City Leaguers Didn't Put Up Very Fast Brand of Ball

McClarys and Stars Won on Saturday in Rather Loose Games—Good Work.

Every time the writer thinks of those set-tos at Tecumseh Park Saturday he yawns. Spectators and players alike enjoyed one long, uninterrupted siesta, which left one feeling more tired at the finish than at the start.

The Champions and the Satellites had the greatest of snaps in handing it to the Bakers and Rockets, respectively, and neither crew turned a hair in pulling out the victories.

The ball put up was of the crudest of the crude variety, and both fracases were thrown away in the opening chapter, on the rawest or raw flukes, as it afterward turned out, the victors would have won out anyway for the fellows lower down on either side couldn't have hit the city hall had it been heaved at them on Saturday.

Like Selling Platers.

The Champs and the Bakers were first away, and the latter aggregation got off like a lot of selling platers.

Jackson landed on an error, and went up a peg on an out. Gibson biffed to Ward, and that party fell all over himself—and the pill. Costello rode, and the trio rambled in on McHugh's two sacker. McHugh went to third on a bad throw to second, and scooted over the pan when a heave to that station went skyward. Ball punted, but was copped at station two, and Ecclestone was out at first.

All hands then took a vacation until the seventh, when three errors, and two outs at first netted the Bakers a lone tally.

In the next the Champs bumped Brer Thompson's slants for a total of five biffs and these with an error allowed the bigbugs from the tinshop to ring up three more of the real things.

The last time off the Champs corralled an additional point on a two sacker, two errors and a base on a pitched ball.

The playing on both sides was on the ragged order, but the fumbles and bungles of the Bakers were by far the most costly of the two.

The Score.

SECOND GAME.

No hits, no errors, and three runs in the first inning. Sounds kind of peculiar, doesn't it?

Never before has anybody accused Bob Mines of having a leak in that usually trusty mitt of his, and yet he was credited with three passed balls in one brief session in the second fracas.

To the spectators it looked as though Wee Tommy Hyttenrauch and his backstop were playing a little game of "show me and I'll show you," when the gong sent the crews on their way. Tommy drew first blood by walking O'Rourke. Then Bobby let a ball get through his fins and honors were easy. And so the seesawing went on until three sturdy Satellites had meandered over the pan, after which both parties and the battery end of the argument steadied down for a brief spell, with the result that two batters bit the dust. Then came lucky little Toots Jeffries to the plate. Toots fanned nicely, but Mines had again located the hole in his glove and the pellet went standward while the runner dove into first, from where he purloined second and went to third on an error by Roberts. Fitzmaurice poked the balmy thrice and the stuff was off.

Nothing Stirring.

Dad Gillette connected for a triple in the next session and scored on a fluke by gingery Nig Jeffries, which enabled Gibson to make the first stop-off. Gib was nailed at second, and Roberts and Hyttenrauch went down via the fan route.

Three safe drives, and a stolen sack gave the twinkling ones a tally in the third, while a biff, a pass, a base on a pitched ball, and an out placed another to their credit the next time away.

After that there was nothing stirring until the sixth when three pokes in succession placed as many Satellites on sacks. It looked bad for Thomas the wee at this juncture, but good pitching and clever fielding prevented further damage and the bunch died where they had landed.

Tommy Dewan awoke the dozing fans in the third by making a remarkable backward running catch of a poke from Toots Jeffries' stick which looked good for a triple at least, and was handed a generous round of applause for the effort.

Splinters Off City League Swatsticks

Perhaps old John McHugh wasn't present with his swat stick! Two doubles, a single, and a base on a fielder's choice.

Both Ecclestone and Costello connected for three sacks apiece.

Perkins reached first three times out of four times up, but was nailed at second on two occasions.

O'Rourke was the busy kid. A hit, four putouts and five assists. Not bad for the old man, eh?

Costello made an error which cost his team three sacks, and then turned around and knocked out a three bagger just to even up scores.

Thompson and Wilson each had four assists. The first named was the only one of the four pitchers to connect safely.

Wonder what hit Nig Jeffries? Two fumbles in one game for the dark one is "sumthin orful," besides it set a bad example for young brother Walter, who monopolized the left garden.

