Send the money that you owe to!

As late Punch question is a puzzle from Longfellow's "Hiawatha," which is so applicable to the case of many of our subscribers that we copy it. If you can't pay it all, pay part.

Would you ask me why this dunning
Why these dun and duns and dunners,
Why these duns and duns and dunners,
Why these duns and duns and dunners,
Who have had their papers stopped,
Read what they decline to pay for,
Read with pleasure well pay for,
Read of Grants, Lots and Farms,
Read of taxes both land and forage,
Read the essays and the poems,
Full of wisdom and humorous,
Should you ask me why this dunning,
We should answer, we should tell you,

From the printer, from the maiden,
From the kind old country maiden,
From the landlord, from the carrier,
From the man who takes the letters
With a smile from Uncle Samuel—
Until late the readies call him—
From them all there comes a message,
Message kind but firmly spoken,
"Please to pay us what you owe us."

Would you lift a burden from us?
Would you take a pleasant slumber?
Would you have a quiet conscience?
Would you read a paper paid for?
Send us money—send us money—
Send us money—send us money—
Send the money that you owe us!

ODD AND ENDS.

A Door of Water—The Falls of Niagara.

What Literary Ladies Ought to Wear.—Book muslin.

Cremation makes light of a grave subject.

Cremation undertakers will have no difficulty in scoring their customers.

To Skaters.—The ice in the winter is always something to fall back upon.

The bachelor's toast—Large fortunes and small waists.

Musical.—It is noticeable that when a patient begins to feed more, his doctor is always fed less.

An ambitious debating society is recommended to take as its next subject, "Which is the butt-end of a goat?"

Question for Naval Examination.—Q. Can you give any other name for a ship's entrance? A. Yes. A man-o-w.

Happy May.—"Benedict" writes to us enquiring if it is true (?) that marriage invalidates a man's will!

Some before a cremation undertaker's shop: Small boy—"I say, sir, is dat done yer? If he is, please put him in this 'ere little bottle."

The fellow who is always right, becomes in time easy to labor under a mistake, is around again.

It is a wonder most pins don't get seasick; they often ride on the bosom of such heavy swells.

When young Jones' bullet hit the wrong mark the other day, he said it was simply a case of "Lead Astray."

An exchange tells how the eye is "swept and washed." How it is blacked would furnish another interesting chapter.

A Montreal paper promises to publish a "thrilling corset." Its readers will probably make an out of it.

Sarah Amanda was her name,
She lived and died without a sigh,
Had she survived the funeral fame
She would have been a Sal Amander.

A Highlandman, seeing periwinkles in a shop, went in and asked for a pound of them; but he was told they were sold by the measure. "Weel," says Sandy, gie's a yaird o' them."

"Sergeant O'Flaherty! Double! Left! Right! What the blazes, Pat Rooney, d'ye mean by not doublin' wid dis equal ?" Pat: "Sure, Surgeant, 'twasn't a fair start!"

Distinguishing Paradox!—The other day a pharmaceutical chemist and druggist told his assistant that he could dispense with his services. Since then he has dispensed without them!

A Tempting Indicement.—Cheerful Agent for Life Assurance Company: "The advantages of our company is, that you do not forfeit your policy either by being hanged or by committing suicide! Pray take a prospectus!"

Scotch keeper (to young sportsman).—"Ye hae shot a boy." Young sportsman. Good heavens! It is possible! what will I do?" Keeper (immovable), "Gie him a shullin."

A gentleman having a deaf servant was advised by a friend to discharge her. "No," replied that gentleman, with much good feeling, "that poor creature would never hear of another situation."

The quickest way we know of to make a man believe there's nothing in the world worth living for is to excite him into chasing a cat across a yard where two or three clothes lines are innocently swaying in the evening breeze.

A beggar posted himself at the door of an English chancery court, and kept saying, "A penny please sir! Only a penny, sir, before you go in!" "And for what, my man?" enquired an old country-gentleman. "Because, sir, the chances are you will not have one when you come out!"

Looking at it Practically.—Governess: "What did your godfathers and godmothers do then for you?" (A pause. Question repeated; another pause.)—Elder brother: "Oh, if you please, Miss Elderberry, Charlie don't know; my godpa bought me a spoon and fork, but his godpa didn't do anything."

Sold Again.—It is a sad thought for a woman, that she can never purchase a new dress! For as soon as she has bought it, it is (s)old! It is an equally melancholy reflection for a man, that to overcome this grevious difficulty, woman marries him to make him buy the dress—so that although it is (s)old to him, it is new to her!

