THE CLAMS IN POLITICS.

Moses had a lot of clams,
All fastened on his toe;
And everywhere that Moses went
The clams were sure to go.

These clams were all fresh-water clams,
Who had clambered up the slope,
And clamored loud for Moses, as
The country's only hope.

"What makes the clams love Moses so?"
Inquired the Hon. Sam Blake.
Oh, Moses is in the soup, you know,—
And there's going to be a clam-bake!

Toronto, June 3. TIMOTHY.

Vote early to-morrow.

President Harrison stopped an hour at Pittsburg and it is claimed that he shook hands with three thousand people in an hour. A fifty-a-minute gait would not leave him much time to rub arnica on his hand between shakes.

The people of the United States are the "freshest" on earth—at all events, they consume the most salt.

The visit of Messrs. Mowat and Blake to Hamilton was a confession of weakness on the part of Col. Gibson. A cabinet minister who cannot decend on his own constituency is not a particular element of strength to a government.

An enterprising New York newspaper is running a symposium upon the question, "Why don't men marry?" If it would think the matter over quietly, it might come to the conclusion that, outside of Utah, about as many men as women are married.

"Gath," the well-known correspondent, says he was recently told by a statesman of international reputation that the American form of government will not last fifty years longer. He bases this belief on the almost universal corruption of legislators. His is a gloomy view, but does the system of government debar honest men from being elected?

The fighting is over! The ballot-boxes will be heard from to-morrow evening.

As one who has upheld the honor and prowess of Canada among the soldiers of the British Empire, Mr. Gibson on Saturday received the congratulations of no less a personage than a son of the Queen of England and a general of her imperial army.—Hamilton Times.

Bet you two to one, in peanuts that the Duke of Connaught never heard of Col. Gibson till he reached Hamilton and that he don't recollect it now.

Boulanger has not been heard much of of late. And, by the way, the idiotic McGinty has gone the way of the late lamented "Tom Collins."

The spectacle of Hindoos coming from India to convert Canadians to Christianity raises the point if it would not be less expensive and a more direct method for each country to do its own evangelization.

The Ontario Cotton Mill has started work again. Thus the end of the strike looms up.

The strike in the Toronto building trades has practically ended. It has been found at last that arbitration is not the worst plan in the world of settling a dispute, even when "outsiders" are called in.

It used to be a Reform complaint that Sir John was an Orangeman. Now The Ottawa Free Press accuses him of being a Jesuit. Orange Jesuits would ordinarily be about as plentiful as snow on an excessively hot day in the place Bob Ingersoll says sin's.

The Toronto Conservatives closed their campaign last night by a grand rally in Shaftesbury Hall.

Mr. S. H. Blake on Friday night said he had no confidence in county councils with reference to the appointment of county officers. Other Reform speakers claim that they take that stand because if the Government made bad appointments they could be turned out.—Stratford Herald.

The opportunities for turning out a county council are just as four is to one compared with the chance of turning out a Legislature.

The bear makers of the United States are in harmonious session in Washington, although it might be expected that they would be at lagerheads.—Detroit Free Press.

If nothing ales them, why should any one foament a quarrel or bring it to a head? "To beer—not to bier" is their motto.

Toronto is entitled to return three members to the Legislature. Each elector may vote for only two candidates.—Toronto Globe.

And the Globe ought to know the reason. The object is to give the Government two more on a division.

Spurgeon is reported to have said that all who do not agree with him are villains. He is probably misrepresented. The phrase is not suggestive of the liberal-minded man Spurgeon has always been regarded as being.

FREEHOLD LOAN & SAVINGS COMPANY.

The soundness and prosperity of Canada's leading financial institutions is again exemplified by the report in another column of the thirty-first annual meeting of the shareholders of the Freehold Loan & Savings Company, held yesterday at the company's offices in this city. The shareholders had good reason to be pleased with the directors' report, which showed securities of over $8,000,000 against total liabilities of about $4,000,000. The net profits for the year amount to $153,330.21, and after the payment of two semi-annual dividends of 5 per cent. each $21,638.55 was carried to contingent account. The conservative policy of the company and its successful management will be apparent upon a perusal of the report.

