Dalhousie

Congratulations.

The weather has been exceedingly hot.

Haying is in full blast.

Many strangers are visiting our town.

An entertainment in the lower school house lately.

Rev. Mr. Kirk preached here last Sunday. He is of the Presbyterian denomination

Our little church is closed this summer. Only opened once and that a burial.

Four births, two sons and two daughters in this town.

The fishing season brought sport to a great many visitors to this place.

The little grandchildren from the States have arrived for vacation.

Mr. Gaul killed one beef for consumption.

The word now is, Oh the heat!

John E. Barkhouse has a very handsome piece of winter rye, some stalks of which measure 7 feet and seven feet three inches. This field is in close proximity to Oakdene and oats and potatoes well worth looking at. Surely the people of Dalhousie should see they live in a favored land.

Green peas at Oakdene.

EVANGELINE BEACH

Evangeline Beach was the spot selected by the Baptists and Methodists of Port Greville, for their annual picnic. Tuesday, the day appointed, was perfect. As the early tide advanced rapidly, yet with scarcely a ripple up the broad beaches which encircles the Basin of Minas, the Beaver slowly steamed around Cape Blomidon and made for the Long Island shore with the happy party.

In a little while she anchored, and then, men, women and children, to the number of about one hundred, with baskets and bicycles hurried ashore and up to the picnic grounds, where they tarried all day, enjoying a stroll on the beach, over the Island, or spinning about on their wheels. As the sun was beginning to paint the western sky, again the Beaver came into position, and long ere the tide was full, she was steaming off across the Bay with as happy and satisfied a company as ever visited this summer resort.

A party from Windsor consisting of Mrs. J. A. MacCallum, the Misses McCallum, the Misses Russell and Miss Roach arrived at the Beach on Saturday and are occupying Fern and D'Almaine cottages.

Dingwall Cottage is occupied by Messrs Claude and Ross Shaw of Greenwich.

A private picnic from Windsor, visited the Beach on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. L F. Blenkhorn and family who arrived by boat from Canning are enjoying a two week's outing in Glee cottage.

Will and Allen Huntington of Wolfville, are camping at the Beach.

Mrs. Henry Farrell of Kentville and two little grand children are staying at the Evangeline House. July 27.

OBITUARY

John E. Starr

The death of John E. Starr Esq., took place at his residence, Starrs Point on Sunday morning at half past four o'clock. He was seventy years of age and leaves three children; J. R. Starr farmer of Starr's Point, Miss Gussie Starr and George Starr who resided on the homestead. The funeral was held Monday afternoon.

Mr. Starr had been in poor health for several years but was confined to his bed only for a short time. He suffered so much during the last week that he was kept under the influence of morphine

Mr. Starr had long been identified with the progress of affairs in Kings County and had by his industry made one of the most productive fruit farms in the valley. His beautiful residence at Starr's Point was visited by many and he was the most genial of hosts. He was a most indulgent parent and in his death his family have met with a great loss.

Mr. Starr was a public spirited man and under the former government held for some years an office under the fishery department He contested this county in the Liberal interest in 1890 but was unsuccessful. Since then he has filled some government positions in respect to our fruit industry.

Albert D. Stewart
