may be adopted at any annual meeting of the association by a majority of the members present. It shall be the duty of the council, without delay, to adopt suitable bylaws, which shall be in force until rescinded by the association.

Each member shall pay $1 to the secretary-treasurer as annual dues and no person shall be qualified to exercise any privilege of membership who is in default. Such dues shall be payable, and the payment thereof enforced, as may be provided by the bylaws.

This association shall meet annually at such time and place as the council may select, and ten members shall constitute a quorum, special meetings may be called by the council at such times and places as the council shall select. The executive shall meet at the call of the president or at the request of five other members by giving at least three days' notice.

This constitution may be amended at the annual meeting, or at a special meeting called for that purpose, by a two thirds vote of the members present, after one week's notice of such amendment.

By-Laws.

The by-laws provided that meetings other than the annual, including meetings of the executive might be called at the discretion of the president or at the request of five members; at all meetings ten members should constitute a quorum; for the election of the officers and executive by ballot on a majority vote, that five negative votes should bar a person from membership; for the signing of all documents by the president or a vice-president and counter-signed by the secretary-treasurer; for the filling of vacancies among the officers or the executive at a meeting of the executive and for the changing of the by-laws by the executive, subject to ratification at the next annual meeting of the association.

Convention then adjourned until four o'clock p.m.

Afternoon Session.

The first item on the afternoon programme was an address by Morris Ackerman, of Cleveland, Ohio. This was followed by a trip through New Brunswick via moving pictures and lantern slides, the latter explained by William McIntosh, and a business session, at which a number of important resolutions were adopted.

Mr. Ackerman told of the success which had come to the Fish and Game Protective Association in Ohio, and the instrumentality it had been in developing these sports in that state. Dealing with New Brunswick he assured the audience that they had only to make known the advantages possessed from a hunting and fishing standpoint to get the people coming and such an organization as that just formed was the very best medium with which to work to that end. Last fall was his first experience in New Brunswick hunting and fishing, and it certainly would not be his last.

The moving pictures of hunting, fishing and logging which followed were watched closely by the audience and in many cases scenes were loudly applauded.

Three reels taken by the official C. P. R. photographer and exhibited by Harry Allen were shown first. They were followed by two reels taken by J. M. Alexander, of the Department of Commerce, Ottawa. These latter have just been completed, one scene having been taken on May 24 at Fredericton. Starting at Edmundston and coming down to Fredericton these pictures show among other things, the Fraser Pulp Mill, several views of Grand Falls, Aroostook Falls with power plant, Perth, Plaster Rock, Woodstock, Pokiok and Fredericton. The photography of these films was all that could be desired and they showed to the best advantage the wonderful beauties of the country. The scenes showing the raftsmen bringing logs down river were especially good and evoked much applause.

Mr. McIntosh took his audience on a canoe trip through the province and demonstrated the possibilities of this sport. He stated that it was possible to reach any part of the province by canoe, and exhibited many views of a recent trip from Grand Falls to St. John made by a party of young ladies.

At half past four the convention met in business session and considered the report of the resolutions committee, which was taken up section by section.

1. The committee recommended that the matter of publicity be considered by the executive, and they proceed to arrange for the publication of a pamphlet covering the tourist possibilities and natural resources and other publications considered necessary, and that the vice-presidents of the various counties be asked to name persons to supply the necessary information to the publicity committee for publication. After some discussion this was adopted.

2. That a committee be appointed to look into advertising the province by way of moving pictures and lantern slides. This was left to the executive. During the discussion on this W. H. Golding registered a vigorous kick against the Topical Weeklys who discriminated against the Maritime Provinces in making their films.

3. That the time and place of the next annual meeting be decided at this meeting. In discussing this Hon. P. J. Veniot, minister of public works, advised that the meeting be held in northern New Brunswick, if the association wanted to remove the idea which existed in that part of the province that St. John and Fredericton had in the past considered themselves the whole show, so far as thet tourist traffic was concerned. On motion of R. H. Dean, seconded by Hon. Mr. Veniot, it was decided to hold the next meeting at Dalhousie, and the date was set for June 22, 1920. Mr. Veniot also suggested that executive meetings should be held at various points in the province.