Long Branch Cottagers

Will be catered for in Groceries, Fruits, etc., by the well-known firm of Mara & Co. of 280 Queen-street west, who, while establishing a branch store in the Park, will also wait upon the cottagers daily and make direct deliveries from their head store. Intending residents by dropping a postcard to the firm stating their contemplated date of departure will be waited upon by their representative for their opening orders, and have same duly delivered at their cottage. 185

BEFORE THE PRESBYTERY.

Candidates Licensed to Preach—Commissioners to the General Assembly.

Moderator Frizzell presided at the meeting of the Toronto Presbytery in St. Andrew's Church school-room yesterday. Owing to the indisposition of the clerk, Rev. Robert Monteith, the position was filled by Rev. William Burns. Consent was given the congregation of Bonar Church to borrow $8000 to purchase a site and erect a new school house.

Rev. William Burns, Andrew Jeffrey, William Carlyle, William Adamson and Rev. Dr. Gregg were appointed commissioners to the General Assembly in place of Rev. R. P. Mackay, Mortimer Clark, D. Fotheringham and Rev. W. Frizzell, resigned.

The application of Rev. W. Meikle for permission to be placed on the aged and infirm ministers' fund was sent with a favorable recommendation to the General Assembly.

Dr. Parsons reported on the case of Rev. J. C. Madill and the Ossington-avenue mission and read a letter from that gentleman stating that he and his congregation had cast in their lot with the Congregationalists.

By mutual consent the congregations of Eglinton and Bethesda were united and a call to Rev. R. M. Hamilton was presented. The Home Mission Committee were granted $700 for home missions and $586 for augmentation purposes.

These candidates were examined and duly licensed to preach: John Crawford, Neil Shaw, M. P. Tolling, P. C. Maclaren, J. M. Maclaren, Walter Muir, Alexander Wilson and J. P. McQuarrie.

The application of Rev. John Sinclair, of Bowden, Scotland, to be admitted into the Presbyterian Church was forwarded to the General Assembly. This standing committee on home missions was appointed: Rev. A. Gilray (convener), Dr. S. Reid, Cavan and Parsons; Revs. D. J. Macdonnell, R. P. Mac Kay, J. M. Cameron and James Grant; T. Yellowlees, Joseph Gibson, John Joss, John Gordon.

An overture favoring the organisation of young men's missionary societies was forwarded after modification to the General Assembly.

The presbytery meets again on the second Tuesday in July instead of the first.

THE QUEEN'S HEALTH IMPROVED.

Edmund Yates Gossips About His Royal Chums—A Prince's Financial Collapse—Browning Manuscripts.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Edmund Yates cables The Tribune from London: The Duke of Portland made an extremely sensible speech a few days ago. The occasion was the turning of the first sod of the new coal pit at Whitwell, near Welbeck, and actually within sight of the duke's house. Instead, however, of discouraging the undertaking, the duke has leased the site to the Shore Oaks Company at highly favorable terms, and went down expressly to assist at the beginning, being convinced, he said, that he had no right to lock up the mainspring of England's prosperity. He hoped the sinking of this shaft would secure good wages and regular employment for those who had pluck enough to go down 6000 yards and earn them.

Balmoral never looked more beautiful than when bathed in the glorious sunshine which welcomed the return of the Queen and lit up the statues of Scotch heroes and rooms hung with many-colored tartans. Her Majesty was in excellent spirits at her birthday luncheon, and since her arrival in Scotland her health has undergone a marvelous change for the better. She was delighted with King Leopold's flying visit, and at once ordered his gigantic bouquet of mauve orchids to be placed in a gilt basket in the centre of the luncheon table. Prince Henry of Prussia much pleased his grandmother by appearing in full Highland costume.

