Happenings of the Week

Chilly days have ushered in the month of September and with the coming of that month we realize that the summer days have flown by all too quickly, and that a few weeks hence we will once more be plunged into the routine of fall galeties and autumn weddings. In the theatrical world we are promised a rare treat in the near future, in the appearance of Constance Crawley in Shakespearian repertoire. The opening of the public schools has been the means of bringing back to the city a number of suburbanites. This does not necessarily mean the closing of summer cottages, for until far into the fall, country houses are delightful spots for week-end parties.

Mrs. J. V. Ellis entertained delightfully at an informal tea last Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Ellis of Vancouver. Quantities of sweet peas decorated the tea room, presided over by Mrs. George Lee. Among the guests were: Mrs. Dever, Mrs. Norman Leslie, Mrs. Powell, Mrs. Alward, Mrs. E. A. Smith, Mrs. David McLellan, Miss Jack, Mrs. George Schofield, Mrs. Murray MacLaren, Miss Alice Schofield, Mrs. R. A. Dr. Sancton and Mrs. Sancton will chaperone a party on board the "Dahinda" next week. Among the party are Miss Katie Hazen, Miss Frances Hazen, Miss Dorothy Purdy and Messrs. Inches, H. MacKay and M. McAvity.

An interesting society wedding was celebrated Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, when one of the city's most popular young ladies, Miss Helen Waddington Frink, was given in marriage by her father, R. Walker W. Frink, to Rev. Harry R. Trumpour, of Peterboro, Ont. The officiating clergyman was Rev. G. A. Kuhring, rector of St. John's (Stone) church. The church, which was handsomely renovated of late, was prettily decorated in white and gold flowerings, and presents an attractive appearance. The decorations for the most part were the work of the Sunday school teachers.

The bride was gowned in a charming traveling costume of blue, wore a hat of a corresponding shade, and carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas. She was unattended. J. W. Davidson and George Morrissey acted as ushers. D. Arnold Fox presided at the organ. Besides the bridal chorus the choir sang O Perfect Love.

Immediately after the wedding, which was attended only by near relatives of the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Trumpour drove to the depot and left for their future home in Vancouver, B. C., where the groom has been appointed professor in the Latimer Theological College.

The interior of the house had been beautifully decorated for the occasion the prevailing colors being green and white, and the ceremony which was performed by Rev. F. S. Porter, pastor of Germain street Baptist church, took place beneath a pretty floral arch.

The bride was given away by her father, and was attended by Miss Lois Short. Mr. Ralph Wheeler, of Montreal was the groomsman. The bride looked very charming in a handsome wedding gown of white satin trimmed with orange blossoms, and she carried a large bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaid's gown was of bordered radium over pink satin, and she wore a picture hat to correspond. Her bouquet was of pink roses.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, wedding luncheon was served, the bride's table presenting an especially attractive appearance with decorations of white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Rising left on the Quebec express for a trip through upper Canada and on their return will reside on Wentworth street. The bride's travelling costume was a navy blue tailored suit with hat to match.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

A SURVEY OF THE GROUND GONE OVER DURING THE QUARTER.

The S. S. Lesson by Evangeline

Sept. 3. Review.

Did you ever go on a survey?

Do you know the use of the transit? It is a telescope mounted at right angles to a horizontal axis, used for observing the time of transit of a heavenly body over a meridian of a place from which, (together with a levelling instrument and a graduated rod for measuring differences of level between points), angular measurements are made which determine the form, extent and position of a tract of land.

In our story of the quarter's lessons let us take with us the transit of spiritual perception as well as the level and leveling rod of God's standard of rightness that we may observe the altitudes and gradations of spiritual experience in the national life of Judah from the time of Hezekiah to the Babylonian captivity.

We enter the quarter on high ground. The dynamic influence of one man of God, Hezekiah, had raised the standard of living to a higher line than it had been for many years. Sin was SIN spelled large. Salvation was found by faith in a sacrificed life. God was loved, served, adored—and what was the result? We saw how ready He was to show Himself "a refuge and strength—a very present help in trouble," when a national calamity was averted by a wireless message to heaven.

Then we climbed the heights to view The World's Greatest Hero in the fifty-second and fifty-third chapters of Isaiah when in 12 short verses we saw it stated eleven times over that the coming Messiah would suffer as an atoning sacrifice for sin.

Then we saw how Manasseh led the whole nation on the down grade and plunged it into the bog of occultism and of cold lifeless formalism—just as W. T. Stead is seeking to do today in Britain through his recently organized National Club for Psychical Research—just as the Archbishop of Canterbury is doing in his Romanizing of the established church. Deprived of personal and national liberty they were easily captured by a designing, intriguing antagonistic foreign power.

In the fourth lesson we saw the young king Josiah striving to lead his weak and vacillating subjects on higher and more solid ground. Though the reformation which he brought about was remarkably thorough in many ways, based as it was upon a return to the principles of the long lost Book, such was their shallowness that when their leader fell in battle they fell into a state of backsliding.

In the four remaining lessons of the quarter we had a terrible revelation of the appalling condition of the people.

Bogged again in the sunken swamp of corruption, priests and prophets, kings and people alike ignored God and His Word, Satan ruled and national disaster followed.

Jeremiah seems to have been the only man in the realm who saw it coming and sounded the alarm loud and long.

Instead of attempting to avert the danger they conspired together to smash the alarm. They put him in the stocks. They whipped him publicly They misrepresented him as an enemy They imprisoned him several times. Notwithstanding which he kept right on fearlessly warning them of their doom.

Looking back over the whole ground can we not see what attracted the nation on the down grade. They were "dead in trespass and sin"—dead things drift, only living things possess the power of decisive resistance.

Can we not see how God tried to attract them to the high lands of victory by offering them rewards, by sending prophets to plead with them, as well as scriptures or written messages to them, and by prospering them whenever they drew near to Him?

Can we not see the obstacles He placed on the down grade in warning them through the fate of others as well as any adversity and loss?

Can we see anything more that He could have done to save those who persistently and deliberately ignored Him?

What about government licenses to debauch and to kill the hopes of the nation, to wreck prosperous communities, and to rob innocent women and children of the necessaries of life?

What about our easy going conformity to low standards of morality—specially in commercial and political life?

What about our boasted tolerance of heathen deities?

What about ourselves? Are we like swamp polliwogs, satisfied to wriggle about in the mire of worldliness and sin or are we men of backbone like Jeremiah?

If you are a vertibrate

Talk straight,
Write straight and
Fight straight.
Never pine about your fate.
If you are a vertebrate
Just keep straight.

SHE SUFFERED FIVE YEARS

Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Erie, Pa.—"I suffered for five years from female troubles and at last was almost helpless. I went to three doctors and they did me no good, so my sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and when I had taken only two bottles I could see a big change, so I took six bottles and I am now strong and well again. I don't know how to express my thanks for the good it has done me and I hope all suffering women will give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It was worth its weight in gold."—Mrs. J. P. ENDLICH, R. F. D. No. 7, Erie, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you want special advice write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. It is free and always helpful.
