THEIR THIRTEENTH ROUT

THE PRIMROSES BEATEN AGAIN BY THE LONDONS.

Score Fourteen Runs to Four—How the Argonauts Were Beaten—Hanlan, Teemer, Ross and the Remainder.

LONDON, Ont., July 16—A championship baseball match was played here to-day between the Primroses of Hamilton and the Londons of this city. The match resulted in favor of the Londons by a score of 14 to 4. The fielding on both sides was excellent, but the London team batted the Primrose pitching all over the field, while the latter could not hit Knight's pitching for London to any extent. The latter was as usual well supported by Thompson, the catcher. The weather was delightful and the match was witnessed by about 1200 persons.

Londons.....	1	0	0	0	8	4	0	1	—14
Primroses.....	0	0	1	2	0	0	0	1	0—4

Base hits, Londons 14, Primroses 8. Errors, Londons 7, Primroses 13. Struck out, Londons 8, Primroses 5. Earned runs, Londons 6, Primroses 0. Bases on balls, Londons 6, Primroses 2. Left on bases, Londons 5, Primroses 4. Double plays, Smith and Dunn, Dunn and Campau, Thompson and Campau. Umpire, Maddock of Guelph.

The Argonauts' Heat.

London Sporting Life thus describes the third heat of the Stewards' challenge cup at Henley, in which the Argonauts took part: "At the word the Canadians came away at a tremendous rate of 46 to the minute, followed by Third Trinity, Trinity Hall, who commenced very slowly, being some way in the rear. Maintaining their high rate of pressure to a wonderful extent, the Argonauts led half a length clear at the Parsonage grounds, Trinity Hall still being last, and it certainly looked as though they were biding their time for a final rush towards the finish. Just at this period Third Trinity, when spurting in the endeavor to oust the Canadians out of the Berks shore, fouled the posts driven into the bed of the river by Remenham pastures very badly, and were two lengths behind in no time, and as they repeated the experiment in the bay shortly afterwards they retired. In the meantime Trinity Hall kept losing ground, and the Canadians dashing them in at a quick pace had secured just upon two lengths of daylight off the boathouse. From thence, however, their tremendous exertions commenced to tell the usual tale, and slowly but surely Trinity Hall commenced to overhaul their plucky opponents, although the latter were determined not to lose their advantage without a game struggle. Nearing the White house, however, the Cantabs at length began to make up lost ground, for as soon as the leg action of the Argonauts tired they appeared to go to pieces, and in less time than it takes to describe it, the Trinity Hall, with a long and powerful stroke, came up hand over hand, and, taking their opponents' water off Phyllis' court, came on and finished alone, the Canadians stopping, rowed out, off the point. It subsequently transpired that Mr. Morphy, rowing at No. 2, had been seized with a sudden pain at the heart, which he was sometimes subject to, but never before in a race, and, although he persevered, was compelled to cease rowing."

Trinity Hall, whose stroke by the way was described in practice as wanting in power and ragged, proved the winners, beating Jesus college (Cambridge) boat club and the Thames rowing club, the last mentioned breaking an oar at the start and Jesus being beaten by three hundred yards. The result convinces us that fit and well the Argonauts could have won in spite of their "ugly" stroke, which in the case of victory would have increased in beauty according to English ideas to a most remarkable extent.

A Notice to Junior Lacrosse Clubs.

Editor World: I am very desirous of finding the names of the secretaries of the following lacrosse clubs: Pioneers, Moss Rose, Young Brunswicks and Clippers of Parkdale, and we are prepared to meet any other club under 15 years of age. ARMOUR WEIR, Secretary Athletic L. Club, 1071 Yonge street, Toronto.

General Notes.

The minister of customs has instructed collectors of customs to admit bycicles on the same condition as travellers' vehicles.

The English yacht Genesta, which is to compete in the race for the America challenge cup arrived at New York yesterday.

