Health Built Up

"I had a very bad cold which settled on my lungs. I was under doctor's care and was not able to get out of the house for eight weeks. I did not gain strength very fast and other remedies failing to help me or improve my ease, I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have taken several bottles and my health is improved very much. Since I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla I feel very much stronger than for a long time past. I have recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla to others, for it truly has been of great benefit to me." A Resolution Inviting Canada to Join the United States

Is Discussed in the New York Legislature and Laid on the Table.

An Interesting Discussion—The Motion Laughed At.

Albany, N. Y., April 25.—Mr. O'Grady presented in the House a petition to Congress and a resolution favoring the annexation of Canada to the United States. The resolution was adopted.

The resolution is as follows: "Whereas, we believe that the political union of the two great English-speaking communities who now occupy and control North America will deliver the continent from danger of war and securely dedicate it to peaceful industry and progress, lessen the per capita cost of government and defence, insure the rapid development of its boundless natural resources, enlarge its domestic and foreign commerce, unite all interests in creating a systematic development of its means of internal communication with the seaboard by rail and water east and west, protect and preserve its wealth, resources, privileges, and opportunities, as the undisputed heritage of all, immensely add to its influence, prestige and power, promote, extend, and perpetuate government by the people, and remove forever the causes most likely to seriously disturb cordial relations and kindly intercourse with the motherland.

"Wherefor, be it resolved, if the Senate concur, that we invite the Canadian people to cast in their lot with this continent, and assure them that they shall have all the continent can give them. We will respect their freedom of action, and welcome them when they desire it, into an equal and honorable union."

In the Senate today this resolution was received with laughter. Senator O'Connor did not think it becoming for New York State to invite Canada to sever its connection with England.

Senator Pound said the resolution was backed up by thousands of prominent names, and asked its immediate consideration.

Senator O'Connor protested. He did not want to stir up discord in a neighboring country. He did not think that the names of Mr. Depew, Mayor Strong, Mr. Platt and others, which go with the resolution, should carry the Senate off its feet.

Senator Canter was surprised to see Senator O'Connor go back on anything favored by one of those named.

Senator O'Connor said that one name was wise and experienced, but not infallible, and he did not think that the resolution was proper, even if it was thus indorsed.

The resolution was finally laid on the table.

JAMES MANSILL'S BODY

Is Brought to His Home in London for Interment.

An Inquest at Puce—Fell Off the Train.

(UNITED PRESS ACCOUNT.)

Windsor, Ont., April 24.—A man was killed on the Grand Trunk Railway one mile east of the Puce depot, twelve miles from Windsor, where he was found this morning by Conductor Bailey. Two letters were found in a pocketbook, one being addressed to James Mansill, 281 Wellington street, London, Ont., and was apparently his address, as it had been opened. The other was addressed to David Williams and signed by James Mansill. A dispatch from London states that James Mansill has been missing for two days from London. He is well dressed, wearing a black suit and laundried linen shirt. Mansill was a respectable young man, but rather eccentric, and got mixed up in a fight with two men and got a black eye. The police were looking for the participants in the fight and Mansill left abruptly. When he was found this morning he was terribly bruised about the head and breast. The indications are that he was stealing a ride and fell from the train.

THE INQUEST.

Coroner Reaum, of Windsor, held an inquest at Puce station this afternoon on the body of James Mansill, of London. A letter found on him showed that he was going to Detroit to take a job which had been offered him. The evidence taken went to show that Mansill had been stealing a ride and that death must have resulted from him falling off the train. The jury brought in a verdict to that effect, and Constable Logan, of London, who was present, has sent a message to his relatives asking if they want the body sent home.

THE BODY ARRIVES.

