RUSH FROM U.S. IN 1903.

Over 100,000 Expected to Come to Canada and Settle.

Vancouver, B.C., Oct. 29.—V. H. Beckman of Seattle, editor of The Pacific Lumber Trade Journal, and connected in an official capacity with a number of lumber associations, is here to secure statistics relative to the lumber and shingle output of this province. He is probably qualified to speak with more authority on this subject than any other man on the coast, and he is of the opinion that the big influx of settlers from the United States into the Canadian Northwest is opening a magnificent market to the lumber and shingle manufacturers of British Columbia.

In an interview, Mr. Beckman said: "While in Minneapolis recently I learned in conversation with a friend, who is in close touch with the emigration to Canada of the younger generation of American farmers of the middle west, that next spring will see a rush of such settlers to Northwestern Canada unprecedented in the history of the Dominion. The American farmer has set his eyes on that country, and it is predicted that over 100,000 will move in and consequently an enormous demand for British Columbia lumber and shingles will be created. The trade thus developing in Canada, together with the export trade of the Vancouver and Vancouver Island mills will combine to create such a demand for British Columbia lumber that many new mills will likely be built in the province within the next decade. British Columbia in relation to its lumber and shingle manufacturing industries is now where Washington State was twenty years ago. In Washington we have over 500 lumber and shingle mills, and in twenty years British Columbia should have as many, for her timber resources are boundless."

Will Prosecute Sifton.

The Attorney-General's Department has retained R. C. Clute, K.C., to prosecute Gerald Sifton, charged with murder. The case will commence on Monday at the London Assizes before Mr. Justice Britton. W. R. Riddell, K.C., who conducted the case at the last court, found himself at the last moment unable to take the work this time.

Low Bents the Tiger.

New York, Oct 29.—It was announced to-day that the budget for the City of New York for 1903 will be $97,119,031, a decrease of $1,500,569 from the expenditures in 1902.

TOBACCO AND LIQUOR HABITS.

Dr. McTaggart's Tobacco Remedy removes all desire for the weed in a few weeks. A vegetable medicine, and only requires touching the tongue with it occasionally. Price $2.

Truly marvellous are the results from taking his remedy for the liquor habit. Is a safe and inexpensive home treatment; no hypodermic injections; no publicity, no loss of time from business and a certainty of cure.

WORKING FOR THEIR CAUSE

Large Number of Reports Presented at Wednesday's Meeting of W.C.T.U.

INSTANCE OF AN EVIL OF WINE

Some Delegates Came in for Criticism for Not Answering Letters.

Members of the W.C.T.U. convention had another busy day of it yesterday transacting business in the furtherance of the cause they have at heart.

Dr. William Oldright addressed the meeting on the work accomplished by the Prisoners' Aid Association.

The report of the Committee on Unfermented Wine for Sacramental Purposes was presented by Mrs. M. J. Nelles of Ingersoll. It intimated that the Anglicans were not likely to make any change in their practice, but during the past year five churches of other denominations, largely Presbyterians, had abolished fermented wine for this purpose. Cases were cited where reformed drunkards had been started drinking after tasting the wine in taking communion.

Mrs. Asa Gordon of Ottawa reported on evangelistic work, and recommended special prayers for the reporters and editors of the newspapers.

Miss Sproule, the Union missionary, who has traveled over 5000 miles in the past year, told in an interesting way all about her work among the lumbermen.

Lessons Wanted in Courtesy.

Mrs. Mary Brownell gave the ladies a going over for neglecting to answer letters sent out in connection with the lecture bureau.

Rev. R. D. Beall, the purity missionary of the Union, added that there were quite a number who needed lessons in common courtesy in this connection.

Mrs. Thornley's report on the literture department stated that 121,800 notices had been published, an increase of 45,700 over last year.

Mrs. Louise Hartley of St. Thomas spoke of the progress of the local purity campaign at mothers' meetings, and Miss Mary E. Barbour of Los Angeles, Cal., the evangelist of the National W.C.T.U., delivered an instructive address, in which she pointed out that the great quantity of grapes now grown in California was being used for raisins rather than for the making of wine.