The Monmouth park association has opened a Junior Champion stakes for 1886 at $250 each, $25 forfeit, with $5000 added, to close Aug. 15, 1885.

The next match between the Clippers and the Torontos will be played at Hamilton on July 25, and the following one on the Jarvis street grounds, Aug. 8.

Toronto and London play on the Jarvis street grounds this afternoon. It is Toronto's turn to win, the Londons having won the first and third matches between these clubs and Toronto the second.

Hanlan challenged Wallace Ross yesterday to a four-mile sculling match at Oak Point or a three-mile race at Manhattan beach. Ross says he will accept and the preliminaries will be arranged in a few days.

J. D. Young of Sydney, N.S.W., writes that the backers of Thomas Clifford are prepared to match him to row any man outside Australia over the Paramatta course for £1000 a side, allowing £200 for expenses.

The New York World in its answers to correspondents says one is many times nothing. It is not, because it is impossible to multiply nothing by anything and produce anything. An accumulation of nothing is nothing.

W. G. George, ex-amateur champion of England, and W. Cummings, the Scotch champion, have come to terms, the arrangements being for three races at £100 each, viz., of one, four and ten miles, each race to be considered separately. A forfeit of £25 each has been deposited.

If Hanlan is Ross' mate in the forthcoming double-scull race between Ross and mate and Gaudaur and Teemer, it is provided that the stakes shall be raised to $1000 a side. It is also proposed that Hanlan and Teemer shall row a single-scull race at the same time over either three or five miles for $1000 a side.

James Hog of Yorkville avenue fire hall and Thomas Spence of Bay street, better known as "The Kid," are to have a contest with soft gloves for a pig, which will be presented by Fred Milligan of the stone barge Queen City of Port Credit. Hog is at present quartering at Fox's boathouse, and takes a bath twice a day in Gibeon's cistern and expects to win the contest. Betting is 2 to 1 on Hog.

John Teemer will go to Australia in December next if Hanlan does not beat him in the meantime, and will row Beach for $5000 or $2500 a side on the Paramatta. Teemer's backers are confident that Hanlan was beaten from sheer lack of training, the disinclination the latter is now manifesting to get down to business with the McKeesport man being taken as positive evidence.

J. E. Myers was placed on scratch in the race of one thousand yards at the games of the London Athletic club on June 20, and it was rumored that he intended making an effort to beat record time for the distance; but he ran in a very disappointing manner, failing to get better than fifth. It was subsequently stated, by way of apology for the poor form shown, that he had not been well for several days.

The Trinity College school Rovers had hard luck at Guelph, where they were beaten by one wicket, the Rovers making 58 and 39, while Guelph made 55 and 43 for nine wickets. At the Ambitious City, however, they retrieved their laurels by beating the Hamilton club by 29 runs after one of the hardest matches of the season. Score: Rovers 43 and 72; Hamilton 30 and 56.

H. R. Goodwin of the North Manchester bicycle club, Eng., has just completed perhaps the most remarkable journey yet accomplished on the bicycle. Leaving Land's End June 1, he journeyed to John o' Groats; having reached which point in seven days and a half, he at once turned southward and again arrived at Land's End the 16th, the double journey of about 1750 miles, or from one extremity of Britain to the other, having occupied less than sixteen days. From Land's End he rode to London, which was reached the 19th, the rider having thus completed a journey of 2050 miles in exactly nineteen days, or at an average of 108 miles per day. Goodwin rode a 40-inch "Facile" safety bicycle, and he arrived in London fresh and well. It is worthy of notice that he is a strict teetotaler, and underwent the great strain of such a journey without any help from stimulants.