The body arrived at the Grand Trunk depot at 10:50 last evening on the accommodation train from Windsor. It was in a rough box, without a shell, a sheet being thrown over the remains. His effects were in the box with him, and the upper portion of the body was undressed and bore the marks of the post mortem. Probably 200 morbidly curious young men were at the station expecting to get a glimpse at the body. In this they were disappointed, as it was taken to Ferguson's immediately and prepared for interment. The box was brought up in a special baggage car. The injuries sustained by Mansill were on the head and left side, the left arm being apparently run over lengthwise and the features unrecognizable.

Mr. Martin O'Meara took charge of the funeral arrangements. Mrs. Mansill has had a great deal of trouble, and her friends are afraid this latest blow will affect her mind. They wish to state that George Mansill, another son, was not killed away from home, as has been stated, but that he died in Detroit, where his mother nursed him during his fatal illness.

A MINISTER'S CRIME.

Rev. Jonathan Bell, of England, Said to be Emily Hall's Betrayer.

Detroit, April 24.—Rev. Jonathan Bell, of Primrose Villa, Black Heath, Dudley, Eng., who visited his brother-in-law, Rev. Wm. Pease, of the Congregational Church at St. Clair, Mich., last November, and who left there on Jan. 1, is the betrayer of Emily Hall, whose death in the Lane Hospital at 630 Lincoln avenue has awakened a sensation which has spread to the other side of the ocean.

The fact was established yesterday when Mr. Pease recognized the handwriting of the letters found on Dr. Seaman as that of his brother-in-law.

This will serve to redouble the efforts of the authorities to run down Miss Hall's betrayer and administer justice to the others implicated in her death.

A Detroit dispatch of Wednesday's date says:

Rev. Jonathan Bell is a Methodist minister and has a wife and four children. He is about 38 years old and has been a minister for fifteen years.

So far he has not been seen in regard to the case, it being given out that he is away from his circuit in England on account of ill-health. Some intimation of what was coming may have reached him, and he conveniently absented himself from his home. It has not yet been learned whether his family know of the trouble. That he feared exposure is shown by the discreet way in which he managed the affair. First coming to this country on a pretended visit, he found a place where he could send the girl. He then told her of the house she would find. All alone the poor girl left her home to travel over 3,000 miles to save his reputation, and little did she think that she had looked on her home and parents for the last time. Instead of a home she found a place where she was not only killed, but robbed, and her body carted away like an animal's.

Blue Jackets Will Land at the Word of Command.

The British Ultimatum Short and Pointed—Nicaragua's Appeal for Help.

New York, April 25.—The Herald's special from Managua says: The following is the text of the dispatch received by the Nicaraguan Government from Admiral Stephenson, of the British fleet of warships now at Corinto:

"Having received instructions from her Majesty's Government to hand you the accompanying dispatch from Lord Kimberley, her Majesty's principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, I have the honor to present to your Excellency, Commander Stokes, of H. M. S. the Royal Arthur, who is the bearer of this dispatch, together with a letter of proclamation from me.

"I have the honor to inform your Excellency that unless I receive a reply within three days from today, containing the full compliance of the Nicaraguan Government with the demands contained in Lord Kimberley's dispatch, or in the event of no answer being received within the time fixed, or if the answer is unsatisfactory, I shall at once land an armed force, taking military possession of Corinto by occupying the custom house and other Government buildings, and appointing Ship Capt. Frederick Percival French, of the Royal Arthur, governor of the port. The lives, private property and trade of all foreigners will be respected. In the event of any resistance or disturbance arising, I shall use the force at my disposal to maintain order. A copy of the accompanying proclamation will be issued to each officer in Corinto, both Nicaraguan and foreign, on my taking possession of the place."

The proclamation referred to says:

"Whereas, the Nicaraguan Government having unlawfully seized the person of her Britannic Majesty's vice-consul at Ponefields, together with some twenty British subjects, and held them in the town of Managua or expelled them from Nicaraguan territory, I have, in consequence, received orders from her Majesty's Government to occupy the town of Corinto and seize all vessels carrying the Nicaraguan flag, and hold the same until such time as the Nicaraguan Government has complied with the demands of the British Government.