No stories seem to be too manifestly false and absurd for the separatist papers. They have been printing during the last week a farrago of fiction about the Queen's stay at Montreux, where, it is alleged, Sir Henry Ponsonby requested the police to watch the doings of Sexton and O'Brien, who were staying at the Railway hotel which overlooked the royal villa. This is all a stupid fabrication, for the Queen never stayed at Montreux in her life, and even if Sexton and O'Brien had been residing in the same town as Her Majesty, it is quite certain that neither Sir Henry Ponsonby nor any other member of the royal entourage would have been in the least degree concerned about their location.

Prince Henry of Prussia would gladly have stayed in London for a week and wished to go to the Derby, but Emperor William is a perfect despot in his family and required that his brother and sister-in-law should return to Germany in time to attend the christening of the infant daughter of Prince Leopold of Prussia.

The financial collapse of Prince William of Saxe-Weimar has caused an immense sensation both in Berlin and Dusseldorf, where, as lieutenant of hussars, he belonged to the garrison. His debts amount to nearly a quarter of a million dollars and his adjudication as bankrupt will be speedily followed by the removal of his name from the army list.

The Newfoundland difficulty is giving the foreign office no little anxiety. The demands of the colonists are hardly considered compatible with the rights of France under the treaty of Utrecht, and it is impossible for the English minister to ignore these rights. Probably the Newfoundlanders are asking more than they expect to obtain, and I believe would be satisfied if the French are prevented from carrying on the lobster fishing on the Newfoundland coast. This Lord Salisbury might insist upon, but beyond that he could scarcely go without offering compensation in some form or other. The idea on the front Opposition bench, I believe, is that France should receive one of the English settlements in West Africa in exchange for rights in Newfoundland.

The Browning manuscripts, which are to be on view at Southeby's next week, are interesting. The first in the series are three long letters of Mrs. Barrett Browning, in which she promulgates her confession of faith as a Congregational Christian. The next is a batch of autograph poems written by Robert Browning in early youth. Then there are the original proofsheets of Colombe's Birthday, Pipa Passes, King Victor and King Charles and the first proofs of Dramatic Lyrics. Besides these there is a manuscript of the Pied Piper, as told in 300 lines by the poet's father and written amid the bustle of a consul's office in 1843. The latter manuscript is sure to be highly prized as a unique link in the poetical genealogy of the Browning family, and hence of Browning societies.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 3.—The activity of the French officials in arresting the Nihilists conspiring against the Czar in France has made a favorable impression in political circles here and is likely to remove the last vestige of opposition to an entente between Russia and that country.

A considerable change has been made in Grand's Repository within the past few weeks. The stalls which formerly lined the east side have been moved back into a fine new addition, and the front part of the Repository has been transformed into an open court which affords fine scope for showing off horseflesh. New offices, including one for Manager Smith, and a private office for the proprietor, have been fitted up, and a new harness room with plate glass windows fronting on the court has been added. The stable is now capable of holding 150 horses and is at present filled with a splendid variety awaiting the sale next week.

Will Surefoot Win the Derby?

England's great race, The Derby, takes place to-day at Epsom Downs. Surefoot is a sure favorite at 100 to 40, and scarcely ever before were speculators so confident of a Derby candidate's success. Donovan was the winner last year and also captured the St. Leger. Will Surefoot repeat the performance by taking the 1890 Derby after pulling down the 2000 guineas at Newmarket? The Derby course is about 1½ miles.

Morris' Stable's Sensational Success.