The biggest hit of the season, so far, was the one mentioned in the Toronto World. It was one hit with a total of seven bases. —Hamilton Spectator. Good for The World. It always accomplishes more than any other paper, and this time it has done the miraculous. But would the Spec. kindly read over our account again. As a matter of fact Reid and O'Rourke ran eight bases to one hit. Here is the way the performance was described by The World yesterday morning: "In the seventh innings Reid and O'Rourke both got bases on balls and both came home on a rattling lift by Smith to centre, aided by an erratic throw of Chamberlain." It will thus be seen that Reid got first on balls, O'Rourke did ditto and Reid took second. Smith's hit, as we said, aided by Chamberlain's erratic throw, brought both home. Smith meantime got to third. So that if you count all up you have actually eleven bases run to one hit.

There is nothing new to communicate regarding the disarranged match between these men. Hanlan has not covered the Pennsylvanian's money, which has been lying in our hands since June 24, nor has he made any response to the latter's rather severe card, published in last week's Clipper. This course of action is unwise, as it subjects his motives to harsh criticism, and he is unquestionably losing friends daily by his failure to manifest a disposition to meet Teemer half way in an effort to rearrange a match for the breaking off of which he must be held responsible.—New York Clipper. Hanlan is undoubtedly acting foolishly in the course he is pursuing. As a matter of fact he has become accustomed to too easy a life to have any relish for the self-denials attendant upon training, and therefore prefers to row exhibition races and to walk on the water rather than to come down to solid business with Teemer or any other rival. There is quite as much money in one as in the other, and far less trouble in the former.

Arthur Hancock, the fifty-mile champion walker of England, after being twice beaten by Scott of Dunedin—in a twenty-four hour race and a twelve hour race—succeeded in defeating Rayner of New Zealand. He has challenged Scott to a third match. Hancock writes: "In regard to Malone challenging anyone in the world (Hutchens preferred), please give our kind regards to Harry, and tell him not to venture out here unless the stake money (£500) is down, and the match made before he starts, the race not to take place within six months of leaving England, as he will find the Antipodes very enervating and it is some time before you can get 'colonized.' We can speak from experience, and my firm opinion is Hanlan suffered defeat from this cause alone. Livingstone and Malone ran at Botany, a downhill course, and he is not such a flyer as they make him out to be. They all like a flying start out here, and dance about like cats on their marks. I have offered to walk anybody in Australia fifty miles, and my challenge is open to any peds at home. I expect to arrive in England shortly before Christmas."

The Executive Committee.

At the meeting of the civic executive committee yesterday afternoon Dr. Canniff's application for an increased salary was talked over and tabled. Reports of the works, fire and gas, property and waterworks committees were sent to the council. A. R. Boswell addressed the committee in favor of paying the costs on the court house arbitration and taking over the award without delay. The matter was sent to the court house committee. The executive refused to vote $250 to build a platform for the school children on Market square until a report from the reception committee was sent in. On discussion it was decided to cease payment of indemnity to volunteers' families after to-morrow's dole.

A Cigar Dealer Assigns.

There was a little breeze of excitement yesterday when it became known that George Milligan, the well-known cigar dealer in the Rossin house block, had made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors. A receiver was placed in charge of the store. The creditors are principally Montreal men, and one of them said last night that the liabilities were $3700 and the assets would probably realize $3900. The real owner of the store is G. T. Robinson, Mr. Milligan acting as manager. One of the creditors said the assignment was made in a very honorable manner.

County Judge's Criminal Court.

At the county judge's criminal court yesterday Mark Checkley, the lion-tamer, was charged with feloniously assaulting John Hall, and was acquitted. James O'Brien got six months in the central prison for stealing a valise, and Robert Mitchell was given a month in jail for stealing a caddy of tobacco. On a charge of stealing $19 50 Johanna Sweeney was acquitted. Charles Smith was sentenced to one year in the central for the larceny of a silver watch.

Facts For the Ladies.

—This week there is a double attraction at the Bon Marche. New goods from Montreal, just the thing for this season of the year, at low prices. Big bargains are to be had in these lovely and attractive goods. The great hat prize sale is a success. The hats are going off rapidly. A good straw hat is given with every dollar's worth of goods.

B Battery Officers on the Way Home.