"The lives, property and trade of all foreigners will be respected, and the force now landed will occupy the Government buildings.

"In the event of any resistance or disturbance arising I shall be compelled to use the force at my disposal to maintain order. I have constituted Capt. Frederick French, of the Royal Arthur, governor of the port.

(Signed.) "H. L. STEPHENSON."

Commander Stokes went to Managua yesterday.

READY TO LAND BLUE JACKETS.

London, April 25. — Rear Admiral Henry T. Stephenson, commanding the warships in the harbor of Corinto, Nicaragua, has telegraphed to the Admiralty that other war vessels are on their way to join the fleet at Corinto, and that he is prepared to land 400 blue jackets at daybreak tomorrow if the British demands are not complied with by midnight tonight. The warships are lying close to the shore, in order to protect the landing party, which the admiral says he will cover with 29 guns.

NICARAGUA'S APPEAL.

New York, April 25.—A dispatch from Paris to the Sun says: Senor Medina, the agent of Salvador in Paris, has received the following letter from President Zelaya, of Nicaragua:

"I perceive with deep sorrow," writes President Zelaya, "that an evil spirit moves England against our country. We can only appeal to the reason, justice and impartiality of the civilized world. England has acted against us without hearing us, and is now massing her strength to coerce us. We shall place before all nations a statement of the British demands and of our conduct. If the civilized world refuses to help us, we can only oppose to the British display of force documents of history proving beyond a doubt that Nicaragua acted justly defending her rights and independence."

In the same letter President Zelaya denies that the British consul was forbidden to employ a cipher in sending his cable dispatches, in this respect opposing the testimony of the cable company.

The place to be mutually agreed on, or to the one offering the largest purse."

Trouble Ahead.

Why Russia, France and Germany Oppose the Peace Treaty.

They Want to Break the Alliance Between Britain and Japan.

Britain Is Backing Up Japan and the Others Are Jealous—Startling Developments.

New York, April 25.—A special to the Herald from London says: The real significance of the joint protest made yesterday by Russia, Germany and France against the ratification of the Chino-Japanese treaty of peace is well understood in English diplomatic circles. It is a protest against a secret British-Japanese understanding arrived at before peace was finally arranged.

It is a hard and fast combination with Japan and the other great powers have joined in the late protest to prevent the possible consummation of the alliance. England and Japan have been in perfect accord since the peace negotiations began.

This statement can be accepted as a fact. It is already reecognized by foreign Ministers in Berlin, Paris and St. Petersburg that the protest was aimed really at England, who after the continental powers rejected her overtures at the commencement of war set to work safeguarding British interests, in view of the ultimate success of the Japanese.

It is stated on good authority that Lord Kimberley has been consulted in every step during the peace negotiations, and that England will support Japan by every diplomatic means. Japan's concessions to England it is impossible to learn.

BACKNUMBER BUDD BURNED.

New York, April 25.—The famous old newspaper and magazine depository of Edward M. Budd, better known as "Backnumber Budd," in the Ravenswood part of Long Island City, was burned last night. The depository was stored with several thousand tons of old newspapers. The fire played sad havoc with the collection, but Mr. Budd hopes to save a good deal.

IN REGARD TO EGGS.

The circular recently issued by D. Gunn, Flavelle & Co., packers and provision merchants, Toronto, contains some statements well worthy of note. The circular says:

At the commencement of another egg season permit us to again call attention to the importance of handling eggs promptly, and not holding until they become stale. In this city last summer thousands of dozens of eggs were sent to the dump, and tens of thousands of dozens were almost useless because they reached the market too old. Our chief market now for eggs is Great Britain, and it requires care and skill to overcome the distance and land the eggs is good order; but all the care and skill is vain if the egg is not fresh when it reaches the packer. We therefore would impress on farmers the importance of marketing their eggs promptly and regularly, while they are at their best, and not to impair their value by waiting for larger shipments, or holding for a rise in price.