Doc Sippi had more business than a striking barber at the second stop-off. Five assists and one putout besides a hit. My!

Umpire Smith was a trifle off-color on base decisions, and some heartless fan remarked that he was in a hurry to get back to St. Thomas.

Pop Stein almost made a hit. The pill got there before he did though and the official scorer was compelled to make an erasure. How's that Mac?

Next Saturday we are promised good ball. Until then let us yawn.

THE LOCAL SPORTING SITUATION AT PRESENT AS VIEWED BY CARTOONIST MOYER.

TIGERS AT LAST STRIKE OLD GAIT

Beat New York in the First Sunday Game by Decisive Score.

Detroit, Aug. 19. — Close to ten thousand loyal fans turned out yesterday afternoon at Bennett Park to see the Tigers start the week rightly by beating the Yankees, 13 to 6, in the final game of the series. The Tigers found their batting eyes again, and when they were not hitting and running bases they were being pushed along by misplays.

Donovan was again the Tiger twirler to do the business. Barring one bad inning, the eighth, when he walked four men and hit another, the smiler pitched his usual star game. It was his seventeenth victory out of 20 games he has pitched. He was given support that made one forget the slump of the week past. Doyle was Griffith's choice. When the Tigers were not hitting him his team-mates were giving him poor support. Elberfeld was not in the game owing to the blow he received over the heart on Saturday. Conroy played short and Al Orth tried playing the outfield. He was a sad fielder, dropping one foul ball and letting three balls go for hits that should have been outs.

The players were instructed before the game began that there was to be no kicking on decisions made by Umpire Sheridan, as the aim was to have the contest played as quietly as possible. Sheridan was requested to fire the first man who protested. Sheridan did. He called Jones out on strikes, and when Davy laughed he was promptly ordered off the lot.

Detroit took the lead in the second inning and was never passed. There was never any doubt of the outcome from then on.

Thomas had a bad day behind the bat, and the Tigers took plenty of liberties with him. Downs started this in the second, when, after drawing a base on balls, he stole. He made third on a high throw. O'Leary was also walked and stole second. Downs being held at third. Donovan opened a star day at bat with a single to center, and both men scored.

Rossman doubled down the third base line in the fourth. It was a fly that a fast fielder might have gotten, but Orth was not there. Downs fanned, but singles by Schmidt, O'Leary and Donovan did the business, netting three runs, O'Leary getting the third when Donovan drew Thomas' throw to second.

Crawford also took advantage of Thomas in the fifth. With one down, he singled and stole. Thomas threw badly and Sam made third. Cobb struck out and Thomas dropped the ball. While Ty was trying to make first the lad from Wahoo scored.

Downs and Schmidt flied to Hoffman in the sixth, but O'Leary singled to right. Donovan sent an easy fly to Thomas and it looked like the third out, but Thomas dropped the ball, and before it could be fielded he was on third. The steal was again tried, and on Williams' error O'Leary scored.

Griffith, when the seventh opened, decided to try out Tift, his new southpaw. Tift was worried before he got into the box. He had Schaefer against him as the first man up and the Dutchman worked him for a base on balls. Crawford and Cobb both sacrificed and Rossman's single scored Schaef.

Then came the inning that caused the big crowd much worry. New York had made two runs earlier in the game. In the fourth Hoffman had singled and made second on Keeler's out. Moriarty singled and Hoffman scored on Laporte's fly to Crawford. In the seventh singles by Conroy, Orth and Thomas had netted another.

This gave them two runs against the Tigers' eight. Donovan could not locate the plate. He walked Keeler and Moriarty. Laporte, usually a dangerous hitter, was fanned. Williams hit to Downs, but Jerry dropped the ball, and the bases were full. Conroy singled and Keeler and Moriarty scored. Then Orth walked and the bases were again loaded. Thomas forced Orth at second, but Williams scored. Tift was hit on the knuckles and walked. The bases were once more jammed. Hoffman was walked and still another run came in. It looked bad, with only a two-run lead and Keeler to bat.

Willie, however, sent a foul fly back to third. Schaefer made the prettiest catch of the day, running away back and spearing the ball. His catch was rewarded by the only loud cheering of the day.