Major Short, Surgeon J. A. Grand, Capt. Peters and J. Alton Powers, all of "B" battery, arrived in the city yesterday morning from the front, en route for Kingston. The party remained over at the Queen's hotel last night.

LOCAL NEWS PARAGRAPHED.

The city carriers delivered during last week 146,262 letters, and 40,245 newspapers.

Wright & Co. (King street, opposite Toronto) have on sale another lot of those handsome and cool skeleton hats in all colors.

On Wednesday evening the young people of Kew beach held a successful concert by which a neat sum was realized in aid of the church building fund.

The partnership existing between John Alexander, Jos. Clare and Wm. Cable, lithographers, has been dissolved, Mr. Clare having retired on account of ill health.

The Bond street Congregational church and its Chestnut street mission held their annual picnic at the farm of Rev. Dr. Wild at Bronte yesterday. The party, which numbered over 1000, went out on the steamers Southern Belle and Queen City. A very pleasant time was spent.

Judge McDougall and a jury heard Smith v. Smith at the eastern division court yesterday. The action was brought by Veil Smith, paying teller of the Home Savings and Loan company, against Turnbull Smith for $50 alleged to have been overpaid defendant on a check. Judgment for plaintiff.

The most pleasant sail on the lake is that by the Southern Belle. The tickets are marvellously low, and for speed, comfort and pleasure you can rely on her. No overcrowding. Try her excursion to Burlington Beach, Oakville and Hamilton to-morrow (Saturday). The boat leaves Milloy's wharf at 10.45 a.m. For particulars see advertisement.

The Great Hat Prize Sale will positively end next Saturday at the Bon Marche.

A Serious Charge Against Private Detective Bluett.

Little Katie Rhodes, aged about 11, who lives with her parents at 27 Melinda street, makes a very serious charge against Private Detective Charles Bluett, and it is said a warrant is out for his arrest. Last evening the little girl alleges that she was in a lane in rear of her mother's house, when Bluett came along. He gave her 10 cents, which he afterwards supplemented with candies, and warned her to say nothing. Then, according to Katie's story, he went through a series of abominable manœuvres, which so frightened the girl that she ran into the house and told her mother. The mother and father came out and Bluett made off. He was pointed out to a policeman by the parents, but was not arrested. The girl is very positive in her statement regarding the occurrence.

A Merchant on the Laborers' Strike.

"I don't want to say anything that would offend the strikers in the building trade," said a store-keeper on Yonge street last night, "but I would like to see the strike over. The laborers in getting $1.60 were making fair wages considering the times and the wonderful shrinkage in values. They were better paid than their fellows in Chicago. All kinds of provisions and clothing are 15 to 20 per cent. cheaper than last year; rents are no higher; the contractors and bosses are not making money and the rule of business in these times is small profits everywhere. I shall not say anything about the time that has been lost, the idle days that have been put in, the check that has been given to trade generally, other than that I deplore it; but I do hope that the men will be at work before the week is out."

The Metropolitan Rink.

The roller skating rink at the corner of Queen and Shaw streets was crowded to the doors last night by an enthusiastic audience to witness the polo match between the Harvards of Rochester, N.Y., and the Torontos. It was the proud boast of the visiting club that they had only been beaten three times in thirty games, but the Torontos gave them the fourth whipping in a most summary fashion, the score being three straight games for the home club in 2, 7 and 34 minutes respectively. After the match both victors and vanquished sat down to an elegant supper at Hughes' Criterion restaurant, corner of Leader lane.

A Brace of Suspected Crooks.

A gang of five suspected crooks struck the city yesterday from Niagara Falls, where they had been working the crowd at the opening of the new park. They evidently visited Toronto to be on hand for the circus to-morrow and for the volunteers' reception. Detectives Hodgins and Brown saw of them jostling passengers on a Grand Trunk train in Union station last night and locked up at police headquarters as suspected pickpockets. They pleaded hard to be let go and said they would leave town. The names given were Frank C. Clarke and Thomas Edwards, residence United States.