NEW YORK, June 3.—The sensation of the season in racing circles is the great success of the Morris stable, especially in relation to the two-year-olds. Their success has aroused a desire to know just how much this great stable won at the Brooklyn meeting as compared with the other stables. The remarkable fact is developed that one-fourth of the total amount of money competed for at the meeting was won by Mr. Morris, all but $600 of which fell to his two-year-olds. Mr. Morris' total winnings were $43,360 out of $172,312. Of this amount Russell won $21,905, Chatham $7280, Correction $6255, Terrifier $3336, Ambulance $2385, Woodcutter $820, Dr. Helmuth $450, Reckon $300, King's Own $150. Of the other stables Walbaum won $15,200, the Beverwyck stable (including Castaway's Suburban) $8822, Mr. Withers won $9980, Hough Brothers $8105, Belmont $8070, Green Morris $6995, Father Bill Daly $6620, Dwyer Brothers $5515, the Hon. As intimated in The World yesterday Toronto will play Manager Bacon's International team in Montreal next Monday, and all games scheduled in Buffalo will take place hereafter on the Shamrock grounds there. Montreal plays in Hamilton to-day and in London Thursday, Friday and Saturday, returning home Sunday. Manager Bacon passed through the city last night to Hamilton, where he had left his team in charge of Pettee. Toronto is scheduled for two games July 4 and will consequently lose the American holiday. Bacon saw that he was losing money in Buffalo and negotiated for the ex-[illegible] line was hard to beat. International Billiard Tourney Off.

NEW YORK, June 3.—The billiard tourney that it was thought probable might be held in Paris this summer is now off. It was believed at one time that it would be a profitable venture for Americans to cross the ocean and engage in cue battles with French experts with an understanding that the foreigners would agree to a return tourney in this country next winter. The matter was under consideration by a Chicago company, and George Slosson was ardently in favor of it. The capitalists of the company have decided that it would be inexpedient to go into the undertaking. As a result Slosson will not take his anticipated trip to Europe, but will stay in town all summer.

Ridley College Cricketers.

ST. CATHARINES, June 3.—The Ridley College eleven defeated the Niagaras by an innings and 12 runs.

One of Our Cyclists in the Far West.

Mr. Arthur Brown, late bugler of the Wanderers, has gone to Victoria, B.C., where he takes an active part with the bicycle clubs. In the May 24 parade he was the chief bugler for the big procession. He bugled effectively, too, as The Times says he received many compliments for the superior style in which he blew calls.

Lacrosse Points.

Tommy Crown, the well-known lacrossist, has cast his lot with the Capitals and will play in their next match.

The Capitals are putting in great work on their practice nights. They will have a big demonstration at their opening match in this city with St. Catharines June 14.

Reports from Ottawa yesterday say that the team there is confident of winning the opening championship match at Rosedale on Saturday, but the Torontos have started faithful practice and with their full team playing are positive the Ottawa club will have their hands full to win the match.

A practice match takes place this evening two teams chosen from the Toronto club: at Rosedale starting at 7 o'clock between these Team No. 1—Martin, P. Carmichael, Garvin, Drynan, Boyd, Gordon, Dixon, Langley, Carmichael, Walker, Milligan, Barfoot, Allan, Gordon, Ryan. Team No. 2—Sewell, Woodland, Irving, McCormack, Keith, Gale, John Garvin, Campbell, Green, Watts, Carmichael, McConachy, Martin, Gale.

WHEAT FROM THE NORTHWEST.

Secretary Rusk Receives Some Specimens of the Lodake Variety.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Secretary of Agriculture Rusk has just received specimens of wheat of the Lodake variety, the seed of which was purchased in the Province of Assiniboia, 600 miles northwest of St. Paul. This wheat ripens two weeks earlier than red Fife, which has heretofore been considered the best variety of spring wheat for no high latitude. Next year the Secretary intends purchasing specimens of the Lodake variety 500 miles still further north. The wheat mentioned weighs sixty pounds to the bushel.

Secretary Rusk also received in the same mail samples of oats and barley raised by Bishop Bompas at Fort Simpson, on McKenzie River, 2000 miles northwest of St. Paul, which territory, in the opinion of experts, promises in the near future to become the greatest wheat growing belt in the world and which, when put under perfect cultivation, will, they prophesy, revolutionise and overturn all past calculations of the world's wheat supply.

Free and easy expectoration immediately relieves and frees the throat and lungs from viscid phlegm, and a medicine that promotes this is the best medicine to use for coughs, colds, inflammation of the lungs and all affections of the throat and chest. This is precisely what Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup is a specific for, and wherever used it has given unbounded satisfaction. Children like it because it is pleasant, adults like it because it relieves and cures the disease.

The Men in the Drain.