Brought to his Bearings.—Lady of house: "Well, Charles, you seem to prefer one another's society to ours."—Charles: "Very sorry, my dear, no notice it was so late. Got talking pol'tics, you know, Eastern question, attitude of Russia, don't you know, and er"—Miss Becky: "Discussing the Sublime Porte, Cousin Charles. I suppose you mean."

"Mither! mither! what have ye done?" said a native of Wickloe to an Englishman who had just tied his horse to a telegraph pole on the street. "Well, Pat, what's the matter?" "Just this, yer honor. Ye've hitched your horse to the magnetic telegraph, and ye'll be in Dublin in two minutes if ye don't look out."

George Selwyn, a friend of old Lord Holland, had a morbid love of seeing executions, death-beds and dead bodies. When Lord Holland lay dying, he said to his attendant: "If Mr. Selwyn calls to-morrow, be sure to admit him; for if I am living I shall be glad to see him, and if I am dead he will be delighted to see me."

Great Britain has acquired another colony. The King of the Fiji Islands, finding his finances in hopeless disorder—his annual revenue being rather less than a third of his current expenditure, and the interest of his loans being in arrear—has ceded his sovereignty to the British consul, Mr. Layard. His Fijian majesty is wise in his generation. Having got into an awful political muddle, he has turned the job over to the opposition party to settle. So clever a fellow ought to have been a member of the late Macdonald cabinet.

A young man in company with some ladies once bored Dr. Johnson to tell them some of his anecdotes, adding, at the same time, the great pleasure and amusement that he had derived from the doctor's capital stories, but it was only after much pressing that Johnson favored them with the following: 'A man,' he said, 'once wanted to rob a church, and after much difficulty effected an entrance into the belfry. Seeing the bell-rope, he, without considering, slid down by it, and the consequence was that, in a few minutes, half the village was aroused by the ringing of the bell, and the sexton entered the church with a mob at his heels, and collared the would be thief, who looking up at the bell, as I might look at you,' added Dr. Johnson, to the young man who had been pestering him for anecdotes, 'said, 'if it had not been for your confoundedly long tongue and empty pate, I should not be so bothered.'"

Special Notices.

TO THE PUBLIC OF British North America.

IN consequence of frauds that have been practised upon you by two or three individuals (who for a time took the name of the N. Y. Pork Cleaned Chamberlain's shoes and selling some Pills which they call "Holloway's Pills and Ointment," and which, for a season, were freely sold in many parts of the British Provinces as my genuine Pills and Ointment, I have for some time past considered it my duty to caution the public, through the medium of the press, against buying these spurious articles.

Judgments have been obtained against this Bankrupt Crew; in one case by a Mr. Chamberlain, who, when about to levy, of the latter end of October last, found the name of the Chemical Company had been painted out and that of Samuel Vose substituted.

Many respectable Firms in the British Provinces, who obtain my medicines direct from here, have very properly suggested that I should, for the benefit of themselves and the public, insert their names in the papers, that it may be known that my medicines can be had genuine from them.

The following is a list of the Firms alluded to; and I particularly recommend those who desire to get my medicines to apply to some of the Houses named:—

Messrs. Avery, Brown & Co., Halifax, N. S.
Messrs. Forsyth & Co., Halifax, N. S.
Messrs. T. R. Barker & Sons, St. John, N. B.
Mr. T. Dos Brisay, Charlotte Town, P. E. I.
Messrs. Langley & Co., Victoria, B. C.
Messrs. Moore & Co., Victoria, B. C.
Dr. John Fallon, Chatham, N. B.
Messrs. Munro & Co., Montreal.
Messrs. J. Winer & Co., Hamilton, Ont.
Mr. H. J. Ross, Toronto.
Mr. A. Chipman Smith, St. John, N. B.
Mr. John Bond, Goderich, Ont.
Messrs. Elliot & Co., Toronto.
Mr. J. Chalmer, St. John, N. B.
Messrs. Harington Bros., St. John, N. B.
Mr. R. S. Priddy, Windsor, Ont.
Mrs. Orpen, Morden, N. S.
Mr. George C. Hunt, Jun., Fredericton, N. B.
Mr. W. H. Thompson, Harbor Grace, N. F.
Mr. J. M. Wiley, Fredericton, N. B.
Messrs. W. & D. Yule, Montreal.

My Pills and Ointment are neither manufactured nor sold in any part of the United States. Each Pot and Box bears the British Government Stamp, with the words, "Holloway's Pills and Ointment, London," engraved thereon.

The medicines are sold at the lowest wholesale prices, in quantities of not less than £20 worth—viz., 8s. 6d., 22s., and 34s per dozen boxes of Pills or pots of Ointment, for which remittances must be sent in advance.

THOMAS HOLLOWAY.

N. B.—Chemists and other vendors of Holloway's genuine Pills and Ointment may have their names inserted in the local papers if they will please apply here.
