NEW SEASON STYLES.

The Gorgeous Display at the Millinery and Mantle Opening of the Robert Simpson Co., Ltd.

It must have been an inspiration to shoppers who visited the millinery opening of the Robert Simpson Company (limited) yesterday. The store was inviting from the very threshold. A beautiful millinery window attracted attention from the outside, while the main floor, comprising dress goods, silks, laces, trimmings and other important departments, was in perfect holiday attire. An element of attraction, withal, was a large pot of Fayence ware, set on a pedestal, and standing six feet high, placed in the middle of the main aisle. This was filled with a beautiful collection of flowers—palms, rubber plants, ferns, etc.

The greater attraction, of course, centred around the millinery and mantle rooms, where busy hands had been engaged for many hours before in work on decorations. No pains were spared to make the draperies and ornamentation generally in keeping with the whole construction and character of the store.

Hats, bonnets, flowers, feathers, ribbons—everything that has a relationship to millinery was found on the tables and in the show cases in richest abundance. It is not an easy matter in cold type to describe the many beautiful styles shown this year. Pearl grey, bright red, royal purple and many different shades of green, black and white are embraced in the popular run of colors for the season. Feathers, rather than flowers, are in evidence this season, and the variety shown by the Robert Simpson Co. is unusually extensive.

The display of pattern hats and bonnets direct from Paris is very large. One of the attractions in trimmed millinery was a large picture hat, which has the under-brim of black velvet, with upper brim of light grey. Midway on the brim is an upstanding pouf of black velvet, caught down towards the front with a very handsome buckle of silver and brilliants. The tam crown is of cream velvet, embroidered with grey chenille and gold threads. The left side is raised and trimmed above and below with black ostrich tips and white osprey aigrette. In bonnets, one of golden brown mirror velvet has a pouf crown of cream satin, embroidered in metal threads and sequins. A bow arranged in points and knots of lemon moire ribbon trims the right side, while at the left is placed an aigrette of shaded pink and cream osprey, with a cluster of crimson velvet roses, and ties of black silk moire ribbon.

There is much that is new in hats. Sailor, tourist and turban hats will be widely worn, and the novelty of the season is these hats with a beaver crown, making a very tasty effect.

Details are almost useless where the artistic and the picturesque hold so great sway. It will interest ladies to know that the millinery opening will continue each day throughout the present week, giving opportunity to those unable to get out yesterday to see it.

The mantle department, which adjoins the millinery, is overflowing with the newest and choicest goods that Paris, Berlin and London can produce. Where low-priced garments are in large assortment, some of the most beautiful goods that Toronto ladies will wish to wear are likewise found in the stocks. The name of this house is identified with the best in mantle goods, it being their good fortune to do a large trade in the most fashionable lines. The assortment of jackets and capes is extensive. A fine silk plush cape, trimmed with silk braid, satin lined, large collar, attracted attention, and none less the price of $15. In jackets, myrtle green, Eskimo beaver, military braid trimmings on front, back, sleeves and lapels, came in for popular favor. The collar was of astrachan. A very handsome garment was a black jacket of the finest beaver cloth, trimmed back, front and sleeves with jetted silk braid, and finest Persian lamb collar, lapels and edge lined with twilled silk, which was valued at $35.

There is much that is new in the styles of capes and jackets this year, a fact that intensifies interest in the display. The new sleeve is one of the features of the change in styles.

In close proximity to the mantle department is the furs, a large assortment of everything going under this classification being on exhibition.

Judging from the manner in which shoppers spread themselves all over the store, it was evident that they had taken opportunity of the millinery opening to inspect generally the many departments and floors of the beautiful store of the Robert Simpson Company, the dress goods and silk section coming in for a large share of attention, being not only loaded with a large stock of new goods, but tastily decorated in keeping with the occasion.

Mr. McLeod, containing facts respecting his leaving India, which he has been compelled to do owing to the ill-health of his wife. They sailed from Bombay for San Francisco on the 19th of August, and will probably be obliged to remain for some time in California for the benefit of Mrs. McLeod's health.

MATTERS IN HAMILTON.

Timothy Almond Was Killed at Coney Island—The Sanford Co. and the Clothing Contracts—General News.

Hamilton, Sept. 16.—(Special.)—Daniel Sullivan, the Charles-street livery man, received a private despatch this morning from New York stating that his cousin, Timothy Almond, was killed at Coney Island last night. The message did not state how Almond met his death, but it is presumed he was killed by a train while returning from the Coney Island races. The deceased was born in this city 37 years ago and was well known, although he has not resided permanently in the city for fifteen years. His mother resides at 290 King-street east, and with her son left for New York to-night, where the remains will be interred.

