Seventy Hours Of Fighting.

Hot Work Has Been Going on at Manila.

Insurgents Reported to Have Captured the Suburbs.

Spain Sending a Force of 10,000 Troops to Eastern Waters.

Arrest of Spanish Officials in Montreal—U. S. Authorities Say They Are Spies.

The Ex-Minister of the Colonies Says the Spanish Ship of State Is Drifting, and the Country's Affairs Are in Confusion.

Manila, May 31, via Hong Kong, June 7.—The Spanish outposts have been driven in all along the line simultaneously, and with great slaughter. It is said that over 1,000 have been killed. There has been fierce hand-to-hand fighting for 70 hours, despite the typhoon which is raging.

The violent winds and torrents of rain render the rifles of the Spanish troops unavailing. The natives easily win at every step with their slashing knives.

Today the insurgents hold Malabon, Tarlac and Bacoor. They are now attacking Santa Mesa and Molate, the suburbs of the city, which is completely encircled for a distance of seven miles.

The governor has issued a despairing proclamation, begging the insurgents to come to terms, and meanwhile he is arranging to remove all the Spanish population inside the old walled city. He is filling the moats, testing the drawbridges and placing strong guards in the principal streets and artillery along the walls. All the other troops are camping in the suburbs. The weather is terrific.

Chief Aguinaldo, in the course of an interview, has said that the insurgents are eager to rush upon Manila forthwith, but that Admiral Dewey refuses to allow "hordes of passionate semi-savages to storm a civilized metropolis." Admiral Dewey intends to await the arrival of the American troops.

The volunteers smelled powder yesterday. An officer was killed and three others wounded. The rest retired rapidly. One German resident has enlisted with the volunteers.

THE INSURGENTS ADVANCING.

The insurgents raided a railway station ten miles to the north of Manila, and killed three priests and an officer.

There has been a pitched battle at a Spanish post south of Manila, near Cavite, the result being that the insurgents retired. The Spanish casualties were 150.

At Manila the work of constructing defenses goes on, and there are sandbag breastworks in all directions. The Americans are always using their searchlights, but they never interfere with the work on the defenses.

The insurgents are steadily advancing along the coast, supported by the United States gunboat Petrel, and are driving the Spaniards into Manila. They have captured five important positions nine miles from the city, and over 400 Spaniards have been killed. Four thousand Spanish reinforcements have been sent, but it is asserted that Aguinaldo will enter the city by June 12.

STRONG SPANISH FORCE SAID TO HAVE SAILED.

Manila, May 29, via Hong Kong, June 7.—It is officially declared that four armored cruisers, with colliers, torpedo boats and transports carrying 10,000 troops have left Spain for eastern waters. The Spaniards are utterly unimpressed by the naval defeat here. They explain that their squadron was vastly outclassed, and are confident of a victory on shore. They are determined to fight to the end, as the ships did. Evidently they will never learn common sense until Manila is annihilated by street and house fighting in the outer city and by a bombardment of the walled citadel.

Drifting.

SPAIN'S AFFAIRS IN CONFUSION.

London, June 7.—The Madrid correspondent of the Morning Post has had an interview with Senor Moret, formerly secretary of the colonies, in the course of which he said: "The government does not know where it is going. Moreover, there is not a person in Spain who can tell the outcome of the present situation, which is far more grave than is generally confessed. The government has no fixed plan. It allows matters to follow their own course, heedless of the ultimate consequences. The ship of state is drifting. Besides, it is useless to conceal the fact that the cabinet is no longer solid, despite its reconstruction. Today the confusion is complete. This is concealed as well as possible, but if the truth of the situation ever becomes known, the most serious complications may result. The present ministers lack energy. I won't say that they are voiceless, because they talk too much, but they never act. They are absolutely impotent, and are simply trusting to chance to get out of their troubles.

"A campaign in favor of peace has begun in the press, and is progressing among the populace. I am convinced that if a plebiscite was held peace would be unanimously voted, even by the soldiers. The queen regent has been very unjustly attacked by Senor Castelar, who is already passing as president of the republic; but I much doubt his ability to stir up a movement against the regency.

"The regency was menaced, but for some time past a change has been taking place, and the adversaries of the queen have discovered the injustice of their attack. It is difficult to say whether the regency would ever be overturned. None can say what will happen in a country without guidance, with a foreign war on its hands and daily fearing fresh internal interruptions. Parliament is divided as well as the ministry, and do not know whether to return to the right or left. The affairs of Spain are in complete disorder."

A SPANISH PROTEST.

Madrid, June 7.—Duke Almodovar de Rio, minister of foreign affairs, has mailed to all the ambassadors of Spain a note and memorandum declaring that the United States has violated international law by capturing Spanish vessels before a declaration of war, by bombarding ports without notice, and by using the Spanish flag at Guantanamo.

THE CADIZ FLEET.

Gibraltar, June 7. — It is reported here that the Spanish fleet, commanded by Admiral Camara, has returned to Cadiz, after completing the series of maneuvers which formed the programme of the cruise.

London, June 7.—A special dispatch received in this city today from Vienna says: "According to private advices from Cadiz, the preparation for active service of the Spanish cruiser Carlos V., the battleship Pelayo and the auxiliary cruisers Patriota and Rapido is proceeding slowly, and these vessels are not yet nearly ready to proceed to sea."

SIR JOHN COLON'S VIEWS.