The difficulty between the builders' laborers and the master builders, after nearly a month's duration, has reached the brink of settlement. A committee of the bosses met a committee of the laborer yesterday and named three members of the board of trade as arbitrators in the matter. These gentlemen will be waited upon to-day, and if they choose the act the matter will be settled soon and the men will return to work.

His Worship of Montreal Visits the City Briefly.

His Worship Mayor Beaugrand of Montreal, accompanied by R. A. Lefontaine and Joseph Lajou of the same city, spent a few hours in the city yesterday. His worship had been over at the park opening at Niagara, where they had a royal time. Tom McGaw escorted the party to the yacht club houses and over a portion of the Island. In the afternoon Ald. Mitchell took them out on the Rosamond for a sail around the bay. The mayor and his friends left for Montreal last night.

General Middleton.

—This gallant old hero will arrive in Toronto in a few days at the head of the brave little army he has so lately led against the rebels of the Northwest. He should have a grand welcome, and he will have it. In order to appear in good form at his reception you should buy a new hat at Dineen's, Toronto's only hatter.

Senate of Toronto University.

At a meeting of the University senate last night there were present Principal Caven (in the chair), Mr. Moss, Prof. Loudon, Mr. Falconbridge, Dr. Oldright, Mr. Houston and Mr. Embree. Prof. Loudon presented the report of the examiners at the recent matriculation and women's local examinations. On motion of Prof. Loudon, seconded by Mr. Falconbridge, the report was adopted. Dr. Oldright presented the report of the committee on applications and memorials. On motion of Dr. Oldright, seconded by Mr. Houston, the report was adopted.

A Scaffold Accident.

Thomas McQuillan and John Marriott were working on a scaffold yesterday morning at Esther street and Farley avenue, when it collapsed, and precipitated them to the ground, a distance of twenty-five feet. Marriott received serious internal injuries and was taken to the hospital. McQuillan was not seriously hurt, but badly bruised.

A Social Event at Parkdale.

A very pleasant strawberry garden party was given by Mrs. James Johnston at "Fermanagh" place, Soramen avenue, Parkdale, last night. The festival was in aid of the parsonage fund of the Methodist church in that village, and a neat sum was realized.

DOMINION DASHES.

Prorogation of parliament will probably take place on Tuesday next.

The members at Ottawa are to receive $50 each as indemnity owing to the protracted session.

A Mrs. McIntosh, nee Doane, fell off the bridge from Bath island to the mainland after the ceremonies attending the opening of the New York state park on Wednesday and was drowned.

The Willoughby Estate.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of the Willoughby estate sale by R. McDonell, corner Queen and Gladstone avenue. The estate is a most valuable one and situate just outside the city, thus making the property equal in value to city lots and still escaping the taxes. The property is laid out in lots by the acre, and offers great inducements to those who want to purchase a large lot for a little money.

The Second Coming of Christ.

NIAGARA, July 16.—The conference on the second coming of Christ is increasing in interest daily. The paper read by Rev. H. M. Parsons yesterday was one of great merit, showing that this doctrine, though not accepted by a large portion of Christians, is one of vital interest, and has occupied the minds of some of the greatest men of the age. Rev. W. J. Erdman read a very able and valuable paper on the practical power of this hope in the formation of Christian character, after which a large number of persons, clergymen and others, took part in discussing this subject. A most interesting paper was read this morning by Rev. T. C. De Barras of Toronto on "The second coming of Christ, as related to the first resurrection and the end of this age." This paper created a good deal of interest, and not a few took part in the discussion which followed. To-morrow the Rev. Dr. S. H. Kellogg will read a paper on "The second coming of Christ, as related to Israel," and the Bishop of Huron, Rev. Maurice Baldwin, D.A., will read a paper on the power of this truth to encourage and stimulate the church in and to the work of evangelization.