THE CLOTHING CONTRACTS.

Joseph Greene, secretary-treasurer of the W. E. Sanford Manufacturing Company, had a lengthy letter to-night in the local press regarding the Government clothing contract. Some years ago, it said, the late Government abandoned the custom of advertising for clothing tenders, owing to the practice of incompetent firms tendering, the issuing of circulars to the principal manufacturers being substituted. A portion of the rest reads:

"In response to the last invitation we sent our Mr. Sweet, who met representatives of the principal clothing houses of Canada in Ottawa, who, like himself, were there to tender for the requirements of the Government. As far as we know, in this instance and every other instance, the contract was given to the firms tendering the lowest. Our company is a joint stock company, as you know, and its president, Senator Sanford, had nothing to do with the tender or with the contract, beyond advising our representative before leaving that in view of the depressed condition of trade it would be difficult to keep our hands busy, and it was desirable to tender very low rather than lose the contract, the result being that we got a liberal proportion of the Government's requirements. Other houses of well-known Liberal proclivities, supporters of the present Government, whose names are not mentioned for obvious reasons, were among those who tendered and secured portions of these contracts."

SENATOR SANFORD'S REMOVAL.

Nothing definite is yet known about the rumor that Senator Sanford intends moving to Toronto, and, although the Senator declines to deny or confirm the rumor, his reticence gives a certain amount of credence to the rumor. His removal would mean the removal of his large manufacturing establishment, upon which several hundred families are directly and indirectly dependent. He has been closely identified with the growth of this city and his removal would be generally regretted. The Senator denied that George Hamilton had purchased the yacht Canada for him, although he intimated the craft might eventually belong to him.

BUILDING THE SPUR LINE.

Yesterday was pay day on the T., H. and B. spur line, and about $15,000 was paid out. Over 300 men are still engaged in the work, which is progressing satisfactorily. There is still a lot of work to be done in two cuts, while only a small start has been made on the Desjardins Canal bridge owing to the difficulty in securing the right of way. If the spur line is ready for C. P. R. trains by Christmas the contractors will do well.

Wonderland, '96.

Is the name of the Northern Pacific's new tourist book for 1896. The cover design will prove a happy surprise to lovers of the artistic, and its illustrations will be fully up to the standard of its predecessors. One of its principal characters recounts a hunt after the well-known, yet rare, Rocky Mountain or white goat, made by the author in September, 1895, in the defiles of the Bitter Root range. One at all inclined to big game hunting will want to read about that hunt. An account of a trip through Yellowstone Park on horseback will also prove interesting. Six cents in stamps sent to Charles S. Fee, General Passenger Agent, St. Paul, Minn., will secure the book.

Lynched a Horse Thief.

Wichita, Kas., Sept. 16.—The bitter feeling against Ben S. Morris, one of the negroes who murdered John Ruckman, a cattle dealer, culminated in a lynching at Watonga, Oklahoma, last night. The enraged citizens stormed the jail, overpowered the jailer, dragged the terrified negro forth, strung him up to the nearest tree and left his body hanging there. The entire Anti-Horse Thief Association is scouring the country for his accomplice, who, if captured, will meet the same fate.

Cucumbers and melons are "forbidden fruit" to many persons so constituted that the least indulgence is followed by attacks of cholera, dysentery, griping, etc. These persons are not aware that they can indulge to their heart's content if they have on hand a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellog's Dysentery Cordial, a medicine that will give immediate relief, and is a sure cure for all summer complaints.

INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM—Mr. S. Ackerman, commercial traveler, Belleville, writes: "Some years ago I used Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for Inflammatory Rheumatism, and three bottles effected a complete cure. I was the whole of one summer unable to move without crutches, and every movement caused excruciating pains. I am now out on the road and exposed to all kinds of weather, but have never been troubled with rheumatism since. I, however, keep a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Oil on hand, and I always recommend it to others, as it did so much for me.

A Bank Crippled.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion—C. W. Snow & Co., Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "Please send us ten gross of Pills. We are selling more of Parmalee's Pills than any other pill we keep. They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Chas. A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmalee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these pills have cured her." ed

Toronto Philharmonic.

The first fall rehearsal of the "Stabat Mater" brought together a large and enthusiastic attendance of the members, who, already knowing the work, spent the evening singing all the choruses, with special attention to light and shade, for the concert October 12.