4. That the convention approve of the efforts made by the provincial government and the municipalities to improve the condition of the highways. Hon. Mr. Veniot called attention to the fact that in New Brunswick the municipalities did not do anything toward the upkeep of the roads, and he also told the convention that so long as he was minister of public works money would not be spent on the roads with the sole idea of getting tourists in from the United States. This passed with the reference to the municipalities eliminated.

5. That a committee be appointed to petition the immigration department of Canada to take up with the department of immigration of the United States the matter of intercourse between the two countries and see if some arrangement could not be made which would do away with the trouble now caused by the head tax. This carried.

R. H. Dean brought up the matter of better connections from St. John with the Ocean Limited, and moved that a committee be appointed to take up with the C. N. R. the placing back on the route of the noon train from here to connect with the north bound limited. Premier Foster in speaking to this resolution said it was time the people of this part of the province insisted on their rights and refused to stand for the service provided. He knew of persons going to the North Shore going around by Quebec rather than put up with the service through here. This motion carried.

Before adjournment the chairman expressed the thanks of the convention to Mr. Golding for the euse of the theatre for the convention, and to Messrs. McIntosh, Ackerman and Travis, for their kindness in giving addresses.

Those registered from out of town were: Morris Ackerman, Cleveland, Ohio; W. Harry Allen, Penniac; A. H. McCready, C. C. Avard, Sackville; W. D. Keith, Havelock; F. A. Young, Taymouth; S. L. SWINDLERS PUT UNDER ARREST IN GERMANY

Three Men and Two Women, Claimed to be Americans, Working the "Badger" Game in Frankfort.

Frankfort, Germany, June 2—Three men and two women, posing as an American special mission, who used a government automobile to pay official call to the consuls and other officials, used a government automobile to pay for charged that they were making preparations to swindle the officials.

The case recalls the fact that Rumania has been the first European state to enter negotiations with Germany for the suppression of international swindlers after the war. The Tageblatt calls attention to the fact that it will be difficult to control this evil when the frontier passage difficulties are removed and hopes that other European states will co-operate with Germany for the suppression of swindlers who, it says, are sure to be an even greater menace than in peace times.

5 SHIPS LAUNCHED IN 48 MINUTES AT HOG ISLAND YARDS

Secretary Daniels at Exercises Declares for Big Merchant Marine and Navy.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 26.—A merchant marine that will carry the Stars and Stripes to the uttermost parts of the world and a naval programme that will embrace building ships powerful enough to protect the American merchant marine was announced as the United States policy in naval affairs by Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, at the launching today of five ships at the Hog Island Yard.

Never in the history of shipbuilding have so many ships been sent to the water from one plant in so short a time. From the minute the Maiden Creek slid into the waters of the Delaware, from Way No. 53, until Mrs. J. D. Andrew broke the traditional bottle of champagne over the bow of the Luxpallie, gliding down from Way No. 1, only forty-eight minutes elapsed. In that forty-eight minutes 29,000 deadweight tons of United States shipping had been launched. From the moment the sirens set up their screeching, at twenty-eight minutes to two o'clock in the afternoon, signifying that the launching was "on," the 50,000 spectators had something to interest them.

One force of eighty-two men, working directly under W. B. Fortune, superintendent of the launchings, and supervised by J. D. Andrew, manager of the division of hull construction, handled all five ships. There was no mishap. Only the sponsor party, officials of the American International Shipbuilding Corporation and newspaper men were allowed on the launching platforms.

A grand stand directly opposite the middle of the ways and facing the Lehigh, the third vessel to take the water, accommodated Secretary Daniels and the official party. This included M. A. Brush, president of the corporation; Baron Shimpli Goto, formerly Japanese Foreign Minister; Senator Eliodoro Yanez, chairman of the Chilean Financial Commission; United States Senator Duncan W. Fletcher, of Florida, Mrs. Fletcher and their two daughters; Senators Fernald of Maine; Len Root, of Wisconsin, and Ransdell, of Louisiana, all members of the Senate Commerce Commission.

Representatives in Congress present were:—Edmonds, Strong and Rose, of Pennsylvania; Rowe, of New York; Wright of Georgia; Alexander of Missouri; White of Maine; Elbach of New Jersey; Chindlom and Juul of Illinois; Randall of Wisconsin and Lazar of Louisiana.