Just to make things certain, the Tigers went at Tift in their half of the eighth and pounded in five more runs. Schmidt flied to Moriarty, but O'Leary drew a base on balls. Then

SNAPSHOTS AT VARIOUS SPORTS

The East End ball slingers are showing the way to the City League bunch in the matter of furnishing fast ball. Of course, it wasn't always that way, but it certainly was on Saturday. Wake up, somebody.

Everybody is urgently requested to turn out to the Rugby gathering at the Tecumseh House tomorrow night. There is going to be a team or two in this city, and with proper encouragement they may be winning ones. Let everybody turn out and help the boys—and the turnout.

The bowlers are still as active as so many bees, and with the Woodbine, the Rowing Club and the Thistle tourneys on, they will find lots to keep them busy.

The Indians are not crowing much over that affair with the Capitals on Saturday. According to all accounts it was anybody's game at almost every stage.

"We are willing to meet the Saints at any time or place, and we told them so," said Jimmy Bell in reply to a question. A battle between the two teams on the local grounds should draw a record crowd.

The Toronto News says:

Shamrocks will have a good chance to rest up before they look horns in that bruising contest with the Colts. Just imagine that stalwart Jim Cavanagh directing his forces to repel the forlorn hope the Colts are about due to lead in the final quarter there. They are usually pretty successful in those tactics, too, those Shams.

Toronto has nearly 50 games yet to go, 19 of them in Toronto, including four with Buffalo. To keep up the season's showing the locals will have to win just about 30, which should not be a particularly hard task with 19 played in Toronto. They have 26 points better than Buffalo, and that, at this season, is a decidedly long lead.

At that the club is not exactly ready for a severe campaign. All their men are in use, and not a utility player of any kind is available. Mitchell is needed for the pitching staff, and his return was none too soon. As it stands, if any of the regulars should be injured, the pitching staff would have to be called upon, and it can neither afford to make a loan nor would a pitcher fill in any too acceptably.

Apparently all that Detroit needed was Sunday ball in order to win. Wonder if they will continue to hit the up-grade now that they've struck the trail once more?

Little Terry McGovern isn't quite all in yet. Recently in New York he sparred three exhibition rounds with his old adversary, Young Corbett. Corbett handed Terry his first real defeat, but the boxers are the best of friends.

Here's for a rousing meeting at the Tecumseh House tomorrow night. "Get Hamilton," will be the warcry, and let us get her. The intermediates of Blufftown won't be quite so many without "Nibs" Harrison, but they are never to be despised at that. There is plenty of material here for a junior and an intermediate eleven, and if both can be formed they should prove of great value to one another. Meeting at 8 o'clock.

The C. A. A. U. is strong. They have the crack men without a doubt. From the hundred yards' sprint to the five-mile jog, something has been clipped from almost every record, and the pole vault and several of the weights show changes in their records.

TENNIS.

Saturday's results in the Rowing Club's tennis tourney were as follows:

Boucher (—½ 40) beat Cunningham (scratch), 6-2, 7-5.

Willgoose (—½ 30) beat Orr (scratch), 6-2, 6-1.

Skinner (scratch) beat Mathewson (x½ 30, 6-2, 4-6, 7-5.

BOWLING TOURNAMENT ON LABOR DAY

Big Time Promised by Three Clubs—Large Entry Looked For.

The London Bowling Club, the Thistle Club and the Asylum bowlers have united to have a bowling tournament at the London Club greens on Labor Day.

This is expected to be one of the greatest bowling events of the year and a large entry is anticipated.

The members will enter singly, and then they will be drawn for rinks by the committee in charge. Entries can be made to Mr. Charles Abbott, Mr. Verne W. Meek or Dr. Harris.

Three Rattling Good Games In the East End League

Ramblers, Oriens and Wortmans Win—Players on Their Mettle Saturday.

THREE GAMES SATURDAY.

Ramblers	3
Somervilles	2
Oriens	3
Wortmans	2
Wortmans	2
Ramblers	1

Great is Smith of the Ramblers, and great are the Ramblers themselves.

Did not Smith hold the hard-hitting Somerville team to one hit in the first game at the East End League on Saturday, thus practically cinching the championship for that club?