Should Not Neglect the Boys.

At the afternoon meeting Mrs. Waters of Hamilton spoke against the use of narcotics, and especially cigarets, stating that while they were all to be interested and actively engaged in the referendum campaign, they should not neglect the boys. Mrs. Waters presented a lengthy petition from people in London, asking the Dominion Government to enact a law prohibiting the manufacture and sale of cigarets.

Miss Wiggins, Toronto, presented an interesting report on work among railway men, and Miss Shdie Bowes of Hamilton, on young women's work.

Men Like System.

Mrs. Detlor, North Bay, spoke on the advantages of systematic giving. One of the great advantages, she pointed out, was that where men knew that the money was being distributed systematically, it was very much easier to get a contribution from them.

Mrs. Acheson, corresponding secretary, who is leaving for California for the winter, bid good bye to the union. She was wished a most happy trip.

Mrs. Jennie Barltrop, Toronto, and Mrs. Emma Water, Kemptville, told of what was being done thru the press for the work.

Mrs. Wrigley reported that a great deal of pamphlet literature had been purchased by all the unions during the year.

Mrs. Cavers spoke on the work done by the unions in distributing information to the press.

Miss Lida Russell was heard in a very pleasing solo, which was followed with an address by J. S. Leckie, Huntsville, in which the barroom came in for a stinging criticism, especially those arranged on the booth plan.

The Evening Session.

Miss C. E. Wiggins, provincial organizer of the union, delivered a stirring address at the evening meeting, which was very largely attended. Miss Irene Wilson, president of the Northern, No. 6, Toronto, presided, and an address of welcome was delivered by Miss Harris, to which Miss Sadie Bowes of Hamilton responded in pleasing terms. Mrs. S. G. McKee, president, next delivered an address full of encouragement and of hope for victory in the coming campaign.

Miss Sarah Clarke and Frederick Harris sang a couple of solos in a most acceptable manner and Miss C. E. Wiggins was then heard. Miss Wiggins stated that once upon a time a man accosted Frances Willard with a statement to the effect that she or her associates could not win in their prohibition contest "because," he said, "we have the money, and don't you forget it." "Just wait," said Miss Willard, "we have the women and we have the churches, and we have God on our side, and don't you forget it."

Politicians and the Cause.

She would say that our politicians were not worthy of the name of statesmen, if for the good of this country and the happiness of its people they were not prepared to give all they possessed, if necessary, to carry a righteous cause. Politicians were all right in their way, but we had reached such a stage in our national history when there was a dearth of principles dividing them, and it resolved itself down to the fact that where they had a hard struggle for power they buried their righteous principles to attain their end. She would not say that our politicians would sooner have the sale of liquor going on than prohibition, but she would say that there was nothing to prevent a man who was either a free trader or protectionist from supporting the cause of prohibition. She did not blame the politicians so much as she did the Christian men of this country for not rallying stronger than they did for the cause of temperance. In conclusion, Miss Wiggins stated that the day was not far off when they would have woman's franchise—a more effective weapon than any such hatchet as that carried by Carrie Nation.

Before the meeting closed it was announced that a telegram had been received from Lady Henry Somerset, stating that she would arrive in the city at 11 o'clock this morning. Her Ladyship will be the guest while in the city of J. W. Flavelle, Queen's Park.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL BOARD.

Deputation Will Wait on Government Regarding Payment of Fees.

At a meeting of the Industrial School Board on Wednesday afternoon, means were discussed, whereby more young girls may be sent to the Alexandra Industrial School for Girls, instead of to the Mercer Reformatory. The rate for each inmate in the school is $3 per week, and, of this, $1 is paid by the government and $2 by the municipality for girls who are sent there. The municipalities do not take kindly to bearing the heaviest share of the burden, and a deputation was appointed to wait upon the government, with a view to having the municipalities pay the $1 share and the government the $2. Hon. Mr. Stratton will also be asked to bring the school and its benefits prominently before the notice of the municipalities.

The report of the Superintendent of Mimico Industrial School for Boys stated that, on Oct. 1, there were 159 lads in the institution. The potato crop was a failure. During the year, the brass band earned $400.