This letter was received by Chairman Shaw of the Board of Works yesterday and that body will investigate:

"CENTRAL LABOR HALL, TORONTO.

"It has come to our knowledge that there are some men wo king on the city sewers for less than $1.50 per day, and we think that no man should work in the sewer for less than $1.50 per day, if they work in the sewer. The lowest grade at the present time is 15c. per hour, but we think that the lowest grade that a man should get that works in a drain should be $1.50.

THE PREMIER AT HAMILTON

pression to on June 5, that those principles and views enunciated by the Equal Rights Association are nothing but a part of the platform and principles enunciated by the Conservative party during the last 18 years in this province."

"It will be somewhat of a surprise to my friends to see me on this platform to-night when I tell them that it is the first time I ever stood upon a Conservative platform," said J. C. Hurst. "Nor," he proceeded, "have I ever up to this time cast other than a Reform vote. From my heart I have the fullest confidence in Mr. H. E. Clarke and shall use every effort to place him there." And he expressed the same high opinion of his colleague, E. F. Clarke.

Mayor Clarke was the next speaker. One of the first atters that he dealt with was Mr. D'Alton McCarthy's reference to himself at the Pavilion. "He referred to me as one not altogether up to the mark nor a fit and proper person to represent the people of Toronto in the Legislature of the province of Ontario. [Hisses.] Mr. McCarthy did me the honor of saying I was a trimmer." This he had said because of Mr. Clarke's speech at the Pavilion on March 5, 1888, when he refused to commit h mself to some of the principles of the Equal Rights party but asked for fuller consideration of them. His Worship ably defended his postion on that occasion.

His Worship then went on to speak of the platform of a leader who he was proud to follow, Mr. Meredith. "I am prepared," he said, "to stand or fall on the platform of William Ralph Meredith." In reference to the Parliament buildings job he said that while the plans of the Canadian architects had been judged by Mr. Waite, his plans were scrutinised by no one. Americans evidently thought more of their public and professional men than did the Government of Ontario. Mr. Fuller, a Canadian architect, who had entered the competition for the construction of buildings at Albany, had been awarded first place against some of the best American architects. Yet did he receive that contract? No. He was barred out and he state gave the contract to their own native architects who had failed in the competition. "I have no objection that my colleague should head the poll on Thursday next," concluded the speaker, "but, gentlemen, I tell you fairly and squarely that if I am elected I want to be second, not third. [Tumultuous applause]. I believe that the honor of being third representative in the Legislature should be conferred upon one of the supporters of the Government that gave us minority representation." [Applause.]

Mr. H. E. Clarke reviewed the Government's efforts towards the complete centralisation of power and the taking away from municipalities all jurisdiction in the appointment of officers. In every close constituency in the province a partisan board of license commissioners was appointed—though in some Conservative constituencies where a Reformer would not have the ghost of a chance to secure a seat in the House the Government could safely appoint a Conservative board. He emphatically reiterated his statement favoring the abolition of separate schools—an extra plank in Mr. Meredith's platform. These priests who dictated to the Roman Catholic electors did not speak as Canadians. "They speak," said Mr. Clarke, "by the authority of the head of the Italian Church." He concluded: "Are you going to place the Conservative party in jeopardy? Mr. Meredith is sweeping the province, I firmly believe. Are you in this highly-favored city going to leave him with one supporter and two opponents? ["No, never."] Well, then, close your ranks; don't have any splitting of votes. We are both Mr. Meredith's candidates and we appeal to you on Mr. Meredith's platform. You have a grand cause and you have a noble leader. I urge you to roll up your sleeves and go into harness. I will between now and Thursday, so that such a majority will then be rolled up as was never before rolled up for the Conservative party and help to swell the chorus: Ontario redeemed, Meredith ruling and a brighter day for Ontario." [Prolonged applause.]

Ald. Dodds made the closing speech and loud cheers were given for the TWO CLARKES.

DEATH FROM THE CLOUDS.

Lightning Explodes 5000 Pounds of Powder at Mansfield, O.

