AGREEABLE TO SUSPENSION OF VACCINATION REQUIREMENT

Minister of Health Received Wire Last Night from U. S. Surgeon General Blue to That Effect—New Brunswickers Can Enter States Without Being Vaccinated—Travellers from Nova Scotia Must Show Certificates—Protest from Halifax.

Rumors that the Eastern line steamship would be removed from the Boston-St. John service and that tourist traffic with the neighboring country would be greatly curtailed, owing to the health precautions taken by Surgeon-General Blue at Washington, were satisfactorily removed last night by the arrival of a despatch from Washington, were satisfactorily removed last night by the arrival of a despatch from Washington to Dr. William F. Roberts, minister of health for the province, which is self-explanatory:

Washington, July 24, 1919.
Hon. William F. Roberts,
Minister of Health,
New Brunswick:

In view of measures taken by New Brunswick government as indicated in your telegram July 23, the United States Public Health Service, is agreeable to the suspension of vaccination requirement against travellers from New Brunswick to the United States, and is taking action accordingly.

RUPERT BLUE,
Surgeon-General

The telegram sent by the minister of health to Washington referred to in the above reply, was to the effect that a notice (similar to that which is published in this issue of The Standard) would be published calling for a certificate of successful vaccination from every passenger to this province, by rail or water, from Nova Scotia and the South Shore, as well as a clean bill of health for the crews of the inter-provincial coasting vessels.

Close on the heels of the Washington despatch, came a protest from an official at Halifax protesting against what was considered an unwarranted reflection upon the sanitary conditions of the sister province. The telegram stated in point:

"Despatch from St. John in morning papers here indicates effort by New Brunswick to place responsibility recent United States vaccination order upon this province. All parties here are co-operating in strong protest to Washington against order as very injurious to mutual interests of maritime provinces and quite unjustified. Situation here well in hand and no occasion for alarm. Kindly reconsider if any action as outlined is contemplated by you. Advise what is being done."

In view of the statement that nine-tenths of the cases of smallpox in the locality came from Halifax to this province, and the fact that the sister city has developed 76 cases in six weeks, the reply of Dr. Roberts to the above is interesting:

St. John, July 25,
12.20 a. m.

Telegram received. Suggestion placing responsibility Washington order on Nova Scotia by us absolutely untrue—when quarantine placed on New Brunswick we immediately wired smallpox status to Washington and protested—answer came, New Brunswick all right for release if guarantee that passengers from Nova Scotia for any point in New Brunswick or United States via New Brunswick be required when purchasing tickets to present satisfactory certificate of successful vaccination. New Brunswick spent one hundred and fifty thousand dollars in the past two years to practically rid itself of small pox in order to hold and further tourist and commercial relationship—we have succeeded—and are now compelled to protect ourselves. Therefore issuing order in compliance with above. Would advise presenting your case to Washington as we have done. Regret much that should have been led in error by newspaper despatches.

WILLIAM F. ROBERTS,
Minister of Health.

The vaccination restrictions, affecting all railway lines and vessels communicating between Nova Scotia and New Brunswick goes into effect tomorrow.

Wife not very ill—but never real well

A Message to Husbands

GIVING advice to husbands is generally conceded to be not a very healthy occupation. Also comment as to the causes of marital unhappiness is an unpopular subject.

But, nevertheless, it is an obvious fact that there are in Canada to-day thousands of wives who, while not being sufficiently ill to go to hospital or require a trained nurse—yet are weak, anaemic, nervous and run down, and in this condition they are not happy—their husbands are not happy, and the home life is not what it ought to be.

Good health in a wife makes not only for the ease with which she manages household affairs, but reflects a contentment and calm over the rest of the members.

Husbands! Remember that good health is a valuable possession, and when you see your wife drooping, or in indifferent health, you should see that she gets a tonic.

She needs Wincarnis, which for nearly 40 years has been recognized the world over as the one great tonic for all who are weak, anaemic, nervous or run down. Wincarnis is not merely a tonic—it is a Tonic, a Restorative, a blood maker, and Nerve-Food all in one. It re-invigorates and revitalizes the whole system and has transformed countless thousands of people from a listless weary condition, to the glorious feeling of robust health.

If your wife is run down, get her a bottle of Wincarnis to-day.