To be sure, the hard-luck Wortman & Ward team, having escaped its Jonah, succeeded in breaking its own losing streak, likewise the winning habit of the Ramblers, by defeating the blue-shirted boys 2 to 1. But defeat does not endanger the championship aspirations of the Ramblers, who can do no worse than tie for first place now.

The Jonah There.

The Jonah, however, which has been so faithful to the Wortmans in the past, was well aware of the first game and was on hand larger than life to see the foundry boys lose another game by one run. However, the Jonah was somewhat assisted on this occasion by the fine work of the Oriens. They presented a somewhat patched-up team, as several of the regular players are on the hospital list, but the new men proved to be fast and all went well.

A Pitcher's Day.

It was the pitchers' great day. Every one of the three contests developed into a pitcher's battle, hits being scarce.

It was known that the first game between the Ramblers and Somervilles would have a decided effect on the championship possibilities. If the gum makers won they would have a strong chance to finish at the top of the ladder. Nerved up by this possibility, they came out to do or die, and they died. Smith, who delivered the slants for the Ramblers, taking the leading part in the services, allowing one hit, corralled by Fitzmaurice, in the sixth session.

The Ramblers took an early lead, scoring one in the first inning on hits by Cochrane and Gillies. Another was forthcoming in the second when Cochrane again smote the ball, scoring on Penwarden's hit. The fifth stanza was productive of another counter. Quick was safe on E. Myers' error, got second on Gilles' ringing single, scoring when Campbell doubled to left.

Nothing Doing.

Nothing was doing for the Somervilles until the sixth, when Fitz opened proceedings by contributing the one hit which his team amassed during the afternoon. R. Collins was safe on Wagner's fumble of a hot one, but was caught off the bag by a snap throw of Gilles. While Collins was pretending he was De Wet between the first and second stations, Fitz hit for third, scoring when Shannon threw wild to Cochrane. Collins also tallying before the ball was recovered. Things looked bright for the Somervilles winning out right here, but the next three men proved easy outs.

Sidelights on East End League Players

Sherritt of the Ramblers, is just as good a third baseman as there is in the city. Eleven chances with but one slip was his record on Saturday, and a lot of those chances were balls that some basemen wouldn't even try after.

Young Dinsmore, whom the Oriens unearthed from the juvenile league, looks like a good one. He held the Wortman outfit to three hits. Dinsmore is a stockily built youngster, has good speed and curves, and better still, doesn't get rattled when in a tight hole.

Some of the players are quite faithful in their attendance upon Scorer Moorehead, trying to get that gentleman to credit their errors to someone else. Mr. Moorehead is an old hand at this game, however. He knows an error when he sees one, and credits it to the man, who in his judgment, is responsible for the play. Any attempt to influence his decision is just so much waste time.

Cochrane, the Rambler first baseman is making a bold bid for premier batting honors. He had five hits out of seven times at bat on Saturday, and that was going some, as hits were hard to get.

Wagner surprised himself and everyone else by hitting out a two bagger in the first contest. Wagner is a very good shortstop but is very weak with the willow.

That hit of Fitzmaurice's must have felt like a freshman at college in the first game, but then considering the kind of ball that Smith was pitching that was about all the hits that Somervilles had any license to annex.

A Grand Game of Bowls on Saturday

Ald. Sam Stevely and Harry Buttrey called a bowling game for Saturday afternoon at the London Rowing Club and it was a splendid affair. The Labatt trophy games never caused so much excitement, and it is doubtful if any tournament drew forth so many alleged bowlers since the game was invented. It was a rare day. The heros of the day were Park Graydon and George Merritt. No two such leads were seen in the game.

The skip of the day was Harry Buttrey who actually scored every once in a while. His opponents said he was so lucky that if he fell into a sewer he would come back with a jewelry store. Some people are so jealous. Snowball Beidler was a wizard, and Mat Holden was somewhat of a wonder also. Jimmy Herrick rolled some beautiful billiards if they had only stayed on the green. Jeff Wood and Tony Tillmann showed how real bowlers worked and Charlie Abbott and Frank Love made them look as if they were not the only bowlers on earth.