London, June 7.—Sir John Colon writes as follows to a morning paper with reference to the situation at Santiago de Cuba: "I am inclined to think that for the purpose of blocking the egress of the hostile war squadron the operation of sinking the Merrimac is an unique idea, though blocking up a harbor by sinking ships at the entrance is not new. What may be noted, however, with advantage, is that the peculiar policy of Admiral Sampson is the policy of greater admirals, and especially of Lord Nelson, which was to tempt a blockaded fleet to put to sea in order that it might be fallen upon and destroyed; for when this has been done a blockading fleet is relieved to carry on other duties. Sampson wants every ship that can be spared; and if the Spanish ships are really blocked in, much of the blockading force may be detached. Still, our policy, in a like place would not block the channel, and would only have left a squadron off Santiago large enough to make a fair fight should Cervera determine to try his fortunes.

"The officers and men of the Merrimac have clearly acted with the greatest gallantry; and quite possibly, Admiral Cervera's recognition of it may be a step toward peace. But I do not understand about Naval Constructor Hobson. Whoever commanded the ship must have had great experience in pilotage. A naval architect has none. All the work to be done was in a special sense that of a naval officer pure and simple, and I cannot understand anyone else being chosen."

DISPATCH FROM DEWEY.

Washington, June 7.—The navy department yesterday posted the following bulletin:

"Admiral Dewey reports that the insurgents have been actively engaged within the province of Cavite during the past week. They have won several victories, taken prisoners about 1,800 men, 50 officers of the Spanish troops not native. The arsenals of Cavite have been prepared for occupation by United States troops upon their arrival on transports.

"Admiral Sampson is engaged in arranging with Admiral Cervera for the exchange of Naval Naval Constructor Hobson and the men with him now prisoners at Santiago for some of the officers and men held prisoners by the United States at Fort McPherson."

DEATH OF CAPTAIN GRIDLEY.

Washington, June 6.—Capt. Charles V. Gridley, commander of the cruiser Olympia and one of the heroes of the brilliant victories at Manilla, is dead. The news came from Paymaster Galt, of the navy, dated at Kobe, Japan, June 4, and directed to Secretary Long. Capt. Charles Vernon Gridley is the first American officer of great prominence whose death is a direct result of the existing war with Spain. As the commander of Admiral Dewey's splendid flagship and one of the admiral's chief advisers. Capt. Gridley achieved distinction at the battle of Manilla Bay and added to his previous laurels by winning high praise from his superiors in the service for distinguished gallantry and ability. He was 53 years old and distinguished himself during the American civil war. Mrs. Gridley has received information to the effect that Capt. Gridley's death was due to the bursting of a blood vessel caused by the terrible concussion produced by a discharge of the Olympia's big guns at Manilla.

ANOTHER COMMANDER DEAD.

Key West, Fla., June 7—8:30 a.m.—The United States collier Pompey, formerly the British steamer Harlech, arrived here this morning from Norfolk, Va., with her commander, Lieut. Commander E. W. Sturdy, dead on board, and Lieut. K. C. Norton in charge of the ship. Commander Sturdy was not well when the Pompey sailed on Friday evening. He was taken sick off Cape Henri soon afterwards, became unconscious and died yesterday. There was no physician on board.

KICKED ON SPIES IN CANADA.

London, June 7.—United States Ambassador Hay called at the foreign office yesterday and presented evidence of Spanish officials making Canada the base of operations and protested against a continuance of this practice.

A Montreal dispatch says: Lieut. Carranza and Senor Du Bosc were arrested at 4:45 this afternoon on a capias at the instance of Detective Kellert at the house of the consul-general of Spain. Kellert's lawyer has begun suit for $25,000, jointly and severally, against Senors Du Bosc and Carranza for false arrest. The money they have in the Bank of Montreal will be garnisheed, and leave will be asked to seize all of their personal property before judgment, so as to have a guarantee on their part for costs.

Attacking Santiago.

FROM A SPANISH SOURCE.

Havana, June 7.—At 8 o'clock yesterday morning 24 vessels of the American fleet opened fire upon the fortifications at the entrance to Santiago harbor and along the coast line. The firing ceased about 11 o'clock.

Col. Alden, with a Spanish force, sustained a fire near Punta Cabrosa from the insurgents on the land side and from the American warships. The Spanish forces are well entrenched on the line from Siboney to Aguadores; and they checked an attempt of the American forces to land and repelled them.

A special from Santo Domingo says the fourth bombardment of Santiago has commenced.

A special dispatch from Cape Haytien says that American troops were landed at Aquaderos. It says that troops were protected by Admiral Sampson's guns, the batteries at Aquaderos having just been silenced by a sharp bombardment.

New York, June 7.—The ticker service sent out the following: "Mole St. Nicholas—United States cruiser St. Louis arrived here. Brought news that troops were successfully landed west of Santiago de Cuba. The troops and heavy siege guns were easily disembarked by use of pontoons."

The Forts In Ruins.

Great Damage Done in the Attack on Santiago.

Serious Losses Admitted by the Spaniards.

Land and Naval Forces Engaged—A First-Class Armored Spanish Cruiser Sunk.

FORTS IN RUINS.

Cape Haytien, Hayti, June 7—9:05 a.m.—The bombardment of the forts of Santiago de Cuba, it appears from information obtainable here, lasted from 8 a.m. till 11, inflicting immense damage on the fortifications, which are riddled and shatted by the American shells.

The fighting before and in the vicinity of Santiago de Cuba continued together part of yesterday from 7:45 a.m. until 10 o'clock. Ten of the American warships maintained a steady and carefully-directed fire against El Morro Castle and the batteries of Punta Gorda, Socapa and Clencoreales, in addition to the bombarding of the Spanish fleet in the harbor. It appears from the best information obtainable at this place that immense damage was inflicted on the enemy.

SPANISH ADMIT HEAVY LOSS.

The Spaniards admit that the bombardment from the American fleet was most damaging. About 1,600 projectiles are said to have been fired by the Am-