MANSFIELD, O., June 3.—This afternoon during a thunderstorm lightning struck the powder house one mile east of here owned by Tracy & Beaver, which contained over 5000 pounds of powder. A terrific explosion followed that was felt in all parts of the city. The dwelling of Henry Roost across the road, in which were his wife and three children, was shivered to atoms. One child was crushed and hurled 30 feet away lifeless. Another was fatally injured and the mother is yet unconscious.

GLENWOOD, Ia., June 3.—A terrific thunderstorm passed over this city last night. A huge smokestack fell and tore its way through the roof of the State institute for the feeble-minded, crushing almost to pulp two boys and injuring five others, two probably fatally.

Mr. Henry Graham, Wingham, writes: "I was in North Dakota last May and I took a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery with me, as I did not feel safe without it. While there a lady friend was suffering with Indigestion, Biliousness and Headache. I recommended the Vegetable Discovery to her and she tried it, and the result was that it did her so much good that I had to leave the balance of the bottle with her."

NAP WAS INSANE.

The jury found that the accused is insane and the court ordered him to be detained in jail until the Lieutenant-Governor should commit him to an insane asylum.

THE INCORPORATION OF CHESTER.

The Disputed Charter Again Before the Courts—This Transfer of Assets Was All Right—Other Legal Notes.

The argument in the case of Robert Davies against the County of York to set aside the bylaw incorporating the village of Chester was before Mr. Justice Street at Osgoode Hall yesterday. The first bylaw incorporating that village was set aside just after the last municipal elections. Since then a new census has been taken, new petitions presented to the County Council and a new bylaw passed. This latter is now being attacked on many grounds, among them: That there was no honest and correct census taken, that the proposed districts which are to constitute the new village do not contain the requisite 750 inhabitants, that there was no proper or sufficient petition before the council when this bylaw passed, but that afterwards a supplementary petition was tried, which Mr. Davies alleges was illegal; that the bylaw is not in the public interest but in that of a particular person or class of person; that signatures to the petition were obtained by deception; that many of the petitioners are employes of Ald. E. A. Macdonald (in whose interest, it is claimed, the bylaw was passed) and were not free-holders or householders in the district, and that the census was taken without the authority of the council and by a personal friend of the said alderman. Arguments were offered by C. H. Ritchie, Q.C., and C. Ludwig for Mr. Davies, and J. K. Kerr, Q.C., C. Millar and F. C. Kennin for the county.

At the close of the argument the learned judge stated that it was unnecessary for him to consider any of the objections raised except the one attacking the census returns upon which the bylaw was prepared, as he was clear such returns were utterly unreliable, and that a fraud had been practised on the County Council. He found on the evidence that one C. A. McKinnon had men posted in front of several vacant houses in Chester, said to belong to E. A. Macdonald, with lists containing the names of 11 persons supposed to reside in each house, which lists were handed to the census enumerator when he came round and were included in his census returns. These houses only contained two rooms each, and just before the census taker came round window blinds were placed on the windows to give the houses the appearance of being inhabited, and the Judge found that in this way 98 fictitious names had been included in the census. The Judge also found that the fact that the members of the County Council could not have felt very clea about the reliability of the returns as they introduced a bill to repeal the bylaw, and subsequently withdrew the repealing bill upon E. A. Macdonald giving them a bond indemnifying them against all costs, and said he had no hesitation in granting the applicants' motion and quashing the bylaw with costs.

Chancellor Boyd heard a motion made on behalf of the Montreal City and District Savings Bank against the Ontario Investment Association of London, Ontario, for an injunction to restrain the latter company from carrying out an agreement for the sale of certain assets to the Dominion Savings and Loan Association. The particular transaction sought to be enjoined was the transfer of mortgages, a part of the assets of the Ontario to the Dominion, amounting in all to some $800,000, in consideration of which the Dominion was to protect the debentures of the Ontario to that amount. The Ontario is the concern which was managed by Henry Taylor and was in deep water some time ago. The motion was argued, costs being reserved, the court holding that the plaintiff's claim was only a simple contract debt, and as such a cre