Ask your Doctor. Get it at your Druggist's.

How The Public Money Is Wasted

Premier's Advertisements Calling Various Conventions Running in Papers Several Days After Conventions Have Been Held.

One of the objections made to the recognition of the delegates to the National Liberal Convention elected at the local convention called by the old line Liberals of St. John was that they had not advertised the affair long enough in advance. A peculiarity of Hon. Mr. Foster's manner of calling conventions throughout the province is that his advertisements of various conventions have been running in the Times and Telegraph for several days after the aforesaid conventions have been held. Just the reason why the advertisements should be continued after they are unnecessary is not known. Of course the Times and Telegraph are seldom up to date, and that may explain it. If they are being carried over as a labor of love by the aforesaid journals, it may be nobody's affair. But if they are being paid for out of the party funds it is probable Mr. Foster will be asked to explain why he is wasting the money.

The editor of the Times is death on graft in any form, and it is known that if his attention is called to the matter he will be the first to condemn Mr. Foster for squandering money in this unseemly and useless fashion, except from the point of view of the Telegraph.

U. S. BOMBING PLANE OFF ON 8,000 MILE TRIP

Will Pass Through Thirty-One States and Along the Rim of the Country.

Washington, July 24. — An army bombing plane, carrying a crew of five, commanded by Lieut.-Colonel Hartz, left the ground here at 10 a. m. on the first leg of a flight of nearly 8,000 miles around the rim of the country. The first stop is scheduled at Augusta, Maine, 560 miles from Washington.

The flight is the longest ever attempted by the United States army service, and will carry the machine through thirty-one States and cover long stretches of the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts, as well as the Canadian border.

Mineola, N. Y., July 24.—Lieut.-Colonel Hartz, who arrived here at 12.45 o'clock this afternoon on the first leg of his flight around the "rim" of the country, expected to get away later in the day for Augusta, Maine, where he plans to stay over night. The trip from the capital was without incident, the machine arriving in good condition.

Nova Scotia Looks To St. John For Ice

Ice Crop in Sister Province Was Failure Last Winter—Reported to Meet Shortage Artificial Ice Has Been Imported from Boston.

Nova Scotia is looking to St. John for ice, as the ice crop in the sister province was a failure last winter, there being practically no freezing weather after the first of January. It is reported that Nova Scotia in order to meet the ice shortage has been importing artificial ice from Boston. Artificial ice these days is rather expensive, and the ice famine in Nova Scotia will prove a serious inconvenience to householders, as well as cause considerable loss to the fishermen, who need a good deal of ice to handle their catches properly.

W. E. Scully, manager of the St. John Ice Company, said his company was being pestered with inquiries for ice from Nova Scotia. Orders at high prices were offered, but the ice consumption in St. John so far this summer has been rather heavy owing to the warm weather, and he could not undertake to supply much ice to Nova Scotia without risking the possibility of running short for the local demand.

Reception To Returned Men

Excellent Addresses at Cornhill, Kings County, by Hon. J. A. Murray, Rev. A. H. Saunders, Rev. J. S. Gregg and Judge Ritchie.

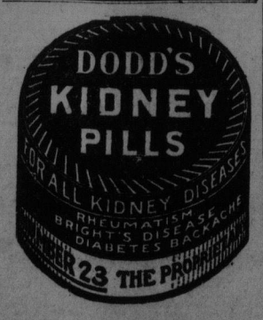
At a reception to returned soldiers at Cornhill, Kings County, the speakers were Rev. A. H. Saunders, Rev. J. B. Gregg, Hon. J. A. Murray and Judge Ritchie.

Ex-Premier Murray, of Sussex, was accorded a splendid reception as he rose to speak He warmly complimented the people of the community on the splendid manner in which they were greeting the boys on their return from the war. "It is a pleasure for me to stand on this platform and pay my tribute of respect for the soldiers and admiration of their splendid achievements," said Hon. Mr. Murray amid loud applause. "The Germans thought that war would break up the British Empire; they imagined that the ties which bound together our great Empire were weak. The Empire was tested, but it was no fragile structure, as the enemy had believed. All over the Empire were men of the type who are represented here today. (Applause.) Victory having been achieved, the boys are returning home, and we gladly welcome them; but while we extend our felicitations to the returning men, there are others who will not come back. Let us remember their sacrifices and pay our tribute of respect to the mothers of such heroic soldiers. I congratulate the people of this section of Havelock parish, who not only by words, but in a practical manner have shown their appreciation of what the boys have done."