Just before the first launching Mr Daniels was presented with a stone This was made of stone Indians of Minnesota used for their pipes of peace. It was presented by the Minnesota delegation. In accepting it, Mr Daniels said he would use it as a gavel in "these piping days of peace."

Speaking to the thousands of persons who had come from many points of the country, Secretary Daniels said:

"The day of isolation is past with America. We are part of the great world and never again will we be indifferent to the concerns of humanity in any part of the world. We shall build naval ships powerful enough to protect our merchant marine. We shall build more ships and with brotherly interest shall unite with free men everywhere to preserve the fruits of victory, the valor our men have won.

"One of the by-products of the war is that we have highly resolved that the American bag shall be seen carrying American commerce to the uttermost parts of the earth. Today the Delaware is rapidly becoming the river that will outdistance every other river in the world in the production of ships."

The four ships first launched were the Maiden Creek, with Miss R. Erma Reisen of Reading Pa., as sponsor; the Neemao, Mrs. Mary Baird Fox, of Camden, N. J., sponsor; the Lehigh, Mrs. William R. Thomas, of Allentown, Pa., sponsor, and the Pipestone County, Miss Lois Gaithe of Pipestone, Minn., sponsor. These four were named by the Liberty Loan Committees of the districts in which the sponsors live. The fifth ship, the Luxpallie, was sponsored by Mrs. J. D. Andrew, wife of the manager of division of hull construction at the special request of the workmen. Her ship was the only one that really received its name as it slid into the water as in the other case the sponsors were so nervous that they forgot to pronounce the name.

The Luxpallie was the second vessel launched from way No. 1 the first being the Quistconck, sponsored by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson. The Quistconck was the first ship to be launched from Hog Island, and the Luxpallie in the thirty-fourth.

All vessels in today's launching are 780 ton cargo carriers driven by geared turbines which gives them a speed of eleven and one-half knots. They are oil driven. They went into the water sixty-five per cent. completed.

Seaplanes from the Navy Yard circled over the island during the launching. Arrangements had been made to have the Pipestone County christened with water from the county, and members of the sponsor party thought that the ribbon bedecked bottle contained water. When Miss Gaither crashed it against the vessel's bow and the bubbling fluid splashed over her gown, as well as over the clothing of persons on the stand, they realized that Pipestone County was getting champagne.

New York June 2—Mexican rev tions have created many strange sociations and Felipe Angeles Francisco Villa furnish the latest dence of it. General Angeles in his characteristics and record is antithesis of the bandit chieftain.

General Angeles who spent m of his exile in New York city elsewhere in the East joined Villa the field in Chihuahua several mon ago. The new revolution at first equipped and apparently unimport now has grown to proportions wh have taxed the Carranza governm For more than a month the Mexi Central Railway between the El P Juarez port and the interior of the public has been kept out of com sion and all shipments and passe traffic has been routed by way of Laredo junction.

Every Mexican revolu has its "plan," and with General geles proclaimed President the eq ment is now complete.

Refusal to permit government tro to pass through American terri will be regarded to a certain exten Mexico as partial support of the movement for there is a preceden favor of the recognition. Soon a the recognition of the Carranza tion as against Villa Washington mitted a movement of Carranza tro from Sonora and Chihuahua the Texas, New Mexico and Arizona into Sonora, where Villa had estab ed a campaign in an effort to possession of the entire northw The Columbus raid, with the su quent Pershing expedition, follo this movement.

General Angeles is as highly edu ed as Villa is uneducated and is mild mannered as Villa is wild. H a mestizo (part Indian and part sle). He was an officer in the arm the Diaz dictatorship and a skilled artyman, trained at the St. Cyr tary School in France. He was of the few important army officer join the Madero revolution, and on the few to remain loyal to Presid Madero during the "cuartelazo" w put General Huerta in power.

He then allied himself with the constitutionist movement, attached the Division of the North, which commanded by Francisco Villa. was Villa's chief of artillery. At time of the Villa-Carranza separa he remained with Villa. When Villa party was eliminated as a tary power he came to the Un States, announced his retirement Mexican politics and became a far in the Rio Grande valley near El P Texas.