In conclusion, Hon. Mr. Murray, who aroused much enthusiasm among his hearers, spoke feelingly of the boys whom he saw before him still showing evidences of suffering from wounds received in action, and expressed the hope that they would soon be restored to a full measure of health and strength. (Loud applause.)

FISH ARE SCARCE.

Shad and mackerel were off the market entirely last week and practically all the other members of the finny tribe were not as much in evidence as would be desired. There was a fairly good supply of cod, which retailed at 15 cents; haddock, scarce, sold at 20 cents; halibut drew a similar figure, and fiddlers sold at 35 cents a pound for the whole fish. The catches of salmon are not nearly so large as was expected earlier in the season.



First Vote Count In Standard's Contest Today—Result Published Tomorrow

The First Vote Standing Tomorrow in The Standard's $10,000.00 Prize Contest Will Show the Active Candidates up to the Present Time—Those Who Have Already Been Busy Securing the Subscriptions and Votes — Special Vote Offer on First Six Subscriptions Turned in if Received Within Ten Days of Candidate's Entering.

Turn Your Spare Time Into Money By Entering Standard Contest Today.

Today the votes in The Standard's $10,000.00 Prize Contest will be counted and the result of that counting published tomorrow. This will be the first vote standing of candidates to be published in connection with the greatest contest ever conducted in this section of Canada. The publishing of the first vote standing will really be the starting off of the race which promises to be a lively one.

From now on, candidates will do well to keep a good vote along side of their names as each revised vote appears. This means that some several will have to get busy and send in some subscriptions right away in order to show their friends who are looking for a good vote, that they are out after the big prizes and intend to win the automobile in their district.

Never before in the history of St. John has there been such a liberal offer made to men and women. True it takes some energy to win the big prizes offered, but can a real live, wide-awake person, man or woman, expect to win such valuable prizes in the brief space of seven weeks by merely looking at a picture of an automobile? There is a class of people who are known as day-dreamers. These people will sit idly by and watch some other getting the votes and will say to themselves "I will wait until tomorrow or next day and then jump right into the contest." Such people are making a great mistake and will regret their day dreams of putting off entering until it is too late. They will not even then admit to themselves that they neglected an opportunity to turn their spare time into a great profit. They will content themselves by watching the other candidate's vote grow and at the end of the contest feel that they could have won as easily as the others and no doubt they could had they not waited to make the start until others were so far ahead of them they did not dare to start with such a handicap.

In the mean time the live men and women are hard at it securing the votes which on September 13th will see them the winners of valuable prizes. That will surely be a happy and profitable day for those who knew opportunity was at hand and reached out and grasped it when it first came to their notice.

Delay is dangerous if one has his mind set on some definite accomplishment. Every minute wasted is that much time hurled carelessly into eternity. If a person does not want to live a wasteful life, he or she should make use of and profit by every wakeful minute of their lives.

If, when thet first vote is published, you do not have any votes against your name, get busy and have some there when the next count is made. Surely, in these columns for the past week all candidates have been advised to make an early start and have the votes in at once, so it can not be said that they were not sufficiently advised. It is possible that some candidates who have already been busy getting subscriptions are not turning in their subscriptions expecting that a little later there will be some special vote offer and that they will profit by waiting. Let it be known once and for all that there will be no special vote offer made during the contest other than that specified in the original announcement whereby a candidate is given three times the regular number of votes on the first subscription to be received in their name and twice the regular number of votes on the next five subscriptions received, provided these subscriptions come in within ten days of the time a candidate makes application as a candidate. This is the only extra offer in votes which will be made during the contest, so if subscriptions are held back over ten days from the time of a candidate's entering the contest they stand to lose even on this the only special offer of votes. Are you letting this the only special offer slip by in not getting your subscriptions in at once? Better give this vote offer a little thought and see that you get your first six subscriptions in inside of ten days from the time you entered the contest. For there is special advantage, it is during the first ten days of your campaign that you will get extra votes and not at any other time, so get your subscriptions in at once.
